

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE.

IN this collection it is endeavoured to bring together, in a moderate compass, the several Statutes which are connected with the ordinary course of professional and magisterial practice, accompanied by a very few others which appeared to possess an interest as matter of historical curiosity.

In order to accomplish this purpose, it was necessary to exclude all Statutes relating to the functions of the different officers of government—to matters of revenue—to naval and military subjects, and other objects of partial and limited interest.

The Statutes relating to elections of members of parliament might have been included consistently with the general plan of the work, but as they are already contained in different publications appropriated to the particular subject, it was thought, upon the whole, more eligible to include those only which may be regarded as forming a branch of criminal law.

The land revenue of the crown has been admitted as an exception from the general subject of revenue so far as it is connected with the private titles of individuals, but not as it merely forms a matter of official regulation.

The Statutes relating to the clergy—those concerning ship owners, with some of the leading acts of navigation, and some of the Statutes relating to servants in the more extensive branches of manufacture, as falling under the cognizance of a justice of peace, were thought to be of sufficiently general interest to require their admission. Those relating to any other trades and occupations may hereafter be added if it should be found expedient: but as far as I can at present judge, the expence of ~~such~~ an addition would be much more considerable than its utility. Particular collections applicable to separate departments of business may be very desirable.

I have been prevented by the unexpected magnitude of the work from adding a few miscellaneous Statutes not falling within its general scope and design, such as those relating to the union with Scotland and Ireland, the alteration of the style, the offices of sheriff and coroner, the redemption of the land tax, and some others.

In forming a collection of this kind, it is difficult to fix the precise limits between the acts which it would be desirable to admit, and those which it is proper to exclude, and the decision must necessarily involve a certain degree of arbitrary discretion, upon which no two judgments would exactly coincide; but upon the great majority of cases there will, probably, not be any material difference of opinion; and I hope it will not be found, upon a review of the tables of contents, that many acts of general practical utility have been omitted, or that the bulk of the work has been much increased by those which could have been conveniently dispensed with.

In general the acts are inserted without abridgement, as they appear in the ordinary collections of the Statutes, as I felt it important to prevent the misconception of the work being regarded as an abridgement.—In any future edition it may, perhaps, be found eligible to make some retrenchments with regard to common expressions of style, the recital of former acts of parliament, and certain enactments of frequent and general occurrence, but I am inclined to think, that the saving of expence which can be effected by such a retrenchment, will not be very considerable.

Where some parts only of a Statute are applicable to the general design of the work, the others, relating to temporary or limited objects, are omitted, or only noticed by inserting the marginal abstract. In some cases the titles only are inserted, as sufficiently declaring the object of the act, as in cases of acts by which others are continued or made perpetual, or where the mention of such acts may be considered as merely pointing out, in a general manner, the course and progress of the law upon subjects in respect of which it would be foreign from the principal design of the work to include the entire contents. The mere titles of some acts of parliament would give a very erroneous or inadequate notion of their contents, but, generally speaking, I think they may be considered as sufficiently apposite.

The same difficulties which have been adverted to as affecting the selection of the contents, are, in a certain degree, applicable to their arrangement.—In the general distribution of the work I have followed, as nearly as my judgment would admit, the ordinary plan of a course of jurisprudence; but as the subjects classed in Blackstone's Commentaries, and other systems of law, under the general title of Rights of Things, are so very different in their nature and character as referable to the law of real property, and as referable to personal property and contracts, I have thought it preferable to consider them as separate divisions of the law.—The law of bankruptcy, which, in the Commentaries, is classed as one of the modes of acquiring personal property, has been thought more properly connected with the law of civil proceedings.—The Statutes respecting the office of a justice of peace as distinguished from the general system of criminal laws, are arranged alphabetically as they occur in Burn's Justice.—Several Statutes might, so far as respects the nature of their subjects, be placed in one or other of different classes without any material ground of preference.—The general course which has been adopted with regard to these has been to insert them in the earliest part of the work to which they have a sufficient relation: on this account the Statutes respecting gaming, usury, stock jobbing, and the sale of offices, are inserted in part III. as affecting the validity of the contract, rather than in part V. as forming a branch of criminal law.—For the same reason, the Statute of Frauds, and the Act For the Amendment of the Law, which contain a greater variety of miscellaneous subjects under a common title, than any others in the collection, are included in the class of miscellaneous Statutes concerning real estates. Where any motive of convenience has appeared to require it, the title of the Statute is mentioned in each of the several classes to which it has relation, with proper references to the place of its insertion.—And in some few instances, particular clauses of an act are inserted in the class to which they relate, the act at large being inserted elsewhere.—Where provisions applicable to several distinct and independent subjects included in the same act are sufficiently designated by the title (which principally occurs in the Statutes of George the Second, and, in some instances, with a very ludicrous combination of subjects) they have been considered as if they were completely separate acts, and are arranged accordingly, so far as the respective subjects fall within the general plan of the collection.—The several classes being placed in the more general divisions of the work according to the nature and character of their principal contents, the particular acts are assigned to their respective classes, although they may not be referable to the same general division.—On this account the Statutes respecting Wales are placed in the part of the work appropriated to civil proceedings, although some of the particular numbers are foreign to that department of the law.—The Statutes respecting juries are included in the same part, although some of them relate solely to criminal law.—The Statutes respecting game and fish are all included in the sixth part as relating to the authority of justices of peace, although some of them, as the late acts respecting deer stealing and oyster fisheries, are not immediately the object of such authority, and there are a few other instances of a similar nature.—In some respects a chronological arrangement might be more convenient than one depending upon the order of subjects, but upon full consideration, the balance appeared to be very much in favour of the latter, and wherever the object is to find a particular act, of which the year and chapter are previously known, it will be only necessary to refer to the chronological table.

To several of the Statutes notes are added of the cases which have been decided upon their construction. In some instances, the notes are applied immediately to the particular expressions upon the construction of which questions have taken place.—In others they assume the character of a dissertation or a digest of the law, as applicable to the general subject.—In the composition of these notes as much attention has been paid to conciseness as appeared consistent with perspicuity.—In the examination of some questions, I have interposed my own views, and canvassed with freedom, but I hope without transgressing the limits of respect, the conclusions of judicial authority. In others, I have ventured to suggest an alteration of the subsisting law, or to offer such opinions as have occurred to me, with regard to matters of legislative enquiry, which have already engaged the public attention, and conceiving that a disinclination to deviate from existing institutions, although proceeding from a laudable principle, has been carried to an inconvenient excess, I have, upon several occasions, adverted to that topic, and in so doing have not been solicitous to avoid a repetition of the same sentiments, or even the recurrence of similar expressions. In one of the numbers of the Appendix, referred to as a note to the act for the amendment of the law, I have entered more at large into the discussion of this very important and interesting subject, and endeavoured, to illustrate the principles which may be usefully applied in the adherence to, or deviation from the existing systems; to counteract the tendency of an excessive dread of innovation, in impeding the course of real and substantial improvement, and to call the attention of those invested with legislative authority to the direct and adequate examination of measures proposed for their adoption, as depending upon their intrinsic merits, divested of the influence of certain favourite expressions which have been too frequently admitted as a substitute for more substantial arguments.

The notes on the Statutes of Limitations, and Set off, and on penal obligations, have been already published in the appendix to a translation of Pothier's Treatise on Obligations.—The article on illegal contracts in the appendix is also extracted from the same work, and is referred to in some of the notes to the Statutes concerning personal property and contracts, as connected with the subjects to which those Statutes immediately relate.—To the Statutes relating to bankrupts, I have subjoined a letter to Sir Samuel Romilly on the revision of the bankrupt law, published in 1810, with the addition of some practical notes.—A few others of the notes are taken from the sixth edition of Salkeld's Reports, published the year 1795.

I have also taken the opportunity of including in the appendix, some papers respecting the proposal of establishing a tribunal for the purpose of restoring the ancient distinction between superior and inferior courts.—These consist of the draft of an act prepared by myself many years ago, and of which copies have been, at various times, submitted to the attention of several persons in authority;—the copy of a bill introduced by Lord Redesdale into the House of Lords in 1810;—and a letter to that noble lord upon the difference in the objects and regulations of the respective plans.—This article may be, in some degree, regarded as an appendage to the provisions in the Statute of Gloucester, prohibiting suits for goods in the king's courts under 40s. and is referred to in the note to that Statute accordingly.—The importance of the subject is very considerable, and if it should ever engage the attention of the legislature, I flatter myself with the hope, that the enquiries respecting it may be assisted by a perusal of the pieces now submitted to their attention.

The plan of this work had been completely framed, and a very considerable progress made in the execution, before the appearance of Mr. Gabbett's publication, entitled “A Digested Abridgement and Comparative View of the Statute Law of England and Ireland.”—The design and character of the respective publications are, in some respects, similar, but in others there is a material difference.—Independently of the particular distinction of Mr. Gabbett's Digest, as including the Irish Statutes, it contains a more extensive range of subjects, which are classed under the precise titles of the chapters in Blackstone's Commentaries. The enactments are extracted from the several Statutes as referable to that order, without bringing the whole contents of each particular act together, as they appear in the Statute book, which (subject to the exceptions that have been noticed) is the general course adopted in this collection.

The notes, which are a material part of the present work, are not included in the plan of the other.—Since Mr. Gabbett's Digest appeared I have frequently availed myself of its assistance, and have every reason to bear testimony in favour of the skill and accuracy which are manifested in its execution. Some references have been made in the notes of this work to the information derived from Mr. Gabbett with respect to the enactments of the Irish Parliament upon similar subjects, and these references would have been much more general and frequent if I could have commanded a greater leisure from other avocations.

Such are the nature and objects of the work which is now submitted to the candour of the public.—Having devoted to it a considerable portion of time and attention I cannot but feel an anxious wish for its favourable reception.—The utility of the design has been very generally acknowledged : frequent enquiries have been made respecting its progress by respectable individuals with whom I have no personal acquaintance or connection, and allusions have been made to it in the course of parliamentary discussion, by which I have been equally gratified and obliged. I am perfectly aware that in many respects, I shall stand in need of indulgence, but I indulge the hope, that the collection, with the accompanying notes, will be found, in a considerable degree, to have accomplished the purposes for which they are intended, and in case of any subsequent editions, shall be happy to avail myself of any suggestions for their correction and improvement.

PERSONS & CORPORATIONS.

PART I. CLASS 1.

Of Aliens, Denizens, and Naturalization.

Y 13 Ed. III. c. 10, entitled Children born beyond Sea if inheritable in d., upon the Petition in Parliament by the Commonalty, praying that the n born beyond Sea in the Seigniories of Calais, Guyne, and Gascony, and ere in the Lands and Seigniories of the Lord the King, shall be hereafter tofore inheritable of their Heritages in England as other Children born in d., it was enacted and asserted, that the Common Law and the Statute . III. st. 2, heretofore made upon this Point, shall be observed and kept. Statutes 3 R. II. c. 3, 7 R. II. c. 12, 1 Hen. V. c. 7, Aliens were ed to take Benefices without the King's Licence.

y 1 Ric. III. c. 9, entitled In what sort Italian Merchants may sell Mer- ces—Several Restraints of Aliens, Provisions are contained to the following :—Italian Merchants shall sell their Merchandises, and gross and employ Money in the Commodities of this Realm—Strangers shall sell their Wares eight Months after their Arrival, and employ their Money as above— ers may carry away so much as they cannot sell within eight Months—a er shall not be a Host of a Stranger unless he be of his own Country—Aliens not buy and sell Wool or Woollen Cloth within this Realm, nor make en Cloth, nor deliver Wool to that End—an Alien shall not be an Handi- an—Aliens shall make no Cloth within this Realm—Aliens shall sell their in gross, and not by retail—Aliens shall take no Servant but the King's t—the Act not to prevent Aliens from selling Books, written or printed, abiting within the Realm for that Intent,—which Proviso is repealed by n. VIII. c. 15.

y 14 and 15 Hen. VIII. c. 2, entitled What Apprentices strange Artificers take, it is enacted, that no Stranger shall take an Apprentice, but one that orn within the King's Obeisance, upon Pain of forfeiting Ten Pounds—that en shall take above two Journeymen, except they be born within the King's nce. A great many Provisions are inserted for regulating the Wares of . There is a Proviso, that the Act shall not extend to Strangers in the rsities of Oxford or Cambridge, or within the Sanctuary of Saint Martin's and ; and also a Proviso, that it should be lawful for any Lord of Parliament, bers the King's Subjects, having Lands of the yearly Value of One Hundred s, to retain Strangers, Joiners and Glaziers, in their Service.

he next Statute connected with the Subject is 21 Hen VIII. c. 16, King Artificers, Strangers, what they may do as concerning retaining tices, Journeymen, &c. by which it is provided, amongst other Things, a Stranger, Artificer, shall keep in his House above two Strangers born— is repealed by Stat. 5 Eliz. c. 4,)—that no Alien, dwelling in Oxford, dge, or Saint Martin's le Grand, shall have above ten Persons, Aliens, in use—and a Decree of the Star Chamber, containing a Preamble respecting chiefs arising from the continual Resort of Strangers, to the Detriment of a natural Subjects, followed by several particular Regulations, amongst others, that no Strangers but Denizens shall keep House or Shop, is ratified and confirmed.

The 22 Hen. VIII. c. 13, was passed for Bakers, Brewers, Surgeons, and Scriveners, not to be accounted Handicraftsmen.

By the Stat. 32 H. VIII. c. 16, the Stat. of Richard, Concerning Strangers,—The King, calling into his blessed Remembrance the infinite Number of Strangers & Aliens which do daily increase and multiply within his Grace's Realms and Dominions in excessive Numbers, to the great Detriment, Hindrance, Loss, and Impoverishment of his Grace's natural and liege Subjects, and noticing the former Statute upon the Subject, (1 R. III. 11 and 15 H. VIII. 21 H. VIII.) which have been frustrated chiefly by means of Letters Patent, obtained by the crafty Suits, Inventions, and Practices of Strangers lately made Denizens, which contend that even such Denizen shall be as free as Englishmen naturally born within the King's Grace's Dominions, any Acts or Statutes to the contrary notwithstanding, it is enacted, that all Denizens shall be bound and obedient by and unto all the aforesaid Acts and Statutes, and to all the Contents of the same, and to all other Acts and Statutes of this Realm heretofore made, now being in their force and not repealed, any Letters Patent or Ordinances heretofore made, or hereafter to be made to the contrary thereof, in any wise notwithstanding; and that, also, in and every Letter Patent for the Making of any Denizen, to be made to a Stranger not being born under the King's Grace's Obeisance, shall be contained a Proviso, that he or they, to whom such Letters Patent shall be granted, shall be bound and obedient by and unto all the Acts and Estatutes of this Realm as aforesaid, and to all and every the Contents of the same, except it shall be by the King's most gracious Pleasure to grant to any such Alien any special Liberties or Privileges more or otherwise than is contained in the said Estatutes; and in that Case all such Liberties and Privileges so to be granted to any such Alien, contrary to the Form of any of the said Estatutes, shall be plainly, wholly, and particularly expressed, specified, and declared by special Words, as well in the Bill assigned with the King's Grace's Hand for obtaining any such Grant, as in the Letters Patent, to be made out of the Chancery, for and concerning the same. In the same Act are contained Provisions, that no Alien dwelling in Oxford, &c. shall keep above two Servants, that are Strangers, at one Time—that every Alien shall be bound by and unto the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and to all and singular the Contents of the same—that no Person may keep above two Strangers at one Time, except Lords of Parliament, who may keep six—and lastly, it is enacted by Sec. 13, that all Leases of any Dwelling-house or Shop, within this Realm or any of the King's Dominions, made to any Stranger, Artificer, or Handicraftsman from out of the King's Obeisance, not being Denizen, from and after the Feast of Saint Michael the Archangel next ensuing, shall be void and of none Effect, and that no Stranger, Artificer, or Handicraftsman, born out of the King's Obeisance, not being Denizen, shall, after the same Feast, take any Lease of a Dwelling-house, or Shop, within this Realm, or in any other the King's Dominions, upon pain to lose and forfeit, for every Time doing contrary to this Act One Hundred Shillings; and that no Persons, after the same Feast, shall grant or let to farm any Dwelling-house or Shop, to any such Stranger, Artificer, or Handicraftsman, not being Denizen, to the intent to dwell or inhabit in the same, upon like Pain of One Hundred Shillings, the one Moiety of which Pains and Forfeitures to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other Moiety to such Person as will sue for the same.

As the above Provisions are not now of any practical Importance, it was thought preferable to refer to them by way of Note, rather than to insert them in the Body of the Collection.

There are several Regulations in the Statute Book respecting the Payment of additional Duties by Aliens, but I apprehend that these have become obsolete since the Passing the Statute 27 Geo. III. c. 13, for Consolidating the Duties on Customs, by which all former Duties are repealed, and in this and the subsequent Acts upon the Subject, for regulating the Amount of Duties, no Distinction is made with respect to Aliens.

These Provisions are continued with some Variation, and are rendered comprehensive, extending to all Persons except Jews, subject to certain Regulations by 19 & 20 Geo. III. c. 29—23 & 24 Geo. III. c. 38. The Statute 36 Geo. c. 48 contains further Provisions upon the Subject, and seems to annul the Exception of Jews, but confines the Benefit of the Statutes to Persons who previously have obtained a Licence from the Chief Governor in Council. FORASMUCH as the Naturalizing of Strangers, and restoring to Blood Persons attainted, have been ever reputed Matters of mere Grace and Favour, which are not fit to be bestowed upon any others than such as are of the Religion now established in this Realm; Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, That no Person or Persons of what Quality, Condition, or Place soever, being of the Age of Eighteen Years or above, shall be naturalized or restored in Blood, unless the said Person or Persons have received the Sacrament (1) of the Lord's Supper within One Month next before any Bill exhibited for that Purpose, and also shall take the Oath of Supremacy, and the Oath of Allegiance, in the Parliament-House, before his or her Bill be Twice read: And for the better effecting of the Premises, Be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That the Lord Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the Time being, if the Bill begin in the Upper House, and the Speaker of the Commons House of Parliament for the Time being, if the Bill begin there, shall have Authority at all Times during the Session of Parliament, to minister such Oath and Oaths, and to such Person and Persons, as by the true Intent of this Statute is to be ministred. This Act to take place from and after the End of this present Session of Parliament.

7 Jac. I. c. 2.

(1) The Provision for taking the Sacrament was dispensed with, as to Jews, by Statute 26 Geo. II. c. 26. This was the single Provision of the famous Jew Bill, which excited so great a ferment as endangering the Religion of the Country, that the first Act of the following Session was a Sacrifice to popular Clamour by its Repeal. The Alarm seems to have operated even upon the enlightened Mind of Sir Wm. Blackstone, who says, that it is not his Intention to revive the Controversy, for the Act lived only a few Months and was then repealed; therefore, Peace be now to its Manes.—1 Com. 375.

14 Geo. III. c. 84. WHEREAS it hath been found that many Persons, born out of the Allegiance of the Crown of Great Britain, obtain Bills of Naturalization for the Purpose of availing themselves in foreign Countries of the Immunities and Indulgences belonging to his Majesty's trading Subjects, by Treaties, or otherwise; and in order to apply the said Immunities and Indulgences to promote the Trade of the Country to which the Persons so naturalized originally belonged, and not with any design of fixing their Residence in Great Britain, or of becoming useful Subjects thereof: And whereas it is neither just nor expedient to permit such Abuses of the true Intention of Naturalization; may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty

PART I. CLASS II.

STATUTES RELATING TO THE CLERGY.

[The Statutes included in this Class comprize those which relate to Residence and the Prohibition of exercising Trades—to Simony—to Ordination—the Uniformity of public Worship—the Presentation to Benefices—the Stipends of Curates—the Establishment and Regulation of Queen Anne's Bounty—the Erection of Glebe Houses—the Power of making Donations for the Benefit of the Church—the Union of Churches—and the Keeping of Registers.

The Statutes relating to the Convocation—to the obtaining of Provisions from Rome previous to the Reformation—to the Alterations in the Law established since the Reformation, including the Dissolution of Monasteries—and to the Reversion of Tithes and First-fruits, otherwise than as connected with Queen Anne's Bounty are not included in the Collection.

The Statutes respecting Tithes will form a particular Class under Part II. with the exception of those which particularly concern the Functions of Justice and Peace, and which will be inserted under the Article "Tithes," in Part VI.

The Statutes respecting Leases, by spiritual Persons, will form a distinct Class in Part II. Those which relate to the Exemption of Clergymen in certain Cases from Arrest, will be inserted in Part IV. The Statutes relating to the Benefices of the Clergy, in criminal Cases, are more immediately applicable to Part V. and so far as regards the existing Law, have no peculiar Relation to spiritual Persons, except in that they are exclusively entitled to the Benefit of Clergy a second Time.

Any Statutes respecting Papists and Dissenters, contained in this Collection will be found in Parts V. & VI.—Those respecting the Penalties for not going to Church, and the Profanation of the Lord's Day, in Part VI.

It has not been thought material to include in the Collection the Statute 35 Ed. I. Ne Rector prosternet Arbores in Cæmetario, which prohibits the cutting of Trees in Church-yards, except for the Repair of the Church or Chancel—Statute 9 Ed. II. Stat. 1, De Diversis Libertatibus Clero concessis—the Statute respecting the Clergy, 14 Ed. III. Stat. 4, which does not contain any Provisions applicable to the Copies above mentioned, as forming the Subject of the present Class—the Statute for the Clergy, 2 Ed. III. Stat. 3, which contains Provisions against wrongful Presentations by the Crown—the Statute 15 Richard II. c. 6, that Appropriation of Churches there shall be Provisions made for the Poor and a Vicar—or any of the ancient Statutes respecting Heresy.]

certain honourable Persons, as well Spiritual as Temporal, shall have Chaplains beneficed with Cure, to serve them in their honourable ‘ Houses, which Chaplains shall not incur the Danger of any Penalty No. 2.

 ‘ Judge of the King’s Bench, nor for the Chancellor nor the Chief ‘ Baron of the King’s Exchequer, nor for any other inferior Persons

 ‘ may appear.’

II. Wherefore it is ordained and enacted by Authority of this present Parliament, That as well every Judge of the said High Courts, and every of the Chancellor and Chief Baron of the said Exchequer, the King’s General Attorney and General Solicitor, which for the Time is, be, or shall be, shall and may from henceforth at his Liberty retain and have singularly to every of them in his House, or attendant to his Person, one Chaplain having one Benefice with Cure of Souls, which may be absent from his said Benefice, and not resident upon the same ; the said Statute made in the said one and twentieth Year, or any other Statute, Act or Ordinance made to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

(1) These and the following Words, which in all the Editions of the Statutes are printed as Part of the fourth Section, are the Preamble to the fifth. In consequence of not attending to this, it has been erroneously stated by several Writers, and some Judges, that the Word Simony does not occur in the Statute. See Burns' Ecc. Law. Art. SIMONY. The Division into Sections does not appear in the original Records, and is merely the Act of the Printer.

(2) It was established by several Cases, that a general Bond of Resignation was not void by this Statute, but Courts of Equity prevented such Bonds from being made an improper Use of; and it was laterly considered, that the Opinion in Favour of their Legality rested rather upon the Authority of established Precedents than upon a true Construction of the Statute. In the Case of the Bishop of London v. Ffytche, before the House of the Lords, in 1783, the Courts of Common Pleas and King's Bench decided in Favour of the Bond, but the Judgment was reversed contrary to the Opinion of the Majority of the Judges, but with the Concurrence of Lord Chancellor Thurlow. A detailed Account of the Case was published by Mr. Cunningham, and the Opinions of some of the Judges, with the Speeches of some of the Bishops and the Lord Chancellor, are contained in Burns' Ecc. Law. Art. SIMONY. In Bagshaw v Bosaley, 4 T. R. 78, a Bond to resign in Case of Nonresidence or committing Waste on the Parsonage was sustained, Lord Kenyon said, "I avoid saying any Thing respecting the Case of the Bishop of London v. Ffytche, when that Question comes again before the House of the Lords, they will, I have no Doubt, review their former Decision, if it should become necessary. It is sufficient for me, in deciding the present Case, to say, that it cannot be governed by that." In Partridge v. Whiston, id. 359, upon a Bond to resign for the Patron's Son to be presented, the Court of B. R. understanding that it was intended to take the Case to the House of Lords, gave Judgment for the Plaintiff without Argument. They said as this was not precisely similar to the Case of the Bishop of London v. Ffytche, they were bound by the established Series of Precedents. It does not appear from the last Edition of Brown's P. C. that the Case came before the House of Lords. In Leigh v. Lewis, 1 East, 391, where a Bond of Resignation by a Schoolmaster was holden good, the Court referred to Ffytche v. the Bishop of London, as being founded solely upon the Authority of the Statute.

(3) An Inclosure Act recited it as uncertain whether the Chaplain or Curate were entitled to the several Tithes, or to a certain Money-payment, and declared that Nothing therein should affect such Right. The Inhabitants afterwards elected J. P. and entered into an Agreement, signed by him, for a certain Augmentation, and a Proviso that the Augmentation should be only made upon the Occupiers, and should not alter the Payment of _____ with which the Lands had immemorially been charged. This was ruled to be Simoniackal, as intended to estop the Curate from insisting on his Right to Tithes, and to furnish Evidence against future Curates. Rex. v. Bishop of Oxford, 7 East. 600. For other Cases of Simony see Com. Dig. Eglise. No. 8.

(4) This is held to mean not merely voidable, and a Simoniackal Presentation may be shown as a Defence in a Suit for Tithes—3 Inst. 120—but a Tenant of the Glebe cannot, after Payment of Rent to the Incumbent, dispute his Title on the Ground of Simony.—Cooke v. Loxley, 5 T. R. 4. An important Case of Greenwood v. the Bishop of London has been decided, in the Court of Common Pleas, with Respect to the Grant of an Advowson being affected by Simony—Mic. 55 Geo. III.—which is not reported at the Time of printing this Sheet.

(5) But a Simoniackal Presentation by Usurpation does not authorize the King to present if a Prejudice to the rightful Patron. 3 Inst. 153.

(6) This is to be accounted the real Value, as formed by a Jury, and not the Valuation in the King's Books. 3 Inst. 154.

(7) If the Presentee is not privy to the Simony, he is not disabled from being presented upon another Vacancy, but if privy he is disabled for Life.—Hawk. 396—12 Co. 101.

willfully and schismatically abstain and refuse to come to their parish Churches, and other publick places where Common Prayer, Administration of the Sacraments, and preaching of the Word of God is used upon the Sundays and other Days ordained and appointed to be kept and observed as Holy-days: And whereas by the great and scandalous Neglect of Ministers in using the said Order or Liturgy so set forth and enjoined as aforesaid, great Mischiefs and Inconveniences, during the Times of the late unhappy Troubles, have arisen and grown, and many people have been led into Factions and Schisms, to the great Decay and Scandal of the Reformed Religion of the Church of England, and to the Hazard of many Souls: For Prevention whereof in Time to come, for settling the Peace of the Church, and for allaying the present Distempers which the Indisposition of the Time hath contracted, the King's Majesty, according to his Declaration of the Five and Twentieth of October, One Thousand Six Hundred and Sixty, granted his Commission under the Great Seal of England to several Bishops and other Divines, to review the Book of Common Prayer, and to prepare such Alterations and Additions as they thought fit to offer: And afterwards the Convocations of both the Provinces of Canterbury and York, being by his Majesty called and assembled, and now sitting, his Majesty hath been pleased to authorize and require the Presidents of the said Convocations, and other the Bishops and Clergy of the same, to review the said Book of Common Prayer, and the Book of the Form and Manner of the Making and Consecrating of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons: And that after mature Consideration they should make such Additions and Alterations in the said Books respectively, as to them should seem meet and convenient; and should exhibit and present the same to his Majesty in Writing for his further Allowance or Confirmation: Since which Time, upon full and mature Deliberation, they the said Presidents, Bishops, and Clergy, of both Provinces, have accordingly reviewed the said Books, and have made some Alterations which they think fit to be inserted to the same; and some additional Prayers to the said Book of Common Prayer, to be used upon proper and emergent Occasions; and have exhibited and presented the same unto his Majesty in Writing, in One Book, intituled, The Book of Common Prayer and Administration of the Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church, according to the Use of the Church of England, together with the Psalter or Psalms of David, pointed as they are to be sung or said in Churches; and the Form and Manner of Making, Ordaining, and Consecrating, of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons: All which his Majesty having duly considered, hath fully approved and allowed the same, and recommended to this present Parliament, That the said Books of Common Prayer, and of the Form of Ordination and Consecration of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, with the Alterations and Additions which have been made and presented to his Majesty by the said Convocations, be the Book which shall be appointed to be used by all that officiate in all Cathedral and Collegiate Churches and Chapels, and in all Chapels of Colleges and Halls in both the Universities, and the Colleges of Eton and Winchester, and in all Parish Churches and Chapels within the Kingdom of England, Dominion of Wales, and Town of Berwick upon Tweed, and by all that make or consecrate Bishops, Priests, or Deacons, in any of the said places, under such Sanctions and Penalties as the Houses of Parliament shall think fit.

(2) In Powell v. Milbank, 2 Bl. Rep. 851, which was an Action for Money had and received to try the Title of the Plaintiff as Incumbent of a Donative.—Two questions were made—1st, Whether an Incumbent of a Donative were obliged to conform to this Statute and 13 Eliz. (supra No. 6,) as to which the Court strongly inclined to think in the affirmative, observing, that the point seemed to have been settled in Carver v. Pinkney, 3 Leo. 82. 2dly, Whether it were necessary for him to give Evidence in that Action that he had complied with the Statutes, upon which the Court were of Opinion, that as no Evidence had been given by the Defendant to raise a doubt whether the Plaintiff had subscribed, &c. it was not incumbent on him to give evidence of his having actually done so. The Presumption (said De Grey, C. J.) always is, that every Man conforms to the Laws, and that Presumption shall stand till Something appears to shake it; nor is the Defendant hereby put upon proving a direct Negative.—It is a Negative qualified with Circumstances.—Some of these Ceremonies are to be performed publicly within a limited Time, Registers are kept of the others. And if Evidence had been given that a Person had regularly attended the Church and heard Nothing of this matter, or if a Search had been made in the Bishop's Register and Nothing had been found therein, this would have destroyed the Presumption, and put the Plaintiff on the Proof of his having performed these Requisites.—S. And whereas by a Canon or Ecclesiastical Constitution made in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Six Hundred and Three, in the Reign of his Majesty King JAMES the First, (1) it was provided, that no Curate should be permitted to serve in any Place without Examination and Admission of the Bishop of the Diocese, or Ordinary of the Place having Episcopal Jurisdiction, in Writing under his Hand and Seal, having respect to the Greatness of the Cure and Meetness of the Party; and that the said Curates and Ministers, if they remove from one Diocese to another, should not by any Means be admitted to serve without Testimony of the Bishop of the Diocese, or Ordinary of the Places as aforesaid whence they came, in Writing, of their Honesty, Ability and Conformity to the Ecclesiastical Laws of the Church of England; and that none should serve more than One Church or Chapel upon One Day, except that Chapel be a Member of the Parish Church, or united thereto, and unless the said Church or Chapel where such Minister should serve in Two Places be not able in the Judgment of the Bishop or Ordinary as aforesaid to maintain a Curate: And whereas the Provisions of the said Acts and Canon, and of the Laws in force with respect to Curates, have been found insufficient, and it is necessary that more effectual Provision should be made to secure a competent Maintenance to Curates, in order to insure the due and regular Performance of the Service of the Church of England in Parishes where Incumbents do not reside; Be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That every Incumbent of or Person holding any Benefice, Donative, Perpetual Curacy or Parochial Chapelry, who does not or shall not duly reside thereon (unless such Person shall do the Duty of the same, having a legal Exemption from Residence, or a Licence to reside out of the same, or to reside out of the Parsonage House or Vicarage House, or other usual House of Residence belonging to the same), and who shall, for the Period of Six Months after the passing of this Act, or after his Induction or Appointment, or after the Death or Removal of a former Curate, neglect to nominate a proper Curate, Non-resident Incumbents neglecting to appoint Curates.

MARRIAGE.

No. 1.

25 Henry VIII. c. 22.—An Act concerning the King's Succession. 19.

IN their most humble wise shewn unto your Majesty your most humble and obedient Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, That since it is the natural Inclination of every Man, gladly and willingly to provide for the Surety of both his Title and Succession, although it touch only his private Cause, we therefore, most rightful and dreadful Sovereign Lord, reckon ourselves much more bound to beseech and instant your Highness (although we doubt not of your princely Heart and Wisdom, mixed with a natural Affection to the same) to foresee and provide for the perfect Surety of both you and of your most lawful Succession and Heirs, upon which dependeth all our Joy and Wealth, in whom also is united and knit the only surely true Inheritance and Title of this Realm, without any Contradiction; wherefore we your said most humble and obedient Subjects, in this present Parliament assembled, calling to our Remembrance the great Divisions which in Times past have been in this Realm, by reason of several Titles pretended to the Imperial Crown of the same, which sometimes, and for the most Part ensued, by occasion of Ambiguity and Doubts, then not so perfectly declared, but that Men might upon froward Intents, expound them to every Man's sinister Appetite and Affection, after their Sense, contrary to the right Legality of the Succession and Posterity of the lawful Kings and Emperors of this Realm; whereof hath ensued great Effusion and Destruction of Man's Blood, as well of a great Number of the Nobles, as of other the Subjects, and especially Inheritors in the same; and the greatest Occasion thereof hath been, because no perfect and substantial Provision by Law hath been made within this Realm of itself, when Doubts and Questions have been moved and proponed, of the Certainty and Legality of the Succession and Posterity of the Crown; by reason whereof the Bishop of Rome, and See Apostolick, contrary to the great and inviolable Grants of Jurisdictions given by God immediately to Emperors, Kings and Princes, in Succession to their Heirs, hath presumed in Times past, to invest who should please them, to inherit in other Mens Kingdoms and Dominions, which Thing we your most humble Subjects, both Spiritual and Temporal, do utterly abhor and detest; and sometimes other foreign Princes and Potentates of sundry Degrees, minding rather Dissension and Discord to continue in the Realm, to the utter Desolation thereof, than Charity, Equity or Unity, have many Times supported wrong Titles, whereby they might the more easily and facily aspire to the Superiority of the same; the Continuance and Sufferance whereof deeply considered and pondered,

The Succession of the King's Majesty is the Imperial Crown.

The Ambiguity of the several Titles to the Crown of this Realm, and the not establishing of the Succession thereof, hath been the Causes of much trouble.

II [The Marriage between the King and the Lady Katherine shall be adjudged void, and the Separation good.]

[The Lady Katherine shall be called Dowager to Prince Arthur, and not Queen.]

[The Marriage between the King and his Wife Queen Anne shall be taken for good, and consonant to God's Law.]

32 H. VIII. c. 38.

No man hath Power to dispense with God's Law.

'III. And furthermore, since many Inconveniences have fallen, as well within this Realm as in others, by reason of marrying within the Degrees of Marriage prohibited by God's Laws, that is to say, the Son to marry the Mother, or the Stepmother, the Brother the Sister, the Father his Son's Daughter, or his Daughter's Daughter, or the Son to marry the Daughter of his Father procreate and born by his Stepmother, or the Son to marry his Aunt, being his Father's or Mother's Sister, or to marry his Uncle's Wife, or the Father to marry his Son's Wife, or the Brother to marry his Brother's Wife, or any Man to marry his Wife's Daughter, or his Wife's Son's Daughter, or his Wife's Daughter's Daughter, or his Wife's Sister; which Marriages, albeit they be plainly prohibited and detested by the Laws of God, yet nevertheless, at some Times they have proceeded under Colours of Dispensations by Man's Power, which is but usurped, and of Right ought not to be granted, admitted nor allowed; for no Man, of what Estate, Degree or Condition soever he be, hath Power to dispense with God's Laws, as all the Clergy of this Realm in the said Convocations, and the most Part of all the famous Universities of Christendom, and we also, do affirm and think.'

IV. Be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That no Person or Persons, Subjects and Residents of this Realm, or in any your Dominions, of what Estate, Dignity or Degree soever they be, shall from henceforth marry within the said Degrees afore rehearsed, what Pretence soever shall be made to the contrary thereof; and in case any Person or Persons, of what Estate, Dignity, Degree or Condition soever they be, hath been heretofore married within this Realm, or in any the King's Dominions, within any the Degrees above expressed, and by any the Archbishops, Bishops or Ministers of the Church of England, be separate from the Bonds of such unlawful Marriage, that then every such Separation shall be good, lawful, firm and permanent for ever, and not by any Power, Authority or Means to be revoked or undone hereafter, and that the Children proceeding and procreate under such unlawful Marriage, shall not be lawful or legitimate; any foreign Laws, Licences, Dispensations or other Thing or Things to the contrary thereof notwithstanding. (1.)

(1.) This Statute is repealed by 28 Henry VIII. c. 7. entitled An Act for the Establishment of the Imperial Crown of this Realm, which proceed upon some alledged Grounds of invalidity in the Marriage with Anne Bullen but adopts the same Principles, and contains the same Prohibitions with Respect to the Degrees of Consanguinity or Affinity within which Persons are prohibited from Marriage. Both Statutes are repealed, by Stat. 1 Mary Sess. 2. Chap. 1. entitled An Act declaring the Queen's Highness to have been Born in a most just and lawful Matrimonie, and also repealing all Acts of Parliament and Sentences of Divorce past and made to the contrary. The Act after a very curious Preamble, declares all Sentences against the Marriage of Henry VIII. with Queen Catherine to be void; and repeals the two Statutes of 25 and 28 Henry VIII. and declares "the said Marriage had and solemnized betwixt your most noble Father King Henry and your said spouse able Mother Queen Katherine, shall be diffinitively, clearly, and absolutely declared, deemed and adjudged to be and stand with God's Laws, and his most holy Word, and to be accepted, reputed and taken of good Effect and alidity, to all Intents and Purposes."—The two Statutes of 28 Henry VIII. and 1 Mary, are in the Appendix to Runnington's Edition of the Statutes; and there does not appear to be any subsequent Act by which the latter of these Statutes is repealed. In Statute 32 Henry VIII. c. 28. (See the following Number of this Collection) it is provided that all Marriages shall be lawful between Persons that be not prohibited by God's Law to marry—and that no reservation or Prohibition, God's Law except, shall trouble or impeach any Marriage without the Levitical Degrees. The 99th Canon of 1603, establishing a Table of Prohibitions conformable to the Levitical Degrees, and including a Marriage with the Sister of a deceased Wife, but this Canon as being made subsequent to the Reformation, is expressly decided to be of no authority, in the Case of Middleton and Croft, the famous and elaborate Judgment of Lord Hardwicke in which is contained in the second Volume of Ldins's Reports, p. 650.

In Hill v. Good, Vaughan's Reports, 305, a Marriage with the Sister of a deceased Wife, and in Butler v. Gastrell, Gilb. Rep. 156, a Marriage with the Aunt of a deceased Wife, are decided to be invalid;—but in neither of these Cases, is any Notice taken of the Statute of Mary, and in both of them Reliance is placed on the Canon of 1603.

A very learned Argument upon this Subject was published by Mr. Alleyne, of which the second Edition was printed in his Lifetime, in 1773. and a third Edition has lately been published, entitled "The Legal Degrees of Marriage stated and considered." The Object of the Argument is to shew, by a critical Examination of the 11th Chapter of Leviticus, and a Comparison of it with the 25th Chapter of Deuteronomy, (which especially enjoins a Marriage with the Wife of a deceased Brother) that the former relates not to Prohibitions of Marriage, but to Adultery. This Construction is approved by the Correspondence of several eminent Scholars, and amongst others, the celebrated Sir William Jones, and several English Divines, contained in the Appendix.

It is also argued, that the mention of the Levitical Degrees in the 32d Henry VIII. is only by way of Instance, and not as a legislative Enactment, that those Degrees shall be considered as marking the Prohibitions by the Divine Law.

The Treatise was written with a View to the obtaining a declaratory Act upon the Subject. The Marriage with the Widow of a deceased Brother, is certainly held invalid by the Spiritual Court; and although the Cases of Hill v. Good, and Butler v. Gastrell, decided in the Courts of Common Law, are subject to the Observations already mentioned, of admitting the Authority of the Canon, and of not adverting to the Statute of Mary, and the Subject does not appear to have been ever brought before these Courts, upon a View of the Arguments which have been referred to, the Cases I conceive would be regarded as of binding Authority.—But in Case the Subject should at any Time be submitted to the Attention of the Legislature, the Publication intended to would be found to contain very important Matter for Consideration, with respect both to Scriptural Authority and Moral Policy.

The Marriage with the Widow of a Great Uncle is Legal. Herman v. Burrell. Vaughan, 206.

I take it to be agreed, that a Marriage between the Illegitimate Son and Daughter of the same Mother, is invalid; but the Question whether a Marriage with the Bastard Daughter of a Sister is invalid, arose, and was not decided, in Hains v. Jeffell, 1 Ld. Raym. 68. 5 Mod. 168. Comyns 2. Comb. 236. but such a Marriage appears to have been considered as void by the Spiritual Court. See Sir William Scott's Judgment in Horner v. Liddiard, reported by Dr. Croke.

It is clear that a Marriage cannot after the Death of either of the Parties be impeached for Consanguinity or Affinity.

What Marriages are lawful, and what are not. 2 Inst. 683.

WHEREAS heretofore the usurped Power of the Bishop of Rome hath always intangled and troubled the meer Jurisdiction and regal Power of this Realm of England, and also unquieted much the Subjects of the same, by his usurped Power in them, as by making that unlawful which by God's Word is lawful, both in Marriages and other Things, as hereafter shall appear more at length, and till now of late in our Sovereign Lord's Time, which is otherwise by Learning taught than his Predecessors in Times past of long Time have been, hath so continued the same, whereof yet some Sparks be left, which hereafter might kindle a great Fire, and so remaining, his Power not to seem utterly extinct :

The Enormity of avoiding Marriages by Pre-contracts Vin V. 15,262.

II. Therefore it is thought most convenient to the King's Highness, his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, with the Commons of this Realm, assembled in this present Parliament, That two Things specially for this Time be with Diligence provided for, whereby many Inconveniences have ensued, and many more else might ensue and follow ; as where heretofore divers and many Persons, after long Continuance together in Matrimony, without any Allegation of either of the Parties, or any other at their Marriage, why the same Matrimony should not be good, just and lawful, and after the same Matrimony solemnized and consummate by carnal Knowledge, and also sometime Fruit of Children ensued of the same Marriage, have nevertheless, by an unjust Law of the Bishop of Rome, which is, That upon Pretence of a former Contract made, and not consummate by carnal Copulation (for Proof whereof two Witnesses by that Law were only required) been divorced and separate, contrary to God's Law, and so the true Matrimony, both solemnized in the Face of the Church, and consummate with bodily Knowledge, and confirmed also with the Fruit of Children had between them, clearly frustrate and dissolved : Further also, by • reason of other Prohibitions than God's Law admitteth, for their

 • Lucre by that Court invented, the Dispensations whereof they • always reserved to themselves, as in Kindred or Affinity between
 • Cousin-Germans, and so to fourth and fourth Degree, carnal
 • Knowledge of any of the same Kin, or Affinity before in such out• ward Degrees, which else were lawful, and be not prohibited by
 • God's Law, and all because they would get Money by it, and keep a • Reputation to their usurped Jurisdiction, whereby not only much • Discord between lawful married Persons hath (contrary to God's • Ordinance) arisen, much Debate and Suit at the Law, with wrong• ful Vexation, and great Damage of the innocent Party hath been • procured, and many just Marriages brought in Doubt and Danger of
 • undoing, and also many Times undone, and lawful Heirs disherited,
 • whereof there had never else, but for his vain-glorious Usurpation,
 • been moved any such Question, since Freedom in them was given • us by God's Law, which ought to be most sure and certain; but
 • that notwithstanding, Marriages have been brought into such an • Incertainty thereby, that no Marriage could be so surely knit and
 • bounden, but it should lie in either of the Parties Power and Arbitr-
 • casting away the Fear of God, by Means and Compasses to prove a • Pre-contract, a Kindred and Alliance, or a carnal Knowledge, to • defeat the same, and so under the Pretence of these Allegations
 • afore rehearsed, to live all the Days of their Lives in detestable • Adultery, to the utter Destruction of their own Souls, and the • Provocation of the terrible Wrath of God upon the Places where • such Abominations were used and suffered: Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by Authority of the same, That from the first Day of the Month of July next coming, in the Year of our Lord God One Thousand Five Hundred and Forty, all and every such Marriages as within this Church of England shall be contracted between lawful Persons (as by this Act we declare all Persons to be lawful, that be not prohibited by God's Law to marry) such Marriages being contract and solemnized in the Face of the Church, and consummate with bodily Knowledge, or Fruit of Children or Child being had therein between the Parties so married, shall be by Authority of this present Parliament aforesaid deemed, judged and taken to be lawful, good, just and indissoluble, notwithstanding any Pre-contract or Pre-contracts of Matrimony not summate with bodily Knowledge, which either of the Parties so married or both shall have made with any other Person or Persons before the Time of contracting that Marriage which is solemnized and consummate, or whereof such Fruit is ensued, or may ensue, as afore, and notwithstanding any Dispensation, Prescription, Law, or other Thing granted or confirmed by Act or otherwise; and that no Reservation or Prohibition, God's Law except, shall trouble or impeach any Marriage without the Levitical Degrees; and that no Person, of what Estate, Degree or Condition soever he or she be, shall, after the first Day of the said Month of July aforesaid, be admitted in any of the Spiritual Courts within this the King's Realm, or any his Grace's other Lands and Dominions, to any Process, Plea or Allegation, contrary to this foresaid Act.

2 & 3 Ed VI. c. 23.
Part of the Statute of Precontracts repealed.

WHEREAS in the Thirty-second Year of the Reign of the late King of famous Memory, King HENRY the Eighth, because that many Inconveniences had chanced in this Realm by breaking and dissolving of good and lawful Marriages, yea, whereupon also sometime Issue and Children had followed, under the Colour and Pretence of a former Contract made with another, the which Contract divers Times was but very slenderly proved, and often but surmised by the Malice of the Party who desired to be dissolved from the Marriage which they liked not, and to be coupled with another, there was an Act made, That all and every such Marriages, as within the Church of England should be contracted and solemnized in the Face of the Church, and consummate with bodily Knowledge, or Fruit of Children or Child being had between the Parties so married, should be by the Authority of the said Parliament deemed, judged and taken to be lawful, good, just and indissoluble, notwithstanding any Pre-contract or Pre-contracts of Matrimony not consummate with bodily Knowledge, which either of the Persons so married, or both, had made with any other Person or Persons before the Time of contracting that Marriage which is solemnized or consummated, or whereof such Fruit is ensued or may ensue, as by the same Act more plainly may appear: Sithence the Time of which Act, although the same was godly meant, the Unruliness of Men hath ungodly abused the same, and divers Inconveniences (intolerable in manner to Christian Ears and Eyes) followed thereupon, Women and Men breaking their own Promises and Faiths made by the one unto the other, so set upon Sensuality and Pleasure, that if after the Contract of Matrimony they might have whom they more favoured and desired, they could be content by Lightness of their Nature to overturn all that they had done afore, and not afraid in Manner, even from the very Church Door and Marriage Feast, the Man to take another Spouse, and the Espouse to take another Husband, more for bodily Lust and carnal Knowledge, than for Surety of Faith and Truth, or having God in their good Remembrance, condemning many Times also the Commandment of the Ecclesiastical Judge, forbidding the Parties having made the Contract to attempt to do any Thing in Prejudice to the same:

A Repeal of so much of the Statute of 32 H. VIII. c. 23, as maketh that Marriage indissoluble which is solemnized in the Church, and consummated with bodily Knowledge and Fruit of Child.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the King's Highness, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, That as concerning Pre-contracts, the said former Statute shall from the first Day of May next coming cease, be repealed, and of no Force or Effect, and be reduced to the Estate and Order of the King's Ecclesiastical Laws of this Realm, which immediately before the making of the said Estatute in this Case were used in this Realm: So that from the said first Day of May, when any Cause or Contract of Marriage is presented to have been made, it shall be lawful to the King's Ecclesiastical Judge of that Place to hear and examine the said Cause: And (having the said Contract sufficiently and lawfully proved before him) to give Sentence for Matrimony, commanding

Solemnization, Cohabitation, Consummation and Tractation as becometh Man and Wife to have, with inflicting all such Pains upon the Disobedients and Disturbers thereof, as in Times past before the said Statute the King's Ecclesiastical Judge by the King's Ecclesiastical Laws ought and might have done, if the said Statute had never been made; any Clause, Article or Sentence in the said Statute to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding *

III. Provided always, and be it enacted, That this Act do not extend to disannul, dissolve or break any Marriage that hath or shall be so solemnized and consummated before the said first Day of May next ensuing, by Title or Colour of any Pre-contract, but that they be and be deemed of like Force and Effect, to all Intents, Constructions and Purposes, as if this Act had never been had or made; any Thing in this present Act notwithstanding.

IV. Provided also, That this Act do not extend to make good any of the other Causes to the Dissolution or disannulling of Matrimony, which be in the said Act spoken of and disannulled, but that in all other Causes and other Things therein mentioned, the said former Act of the Thirty-second Year of the late King of famous Memory do stand and remain in his full Strength and Power; any Thing in this Act notwithstanding. WHEREAS great Mischiefs and Inconveniences have future, Be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Tem-and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That from and after the Twenty-fifth of March in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty-four, all Banns of Matrimony shall be published in an-Manner in the Parish Church, or in some publick Chapel, in publick Chapel Banns of Matrimony have been usually published of or belonging to such Parish or Chapelry wherein the Persons married shall dwell, according to the Form of Words prescribed the Rubrick prefixed to the Office of Matrimony in the Book of Common Prayer, upon Three (2) Sundays preceding the Solemnization of Marriage, during the Time of Morning Service, or of Evening Service (if there be no Morning Service in such Church or Chapelry) upon any of those Sundays) immediately after the second Lesson.

And whensoever it shall happen that the Persons to be married dwell in divers Parishes or Chapelries, the Banns shall in like Man-be published in the Church or Chapel belonging to such Parish or Chapelry wherein each of the said Persons shall dwell; and both or either of the Persons to be married shall dwell in any parochial Place, (having no Church or Chapel wherein Banns been usually published) then the Banns shall in like Manner be published in the Parish Church or Chapel belonging to some Parish or Chapelry adjoining to such Extra-parochial Place: And where the Banns shall be published in any Church or Chapel belonging to any hereby altered: shall be duly observed; and that in all Cases the Banns have been published.

(1) In an Action for Criminal Conversation upon a Marriage solemnized in a Chapel, it seems necessary to give some Evidence that Marriages celebrated by Banns in such Chapel previous to the Act;—but I find since are Evidence of such Marriages having been celebrated. See T. v. Wyborn, 2 Camp. N.P. 297. In Local Acts for erecting Churches, been provided, that all Fees for Christenings, Marriages, and Burials be accounted for to the Rector of the Parish, and this has been very rally acted upon as giving an implied Power to celebrate such Marriages. Several legal Opinions having been given in Support of such Construction but I am not aware of any legal Decision upon the Subject. See Northfield Dougl. 684.

(2) In Standen v. Standen, Peake N.P. 32. the Husband was allowed to prove that the Banns were only published Twice; but his Credit was left to the Jury on Account of the Nature of his Evidence, and was not believed.

II. Provided always, and it is hereby further enacted, That no Parson, Vicar, Minister or Curate shall be obliged to publish the Banns of Matrimony between any Person whatsoever, unless the Persons to be married shall, seven Days at the least before the Time required for the first Publication of such Banns respectively, deliver or cause to be delivered to such Parson, Vicar, Minister or Curate, a Notice in Writing of their true Christian and Surnames, and of the House or Houses of their respective Abodes within such Parish, Chapelry or Extra-parochial Place as aforesaid, and of the Time during which they have dwelt, inhabited or lodged in such House or Houses respectively. Minister not punishable for solemnizing Marriage after Banns published, where the Parents or Guardians give no Notice of Dissent; but where such Dissent shall be given, Publication of Banns to be void.

IV. And it is hereby further enacted, That no Licence of Marriage shall, from and after the said Twenty-fifth Day of March in the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-four, be granted by any Archbishop, Bishop, or other Ordinary or Person having Authority to grant such Licences, to solemnize any Marriage in any other Church or Chapel, than in the Parish Church or Publick Chapel of or belonging to the Parish or Chapelry, within which the usual Place of Abode of one of the Persons to be married shall have been for the space of four Weeks immediately before the granting of such Licence; and where both or either of the Parties to be married shall dwell in any Extra-parochial Place, having no Church or Chapel wherein Banns have been usually published, then in the Parish Church or Chapel belonging to some Parish or Chapelry adjoining to such Extra-parochial Place, and in no other Place whatsoever.

Licences to be granted to solemnize Matrimony in the Church or Chapel of such Parish only, where one of the Parties shall have resided for four Weeks before, &c.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That all Parishes where there shall be no Parish Church or Chapel belonging thereto, or none wherein Divine Service shall be usually celebrated every Sunday, may be deemed Extra-parochial Places for the Purposes of this Act, but not for any other Purpose.

Places which may be deemed extra-parochial by this Act.

VI. Provided always, That nothing herein before contained shall be construed to extend to deprive the Archbishop of Canterbury and his Successors, and his and their proper Officers, of the Right which hath hitherto been used, in virtue of a certain Statute made in the Twenty-fifth Year of the Reign of the late King HENRY the Eighth, intitled, An Act concerning Peter Pence and Dispensations; of granting Special Licences to marry at any convenient Time or Place.

VIII And whereas many Persons do solemnize Matrimony in Prisons and other Places without Publication of Banns or Licence of Marriage first had and obtained: Therefore, for the Prevention thereof, Be it enacted, That if any Person shall, from and after the said Twenty-fifth Day of March in the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-four, solemnize Matrimony in any other Place than a Church or Publick Chapel, where Banns have been usually published, unless by special Licence from the Archbishop of Canterbury; or shall solemnize Matrimony without Publication of Banns, unless Licence of Marriage be first had and obtained from some Person or Persons having Authority to grant the same, every Person knowingly and wilfully so offending, and being lawfully convicted thereof, shall be deemed and adjudged to be guilty of Felony, and shall be transported to some of his Majesty's Plantations in America for the Space of Fourteen Years, according to the Laws in Force for Transportation of Felons; and all Marriages solemnized from and after the Twenty-fifth Day of March in the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-four, in any other Place than a Church or such Publick Chapel, unless by Special Licence as aforesaid, or that shall be solemnized without Publication of Banns, or Licence of Marriage from a Person or Persons having Authority to grant the same first had and obtained, shall be null and void to all Intents and Purposes whatsoever.

XI. And it is hereby further enacted, That all Marriages solemnized by Licence, after the said Twenty-fifth Day of March One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-four, where either of the Parties not being a Widower or Widow, shall be under the Age of Twenty-one Years, which shall be had without the Consent of the Father or such of the Parties, so under Age (if then living) first had and obtained, or if dead, of the Guardian or Guardians of the Person or the Party so under Age, lawfully appointed, or one of them; and in case there shall be no such Guardian or Guardians, then of the Mother (if living and unmarried) or if there shall be no Mother living and unmarried, then of a Guardian or Guardians of the Person appointed by the Court of Chancery, shall be absolutely null and void to all Intents and Purposes whatsoever. (1) A Bastard is within this Provision, and the Consent of the Mother putative Father is not sufficient. See Priestley v. Hughes, 11 East, 1. and Authorities there cited—especially Dr. Croke's Report of the Case of Hon. v. Liddiard, before Sir William Scott.

Where the Guardian or Mother shall be Non compos mentis, or in Parts beyond the Seas, or shall unreasonably withhold their Consent, the Parties may apply to the Lord Chancellor, &c. and being approved by Order of the Court shall be effectual.

XIII. And it is hereby further enacted, That in no Case whatsoever shall any Suit or Proceeding be had in any Ecclesiastical Court, in order to compel a Celebration of any Marriage in facie Ecclesie, by Reason of any Contract of Matrimony whatsoever, whether per verba de presenti, or per verba de futuro, which shall be entered into after the Twenty-fifth Day of March in the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-four; any Law or Usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Churchwardens to provide books in which are to be registered all Marriages and Banns.

the same to be signed by the Minister;

and the Books to belong to the Parish, and to be kept for publick Use.

5) Soon after the passing of the Act it was decided in the Court of Dele-in a Case of Bearcroft v. Bearcroft, that a Marriage between two English as who go to Scotland solely for the Purpose, is valid; and such is now established Law.

Upon a Trial, on the Home Circuit, for Polygamy, (in which it cessary to prove an actual Marriage,) Evidence was required of aw of Scotland with Respect to the Legality of the first Marriage, it was there contracted; and the Evidence of such, being the known of the Country, was rejected in Consequence of the unfitness of the n whose Testimony was adduced upon the Subject;—and the Judge id to have intimated, that such Evidence should be by the Certifiof the Lord Advocate or other authorised Person, and that the Court, such Subject, would not attend to the Information of a Tobacconist.

Case which I partly cite from Recollection of Newspaper Reports, which, since composing the principal Part of this Note, I find referred to Case of the King and Brampton, 10 East, 285. involves in its Decision iples which would require a very serious Examination before they were ally adopted. In the first Place—the Necessity of requiring any Evidence upon the Subject, is a great and important Question, when considered eneral Question respecting the mutual Recognition of the Laws of the ent Parts of the same United Kingdom. Information may be often properly applied for, for the mutual Assistance of the Tribunals of the tive Parts of the United Kingdom, but that is the Information of ce, the Counsel of an Assessor, and not the Information of Evidence, is of a perfectly different Nature—and if such Evidence was necessary particular Case, it is equally necessary in all Cases when a Question of aw of one Member of the Kingdom becomes a Matter of incidental ry in the other.—2. But if it was necessary that Evidence should be upon the general Principle that the Law of other Countries is Matter of and as such ought to be proved, it seems a most extraordinary Doctrine id that the mere Situation in Life of a Witness can be taken as an tion to the Reception of his Testimony. The Situation in Life, or the s and Character of a Witness, may be fairly taken into Consideration, in aining the Effect of his Evidence as to adequacy of Knowledge, or he Degree of Credit which he shall receive, but cannot, upon any correct al Principles, be opposed as a Bar to his Admissibility, and it cannot posed that in the particular Case, if the Evidence had been regarded as wise than legally exceptionable, a serious Doubt could have been to the Jury upon its Credit or Accuracy with Respect to a Matter h general and undoubted Notoriety.—3. As the Subject may come in ion with Respect to Marriages contracted in distant Countries, it is r to consider whether a Proof of two Persons having in any Manner or agreed to, enter into the Relation of Husband and Wife, and having afterwards reputed as such, should not be taken as sufficient until re Evidence is offered of its Invalidity. Marriage, however important ract it may be, is only a Contract to which no particular Ceremony blic Sanction is requisite in its own Nature, or according to the Laws in some Countries, especially in Scotland, actually subsist.—In most ries however, peculiar Solemnities are very judiciously superinduced ential to the Validity of this Engagement—but the Necessity of such imities is not to be presumed; and the primary Evidence which I alluded to would therefore seem sufficient until contradicted by other nony, shewing the Necessity of further Requisites than such as upon al Principles would be sufficient.

Upon a Trial for Polygamy, before Mr. Serjeant Marshall, as Judge of , at Lancaster Summer Assizes, 1814, Evidence of a Marriage in d, by a Dissenting Clergyman, was held sufficient, without giving any of the Law of Ireland upon the Subject.

With Respect to the actual Law of Ireland, it is expressly provided, by Stat. 21 and 22 Geo. III. c. 25, that Marriages between Protestant Dissenters, solemnized by Dissenting Ministers or Teachers, shall be valid. The Acts of the Irish Parliament, containing Provisions against the Marriage of Protestants with Catholics, or Protestants with Protestants, by any Popish Priest, acknowledge, by necessary Implication, the Validity of such Marriages between Catholics.—See 1 Gabbett, 410–411.

In the late Case of Dalrymple v. Dalrymple, before the Consistory Court of London, and afterwards before the Delegates, for Restitution of Conjugal Rights, Evidence was given of the Law of Scotland, by the principal Lawyers of that Country, upon regular Depositions.—See the Report of the Case by Dr. Dolson.

In the Case of the King and the Inhabitants of Brompton, 10 East, 282, a British Soldier in Saint Domingo being desirous of marrying the Widow of another Soldier there, they went to a Chapel where the Ceremony was performed by a Person appearing as a Priest, and officiating as such, the Service being in French, but interpreted into English by one who officiated as Clerk, and which was understood to be the Marriage Service of the Church of England, after which there was a Cohabitation of several Years. The Court of Quarter Sessions thought, upon a Question of Settlement, that this was not sufficient Evidence of a legal Marriage;—but fortunately, not considering it as a Case affected by the Hints so often thrown out to that Tribunal, of the Confidence which they ought to entertain in their own Opinion, they stated a Case for the Opinion of the Court of King's Bench, Bench, who considered that there was sufficient Evidence of a good Marriage either according to the Law of England or according to the Law of the Country where it took Place.—The Case contains some important Information respecting the Doctrine of Marriages per verba de presenti, previous to this Statute, for the Validity of which it appears that the Presence of a Clergyman was requisite; but that a Marriage by a Roman Catholic Clergyman was sufficient.

One of the Mischiefs against which the Act was intended to provide, was the establishing Officers in the Fleet and other Places for the Celebration of clandestine Marriages. Books have been preserved of the Entries of such Marriages, but from the many fabricated Entries which they have been found to contain, different Judges have refused to receive them in Evidence, but they were admitted by Mr. Justice Heath in Pasingham v. Lloyd at Shrewsbury Assizes, 1794. See Peake's Evidence, 89. In Cooke v. Lloyd, Append. ibid. 74. Mr. Justice Le Blanc refused to receive such an Entry in Evidence, as being no more than a private Memorandum made by Somebody who had no Authority to make it, and who might put down any Thing he pleased, whether true or false. But it is observable, that in none of these Cases the Question was carried farther than the Court of Nisi Prius—and the Case of Lloyd and Pasingham coming before the Court of Chancery after an Interval of fourteen Years upon some Grounds for imputing actual Forgery to the particular Entry in that Case, the Lord Chancellor considered the general Question as one which was still open. See 16 Vesey, 59. Considering the State of the Law before the passing of the Act, it certainly does not seem desirable in the Nature of the Thing to exclude a Species of Evidence which would continually result from and accompany the actual Occurrence of the Fact recorded, and any Experience of improper Practices with Respect to the Custody and Management of the Books at a particular Place, would hardly seem sufficient to prevent the Admissibility of that Evidence whatever Cautions it might reasonably suggest with Respect to its Credibility.

Many Doubts have been entertained of the Policy and Justice of the Act, as giving an undue Weight to Parental Authority; and an unsuccessful Attempt was made in 1761 to Repeal it. Mr. Burke's Speech against the twenty-fifth Day of December respectively, for two Years, to be computed from and immediately after the first Day of January, in the said Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-four.

Repeal, contained in his Works, vol. 9. 8vo. 135, is a very satisfactory and able Vindication of the Act. Considering the Motives which usually lead to an Infraction of this Act, and the Opinions manifested by the Laws of almost all Countries, in Favour of giving to Parents an Interposition with Respect to the Marriage of their Children under a certain Age, I conceive it would be desirable that Provisions should be made for rendering it effectual. For this Purpose it may not be improper to require that every Direction for the Publication of Banns, should specify the Ages of the Parties, their particular Habitation, their Parentage and other proper Requisites; and that some authentic Testimony should be given to the Minister of the Particulars certified: and that upon Marriage by Licence, the Documents should specify the Time and Place of the Birth of the Parties, confirmed by Registers or other suitable Certificates, or that the Officer should have some other authentic Testimony of their being of the requisite Age; and that all such Consents as are required by Law, should be registered with the other Documents necessary for obtaining the Licence.

The Exemption of Marriages in Scotland being subject to such great Abuse, it would be an easy Remedy to prohibit all such Marriages as are at present irregular, and as such subject to Punishment. This would have the Effect of preventing an Engagement, in the Certainty of which so many Interests may be involved from depending upon the Precariousness of verbal Evidence, and would also prevent a Party from being involved by Presumption in an Engagement which it was never his intention to contract. It might be of some public Benefit in facilitating the Evidence of Marriages after the Death of the Parties, if a particular Part of the Parish Registers were appropriated to the Entry of Minutes of Reference respecting Marriages contracted elsewhere.

 hibited of Minors, without the Consent, in Writing, of the Father or Guar-

WHEREAS your Majesty, from your Paternal Affection for your own Family, and from your Royal Concern for the Welfare of your People, and the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, was graciously pleased to recommend to your Parliament to take into their serious Consideration, Whether it might not be expedient to supply the Defect of the Laws now in being by some new Provision, more effectually to guard the Descendants of his late Majesty King GEORGE the Second (other than the Princesses who have married, or may hereafter marry, into Foreign Families) from marrying without the Approbation of your Majesty, your Heirs or Successors, first had and obtained; we have taken this weighty Matter into our serious Consideration; and, being of Opinion that Marriages in the Royal Family are of the highest Importance to the State, and that therefore the Kings of this Realm have ever been entrusted with the Care and Approbation thereof; and being thoroughly convinced of the Wisdom and Expediency of what your Majesty has thought fit to recommend, upon this Occasion, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, do humbly beseech your Majesty, that it may be enacted; and be so enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That no Descendant of the Body of his late Majesty King GEORGE the Second, Male or Female, (other than the Issue of Princesses who have married, or may hereafter marry, into Foreign Families) shall be capable of contracting Matrimony without the Consent of his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, signified under the Great Seal, and declared in Council (which Consent, to prevent the Memory thereof, is hereby directed to be set out in the Lieut. Register of Marriage, and to be entered in the Books of the Privy Council); and that every Marriage, or Matrimonial Contract, made by such Descendant, without such Consent first had and obtained, shall be null and void, to all Intents and Purposes whatsoever.

III. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That every Person who shall knowingly or wilfully presume to solemnize, or to assist, or to be present at the Celebration of any Marriage with any such Descendant, or at his or her making any Matrimonial Contract, without such Consent as aforesaid first had and obtained, except in the Case above mentioned, shall, being duly convicted thereof, incur and suffer the Pains and Penalties ordained and provided by the Statute of Provision and Premunire made in the sixteenth Year of the Reign of RICHARD the Second.

(1) While we applaud, with the most perfect Sincerity, the independence of our Ancestors, who, in the true Spirit of Wisdom, pronounced this memorable Answer, we cannot but regret, that many of their I have drawn Inferences from it, which the Premises were by no Means competent to support—and from the mere Refusal to adopt a particular foreign Law, in Deference and Submission to the then Established Church, a general Law, of which this Maxim constituted a Part, was considered as dangerous and obnoxious a Character, that the mere Knowledge of it was considered as dangerous and infectious—and that it was impossible to its Assistance for Hints of Practicable Improvement, with due Adaptation and a discriminating Judgment, without necessarily imply implicit Submission to its Authority, in Matters prejudicial and inappropriate. I do not conceive that the Prejudice still subsists, in the same Form or Shape—but it certainly does in another, which is that to stick to the Digest, Tidd's Practice, and the Index to the Term Reports, as a more commodious Method of cultivating legal Science, than that of taking excursive Range for the Purpose of cultivating the general Principles of judicial Reasoning.

20 H. VIII. c. 9

Upon the immediate Subject of the particular Law before us, I apprehend that almost every unprejudiced Mind will concur in the Opinion of its Wisdom and good Sense, in disapproving the Principle of permitting the Character of Family Relations to depend upon Retrospect and Fiction; and in regarding the open Celebration of Marriage as a Pledge between the Individuals and Society, with Respect to the Character of the future Offspring.

Evident, however, as this Opinion appears to be, the Generality with which the opposite Doctrine has been adopted, in the different States of Europe, is very remarkable.—It being not only admitted in the ancient Systems, which may be supposed to have been influenced by that Deference which our Ancestors withstood, but retained in the reformed Establishment of Scotland, and in the modern Codes of Prussia and France, the latter of which, in Matters where no Motives of political Influence could intervene, presents a System which the warmest Opponents of the Government by which it was established, may contemplate with Approbation.

A recent Instance occurred of a very striking Application by the House of Lords to the Doctrine of Legitimation, by subsequent Marriage according to the Law of Scotland, in a Case of M'Adam v. Walker, 1 Dow. 148, in which it appeared, that a Party calling his Domestics together, presented to them a Woman with whom he cohabited as a Mistress, and his Children by her, as being his Wife and legitimate Children, and afterwards, on the same Day, shot himself.

There is another Subject partly connected with the Law before us, of no inconsiderable Importance; the repudiating the Filiation of Children born in Marriage, in Consequence of the Absence of the Husband from the Wife.—The Cases upon this Subject will be particularly adverted to in a Note on the Title, Bastards, in the Division of this Collection which relates to the Office of Justices of Peace.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term, as often as in any of the Cases aforesaid, any Writ of Mandamus shall issue out of any of the said Courts, and a Return shall be made thereunto, it shall and may be lawful to and for the Person or Persons suing or prosecuting such Writ of Mandamus, to plead to, or traverse all or any the material Facts contained within the said Return; to which the Person or Persons making such Return shall reply, take Issue, or demur; and such further Proceedings, and in such Manner shall be had therein, for the Determination thereof, as might have been had if the Person or Persons suing such Writ had brought his or their Action on the Case for a false Return; and if any Issue shall be joined on such Proceedings, the Person or Persons suing such Writ shall and may try the same in such Place, (2) as an Issue joined in such Action on the Case, should or might have been tried; and in case a Verdict shall be found for the Person or Persons suing such Writ, or Judgment given for him or them upon a Demurrer, or by Nil dicit, or for Want of a Replication or other Pleading, he or they shall recover his or their Damages and Costs, (3) in such Manner, as he or they might have done in such Action on the Case as aforesaid; such Costs and Damages to be levied by Capias ad Satisfaciendum, Fieri Facias, or Elegit; and a peremptory Writ of Mandamus shall be granted without Delay, for him or them for whom Judgment shall be given, as might have been, if such Return had been adjudged insufficient; and in case Judgment shall be given for the Person or Persons making such Return to such Writ, he or they shall recover his or their Costs of Suit, to be levied in Manner aforesaid.

As soon as the Return is made, the Prosecutor in such Writ may plead, &c. to which the Person returning may reply, &c.

How the Proceedings shall be.

III. Provided always, That if any Damages shall be recovered by virtue of this Act against any such Person or Persons making such Return to such Writ, as aforesaid, he or they shall not be liable to be Persons against whom Damages shall be recovered or liable to be sued in other Actions.

(1) As to the Certainty required in such Return, see Rex v. Mayor of Lyme Regis, Doug. 149.

(2) If the Prosecutor alleges all the material Facts in one County, he cannot issue the Venire into another.—Rex v. Mayor of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 1 East, 114.

That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term, in case any Person or Persons, against whom any Information or Informations in the Nature of a Quo Warranto shall in any of the said Cases be exhibited in any of the said Courts, shall be found or adjudged guilty of an Usurpation, or Intrusion into, or unlawfully holding and executing any of the said Offices, or Franchises, it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Courts respectively, as well to give Judgment of Ouster against such Person or Persons, of and from any of the said Offices or Franchises, as to fine such Person or Persons respectively, for his or their usurping, intruding into, or unlawfully holding and executing any of the said Offices or Franchises; and also it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Courts respectively, to give Judgment, That the Relator or Relators, in such Information named, shall recover his or their Costs (7) of such Prosecution; and if

(4) There can be no Information upon this Act against the Corporation itself, as a Body.—Rex v. Corporation of Carmarthen, 2 Bur. 869.

(5) The Act only extends to Corporation Offices: a Fair or a Market is not within the Intention or Construction of it. As to an Information at Common Law, see Rex v. Marsden et al. 3 Bur. 1812.

(6) The Court would direct a Consolidation of Informations, though the Prosecutor might judge it inconvenient, unless it were shewn to be so.—Rex v. Alt. 1 Burr. 573.

(7) An Information for presuming to hold a Court without Authority is good at Common Law, but does not entitle to Costs under this Act, which relates only to Corporate Rights, or Rights to Freedom in Corporations.—*Rex v. VI. And be it further enacted and declared by the Authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Courts respectively, to allow to such Person or Persons respectively, to whom any Writ of Mandamus shall be directed, or against whom any information in the Nature of a Quo Warranto, in any of the Cases aforesaid, shall be sued or prosecuted, or to the Person or Persons who shall sue or prosecute the same, such convenient Time respectively, to make a Return, plead, reply, rejoin, or demur, as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just and reasonable; any Thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding.

The Court may allow a convenient Time to return a Mandamus, plead Reply, &c.

VII. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That after the said first Day of Trinity Term, an Act made in the fourth Year of her Majesty's Reign, intituled, An Act for the Amendment of the Laws, and the better Advancement of Justice, and all the Statutes of Jeoffayles, shall be extended to all Writs of Mandamus, and Informations in the Nature of a Quo Warranto, and Proceedings thereon, for any the Matters in this Act mentioned. VIII. And whereas in divers Counties, Boroughs, Towns Corporate, and Cinque-Ports, where the Mayor, Bailiff, or other Officer or Officers, to whom it belongs to preside at the Election, and make Return of any Member to serve in Parliament, ought to be annually elected, the same Person hath been re-elected into such Office for several Years successively, which hath been found inconvenient; Be it enacted and declared by the Authority aforesaid, that no Person or Persons, who hath been or shall be in such annual Office, for one whole Year, shall be capable to be chosen into the same Office for the Year immediately ensuing: and where any such annual Officer or Officers is or are to continue for a Year, and, until some other Person or Persons, shall be chosen and sworn into such Office, any such Officer or Officers shall voluntarily and unlawfully obstruct and prevent the choosing another Person or Persons to succeed into such Office at the Time appointed for making another choice, shall forfeit one hundred Pounds for every such Offence, to be recovered with Costs of Suit, by such Person as will sue for the same in any of her Majesty's Courts of Record before mentioned, by Petition of Debt, Bill, Complaint, or Information, wherein no Essoin, Protection, or Wager of Law shall be allowed, nor any more than one appearance; one Moiety thereof to her Majesty, and the other Moiety thereof to him or them that will sue for the same.

No annual returning Officer shall be re-elected; and such annual Officer obstructing the Election of his Successor, to forfeit 100*l*.

(8) In Rex v. Morgan, 2 Strange, 1041, it was held, that a Relator, not proceeding to Trial within a Year, was only liable to Costs upon his Recognisance, for not Proceeding to Trial under Statute 405 William & Mary, c. 18, & not to general Costs under this Statute, there being no Verdict or Judgment; but in Rex v. Powell, it was held, that where the Relator does not proceed to Trial pursuant to Notice, it is within the Equity of this Statute, & he shall pay Costs as in Rex v. Powell, 1 Strange, 33.

(9) This Section did not enable a Defendant to an Information, in the Nature of Quo Warranto, to plead several Matters—Rex v. Archbishop of York, Willes, 533—but such Power is given by 32 G. III. c. 58, Post No. 12.

' mentioned or expressed, that shall not have, within one Year next before such Election or Choice, taken the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, according to the Rites of the Church of England, and that in Default thereof every such Placing, Election and Choice shall be void ;' Be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That all and every the now Member and Members of any Corporation within this Kingdom, and all and every Person and Persons now in actual Possession of any Office, that were required by the said above recited Act to take the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper according to the Rites of the Church of England, within one Year next before his Election or Choice into such Office, shall be and are hereby confirmed in their several and respective Offices and Places, notwithstanding their Omission to take the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper as aforesaid, and shall be indemnified, freed and discharged, of and from all Incapacities, Disabilities, Forfeitures and Penalties arising from such Omission; and that none of their Acts, nor the Acts not yet avoided, of any who have been Members of any Corporation, or in actual Possession of such Offices, shall be questioned or avoided for or by Reason of such Omission; but that all such Acts shall be and are hereby declared and enacted to be as good and effectual as if all and every such Person and Persons had taken the Lord's Supper in Manner as aforesaid; nor shall any Person or Persons, who shall be hereafter placed, elected or chosen, in or to any the Offices aforesaid, be removed by the Corporation, or otherwise prosecuted for or by Reason of such Omission; nor shall any Incapacity, Disability, Forfeiture or Penalty, be incurred by Reason of the same, unless such Person be so removed, or such Prosecution be commenced within six Months after such Person's being placed or elected into his respective Office, as aforesaid, and that in Case of a Prosecution the same be carried on without wilful Delay. (1)

(1) On a Mandamus to admit, the Party applying must prove that he had taken the Sacrament according to the Statute 13 Car. 2. and the Case is not within this Statute, as the Person never was admitted, and therefore cannot be removed, Tufton v. Nevinston, 2 Lord Raym. 1354. 1 Str. 585. But where a Party elected obtained a Mandamus to deliver the Common Seal, &c. when a Return was made of not duly elected, it was held that, since the Statute the Election was not void, but only voidable, and that as there was no Removal within the limited Time, the Election stood confirmed and became absolute; and that the Case differed from the preceding one, as the Plaintiff was in possession of the Office. Crawford v. Powell, 2 Bur. 1013. In Harrison v. Evans, Wilm. 159. Lord Ch. J. Wilmot said, The Act only affects Cases where there has been six Months' Possession, and is rather a Statute of Limitations founded upon public Convenience, to guard against the violent Operation of the annulling Words in the Corporation Act. But before the six Months are expired, and even afterwards, where there has been no Possession of the Office under such an Election, the Operation of the former Law is not at all varied by it. And in Rex v. Monday, Cowper 539. Lord Mansfield observed to the same Effect, that the Statute 5 Geo. 1. c. 6. operates rather as a Protection to the Possession, than as a Bar to the Remedy. If a Man under this Disability has been in Possession six Months, there shall be no Remedy to turn him out: His Title shall not afterwards be questioned on that Ground. It is similar to the Rule laid down by this Court in Respect of Information where the Party has been in Possession twenty Years. But if this Objection is made recently before any Possession; as suppose the Party upon being refused to be sworn in, was to apply for a Mandamus, and the Answer on the Application should be, that the Ground of Refusal was because he had not taken the Sacrament, I should think it a sufficient Objection. It is the Possession only that is protected; and that, not till after the Expiration of six Months. The Object of the Act was to lessen the Rigour of the Stat. 13 Car. II. made in warmer Times; and that has gone a great Way. See also Rex v. Hawkins, 10 East, 211. 2 Dow, 124.

11 Geo. I. c. 4.—An Act for preventing the Inconveniences arising for want of Elections of Mayors or other Chief Magistrates of Boroughs or Corporations being made upon the Days appointed by Charter or Usage for that Purpose, and directing in what Manner such Elections shall be afterwards made.

WHEREAS in many Cities, Boroughs and Towns Corporate within that Part of Great Britain called England, Wales, and Berwick upon Tweed, the Election of the Mayor, Bailiff or Bailiffs, or other Chief Officer or Officers, is by Charter or ancient Usage confined to a particular Day or Time, without any Provision how to act or proceed, in case no Election be then made; and it frequently happens, that by such Charter or Usage, particular Acts are required to be done at certain Times, in order to and for the completing of such Elections, and by the Contrivance or Default of the Person or Persons who ought to hold the Court, or preside in the Assembly where such Elections are to be made, or such Acts to be done, or by Accident, it hath sometimes happened, and may frequently do so, if not timely prevented, That no Courts or Assemblies have been held, or Elections made, or such Acts done within the Time fixed for that Purpose; in which Cases, if Elections of such Officers could not afterwards be made or completed, or in consequence of such Omission the Corporation should be dissolved, great Mischiefs might ensue: For Remedy and Prevention whereof, Be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That if in any City, Borough or Town Corporate within that Part of Great Britain called England, Wales, and Berwick upon Tweed, no Election shall be made of the Mayor, Bailiff or Bailiffs, or other chief Officer or Officers of such City, Borough or Town Corporate, upon the Day or within the Time appointed by Charter or Usage for such Election, or such Election being made, shall afterwards become void, whether such Omission or Avoidance shall happen through the Default of the Officer or Officers who ought to hold the Court or preside where such Election is to be made, or by any Accident or other Means whatsoever, the Corporation shall not thereby be deemed or taken to be dissolved or disabled from electing such Officer or Officers for the future: But in any Case where no Election shall be made as aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for the Members or Persons of such City, Borough or Corporation, who have Right to vote, or be present at, or to do any other Act necessary to be done, in order to or for the completing of such Election, and they, or such of them as shall not be hindered by any reasonable Impediment or Excuse, are hereby required respectively to meet or assemble together in the Town-Hall or other usual Place of Meeting for making such Election, within such City, Borough or Town Corporate, upon the Day next after the Expiration of the Time within which such Election ought to have been made, unless such Day shall happen to be Sunday, and then upon the Monday following, between the Hours of Ten in the Morning and Two in the Afternoon of the same Day; (1) and that the Members or Persons having Right to vote at, or to do any other Act to the declaring of Dividends ; and for further ing the Qualification of Members for voting in pective General Courts.

REAS by Virtue of divers Acts of Parliament, and of 7 Geo. III. c. 48.

By Royal Charters founded thereupon, certain Public Companies and Corporations have been instituted for the Purpose of carrying on Trades or Dealings with Joint Stocks ; and the Management of the Affairs of such Companies has been vested in their Courts, composed of the Members at large of such Companies respectively ; in which General Courts every Member of each Company, possessed of such Share in the Stock of the Company, and by the said Acts of Parliament and Charters is limited to each of the said Companies respectively, is qualified and give a Vote or Votes : And whereas of late Years a most mischievous Practice has been introduced of splitting Shares of Stock, and making separate and temporary Con- of the Parts thereof, for the Purpose of multiplying or casual Votes immediately before the Time of declaring a of choosing Directors, or of deciding any other important which Practice is subversive of every Principle upon Establishment of such General Courts is founded, and, if become general, would leave the permanent Interest of Companies liable at all Times to be sacrificed to the partial and Views of a few, and those perhaps temporary Proprietors : are enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, Consents, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Force of the same, That from and after the first Day of August, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-seven, no Member of any Public Companies or Corporations, instituted for the Purpose aforesaid, shall be deemed qualified to vote, or be admitted to give a Vote or Votes, in any General Court of any such Company, unless he, she, or they, shall have been possessed of such Share of any Stock transferred to him, her, or them, after the first Day of August, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-seven, until he, she, or they, shall have been possessed of such Share of such Stock for six Calendar Months ; unless such Stock shall have been actually received by Bequest, or by Marriage, or by Succession to an Intestate's Estate, or by the Custom of the City of London, or by the Custom of Settlement after the Death of any Person who shall be entitled for Life to the Dividends of such Stock.

Members disqualified from voting in a General Court who were not possessed of Stock six Months ; except. &c.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in and respective Oaths and Affirmations which are at present, in Virtue of any Act of Parliament, or by any Charter of any

Oaths to be taken

 7 Geo. III. c. 48. Members intitled to vote in the General Courts of the said Companies respectively, at or before giving their Votes, shall, from and after the said first Day of August One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-seven, be altered in such Manner, as to extend to, and comprise the further Qualification required by this Act, in Respect of the Continuance of the Possession of such Stock as aforesaid; and that the said Oaths and Affirmations, so altered as aforesaid, shall, from and after the said first Day of August, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-seven, be severally and respectively administered to, and taken by the Members of such Companies, in the Place of those heretofore required to be administered and taken.

III. And forasmuch as no Part of the Business transacted by the General Courts of the said Companies can be of more Importance to the general and lasting Interest of the Companies themselves, or to the Preservation of Publick Credit, so closely connected with the Interest, than what concerns the fixing, from Time to Time, of the Dividends to be made out of the Profits and Produce of their Joint Stocks among the several Proprietors having Shares therein. And forasmuch as the Provisions hitherto made have not been found sufficient to prevent many great and dangerous Irregularities being practised in Relation to the making of sudden and unwarrantable Alterations in the Rates of such Dividends: Be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the Tenth Day of July, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-seven, no Declaration of a Dividend shall be made by any General Court of any of the said Companies, other than one of the Half-yearly or Quarterly General Courts, at the Distance of five Calendar Months at the least from the last preceding Declaration of a Dividend; and that no Declaration of more than one Half-yearly Dividend shall be made by one General Court; and that no Question upon any Proposition for increasing the Rate of the Dividend, shall be decided otherwise than by Ballot, to be taken at the Distance of three entire Days, at the least, from the Adjournment, or Breaking up of the General Court, in which such Question shall have been proposed.

No Declaration of a Dividend, but

 Courts, at five Months' Distance,

 this Act shall be deemed and taken to be a Publick Act; of which Notice shall be judicially taken by all Judges, Justices, and other Persons whatsoever, without specially pleading the same.

(*) That the Word Grant in the Conveyance of an Estate of does not create a Warranty, is abundantly Clear from all the Authorities on the Subject. See Co. Lit. 384. [a] Butler's Note, ibid. Spencer's Case 18. although the Word Give has that Effect. I think it is rather regretted, that notwithstanding the unquestionable and settled Law in this Respect, those who are perfect Masters of the Subject give Countenance to the unfounded Scruples which are entertained concerning it, by still inserting the Word Grant in Conveyances from Trustees. It is singular that a Judge of so much Eminence as Mr. Justice Buller, should have allowed the Words Grant and Enfeoff, amount to a general Warranty in a Feoffment, and have the same Force and Effect, and should refer to Nokes's Case, 4 as settling that Point. Browning v. Wright, 2 Bosanquet and Nokes's Case relates to the Demise of a Term in which the Words Dedi & Concessi operate as a Covenant unless there is an express Covenant to the contrary. In the Case the general and implied Covenant of Law is restrained. A Provision has been lately introduced in Conveyancing, of declaring previous to the Words of Conveyance, that the Party conveys "so far only as he can lawfully and not further or otherwise, and that he intends only to pass his Interest and not to Warrant the Estate." I think the Practice should be discontinued as tending to introduce erroneous Opinions upon the Subject.

(*) The real Action of Waste has so entirely fallen into Disuse, Case of the Keepers, &c. of Harrow School v. Anderton, 2 R. and probably the only Instance of it remembered by Lawyers, now the Action on the Case, in the Nature of an Action of Waste, is now substituted for the ancient Remedy, and will lie between Persons whom the proper Action of Waste is not maintainable, but in 1 N. R. 290. it was ruled that this Action does not lie in the Case of Waste, which Authority, if admitted to be Law, may render it still to resort to the former Proceeding. A more effectual Remedy against Waste, is in many Cases attainable by Injunctions in Equity above mentioned Case of Harrow School v. Anderton, the Court of Pleas, upon the Authorities there cited, gave Judgment for the Debt Account of the Damages recovered by the Plaintiff.

v. Lawson, 4 T. R. 443. Lands held of the Lord of the Manor by Tenure were enfeoffed by the Lord to the Tenant in Fee-farm, a yearly Rent, in Lieu of all Manner of other Rents, Suits, Services, and Demands. By a subsequent Deed it was recited, that as a condition for the former it was agreed that the Feoffee and all others who sold his Estate, should do Suit and Service, and appear at Courts and be subject to Fines and Amerciaments assessed by the Homage;

rent, but a Rent to be recovered according to the Contract between them. After the Statute of Quia emptores, the Lord could not by any recover the old Services when he conveyed away the Estate in Respect of the Services were due, for the Tenant must hold of the superior

Lord. By the Conveyance the Estate was no longer Parcel of the Manor, nor held of the Manor, neither was the Defendant's Ancestor any longer a Tenant of the Manor.

Doe on the Demise of Reay v. Huntingdon, 4 East, 271. a customary or Tenant-Right Estate in Cumberland, not Devisable either directly or by Means of a Will, and Surrender being holden of the Lord of the Manor subject to customary Rents and other Services; the Lord, for certain Considerations, did Ratify and Confirm to the Tenant all his said customary Estate, and did grant that the Tenant should be discharged from all Rents, Fines, Heriots, Customs, Services and Demands, in Respect of his Tenancy, except one Penny yearly Rent, and excepting and reserving Suit of Court with the Service incident thereto, the Lord reserving all Royalties, Escheats and Forfeitures, and all other Advantages and Emoluments belonging to the Seignory so far as might consist with and not be prejudicial to the aforesaid Immunities, with Liberty to the Grantee of cutting Timber and getting Stones, and alienating without Consent. It was contended in a most learned Argument, that the only Effect of the Deed was by Means of Covenants to compound for the Payment of certain Parts of the Rents, and for the Performance of certain burthensome Services; but excepting to the Lord the Remainder according to the ancient Tenure, and secondly, that if this were no longer the old customary Estate as between Lord and Tenant, yet the collateral Customs as to Strangers might still remain; but it was decided that by the Operation of the Deed the immediate Customs by which the Tenement was distinguished from other Lands holden in free and common Socage had been extinguished, and the Land became devisable as any other Socage Land under the Statute of Wills. The Case contains a great Deal of important Learning respecting the Extinction of Tenure by the Release of Services, and affords one of the best Views which can be any where had of the customary Estates peculiar to the North of England, for which Border Services were anciently performed. See also Townley v. Gibson, 2 T. R. 424. Doe v. Davidson, 2 M. & S. 175.

WHERE divers sundry Persons before this Time, having other Persons seised to their Use of and in Lands and other Hereditaments to and for the Declaration of their Wills, have by their last Wills and Testaments willed and declared such their said Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments to be sold by their Executors, as well to and for the Payments of their Debts, Performance of their Legacies, necessary and convenient finding of their Wives, virtuous bringing up and Advancement of their Children to Marriage, as also for other charitable Deeds to be done and executed by their Executors for the Health of their Souls. And notwithstanding such Trust and Confidence so by them put in their said Executors, it hath oftentimes been seen, where such last Wills and Testaments of such Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments have been declared, and in the same divers Executors named and made, that after the Decease of such Testators some of the same Executors, willing to accomplish the Trust and Confidence that they were put in by the said Testator, have accepted and taken upon them the Charge of the said Testament, and have been ready to fulfil and perform all Things contained in the same; and the Residue of the same Executors, uncharitably contrary to the Trust that they were put in, have refused to intermeddle in any wise with the Execution of the said Will and Testament, or with the Sale of such Lands so willed to be sold by the Testator. And forasmuch as a Bargain and Sale of such Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments so willed by any Person to be sold by his Executors after his Decease, after the Opinion of divers Persons, (1) can in no wise be good or effectual in the Law, unless the same Bargain and Sale be made by the whole Number of the Executors named to and for the same; by Reason whereof, as well the Debts of such Testators have rested unpaid and unsatisfied, to the great Danger and Peril of the Souls of such Testators, and to the great Hindrance, and many Times to the utter undoing of their Creditors: As also the Legacies and Requests made by the Testator to his Wife, Children, and for other charitable Deeds to be done for the Wealth of the Soul of the same Testator that made the same Testament, have been also unperformed, as well to the extreme Misery of the Wife and Children of the said Testator, as also to the Let of Performance of other charitable Deeds for the Wealth of the Soul of the said Testator, to the Displeasure of Almighty God. For Remedy whereof, be it enacted, ordained, and established by the Authority of this present Parliament, That where Part of the Executors named in any such Testament, or of any such Person so making or Part of the Executors, who have willed that the Executors of a Will may sell any Land devised by the Testator, to be sold by the whole Number of the Executors, 25 Ed. 3. c. 3. 25 Ed. 3. stat. 1. 25 Ed. 3. c. 3. 25 Ed. 3. stat. 1. 25 Ed. 3. c. 3. 25 Ed. 3. stat. 1.

(1) In Wentworth v. Wentworth, 2 H. R. 126 Lord Kenyon infers from this Expression that the Act was intended rather to remove Doubts than to make a new Law.

g any such Will of any Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments be sold by his Executors, after the Death of any such Testator, refuse to take upon him or them the Administration and of the same Testament and last Will wherein they be so to be Executors, and the Residue of the same Executors do and take upon them the Cure and Charge of the same Testament and last Will; that then all Bargains and Sales of such Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, so willed to be sold by the Will of any such Testator, as well heretofore made, as hereafter made by him or them only of the said Executors that so doth or that heretofore hath accepted and taken upon him or them the Cure or Charge of Administration of any such Will or Testament shall be as good and as effectual in the Law, as if all the Executors of the same Executors named in the said Testament, so as the Administration of the same Testament, had joined with them in the making of the Bargain and Sale of such Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments so willed to be sold by the Executors of any such Testator, which heretofore hath made or declared, or hereafter shall make or declare any such Will, of any such Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments after his Decease, to be sold by his Executors.

Provided always, That this Act shall not extend to give Power or Authority to any Executor or Executors at any Time hereafter to sell or put to Sale any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, by the Will and Authority of any Will or Testament heretofore made, more than they might do by the Course of the Common Law before the making of this Act. (2)

Wills made before this Statute.

The Doctrine established respecting this Statute is contained in the Note, by Mr. Sugden, to Gilbert's Uses and Trusts, 128. [67] The Statute does not apply to a Case of Death, nor was it necessary could. The Act was passed before the Statute of Uses, and only re-devises by Persons having other Persons seised to their Use, and in only provided for Cases where Lands are willed to be sold, that is, Power is given; but it was held, since the Statute of Uses, to extend to a Devise by a Person seised in Fee of the legal Estate to sell, as to a Power; Bonifant v. Greenfield, Cro. Eliz. 80. See Bro. Devise, and Hawkins v. Kemp, 3. East, 410. The Devise must be to the Executors; or at least the Fund, when raised, must be distributable in that Character.—A mere Devise to Persons to sell, and afterwards appointment of them as Executors, will not, it is said, bring the Case under the Act. It was not, however, necessary to decide the Point, because by the other Executors was not shewn. Denne v. Judge, 11. East, 3. Bonifant v. Greenfield, ubi sup. There is an Observation of Lord Mansfield on the Preamble of the Act, in 6. Term Rep. 396. (See the preface.) It must be remembered, that it only applies where one of the Executors refuses to join; and even where that is the Case, a cautious Purchaser will not accept a Conveyance from one, because the other may have sold to some other Person. Whether the Receipt of the acting Executor will be a good Discharge under the usual Power to give Receipts.—Treatise of Purch. p. 387. s. 17."

The following is the Result of Mr. Sugden's Examination of the surviving Powers that do or do not survive. Treatise on Powers, Ch. 3. 140.

1. That where the Power is given to two or more, by their proper Names, who are not made Executors, it will not survive without express Words. 2d. That where it is given to three or more, generally, as, to my Sons, &c. and not by their proper Names, the Authority will survive whilst the plural Number remains. 3d. That, where the Authority is given to Executors, and the Will does not expressly point to a joint Exercise of the Power, a single surviving Executor may execute it. But 4th. That where the Power is given to them nominatim, although in the Character of Executors, yet it is doubtful whether it will survive.

32 H. VIII. c. 34.

Co. Lit. 215.

(1) The following Exposition of this Act is given by Sir Edward Coke, Inst. 215.

“ Upon this Act divers Resolutions and Judgements have been given, which are necessary to be known.

1. That the said Statute is general, viz. That the Grantee of the Reversion every common Person, as well as of the King, shall take Advantage of Conditions.

2. That the Statute doth extend to Grants made by the Successors of the King, albeit the King be only named in the Act.

3. That where the Statute speaketh of Lessees, that the same doth not extend to Gifts in Tail.

4. That where the Statute speaks of Grantees and Assignees of the Reversion, that an Assignee of Part of the State of Reversion may take Advantage of the Condition. As if Lessee for Life be, &c. and the Reversion is granted for Years, &c. So if Lessee for Years, &c. be, and the Reversion is granted for Years, the Grantee for Years shall take Benefit of the Condition in Respect of the Word Executors in the Act.

5. That a Grantee of Part of the Reversion shall not take Advantage of the Condition; as if the Lease be of three Acres, reserving a Rent upon Condition, and the Reversion is granted of two Acres, the Rent shall be apportioned by the Act of the Parties, but the Condition is destroyed, for that it is entire and against common Right.

6. That in the King's Case, the Condition in that Case is not destroyed, it remains still in the King.

7. By Act in Law a Condition may be apportioned in the Case of a common Person; as if a Lease for Years be made of two Acres, one of the Nature Borough English, the other at the Common Law, and the Lessor having sue two Sons, dieth, each of them shall enter for the Condition broken, and likewise a Condition shall be apportioned by the Act and Wrong of the Lessee, hath been said in the Chapter of Rents.

8. If a Lease for Life be made, reserving a Rent upon Condition, &c. the Lessor levies a Fine of the Reversion, he is Grantee or Assignee of the Reversion, but without Attournment, he shall not take Advantage of the Condition, for the Makers of the Statute intended to have all necessary Incidents observed, otherwise it might be mischievous to the Lessee.*

9 There is a Diversity between a Condition that is compulsory, and a Power of Revocation that is voluntary; for a Man that hath a Power of Revocation, may by his own Act extinguish his Power of Revocation in part, as by levying of a Fine of Part; and yet the Power shall remain for the residue, because it is in the Nature of a Limitation, and not of a Condition; and so it was resolved in the Earl of Shrewsbury's Case in the Court of Wards. Mich. 39. Eliz. and Mich. 40 and 41, Eliz.

* Attournment is taken away per 4 & 5 Anne, c. 16.

10. If the Lessor bargain and sell the Reversion by Deed indented and rolled, the Bargainee is not in the per by the Bargainor, and yet he is an Assignee within the Statute. So if the Lessor grants the Reversion in Fee to the Use of A and his Heirs, A is a sufficient Assignee within the Statute, because he comes in by the Act and Limitation of the Party, albeit he is in the Per, and the Words of the Statute be, to or by, and they be Assignees him, although they be not by him; but such as come in merely by Act in part, as the Lord of the Villiene, the Lord by Escheat, the Lord that entreth claimeth by Mortmain, or the like, shall not take Benefit of this Statute.

11. If the Lessor in the Case before, bargain and sell the Reversion by deed indented and inrolled, or if the Lessor make a Feoffment in Fee, and a Lessee re-enter, the Grantee or Feoffee shall not take any Advantage of the Condition without making Notice to the Lessee.

No. 14. 12. Albeit the whole Words of the Statute be for Non-payment of the Rent, or for doing of Waste or other Forfeiture, yet the Grantees or Assignees shall not take Benefit of every Forfeiture by Force of a Condition, but only of such Conditions as either are incident to the Reversion, as Rent, or for the Benefit of the State, as for not doing of Waste, for keeping the Houses in Reparations, for making of Fences, scouring of Ditches, for preserving of Woods, or such like, and not for the Payment of any Sum in Gross, delivery of Corn, Wood, or the Like so as other Forfeiture, shall be taken for other Forfeitures like to those Examples which were there put (viz.) of Payment of Rent, and not doing of Waste which are for the Benefit of the Reversion." And see Note ibid. in the late Editions of Co. Lit. from Lord Nottingham's MSS.

The Statute only gives a Remedy for and against Persons who by Assignment become entitled to the Reversion—the Liability of the Assignee of the Term, and his Right to maintain an Action of Covenant against the Lessor and his Heirs, is at Common Law.

Such an Action can only be maintained against the Assignee of the entire legal Interest of the Whole or Part of the Premises demised—therefore it cannot be maintained against the Grantee of a Lessee for Lives for 99 Years, if the Lives should so long live in as full and ample a Manner as the Lessee held.—Earl of Derby v. Taylor, 1 East 502.

In Eaton v. Jacques, Doug. 454, it was held that a Mortgagee by Assignment of the whole Leasehold Interest, who had not taken Possession, was not liable in Covenant, but this is very much questioned by Lord Kenyon, in Westerdell v. Dale, 7 Term Rep. 312, and Stone v. Evans, at N. P. cited 7 East 341. In Walker v. Reeves, Doug. 461, an Averment that the Assignee continued in Possession was holden insufficient as a Replication to a Plea that he had assigned it over to another; but that Case was decided by the same Judges, as Eaton and Jacques, and distinguished from it on the Ground of the latter being a Mortgage. Assignees under a Commission of Bankrupt, having taken the Property, as such are chargeable in Covenant, and having once accepted the Property, they cannot afterwards reject it. But the merely offering it to Sale is not such an Assumption of the Property as to charge them with the Covenants. Turner v. Richardson, 7 East 335, and Browne v. Robinson, there cited.

An Executor or Administrator upon whom a Term devolves, is answerable de bonis propriis, as an Assignee, Tilney v. Norris, 1 Salk. 309.

Covenant will lie against an Assignee of Part of the Estate, Cougham v. King, Cro. Car. 222. Stevenson v. Lambard, 2 East 575, and in such an Action there may be an Apportionment of Rent, although there cannot in the Case of the immediate Lessee.

It is settled that an Assignee can only be charged for Breaches incurred during his having the Estate in the Premises, and that such Liability is divested by an Assignment to a Beggar, or a Person leaving the Kingdom, or who does not take actual Possession, or to a Ferne Covert whose Husband does not assent, or a Prisoner for Debt. Pitcher v. Tovey, 1 Salk. 81. Bamfather v. Jordan, Doug. 425. Lekeux v. Nash, 2 Str. 1281. Taylor v. Sturm, 1 Bos. and Pull. 21. And Notice of such Assignment is not necessary. Pitcher v. Tovey, ub. supra.

It is also settled that a Lessee continues liable notwithstanding any Assignment, and such Lessee cannot plead his Bankruptcy in Bar. Anriol v. Mills, 4 T. R. 94, except by Virtue of 49 Geo. III. c. 121. which releases the Bankrupt in Case the Assignees accept the Lease and the Benefit therefrom of a Part of the Estate.

It is agreed that the Statute relates only to Assignees of a Reversion expectant upon Leases for Life or Years, and not to the Assignees of Grants in Fee or Tail;—and it is also evident that none of the Expressions in the Statute give a Right of Action to the second Assignee of a Term against the first Assignor. And the Recital of the Statute, that by the Common Law of England no Stranger to any Covenant shall take any Benefit or Advantage of the same, but only such as be Parties or Privies thereunto, with the Necessity for such an Enactment as constitutes the general Purview of the Statute, would seem to shew, that where there is no Reversion, the Assignee of a Purchaser of an Estate would have no Remedy on the Covenants of the original Grantor, for between such Grantor and the Assignee there does not appear to be any actual Privy.

But the Law seems to be, that such Assignee is entitled to the No. 14.
Benefit of Covenants for Title made with his Assignor or any under whom 32 H. VIII. c. 34 he claims. In Middlemore v. Goodall, Rol. Abr. 521 (6 Viner 399) Cro. Car.
503—505. Sir William Jones, 406. the Right to maintain such Action upon a Conveyance of the Inheritance at Common Law, is admitted by the Court as clear Law, and the Right of a Subassignee of a Term is also admitted both by the Court and Sir E. Coke as Counsel for the Defendant, in Andes v. Nokes Moor, 419, Cro. Eliz. 373—436, and although in both these Cases the Judgment was given for the Defendant on collateral Grounds, and there does not appear to be any Case in the Books in which Judgment was actually given for the Assignee in an Action upon such Covenants, I apprehend that the Right of maintaining such Action may be regarded as a settled Point. A Warranty extends to Assigns if named, but otherwise not. Co. Lit. 384—6.

With Respect to Covenants for the Payment of a Rent Charge issuing out of Land, the principal Question in Brewster v. Kitchin, 1 Lord Raym. 317, was upon the Construction of a Covenant for the Payment of a Rent Charge without deducting Taxes, and the Application of such a Covenant to Taxes newly imposed, upon which Hol. C. J. delivered the Opinion of the Court in Favour of the Plaintiff;—"but then," says the Reporter, "he made another Question, which was not observed at the Bar nor by any other of the other Judges, viz. whether the Terre Tenant is liable to an Action upon this Covenant, and he was of Opinion that he was not. For by him, if Tenant in Fee grants a Rent Charge out of Lands and Covenants to pay it, without Deduction, for himself and his Heirs, you may maintain Covenant against the Grantor and his Heirs, but not against the Assignee, for it is a mere personal Covenant and cannot run with the Land; and for a Case in Point, he cited Hardres, 87 pl. 5. Cook and the Earl of Arundel."**
Therefore since it doth not appear that the Defendant is bound by this Covenant, for this Reason he was of Opinion, that Judgment ought to be given for the Defendant. But the other three Judges seemed to be a Surprise and not in Truth to comprehend this Objection, and therefore they persisted in their former Opinion, talking of Agreements, Intent of the Party, binding the Land, and I know not what. They gave Judgment for the Plaintiff against the Opinion of Holt Ch. J. for the Reason aforesaid.

Although in the preceding Case the Decision was in Favour of the Plaintiff, the Eminence not only of the dissentient Judge, but of the Reporter, who intimates his Opinion in such striking Terms, might probably afford sufficient Ground for considering the Question referred to as open to further Enquiry—but in Roach v. Wadham, 6 East 289, which involved the same Point, the Opinion of the Court was in Favour of the Defendant upon another Ground, and no Question was made as to the Liability of the Defendant supposing him to stand in the Character of Assignee. Mr. Sugden in his Treatise on Powers, p. 237, animadverts with much Particularity upon the Ground of the Decision, without touching upon the Point in Question, or rather taking it for granted;—but I should conceive that the mere negative Argument, of the Point not having engaged the Attention of the eminent Persons who decided that Case, cannot be regarded as decisive, if upon Examination a different Conclusion should be found more consonant to Law.
And no Instance can better exemplify the Weakness of such a negative Argument in general, than that of Brewster v. Kitchin, in which the Point occurred only to the Chief Justice, whose Name is at least an indisputable Authority for its being a Question entitled to considerable Attention.

The Case above referred to by C. J. Holt, of Cook v. Earl of Arundel, Hardres 87, was a Suit in Equity to make the Defendant's Lands subject to a Fee-farm Rent, and to charge them with it, for that the Duke of Norfolk who had in his Hands both the Plaintiff's and Defendant's Lands subject to this Rent, had granted the Plaintiff's Lands to one under whom the Plaintiff claimed, and covenanted that they should be discharged from this Rent, upon which Covenant the Plaintiff sought Relief, and would have it taken to be a real Covenant which should run with the Land, and charge the other Lands with the whole Rent; but the Court was clear of Opinion, that it was no more than an ordinary and personal Covenant which must charge the Heir only in Respect of Assets and not otherwise.

In the Year Book, 42 Ed. 3.—3. a Case is cited and admitted, of an Action by an Assignee upon a Covenant by one Parcener upon a Partition to acquit

No. 14. the other of Suit—as a Covenant running with the Land—and the Case cited as undisputed Law in Spencer's Case, 5 Co. 18. 1 Inst. 385. There are also two Cases in the Year Books, 42 Ed. 3.—3. 2 H. 4.—9. of Covenants a Friar with the Consent of his Convent to find a Priest to officiate in the Chapel of the Covenantee, and the Intimations of the Court were, that such a Covenant might run with the Land in Favour of the Alienee—neither of the Cases was actually decided, but the Doctrine is cited as good Law by Lord Coke in the Passages last referred to. It seems however to deserve Consideration whether the Doctrine could be applied to the Case of an Individual entering into any Covenant in Respect of the Land of a Stranger with which he has no Concern, so as to maintain an Action on the Covenant by an Alienee of the Land.

In Holmes v. Buckley, Prec. Ch. 39, 1 Eq. abr. 27, a Person granted a Watercourse, and covenanted to cleanse it, and afterwards, upon a Suit in Equity between the Alienees of the respective Parties, the Court held that there was a Covenant that ran with the Land—and decided accordingly; but one Ingredient in the Case was, that the Cleaning had been rendered more chargeable by a Building erected by the Defendant.

In the Mayor, &c. of Carlisle, v. Blamire, 8 East, 487, decided in Favour of the Defendant, upon a Grant which will presently be mentioned, it seems clearly taken for granted, that, upon the Ground of so much of the River running through certain Lands, as would be sufficient for supplying a Mill with Water, an Action might be maintained against the Alienee of the Land, upon a Covenant not to divert the Water.

In Conveyances of small Parcels of Land, it is very common to insert Covenants for building in a particular Manner, or for not exercising particular Trades. How far the Covenants are binding, except between the immediate Parties, seems very questionable. There is no subsisting Privity in the Grantor, in Respect of Right or Interest in the Land to which after the Alienation he is merely a Stranger, still less is there any semblance of Privity between the Grantee and the Owner of any other Premises. The Benefit of the Covenant is not assignable at Law as a Matter in Gross, neither does it appear to be a Right transmissible by Inheritance; and it may also be important to consider how far the Doctrine involved in the two last mentioned Cases, with Respect to charging Persons, to whom Land may come in a Course of Alienation, with Covenants entered into by preceding Owners, at any remote antecedent Period, can legally be carried.

To the Instances contained in the eighth Member of the preceding Extract from first Institutes, of a Bargainee or a Party taking under the Statute of Uses, because he comes in by the Act and Disposition of the Party, may be added, the Case of a Person who takes the Reversion by a common Law Recovery, and who, as the Law is laid down in the Case of Lincoln College, 3 Rep. 68, may take Advantage of the Statute, because he comes in by the Limitation and Act of the Party. In Mod. 192, the Report was reflected upon by Sergeant Maynard, who said, there was no such Resolution in the Case of Lincoln College; but the Court said, that the Report, whether there was any Resolution in the Case or not, was founded on so good Reason, that the Conveyances since had gone according to it. And in Glover v. Cope, 3 Le. 326, it was resolved, that a Surrender of a Copyhold is within the Act, contrary to a preceding Resolution, in Brasier v. Beal, Yelv. 222, founded on the Ground of the Surrender being in by the Act of the Lord.

In all these Authorities it seems to be agreed, that if, in Substance, the Estate was transmitted by the Act and Disposition of the Party, he shall be considered as an Assignee and Grantee within the Statute, although, technically speaking, the Act of Conveyance might not be strictly a Grant or Assignment—or, in other Words, that the Right and Obligation of the Covenant followed the Transmission of the Estate, without Regard to the Mode or Character of the Conveyance, and I am not aware of any Authority in which the opposite Doctrine is directly stated—but, in the late Case of Roach and Wadham, which was argued very elaborately, upon the Question whether a Disposition operated as a Grant of the Estate, or the Execution of a Power, it was completely assumed, without Argument or Observation, that the Appointee, under a Power, was not subject to the Covenants of the Appointor—of course no Reference was made to the Statute, and the Case could not be brought within the immediate operation of it, being a Coin Fee; but the several Authorities, which have been referred to, proceed upon any minute verbal Criticism on the Language of the Statute, but upon the broad general Principle of the Obligation following the Nature of the Estate; and I should conceive, that the Case of a Bargainee regarded as completely analogous to that of an Appointee.

Justice of the Case is very manifest, and it may be hoped, that, any Disrespect towards those who were engaged in the Agitation of the Point, referred to, a Point of such Importance would not be entirely laid at a mere Reference to their implied Authority, without a more direct Consideration of the immediate Question.

The Cases mentioned by Sir Edward Coke, of a Lord taking an Estate in Fee, who cannot have the Benefit of the Statute, may be added, Lord Barton, Moore, 94—Chaworth v. Phillips, Moore, 876, in which it was held, that if a Lessee make an Underlease and surrender, he, in Reversion, cannot have the Benefit of the Condition, because he is in of another Estate PARCELS—And, in Webb v. Russell, 3 Term Rep. 393, it was held, that the Reversion to the Lessee extinguished the Covenants of the Sub-tenant, it is very material to advert to the Expressions in Moor, and that it is merely that the Party was in of another Estate, but of another Estate in Fee. The Point involves a Question respecting Leases made under which Covenants to the Lessor—in Respect of which it is very evident, that the Party in Reversion or Remainder does not come in by any Act or Omission of the Party making the Lease. The Point was mentioned, in Webb v. Russell, and I have known it occur in Practice, upon which went off upon other Grounds.

When writing the present Note, it was determined, in the Case of Wood v. Oldknow, Hil. 1815, B. R. (not yet reported) after very Discussion at the Bar, that a Remainder man may maintain an Action of Covenant, upon the Covenant to the Tenant for Life, in a Lease made pursuant to a Power.]

Respect to Conditions, at least, which are always construed strictly, is very difficult to maintain, that a Condition, that A, his Heirs or assigns may re-enter, is to be taken Advantage of by a Party, who, by no Extension of Construction, can be regarded as standing in either of the Positions; and that it would be necessary, expressly to give the Benefit of the Condition to such other Persons to whom the Reversion might belong, in the Case, being ingrafted in the original Power of Leasing, it might not be to the Objection against a Condition being reserved to a Stranger. The whole of the Subject last discussed seems very proper for the Attention of the Legislature, so as to Place the Matter perfectly upon the Footing which it deserves by the Justice and Equity of the Case. Probably, in most of the Cases, the Court of Equity would feel itself competent to apply the necessary

In Webb v. Russell, above referred to, the Lease was made by the Lessor and the Mortgagee of a Term. The Covenants were entered into between the Mortgagor, and it was held that no Action could be maintained upon the Covenants by the Assignees of the Mortgagee who had acquired the Reversion in the Mortgagor. The Discussion of the Case contains a great Body of valuable Learning upon the general Subject of this Note. In a subsequent Case, upon the same Covenant, it was held that the Action might be maintained in the Name of the original Covenantor (the Mortgagor) as being bound in Gross, not affected by his Alienation. Stokes v. Russell, 3 T. R. 502, decided on Writ of Error, 1 H. Bl. 502.

The Decision in the Case of the Mayor, &c. of Carlisle v. Blamire, 8 East 134, already referred to, was, that an Action of Covenant could not be maintained against a Person, as Assignee, in Respect of an Equity of Redemption, the Fee being vested in another Person as Assignee not in Possession.

Leading Authority with Respect to the Distinctions between Covenants which do not run with the Land (or in other Words, which an Heir or Assignee is not subject to, or may take the Benefit of), is Spencer's Case, 5 Rep. 21, in which the following Rules are laid down:—1. When a Covenant is made touching a Thing in Esse, at the Time of the Demise, the Thing to be done or suffered annexed and appurtenant to the Thing demised, and will bind the Assignee, although not named, as to repair the House demised. A

No. 14. 32 H. VIII. c. 34. Covenant to build a Wall upon the Land demised, will bind the Assignees named; but a Covenant to do a collateral Thing, as to build a House on the Land of the Lessor will not.—S. A Covenant with Respect to personal Things demised with the Land, as a Flock of Sheep, will not bind the Assignee although named.

It is also held in Spencer's Case, that a Husband taking a Term in Right of his Wife a Tenant, by Statute Merchant, or Statute Staple, or Elegit, or Purchaser of a Term, under an Execution, shall have the Benefit of Covenants.

In Bally v. Wells, 3 Wils. 25, it was ruled, that a Covenant, by a Lessee of Tithes, not to accept a Composition, binds the Assignee, he being named. See also the full and elaborate Judgment of Lord Ch. J. Wilmot upon this Case in his own Reports, p. 348. A Covenant that the Lessee his Executor and Administrators will reside upon the Premises, is binding upon the Assignee, although not named. Tatem v. Chaplin, 2 H. Bl. 133.

A Covenant to erect a Mill, and not to have any Persons to work there who are not settled in the Parish, is personal, and does not bind the Assignee Mayor, &c. of Congleton v. Patison, 10 East 130. Upon Covenant by the Lessee to plant Trees on Land, and by the Lessor for himself, his Heirs, Executors, and Administrators, to pay for them at a fair Valuation, by two Persons named, the Assignee of the Lessor, not being named, is not bound. Gray v. Cuthbertson. Selwyn N. P. 2 Ed. 445.

As to whether an Assignee of the Reversion can take Advantage of a Covenant not to assign. See Lomas v. How, Sir T. Raym. 250.

In Thursby v. Plant, 1 Saunders 237, it was held that the Statute transferred the Privity of Contract from the Lessor to his Assignee, and that, consequently, an Action by or against such an Assignee, is transitory as well as one between the Lessor and Lessee; but any Action by or against the Assignee of the Lessee is local, and can only be brought in the County where the Land demised is situate, being in Respect merely of Privity of Estate. See Stevenson v. Lambard, 2 East 575. Barker v. Damer, Carth. 182. Salk. 80. but a Declaration laying the Venue in another County is cured by Verdict, Mayor of London v. Cole, 7 T. R. 583. In Covenant against an Assignee, it is sufficient to state that the Premises came to Defendant by Assignment, and it is not any Variance if it should appear that he took them as Heir. Derisley v. Carrance, 4 T. R. 75. but a Party suing as Assignee must specifically set forth his Title. It may deserve Consideration, whether it might not be desirable to allow such an Assignee to state his Title generally in Covenant, as may be done by Statute in an Arowry for Rent.

If a Tenant in Tail make a Lease, not warranted by Statute, and after his Death the Lessee assign, the Assignee cannot maintain an Action on the Covenant for quiet Enjoyment, the Estate to which the Covenant was annexed having determined before his Interest commenced, and the Right by Estoppel not extending to such a Case. Andrew v. Pearce, 1 Bos. and P. N. R. 152.

12 Charles II. c. 24.—An Act for taking away the Court of Wards and Liveries, and Tenures in Capite, and by Knights-Service, and Purveyance, and for settling a Revenue upon his Majesty in lieu thereof.

2 Car. II. c. 24. The Reasons of his Act. WHEREAS it hath been found by former Experience, That the Courts of Wards and Liveries, and Tenures by Knights-Service, either of the King or others, or by Knights-Service in Capite, or Socage in Capite of the King, and the Consequents upon the same, have been much more burthensome, grievous, and prejudicial to the Kingdom, than they have been beneficial to the King: And whereas since the Intermission of the said Court, which hath been from the Four and Twentieth Day of February which was in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Six Hundred Forty and Five, many Persons have by Will and otherwise made Disposal of their Lands held by Knights-Service, whereupon divers Questions might possibly arise, unless some seasonable Remedy be taken to prevent the same; Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the Assent of the Lords and Commons in Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, and it is hereby enacted, That the Court of Wards and Liveries, and all Wardships, Liveries, Primer Seisins and Ousterlemains, Values and Forfeitures of Marriages, by Reason of any Tenure of the King's Majesty, or of any other by Knights-Service, and all mean Rates, and all other Gifts, Grants, Charges incident or arising, for or by Reason of Wardships, Liveries, Primer Seisins or Ousterlemains, be taken away and discharged, and are hereby enacted to be taken away and discharged, from the said Twenty-fourth Day of February One Thousand Six Hundred Forty-five; any Law, Statute, Custom or Usage to the contrary hereof in any wise notwithstanding: And that all Fines for Alienations, Seizures and Pardons for Alienations, Tenure by Homage, and all Charges incident or arising, for or by Reason of Wardship, Livery, Primer Seisin or Ousterlemain, or Tenure by Knights-Service, Escuage, and also Aid pur file marrier, and Pur fair fitz Chivalier, all other Charges incident thereunto, be likewise taken away and discharged, from the said Twenty-fourth Day of February, One Thousand Six Hundred Forty and Five: any Law, Statute, Custom or Usage to the contrary hereof in any wise notwithstanding: And that all Tenures by Knights-Service of the King, or of any other Person, and by Knights-Service in Capite, and by Socage in Capite of the King, and the Fruits and Consequents thereof, happened or which shall or may hereafter happen or arise thereupon or thereby, be taken away and discharged; any Law, Statute, Custom or Usage to the contrary hereof in any wise notwithstanding; and all Tenures of any Honours, Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or any Estate of any Inheritance at the Common Law, held either of the King, or of any other Person or Persons, Bodies Politick or Corporate, are hereby enacted to be turned into free and common Socage, to all Intents and Purposes, from the said Twenty-fourth Day of February One Thousand Six Hundred Forty-five, and shall be so construed, adjudged and deemed to be from the said Twenty-fourth Day of February One Thousand Six Hundred Forty-five, and for ever thereafter, turned into free and common Socage; any Law, Statute, Custom or Usage to the contrary hereof in any wise notwithstanding;

VIII. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That where any Person hath or shall have any Child or Children (1) under the Age of One and twenty Years, and not married at the Time of his Death, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Father of such Child or Children, whether born at the Time of the Decese of the Father, or at that Time in ventre sa mere, or whether such Father be within the Age of One and twenty Years, or of full Age, by Deed executed in his Life-time, or by his last Will and Testament in Writing, in the Presence of Two or more credible Witnesses, (2) in such Manner, and from Time to Time as he shall respectively think fit, to dispose of the Custody and Tuition of such Child or Children, for and during such Time as he or they shall respectively remain under the Age of One and twenty Years, or any lesser Time, to any Person or Persons (3) in Possession or Remainder, other than Popish Recusants:

And be it further enacted, That such Person or Persons to whom the Custody of such Child or Children hath been or shall be so disposed or devised, shall and may take into his or their Custody to the Use of such Child or Children, the Profits of all Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, of such Child or Children; and also the Custody, Tutition, and Management, of the Goods, Chattels, and Personal Estate of such Child or Children, till their respective Age of One and twenty Years, or any lesser Time, according to such Disposition aforesaid, and may bring such Action or Actions in relation thereto, as by Law a Guardian in common Socage might do. X. Provided also, That this Act, or any Thing therein contained, shall not extend to alter or prejudice the Custom of the City of London, or of any other City or Town Corporate, or of the Town of Berwick upon Tweed, concerning Orphans; nor to discharge any Apprentice from his Apprenticeship.

XI. Provided also, That neither this Act, nor any Thing therein contained, shall infringe or hurt any Title of Honour, Feodal or other, by which any Person hath or may have Right to sit in the Lords House of Parliament, as to his or their Title of Honour, or sitting in Parliament, and the Privilege belonging to them as Peers; this Act, or any Thing therein contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding.

XII. And whereas by like Experience it hath been found, That though divers good, strict, and wholesome Laws have been made in the Times of sundry his Majesty's most noble Progenitors, some extending so far as to Life, for Redress of the Grievances and Oppressions committed by the Persons employed for making Provisions for the King's Household, Carriages, and other Purveyance for his Majesty and his Occasions; yet divers Oppressions have been still continued, and several Counties have submitted themselves to sundry Rates and Taxes, and Compositions, to redeem themselves from such Vexations and Oppressions: And forasmuch as the Lords and Commons assembled in Parliament do find that the said Remedies are not fully effectual, and that no other Remedy will be so effectual and just, as to take away the Occasion thereof, especially if Satisfaction and Recompence shall be therefore made to his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, which is hereby provided to his Majesty's Good-liking and Content; his Majesty is therefore graciously pleased, that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most Excel-

No Action upon this Statute to be stayed, but by Order of the Court where such Action depends.

XIII. And that henceforth no Person or Persons by any Warrant, Commission, or Authority, under the Great Seal or otherwise, by colour of buying or making Provision or Purveyance for his Majesty or any Queen of England for the Time being, or of any the Children of any King or Queen of England for the Time being, or that shall be, or for his, their, or any of their Household, shall take any Timber, Fuel, Cattle, Corn, Grain, Malt, Hay, Straw, Victual, Cart, Carriage or other Thing whatsoever, of any the Subjects of his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, without the free and full Consent of the Owner or Owners thereof had and obtained without Menace or Inforcement nor shall summon, warn, take, use or require any of the said Subjects to furnish or find any Horses, Oxen, or other Cattle, Carts, Ploughs, Wains, or other Carriages, for the Use of his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, or of any Queen of England, or of any Child or Children of any the Kings or Queens of England for the Time being, for the carrying the Goods of his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, or the said Queens, or Children, or any of them, without such full and free Consent as aforesaid; any Law, Statute, Custom, or Usage to the contrary notwithstanding

XIV. And be it further enacted, That no Pre-emption shall be allowed or claimed in the Behalf of his Majesty, or any of his Heirs or Successors, or of any the Queens of England, or of any the Children of the Royal Family for the Time being, in Market or out of Market: but that it be for ever hereafter free to all and every of the Subjects of his Majesty, to sell, dispose, or employ, his said Goods to any other Person or Persons as himself listeth, any Pretence of making Provision or Purveyance of Victual, Carriages, or other Thing for his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, or of the said Queens or Children, or any Pretence of Pre-emption in their, or any of their Behalfs, notwithstanding: And if any Person or Persons shall make Provision or Purveyance for his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, or any the Queens or Children aforesaid, or impress or take any such Carriages or other Things aforesaid, on any Pretence or Colour of any Warrant aforesaid, under the Great Seal or otherwise, contrary to the Intendment hereof, it shall be lawful for the Justices of Peace, or such Two or One of them as dwell near, and to the Constables of such Parish or Village where such Occasion shall happen, at the Request of the Party grieved, and they are hereby enjoined, to commit, or cause to be committed, the Party or Parties so doing and offending to Gaol, till the next Sessions, there to be indicted and proceeded against for the same and that the Officers and Inhabitants of the Village or Parish where such Offence shall happen, shall be assistant therein; and moreover the Party grieved shall have his Action or Actions against such Offender or Offenders, and therein recover his Treble Damages and Treble Costs: In which Action, no Essoin, Wager of Law, Aid, prayer, Privilege, Protection, Imparance, Injunction, or Order of Restraint shall be granted or allowed: And if any Person or Person shall (after Notice given that the Action depending is grounded upon this Statute) cause or procure any Action at the Common Law grounded on this Statute, to be delayed or stayed before Judgement by Colour or Means of any Order, Power, Warrant or Authority save only of the Court where such Action shall be brought and depending, or after Judgement had upon such Action, shall cause c secure Execution of such Judgement to be stayed or delayed by colour or Means of any Order, Warrant, Power or Authority, save only by Writ of Error or Attaint, or Order of such Court where such Writ of Error or Attaint shall be depending; That then the Person offending shall incur the Pains, Penalties, and Forfeitures, ordained and provided by the Statute of Provision and Præmunire made in the sixteenth Year of the Reign of King RICHARD the Second: Provided always, That this Act extend not to prejudice any of his Majesty's rights, Titles or Duties of, in or to, or out of any 'Tin in the Stanneries of Devon and Cornwall, nor to prejudice the ancient Duties of butlerage and Prizage of Wines; but that the same shall be in the same Place that the same were before the making of this Act; any thing herein contained to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding. And now to the Intent and Purpose that his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, may receive a full and ample Recompence and Satisfaction, as well for the Profits of the said Court of Wards, and the Tenures, Wardships, Liveries, Primer Seisins, Ouster le mains, and other the Remissions and Perquisites incident thereunto; and for all Arrears any way due for the same, as also for all and all Manner of Purveyance and Provisions herein before mentioned, and intended to be taken away and abolished; and all Sums of Money due or pretended to be due or payable for and in Respect of any Compositions for the same.

19 Charles II. c. 6.—An Act for Redress of Inconveniencies by Want of Proof of the Deceases of Persons beyond the Seas or absenting themselves, upon whose Lives Estates do depend.

WHEREAS divers Lords of Manors and others have used to grant Estates by Copy of Court Roll for One, Two, or more Life or Lives, according to the Custom of their several Manors; and have also granted Estates by Lease for one or more Life or Lives, or else for Years determinable upon one or more Life or Lives; and it hath often happened, that such Person or Persons for whose Life or Lives such Estates have been granted, have gone beyond the Seas, or so absented themselves for many Years, that the Lessors and Reversioners cannot find out whether such Person or Persons be alive or dead, by Reason whereof such Lessors and Reversioners have been held out of Possession of their Tenements for many Years, after all the Lives upon which such Estates depended are dead, in Regard that the Lessors and Reversioners, when they have brought Actions for the Recovery of their Tenements, have been put upon it to prove the Death of their Tenants, when it is almost impossible for them to discover the same.

For Remedy of which Mischief, so frequently happening to such Lessors or Reversioners, be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same. That if such Person or Persons, for whose Life or Lives such Estates have been or shall be granted as aforesaid, shall remain beyond the Seas, or elsewhere absent themselves in this Realm, by the Space of Seven Years together, and no sufficient and evident Proof be made of the Lives of such Person or Persons respectively, in any Action commenced for Recovery of such Tenements by the Lessors or Reversioners; in every such Case the Person or Persons upon whose Life or Lives such Estate depended, shall be accounted as naturally dead; and in every Action brought for the Recovery of the said Tenements by the Lessors or Reversioners, their Heirs or Assigns, the Judges before whom such Action shall be brought, shall direct the Jury to give their Verdict as if the Person so remaining beyond the Seas, or otherwise absenting himself, were dead.

What shall be a good Challenge to Jurors upon Trial of Lives in Being.

III. And be it further enacted, That in any such Action wherein the Life or Death of any such Person or Persons shall come in question between the Lessor or Reversioner and Tenant in Possession, it shall and may be lawful for the Lessor or Reversioner to take Exception to any of the Jurors returned for the Trial of that Cause, that the greatest Part of the Real Estate of any of such Jurors is held by Lease or Copy for Lives, who upon Proof thereof shall be set aside as in Case of other legal Challenges.

Proviso for Lands held by Lives of certain Traitors attainted.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That nothing in this Act contained shall extend to any Lands held by the Life or Lives of any Person or Persons attainted of Treason for the horrid Murder of his late Majesty, of blessed Memory, who now conceal or hide themselves, which Lands are or have been vested in his Majesty, and are now granted to his Royal Highness the Duke of York, but that the Course of Evidence heretofore used in such Cases shall be had and used; any Thing to the contrary in this Act notwithstanding.

Proviso for Persons evicted by this Act, the Persons not being dead.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted, That if any Person or Persons shall be evicted out of any Lands or Tenements by Virtue of this Act, and afterwards if such Person or Persons upon whose Life or Lives such Estate or Estates depend, shall return again from beyond Seas, or shall on Proof in any Action to be brought for Recovery of the same, be made appear to be living, or to have been living at the Time of the Eviction; that then and from thenceforth the Tenant or Lessee, who was outed of the same, his or their Executors, Administrators or Assigns, shall or may re-enter, re-possess, have, hold, and enjoy the said Lands or Tenements in his or their former Estate, for and during the Life or Lives, or so long Term as the said Person or Persons upon whose Life or Lives the said Estate or Estates depend, shall be living; and also shall upon Action or Actions to be brought by him or them against the Lessors, Reversioners, or Tenants in Possession, or other Persons respectively, which since the Time of the said Eviction received the Profits of the said Lands or Tenements, recover for Damages the full Profits of the said Lands or Tenements respectively, with lawful Interest for and from the Time that he or they were outed of the same Lands or Tenements, and kept and held out of the same by the said Lessors, Reversioners, Tenants, or other Persons, who after the said Eviction received the Profits of the said Lands or Tenements, or any of them respectively, as well in the Case when the said Person or Persons upon whose Life or Lives such Estate or Estates did depend, are or shall be dead at the Time of bringing of the said Action or Actions, as if the said Person or Persons were then living.

Parol Leases and Interest of Freehold shall have the Force of Estates at Will only.

* The Statute of Frauds embraces a great Variety of Subjects that have no Connection with each other, and many of which are in no Degree affected by the common Object referred to in the Title and Preamble. There is no Act, in the Statute Book, to which, from the Nature of its Contents, it would be more difficult to assign an appropriate Place in a Collection like the present; and the Statute is introduced in this Place, in conformity with a Principle which has, in a great Measure, been suggested by its own very miscellaneous Provisions, of inserting Acts which embrace a Variety of Provisions, applicable to different Parts of the general Division, under a common Title, in the first Class to which any one of the Subjects so included may relate.

The Statute, although far from having met with universal Approbation, has certainly received its full Share of Panygeric; and the Language of Extravagance has even gone so far as to declare, that every Line of it deserved a Subsidy. The framing of it has been ascribed to Sir Matthew Hale; but, apparently, without any sufficient Foundation.

The two leading Provisions, which require that the Disposition of Lands, and certain personal Contracts, shall be evidenced by Writing, signed by the Party conveying or contracting, and that Wills of Land shall be attested by Witnesses, are very useful and expedient—but are not distinguished by any great Novelty of Principle.

The Language and Composition of the Act have, certainly, no Claim to particular Commendation; and it is truly observed by Lord Mansfield, with Respect to the Clause concerning the Attestation of Wills, "that the whole Clause, which introduces a positive Solemnity to be observed, not by the learned only, but by the unlearned, at a Time when they are supposed to be without legal Advice, in a Matter which greatly interests every Proprietor of Land, when the Direction should be plain to the meanest Capacity, is so loose, that there is not a single Branch of the Solemnity defined or described with sufficient Certainty, to convey the same Idea to the greatest Capacity."—Wyndham v. Chetwynd, 1 Bur. 418. It is certainly an Act which, next to those relating to the Settlement of the Poor, has been productive of greater Litigation, in settling its Construction, than any in the whole Range of the Statutes, although the Annuity Act may be placed in Competition with it in that Respect, when considered with Reference to the very limited Nature of the Subject to which it applies. It was stated by Mr. Barrington, forty Years ago, to be a common Notion in Westminster Hall, that it had not been explained at a less Expence than £100,000. But the Laxity, which has sometimes prevailed in the Construction of it, may share, with any Imperfection of its own, a considerable Proportion of the Imputation of that Expence—a Laxity which the Opinions recently expressed, concerning its Operation, have very generally condemned; and there can be no doubt, that the permitting the Exposition of an Act to be influenced by any Opinions respecting its Policy or Utility, is not less repugnant to general Convenience, than to the Maintenance of a due Subordination of judicial Interpretation to legislative Authority.

IV. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said Four and Twentieth Day of June, no Action shall be brought whereby to charge any Executor or Administrator upon any special Promise, to answer Damages out of his own Estate; or whereby to charge the Defendant upon any special Promise to answer for the Debt, Default or Miscarriages of another Person; (5)

(1) In Case the Holding is at a yearly Rent, it is construed to be a Tenancy from Year to Year, and not a strict Tenancy at Will, and there must be proper Notice to quit. Clayton v. Blakey, 8 T. R. 3. The Tenancy in all Respects, except the Duration of the Term, is regulated by the Parol Agreement. Doe dem. Rigge v. Bell, 5 T. R. 471. See some Observations as to Cases where Tenancy at Will may still subsist. Watkin's Elements of Conveyancing, 4. See also Harg. Notes to Co. Litt 55. (a). In Richardson v. Langridge, 4 Taunt. 128, it was held, that a Letting without Reference to Time, creates a strict Tenancy at Will.

(2) A Lease by Parol for three Years to commence in future, is not good. Rawlins v. Turner, 1 Lord Raym. 736.

(3) Ruled at Nisi Prius, that the Statute extends to a Parol Assignment of a Tenancy from Year to Year, Botting v. Martin, 1 Camp. 318, to a Surrender of such a Tenancy. Mollett v. Brayne, 2 Campb. 103.

(4) A Cancelling is not a Surrender within the Act. Roe v. Abbt. of York, 6 East 86. But a Surrender of a Lease for Years may be made without Deed, as where a Mortgagee wrote on the Mortgage Deed "Received of A. B. for Principal and Interest, and I do release and discharge the within Premises from the Term of Five Hundred Years." This was holden to be a sufficient Surrender, Farmer v. Rogers, 2 Wils. 26.

(5) This Clause extends to a Promise that a third Person hiring a Horse shall return it. Buckmyr v. Darnall, 4 Lord Raym. 1085. Salk. 27. a Promise to pay the Debt of A. Mutual Promises of Marriage are not within the Act. Cork v. Baker, 1 Harrington v. Cage, 1 Ld. Raym. 386. The Contrary had been decided, in Philpott v. Wallet, 3 Lev. 65.

Contract for Purchase of a growing Crop of Grass to be mown and to Hay by the Vendee, is a Contract for an Interest in Land, and is within the Statute, Crosby v. Wadsworth, 6 East, 602. So a Sale of growing Crops, their Maturity not being stated. Emmerson v. Heelis, 2 Taunton, 2 of Potatoes to be got immediately, is not. Parker v. Staniland, 11 M. and S. 205. Plaintiff agreed to accept A. B. as Tenant upon Defendant agreeing Plaintiff £40, Part of £100, agreed to be paid by A. B. the Money paid, Assumpsit lies for the £40, the Contract being executed, Griffith v. r, 12 East, 513. A Parol Licence for an Easement to the Owner of Premises, is good, and not within the Statute. See Wood v. Lake, Winter v. Brockwell, 8 East, 308.

Equitable Mortgage by deposit of Title Deeds, was established in Russell, 1 Bro. Ch. 269, and is now a Matter of daily Occurrence. mentioned in Ex parte Finden, 11 Ves. 404 n. as the first Case which was mentioned upon the Statute, and let in Evidence which it was the very Object of the Statute to exclude. But the Doctrine although disapproved, is not to be rejected. Ex parte Haigh, 11 Vesey, 403. Norris v. Wilkinson, 19 Ves. 197. This does not apply to Contracts upon an Event which may or may not happen within a Year, as Marriage, Death, the Arrival of a Ship, Anon. Salk. r v. Compton, Skinner, 353. Fenton v. Emblers, 3 Burr. 1278. Where it is shown by the Facts of the Case that the Engagement was not intended to be performed within a Year (as the Subscription for Boydell's Shakspeare) but was performed in that Time, the Case is within the Statute. Drummond, 11 East, 142.

The Term Agreement, here seems to import no more than Promise or Contract, and was not considered as having any other Construction until the famous Case of Wain v. Warlters, 5 East, 10, where, from a fanciful notion of the Term Agreement from agregatio mentium, it was decided, that it imports something to be done on both Sides, and that the Consideration was to be upon the Face of an Instrument, by which a Person engages for the performance of another. In Stadt. v. Lill 9 East, 348, the Consideration was sufficiently shewn in an Agreement undertaking to Guarantee the performance of any Goods which A. might deliver to B. The Decision in Warlters, is disapproved by Lord Eldon, in Ex parte Minet, 14 Vesey, 286, arte Gardom, 15 Vesey, 286, and it is a Case which has been more and more disapproved by the Profession, and is certainly more inconvenient in itself than upon which such action shall be brought, or counter-claimant shall thereat, shall be in Writing, and signed (10) by the Debtor charged therewith, (11) or some other Person thereunto by him fully (12) authorized. (13)

my Decision of modern Times. See the Observations on the Ground Decision in Fell's Treatise on mercantile Guarantees. App. IV. In v. Phillips, 15 East, 278, it was ruled that a Letter to an Attorney, "I trust you will give A. B. Indulgence till next Week, when I will take to see you paid," was a sufficient Promise to pay the Debt for which Attorney was employed to sue. See, further, Notes to Sec. 17, infra.

(10) The Signature need not necessarily be at the Foot of the Instrument but the mere Writing of the Name of the Party in the Body of an Instrument containing Instructions for a Lease, as "A. B. to pay C. D. &c." being applicable to a particular Purpose, and not intended as a Signature, is sufficient, Stokes v. Moore, 1 Cox P. Wms: 771 N. So the Altering a Deed by a Signature, Hawkins v. Holmes, 1 P. W. 770. See Sanderson v. W. Note to Sec. 17, infra. Signature as a Witness, knowing the Contents, held sufficient by Lord Hardwicke, in Wilford v. Beazely, 1 Wils. 311. 503. Sed. Qu. the Question of a Knowledge of the Contents so as to the Fact of Attestation, an Effect and Import which it does not bear. Face of it, involves the Subject in all the Danger of Parol Evidence.

(11) A Party, who has himself signed the Agreement, cannot plead that it is not signed by the other Party, as is settled by a Series of Cases. Hutton v. Gray, 2 Cha. Ca. 164, decided about seven Years after the case of Seton v. Stale, 7 Ves. 265. This is a strong Illustration of the Principle that the Writing required is the Evidence and not of the Essence of the Contract.

(12) The Authority of the Agent need not be given in Writing. Trecothick, 9 Vesey, 334, 250, Chinan v. Cooke, 1 Schoales, and Letts, but this is expressly required with Respect to the Subjects mentioned. The Clerk of an Agent is not generally authorized to sign—but held in the particular Case upon Evidence of Assent. Coles v. Trecothick, 10 Ves. 292, in which, under a Power to Trust at the Request of A. B. a general Consent of the Trustees to sell was held to constitute A. B. an Agent for the Trustees to enter into a Contract. And as a Steward, to sell by Auction, does not authorize a Sale by private Contract. Daniel v. Adams, Amb. 493. It was ruled, in Walker v. Constable, 1 P. 306, that an Auctioneer, upon a Sale of Land by Auction, is an Agent of both Parties as to make his Entry of the Sale operate to the benefit of the Purchaser, contrary to the Doctrine established with Respect to Sales of Goods. See Lord Eldon's Observations on the Subject, in Coles v. Trecothick. See the Observations of Sir Wm. Bockmaster v. Harrop, 7 Vesey, 341, and of Lord Erskine upon 13 Vesey, 456, and the Opinion of Sir Wm. Grant, Higginson v. B. 15 Vesey, 516.

In Emmerson v. Heelis, 2 Taunt. 38, it was decided, that the writing down the Name of the Purchaser, by the Auctioneer, is a signature, and the Agent for the Purchaser, although for the Sale of an Interest in Land, this is confirmed by White v. Proctor, 4 Taunt. 209. It does not appear to have been noticed, that, at the Time of writing down the Name, it is done as the Record of a Purchase, but only of a Bidding.

(13) In Addition to the preceding Notes on this Section, it will be to advert briefly to the following Heads:

An Agreement, expressed by Letter, is sufficient.—Moor v. L. Rep. 147, 1 Vernon, 110. So a Proposal by Letter acceded to by Parol.—Man v. Upcot, 5 Viner, 527. A Proposal by Letter for a Daughter afterwards retracted and again agreed to by Parol.—Bird v. Blasse, 5 Viner, 522. A Proposal at first refused but afterwards consented to.—Hodgson v. B. 5 Viner, 522. This seems to be an incorrect Decision, not merely with respect to the Statute, but upon general Principles—for, in ordinary Cases, a Proposal may be retracted at any Time before Acceptance, and is no longer obligatory upon the actual Refusal. Ruled, that a Letter by the Defendant to his Daughter, the Plaintiff's daughter, intimating that he had met the Plaintiff, and give him a Portion, which Letter was not communicated to the Plaintiff, was not a Contract.

binding, being no more than a mere Communication.—Ayliffe v. Mr. Justice Tracy, 2 P. Wms. 65. See Wankford v. Fotherley, 2 Vern. 322. Carthew 35, 514. Maxwell v. Lady Montacute, Prec. Ch. 526, 1 P. Wms. 618.—Allan Bower, 3 Bro. Ch. 149.—Luder's v. Anstey, 4 Vesey, 501—5 Vesey, 213. There is a Difference between the 4th and 7th Sections of the Statute: the latter only requires, that a Trust shall be manifested by Writing, not that it shall be constituted by Writing—and the former requires the very Agreement to be in Writing—Per Sir Wm. Grant, in Randall v. Morgan, 12 Ves. 67.

A Letter or other Paper, duly signed, clearly referring to another Paper, which contains the Terms of the Agreement, is sufficient—Tawney v. Crowner, 3 Bro. Ch. 161, 318—but there must be an actual Reference; and an Agreement for a Lease, not specifying a definite Term, or referring to an Advertisement in which such Term was expressed, cannot be connected with the Advertisement by parol Evidence.—Clinan v. Cooke, S. & L. 22. The Cases of Seagood v. Meale, Prec. Ch. 560—Clerk v. Wright, 1 Atk. 12—Halley v. Eagenal, 1 Bro. P. C. 345—and also Clinan v. Cooke, decide, that a Letter referring to an Agreement, but not specifying the Terms of it, is not sufficient. In Brodie v. St. Paul, 1 Vesey, jun. 326, it was held, that a Reference in an Agreement to such Parts of another Paper as had been read by the Party was not sufficient.

An Alteration of an Agreement, relating to a Subject within the Statute, is as much affected by the Statute as an original Agreement, and requires the same Solemnities.

Sufficient Attention has not always been paid, in this Respect, to the Distinction between Cases where Writing was necessary from the Nature of the subject, and those in which it had only been accidentally resorted to in the original Agreement.—See Cokes v. Mascal, 2 Vern. 34.—Jordan v. Sawkins, Ves. jun. 402.—Rich. v. Jackson, 4 Bro. Ch. 514.—Robson v. Collins, 1 Vesey, 130. The Disallowance of parol Evidence, to shew that other Terms, not expressed, were intended to perform Part of a written Agreement, does not depend so much upon the Statute, as upon the general Rule of Law, that parol Evidence cannot be admitted to vary the Terms of an Agreement.—As, upon this Subject, the Distinction between Cases of a Plaintiff requiring the Performance of an Agreement different from that expressed, and those of a Defendant resisting Performance on the Ground of Fraud or Surprise—Young v. Clark, Prec. Ch. 538.—Legal v. Miller, 2 Vesey, 376—Buxton v. Minter, 3 Atk. 383.—Shirley v. Stratton, 1 Bro. Ch. 440.—Staugron v. Marshall of Townsend, 6 Vesey, 328.—Clarke v. Grant, 14 Vesey, 519.—Higginson v. Clowes, 15 Vesey, 516. See also Price v. Dyer, 17 Vesey, 356, in which the original Agreement was enforced, notwithstanding a subsequent parol Agreement to add other Terms in Favour of the Defendant. In this Case most of the Authorities upon the Subject are referred to.

For Cases of decreeing Performance of an Agreement, not conformable to the Statute, on the Ground of Fraud, see Cooke v. Mascal, 2 Vern. 34 and 80.—Mallet v. Halfpenny, cited Pr. Ch. 404.

For Cases in which a Person, who has dissuaded another from making or altering his Will, upon an Engagement to comply with his Intention, has been compelled to perform such Engagement, see Chamberlaine v. Chamberlaine, 2 Freem. 34, 2 Eq. Ca. ab. 43, Prec. Ch. 4.—Devenish v. Baines, Prec. Ch. 3.—Oldham v. Litchford, 2 Vern. 506.—Beech v. Kennegal, 1 Vesey, 123.—Barrow v. Greenough, 3 Vesey, jun. 152.

It is a well known Exception, which Courts of Equity have introduced in the Construction of the Statute, that the Benefit of it shall not be taken against an Agreement which has been in Part performed; and Buller, J. in Brodie v. St. Paul, 1 Vesey, jun. 333, intimated an Opinion, that the same Rule would prevail at Law—but the contrary Opinion was strongly expressed by Lord Eldon, in Cooth v. Jackson, 6 Vesey, 29. The Inclination of Courts of Equity, in modern Cases, has been rather to narrow than to extend the doctrine of part Performance.

No. 17. of the Statute of Wills, or by this Statute, or by Force of the Custom 29 Car. II. c. 3. of Kent, or the Custom of any Borough, or any other particular

It is clearly settled, that giving Directions for Conveyances, and going to view the Estate, are not Acts of part Performance.

Marriage is also clearly not such a Performance as takes an Agreement, in Consideration of it, out of the Statute.

It seems to be now settled, that Payment of Part of the Purchase-money is not such a Performance as takes a Case out of the Statute.—See Buckmaster v. Harrop, 7 Vesey, 341. Sir Wm. Grant there said, that even if Payment of the Auction Duty could be considered as a Part of the Price, he did not see how that could bind the Purchaser. In general, the Party selling must shew a Performance on his Side, as a Reason for the Interference of the Court in his Favour—for the Ground upon which the Court acts is Fraud, in refusing to perform after the Performance of the other Party. In Clinan v. Conke, 1 Sch. & Lef. 22, 40, Lord Reddesdale held, that the Payment of Money was not a Part Performance—and said, that he took it that Nothing would be a Part Performance, which does not put the Party into a Situation that would be a Fraud upon him, unless the Agreement was performed. Taking Possession by a Purchaser, and cutting Crops, is Part Performance.—Buckmaster v. Harrop, on Appeal, 13 Vesey, 456. A Tenant's continuing in Possession, upon an alleged new Agreement, is not.—Trame v. Dawson, 14 Vesey, 386. In that Case Sir Wm. Grant said, "Part Performance must be an Act unequivocally referring to and arising out of the Agreement, and such that the Party would suffer an Injury amounting to Fraud by the Refusal to execute the Agreement." He also considered it an Objection to a specific Performance, that the Act in Question was such as would easily admit of Compensation without executing the Agreement. See the Observations of Lord Reddesdale, as to the Relaxations of the Statute.—Lyndsay v. Lynch, 2 Sch. & Lef. 5.—See, as to part Performance, the Note to Pym v. Blackburne, 3 Vesey, 34. As to Difficulties which may occur, when the Defendant admits the Acts alleged as part Performance, but denies the Agreement in Respect of which they are alleged to be performed, see Foublanque's Notes on Treatise of Equity, B. 1, Ch. 3, § 8.

If a Defendant deny that any parol Agreement ever took Place, a Court of Equity will not inquire into the Truth of that Denial.—Per Lord Eldon, Cooth v. Jackson, 6 Vesey, 12. Where a Plaintiff had built a House, his Witness proved an Agreement different from that of the Bill, and the Answer stated an Agreement different from both, the Lord Chancellor said, that, in Strictness, the Bill ought to be dismissed—but, on Account of the Expenditure, decreed specific Performance of the Agreement admitted by the Answer, with Costs against the Plaintiff.—Mortimer v. Orchard, 2 Ves. jun. 263. But in Woullam v. Hearn, 7 Vesey, 211—Lyndsey v. Lynch, 2 Sch. and Lef. 1, the Plaintiff having failed in establishing the Agreement insisted upon, the Court would not decree the Agreement admitted, but dismissed the Bill without Prejudice to filing a fresh Bill.

It is settled, that if a Defendant, by Answer, admits the Agreement stated in the Bill, and does not insist upon the Statute, Performance will be decreed; but whether he is bound to admit or deny the parol Agreement, so that the Effect of the Statute is only to exclude Evidence aliunde—whether he must take Advantage of the Statute, by Way of Plea—or whether, admitting the Agreement, he may insist upon the Statute, by Way of Answer, are Points not absolutely settled.—See Cottingham v. Fletcher, 2 Atk. 155.—Lacon v. Mertins, 3 Atk. 4.—Rondeau v. Wyatt, 2 H. Bl. 63.—Eyre v. Ivimey cited 2 Bro. Ch. 563.—Stewart v. Careless, ib. 565.—Moore v. Edwards, 4 Vesey, 23.—Whitchurch v. Bevis, 2 Br. Ch. 559. It seems, however, to be the prevalent Opinion, that it is sufficient to claim the Benefit of the Statute by the Answer—see Cooth v. Jackson, 6 Vesey, 12—but if the Defendant does not insist upon the Statute, in the Answer to the original Bill, he cannot do so in the Answer to the amended Bill, id. and Spurrier v. Fitzgerald, 6 Vesey, 548.

Custom, (14) shall be in Writing, and signed (15) by the Party so devising the same, or by some other Person in his Presence and by his express Directions, and shall be attested and subscribed (16) in the Presence (17) of the said Devisor by Three or Four credible (18)

No. 17.
29 Car. II. c. 3.

(14) The Statute does not extend to Copyholds surrendered to the Use of a Will, nor to Devises in Execution of a Power—but a Power to appoint by Will generally is held to mean, with Respect to Lands, a Will conformable to the Statute.—See Sugden on Powers, c. 5, § 3. A Person cannot create a Power to devise by his own Will, otherwise than according to the Statute.—Habergham v. Vincent, 2 Vesey, jun. 204.

A Term of Years is not within the Statute, unless attendant upon the Inheritance, in which Case it is not severed by a Will not duly attested.—Whitchurch v. Whitchurch, 2 P. Wms. 236.

A Will duly attested, charging Legacies on Lands, extends to Legacies given by an unattested Codicil—Brudenelle v. Boughton, 2 Atk. 258, vi. 2 Vesey, 495—but it must be a general Legacy, and not a specific Charge, which cannot be made by an unattested Codicil, under a Power expressed for the Purpose in a regular attested Will.—Rose v. Cunynghame, 12 Vesey, 49.

(15) In some of the older Cases, sealing was held a sufficient Signing; but in Ellis v. Smith, in Chan. 1754, Reported 1 Ves. jun. 11, the contrary Opinion was expressed by Parker, C. B. Willes, C. J. and Sir John Strange, M. R. who assisted the Lord Chancellor. The same Opinion was expressed by Lord Eldon, in Wright v. Wakefield, 17 Ves. 459. Writing the Name at the Top, may be a sufficient Signing.—Lemayne v. Stanley, 3 Lcv. 1.

(16) An Attestation with a Mark is sufficient.—Harrison v. Harrison, 2 Vesey, 185, 504. The Witnesses may attest at different Times.—Cook v. Parsons, Prec. Ch. 186.—Jones v. Lake, 2 Atk. 176.

(17) This Clause does not require the Will to be signed by the Testator in the Presence of the Witnesses, but only, that it shall be attested by the Witnesses in the Presence of the Testator—whereas the next Clause, as to Revocation, requires the Signature in the Presence of the Witnesses, but not the Attestation of the Witnesses in the Presence of the Testator. It is sufficient if the Testator might see the Witnesses attest, and not necessary that he actually should do so—as when the Testator was in a Carriage, and the Attestation in a House, it being sworn that the Testator might see what passed.—See Cosson v. Dade, 1 Bro. Ch. 99.—Shires v. Glascock, 2 Salk. 688. But where the attesting Witnesses retired from the Room, where the Testator had signed, and subscribed their Names in an adjoining Room, and the Jury found that from one Part of the Testator's Room, a Person, by inclining himself forwards with his Head out of the Door, might have seen the Witnesses, but that the Testator was not in such a Situation, that he could have seen them by so inclining, the Will was held to be not duly attested.—Doe dem. Wright v. Manifold, 1 M. & S. 294. If the Testator is in a State of Insensibility, at the Time of the Attestation, such Attestation is void.—Right v. Price, Doug. 241. The Rule of the Civil Law, Coram Titio aliquid facere jussus non videtur eo præsenti fecisse nisi is intelligat. Itaque si furiosus, aut infans sit aut dormiat, non videtur coram eo fecisse. Dig. l. 5. tit. 16, de verb. sig. l. 209. is very apposite to this Subject. It is not necessary that the Attestation should express, that it was made in the Presence of the Testator.—Hands v. James, Com. Rep. 531.—Bruce v. Smith, Willes' Rep. 1. An Attestation, "Signed, sealed, published, and declared in the Presence of" is Evidence to a Jury, that the Attestation was made in the Presence of the Testator.—Croft v. Pawlet, 2 Strange, 1209.

(18) A Person attainted of Felony held not a credible Witness.—Pendock v. Mackender, 4 Burr. Eccl. L. 104. As to the Objection of Interest, see Stat. 25 G. II. c. 6. post Title Wills.

Sec. 115
supra No. 12 that the will shall be revocable.
3 Mod. 209.

Wills, or else they shall be utterly void (19) and of Effect. (20)

VI. And moreover, no Devise in Writing of Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, nor any Clause thereof, shall at any Time after said Four and Twentieth Day of June be revocable, otherwise by some other Will or Codicil in Writing, or other Writing done the same, or by burning, cancelling, tearing, or obliterating (21) same by the Testator himself, or in his Presence and by his Discreet Consent; but all Devises and Bequests of Lands and Tenements shall remain and continue in Force, until the same be burnt, called, torn or obliterated by the Testator, or his Directions, in Manuscript as aforesaid, or unless the same be altered by some other Will.

(19) It is by Force of these Words, that a Will of Land, as aforesaid, is not sufficient even to put the Heir to his Election, with respect to Personal Estate—See the Case ex-parte the Earl of Rochester, 2 Salk. 372.—See also the Observations on Thelluson v. Woodford, 13 Salk. 383. A Wish has been often expressed by great Authorities, that all Statutory Acts should be rendered subject to the Solemnities required by Statute; and certainly the Importance of such a Provision is evident, when it is considered how much the Intentions of a Testator are defeated by a Will which is founded on one arranged Plan, being partly or wholly void. The Uncertainty, as to what shall or shall not constitute a Manifestation of the Will, with Respect to Personal Estate, is extremely inconvenient, and a great Source of Litigation.—See the Observations of Lord Loughborough upon this Subject, Matthews v. Warner, 4 Vent. 248.

(20) As to Wills of Land in the Plantations, see Stat. 25 G. II. c. 2. Title Wills.

(21) A beginning to cancel under the Impression that a new Will was then and desiring upon being informed the Contrary is no Revocation. v. Hyde, 1 Eq. Ab. 409. So a Cancellation upon making a new Will is invalid by Reason of the Witnesses not attesting in the Presence of the Testator. Onyon v. Tyer, Prac. Ch. 459.—1 P. Wms. 344. Cancellation of the Will into the Fire with Intent to destroy it is sufficient, if it falls off and is preserved. Bibb v. Thomas, 2 Bl. Rep. 1043. The Cancellation of a Part is only a Revocation as to that Part. Sutton v. Sutton, 618. Striking out the Name of one Joint Tenant has the Effect of leaving the entire Estate in the other. Aliter as to Tenants in common who thereby acquire an Estate not originally given. Larkins v. Larkins, 2 P. 16, 109. See also as to the first Point, Short v. Smith, 4 Bro. P. C. 489. Whether obliterating the Names of some Trustees or other Devisees and substituting others is a Revocation, as to the former Purpose not being so as to the second, Qu. ibid. A Cancellation of the one Part is a Revocation of the whole. Bartenhew v. Gilbert, Cowp. 49. See Pemberton v. Pender, 13 Vesey, 290. In that Case the Testator made Duplicates of his Will, afterwards altered, and subsequently cancelled one Part—the one Part cancelled, and the other altered and cancelled, and a Codicil without a Date found in his Possession at his Death—and a Verdict in Favour of the Plaintiff was sustained.—The immediate Decision was on the Fact of an Intention to revoke, but the legal Doctrines are very fully gone into.

(22) A subsequent Will of Lands is only a Revocation so far as the provisions are inconsistent.—Coward v. Marshall, Cro. Eliz. 721. It is not that the Testator afterwards made another Will of which the Contents are unknown—or that the Testator made a subsequent Will different from the first, but in what Particular is unknown, and that it does not appear to become of the second Will, is not sufficient to revoke the first.—Hutchins v. Noworthy, Sho. P. C. 146.—Hutchins v. Bassett, Salk. 592.—Hutchins v. Goodnight, Cowp. 87.—7 Bro. P. C. 8vo. 489.

A Will with a Clause of Revocation conformable to this Section, signed by the Testator in the Presence of the Witnesses, but the second Will not being attested in the Presence of the Testator, is not a Revocation, not being intended for such as an independent Act.—See Onyon v. Tyer, supra No. 21.—Egglestone v. Speake, 3 Mod. 258.—1 Sho. 89.

Codicil in Writing, or other Writing of the Deviser, signed in the Presence (23) of Three or Four Witnesses, declaring the same; (24) by former Law or Usage to the contrary notwithstanding. (25)

VII. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That, from and after the said Four and Twentieth Day of June, all Declarations or Creations of Trusts or Confidences of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, shall be manifested and proved (26) by some Writing signed by the Party who is by Law enabled to declare such Trust, or by his last Will in Writing, or else they shall be utterly void and of none Effect.

No. 17.
29 Car. II. c. 3.
All Declarations or Creations of Trusts shall be in Writing.
Explained by 4 Anne, c. 16, Section, 15, Post.

It is to be observed, however, that in those Cases the substantial Dispositions were the same in both Wills, as to the Materiality of which vi. ex parte the Earl of Ilchester, 7 Ves. 373.

(23) A Will, acknowledged as such in the Presence of three Witnesses, good—and, although not signed in their Presence, a sufficient Revocation—and, though being a Devise to an Heir at Law, void as a Will, is a valid instrument of Revocation, being executed according to the Statute.—Ellis v. Smith, 1 Vesey, jun. 11.

(24) A Declaration of the Testator, certified by three Witnesses, but not signed by him, that he revokes his Will, is void.—Hilton v. King, 3 Lev. 86.

(25) It is completely settled, that the Provisions of this Section do not extend to Revocations by Operation of Law, such as a subsequent Marriage and the Birth of a Child.—See Doe on the Demise of Lancashire v. Lancashire, 5 T. R. 49—in which this was decided, in Respect to a posthumous Child, and the Doctrine considered as resting rather upon a tacit Condition than upon an implied Revocation; but it may be qualified by Circumstances, where the Subsistence of the Will is not inconsistent with the new Relations which are contracted.—See Brady v. Cubitt, Doug. 39, and more particularly Kenebel v. Scafton, 2 East. 530—in which a Testator made Provisions in Favour of the Children that he should have by A. B. with whom he then cohabited and afterwards married and had Children by; a total Want of Provision for the Family so newly constituted being considered as the Basis of the tacit Condition—and see ex-parte the Earl of Ilchester, 7 Vesey, 348, which related to the Revocation of a testamentary Appointment of a Guardian, referred to in Note to Stat. 29 Ch. II. c. 24, ante No. 15.

The Case upon this Subject, contained in the additional Note (a) infra, has already been published by the Editor, in a Note to Lugg v. Lugg, 2 Salk. 592.

That a tacit Revocation by subsequent Marriage and Birth of Child, without Provision, can be rebutted by parol Evidence, is affirmed per Cur. Lord Raymond, 441, Doug. 31—per Eyre, 2 H. Blackst. 522; negatived per Lord Alvanley, 4 Ves. jun. 848—Lord Rosslyn, 5 Ves. jun. 664.

The Doctrine of Revocation, by an Alteration of the Estate, is referred to in Note to 32 H. VIII. c. 1, post Title Wills, No. 1.

The Cases respecting the Republication of Wills chiefly relate to the Rule, that a Will as to Real Estate can only operate upon the Land which the Testator has at the Time of the Execution—and establish, 1st. That a Republication of a Will gives it the same Effect as if originally made at the Time of the Republication—see Marten v. Savage, 1 Ves. 440—and, 2d, That a Codicil confirming a Will gives Effect to the whole Will, as if made at the Time of publishing the Codicil, whether the Codicil be annexed to the Will or not,—see Acherley v. Vernon, Com. R. 381, 3 Bro. P. C. 107—Barnes v. Gowe, 1 Vesey, jun. 486, 4 Bro. Ch. 2—Pigott v. Waller, 7 Vesey, 98,—except the Expressions of the Will or Codicil are of so qualified a Nature as to require a different Construction.—Strathmore v. Bowes, 7 T. R. 482—2 Bos. & Pull. 500.—Holmes v. Coghill, 7 Ves. 499.—Lane v. Wilkins, 10 East. 242. The Cancelling a second Will revives the first, which was thereby revoked—Goodright v. Glazier, 4 Bur. 2512—but if one Part of a Will, of which there are Duplicates, be cancelled at the Time of making the second, the other Duplicate then not being in the Testator's Possession, the first is not revived by cancelling the second.—Burtonshaw v. Gilbert, Cowp. 49—and see Pemberton v. Pemberton, mentioned in Note 21.

(26) The fullest Information, as to the Principle which has been adopted with Respect to the Construction of this Clause, is to be derived from the Case of Forster v. Hale, 3 Vesey, 696, in which it was held, that an Agreement

be liable to the Judgments, &c. of Court in quo Trust;

X. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid from and after the said Four and Twentieth Day of June, it shall be lawful for every Sheriff or other Officer to whom any Precept is or shall be directed, at the Suit of any Person or Persons for one Person to be a Trustee for others might be made out by Letters which he admitted himself to be such—and that, according to the Meaning of the Statute, it is sufficient if it appears in Writing, under the Hand of a Person having a Power to declare himself a Trustee, and is equivalent to a formal Declaration of Trust. The Master of the Rolls (Sir R. P. Arden,) observed, that it is not required that the Trust should be created in Writing, and the Words of this Clause are very particular, and not by any Means require that all Trusts should be created only by Writing, but that they shall be manifested and proved by Writing, plainly and distinctly, so that there should be Evidence in Writing proving that there was such a Trust. He admitted that it must be proved in toto, not only that there was a Trust, but what it was. In the particular Case, his Honor, from several Letters and Papers, inferred an Agreement, that the Lessee of a Colliery took into account of himself and other Persons with whom he was engaged in Partnership.—See also Randall v. Morgan, 12 Vesey, 73, 74.

(27) The most common Case of Trusts by Operation of Law is where an Estate is purchased by one Man and the Purchase Money paid by another. See the Cases referred to in Forster v. Hale, mentioned in the last Section. Where a Person purchased an Estate in his own Name and insisted in a Bill alledging that it was made by him as Agent for the Plaintiff, and that the Purchase was made on his own Account; Lord Northington refused to permit the Plaintiff to adduce Evidence of the Agency in Opposition to the Defendant's Answer, that if the Plaintiff had paid any Money, it would have been a Receipt for him to admit the Evidence. The Defendant was afterwards convicted of Perjury upon his Denial of the Trust, and a Petition was presented to the Chancellor for leave to file a Supplemental Bill in the Nature of a Bill of Revivor, stating this Conviction, but the Petition was dismissed. See Pickersgill, cited 4 East. 577.

The general Presumption that where a Conveyance is made to one Person and the Purchase Money paid by another, the former is a Trustee for the latter, is rebutted in the Case of a Purchase made by a Father in the Name of his Child, which is, prima facie, an Advancement, even in Case of a Conveyance where the Custom is to grant to three for their Lives successively, and the Name of the Child is inserted as one of those Lives, but the Presumption on the other Side may be rebutted by Circumstances or Parol Evidence.—See the Cases very particularly examined in the Case of Dyer v. Dyer, in the 12th Volume of 1 Watkins on Copyholds, 216.—See also Rider v. Kidder, 10 Vesey, 108; Finch v. Finch, 15 Vesey, 48.

Where a Trustee purchases Lands with the Trust Money and conveys a Conveyance in his own Name, a Trust will result and Evidence may be given aliunde, that the Purchase was made with Trust Money, although denied in the Defendant's Answer.—Balgrey v. Balgrey, and Ryal v. Ryal, cited in Perry v. Phillips, 108, in which it was held there were not sufficient Circumstances to rebut the Presumption that the Purchases were made in Execution of the Trust. See also Fonblanque's Notes Treatise of Equity, B. II. c. 5, S. 1.

And whereas it hath been found mischievous, that Judgements in the King's Courts at Westminster do many Times relate to the first Day of the Term whereof they are entered, or to the Day of the Return of the Original, or Filing the Bail, and hinder the Defendants Lands from that Time, although in Truth they were acknowledged, or suffered and signed in the Vacation Time after the said Term, whereby many Times Purchasers find themselves aggrieved :

This Clause extends to Counties Palatine by 8 Geo. I. c. 25, sec. 6.

XIV. Be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That, from and after the said Four and Twentieth Day of June, any Judge or Officer of any of his Majesty's Courts of Westminster, that shall sign any Judgements, shall, at the signing of the same, without Fee for doing the same, set down the Day of the Month and Year of his so doing upon the Paper Book, Docket, or Record, which he shall sign ; which Day of the Month and Year shall be also entered upon the Margent of the Roll of the Record where the said Judgement shall be entered.

And such Judgements as against Purchasers shall relate to such only.

And be it enacted, That such Judgments as against Purchasers (31) bona fide for valuable Consideration of Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, to be charged thereby, shall, in Consideration of Law, be Judgements only from such Time as they shall be so signed, and shall not relate to the First Day of the Term, whereof they are entered, or the Day of the Return of the Original, or filing the Bail ; any Law, Usage, or Course of any Court, to the contrary notwithstanding.

There was no general Occupancy at Common Law of a Copyhold, and therefore these Statutes do not extend to such. Zouch. dem. — Foise v. Foise, 7 East. 186. Although there was no general Occupancy of a Rent at Common Law it seems to be within the Statutes.—Rawlinson v. the Duchess of Montague, 3 P. Wms. 264 n. Kendal v. Michfield, Barnard Ch. 46. In Oldham v. Pickering, 2 Salk. 464, it was ruled in Prohibition that the Statute of Frauds only made Estates pur autre vie assets for the purpose of paying Debts, and not for the Purpose of Distribution, but in Witter v. Witter, 3 P. Wms. 101, they were held to be distributable in Chancery.—Any Question upon this Point is removed by Stat. 14, Geo. II.—In Ripley v. Waterworth, 7 Vesey 425, it was held on much Discussion that an Estate pur autre vie limited to Executors, Administrators and Assigns, was applicable to the Residuary Legatees of the Testator under a Will not attested by three witnesses, although devisable only as to the legal Estate by a Will so attested.—Upon a Limitation in a Lease for Lives to Heirs, Executors, Administrators and Assigns, the Interest goes to the Heir—Atkinson v. Baker, 4 T. R. 229. I have seen opposite Opinions of Mr. Fearne and Lord Kenyon, as to the Case of Premises held under a Lease for Lives, to the Lessee, his Heirs and Assigns, devised by him without Word of Limitation, and the Right to which was disputed between the Heir and personal Representative of the Devisee.—The Opinion of Lord Kenyon was, that the personal Representative was entitled, which seems evidently correct, as there was no designatio personæ of the Heir of the Devisee, wherefore the Case is, that of there being no special Occupant, so that by the Statute of Frauds the Estate devolves on the Executors.

J. that if Judgment be signed in Term Time, and in the subsequent Vacation the Defendant sell Lands, and before the Essoign Day of the next Term the Plaintiff enter his Judgment, it shall affect the Land in the Hands of the Purchaser, but Mr. Tidd (Practice, ch. 39 n.) makes a Q. (36) The Court of Common Pleas, in Sanderson v. Jackson, 238, seemed to think the printed Title of a Bill of Parcels, "Mr. Bought of Jackson & Hapkin," a sufficient Signature—but at all Events a Letter from the Defendant, the Seller, to the Plaintiff, wishing when the Order should be delivered, took the Case out of the Statute. Ground that the Jury had connected the Letter with the Bill of Parcels, surely, with Regard to the first Point, to use, with a slight Variation, the Terms of the Chief Baron, in Stokes v. Moore, referred to supra, (1) a Name inserted at the [top] of an Instrument, and applicable to the Purposes, could not be intended to be such an Authentication as was required. As to the second Point, although the Letter referred to the Contract, it seems very doubtful, whether it was intended to refer to the written Evidence of the Terms of such Contract; and it could not be inferred from the Letter itself, that there was any other Writing to which a Bill could be made. The Point does not appear to have been distinctly decided by the Jury, and as this Part of the Case is wholly decided upon the Point of the Jury having found such Reference, the Case, as an Authority, is of no more than that the Evidence in Question was such as it was, and leave to the Jury, upon the Point whether the Reference to the Writing was intended or not—and as to the Cases decided with Reference to this Principle, upon Sect. 4, see the Notes to that Section. * A Note by the Seller in the Plaintiff's (the Buyer's) Memorandum, mentioning the Plaintiff's Name, is not sufficient.—Champion v. P. 1 N. R. 252.—Entry by the Plaintiff's Agent, in his Memorandum, containing any Thing on the Face of it to shew it was a Book of Orders for the Plaintiff, in the following terms:—"John Smith—40 of 3—50." explained to mean an Order for forty Sacks of Flour, called Thirds, at 50s. read over by the Defendant's Desire, is not a Memorandum within the Statute, and a Letter, in which the Defendant admitted the Contract, and certain Time as forming a Part of it, but proved by parol Evidence, cannot supply the Deficiency.—Cooper v. Smith, 15 East. 105.

* Since the preparing this Note it has been held, that the inserting the Name of the Buyer at the Head of a Bill of Parcels above the printed Words, "Bought of Thomas Norris," was a sufficient signature to bind the Seller.—Schneider v. Norris, 2 M. & S. 206.

(37) In Simon v. Metivier, mentioned supra Note 34, it was held that an Auctioneer was Agent to both Parties, and that his setting down the Name of the Seller was sufficient to take the Case out of the Statute.—The Court were strongly inclined to think, that Sales by Auction were not within the Statute, but that as a general Proposition cannot be sustained, in several of the Cases mentioned in the preceding Notes to this Section. The Doctrine of the Entry of the Sale by the Auctioneer, being established by him as Agent for both Parties, is established.—Emmerson v. 2 Taunton, 38.—See Hinde v. Whitehouse, 7 East. 569, cited supra.—See also the Cases upon this Subject, as affecting Sales at Auction, in Note 14. The Writing of a bought and sold Note by the Auctioneer, and delivering it to the respective Parties, has been held sufficient to bind the Parties.—Commeymer, 1 Esp. Rep. 105, cited as frequently recognized, in Wright v. 2 Camp. 203.

[Q A. makes a Will, leaving some Legacies, and appointing his Wife residuary Legatee; she died, leaving several Children. He married again, and had one Child by his second Wife. Afterwards A. with his Wife and all his Children perished by Shipwreck. The Will is not revoked.]

No. 27.
20 Oct. 1783.

"This Case arose on a Question, Whether the Will of George Netherwood, deceased, was or was not revoked?

"On the 24th June 1783, the deceased married Elizabeth Lomax, Spinster. On the 8th of October following he made his Will, whereby he charged his Real Estate with the Payment of Debts and Legacies, if his Personal should be deficient. He gave some pecuniary and specific Legacies, and bequeathed the Residue of his Personal Estate to his Wife by her maiden Name, Elizabeth Lomax, and devised the Real Estate to her for Life, remainder to one Joseph Netherwood; he appointed Wright, the Party, Executor of his Effects in England, and another Executor for his Effects in the West Indies.

"Afterwards Elizabeth died, leaving several Children by her Husband. The Testator married the Sister of his former Wife, and had Issue by her one Son.

"The said George Netherwood embarked for England from Jamaica, with his Wife, her Son, and all the Children by the former Marriage. The Ship in which they embarked was never afterwards heard of, and was admitted to be lost.

"The Will was proved by the Executor in England, in common Form, and he was afterwards cited by the next of Kin of the Deceased to prove it in solemn Form, or shew Cause why it should not be declared Invalid.

"The Facts were admitted on both Sides to be as above stated.

"By the Inventory the Property of the Deceased appeared to amount to about 800*l*. The Legacies amounted to rather more than 200*l*.

"Sir William Scott and Dr. Nicholl in Support of the Will.—The Will in this Case was not revoked by the second Marriage and the Birth of a Child; for although it may be admitted as a general Principle, that these Circumstances do revoke a Will, on the Presumption that upon such a total Alteration of Circumstances the Testator did not continue to have the same Intentions; that Presumption is liable to be repelled by Circumstances. It appears to be his Intention that the Will should stand, Marriage and the Birth of a Child will not destroy it.

"All presumptive Revocations are stricti Juris, and must be wholly inconsistent with the Deceased's Intention to dispose of his Property according to the Will.

"The general Principle of these Revocations is, that when a Person has contracted such new Obligations and Relations, it cannot be supposed that he meant to adhere to his former Disposition. That Principle is recognized by all the Cases upon the Subject, and they all proceed upon the Ground of a total Alteration in the Testator's Circumstances; but if there is not a total Alteration, the Implication is repelled.

"No Case can be stronger against a Revocation than this. When he was married he made a Will, by which he bequeathed some small Legacies, and disposed of the rest of his Property to his Wife. This might be in Confidence that she would take care of any Children he should have by her. When his Wife dies, and the Residue becomes lapsed. He marries again, and his Fortune will take the same Course in point of Substance as if he had made a Will. The few Legacies will belong to the Persons to whom they were given, and the Residue would be subject to the Statute of Distribution.

"There are Cases in which it has been held, that this Alteration of Circumstances did not amount to a Revocation; where the Alteration was not such as to make the Court say, the Testator could not in Duty adhere to his Will. Such was the Case of Brown and Thompson, 1 Eq. Ca. Ab. 415, where it was held that the Alteration of Circumstances was not sufficient to amount to a Revocation; for no Injury was done any Person, and those whom the Testator was bound to provide for were taken care of; (Vide the Observations of Butler, J. upon this Opinion, in Doe v. Lancashire) the great Bulk went to the Wife and Children; all the new Relations are fully satisfied; and there is no Probability of the Testator's not intending to adhere to his former Disposition. In Brady v. Cubitt, Doug. 31—38, it is said by Lord Mansfield "That upon his Recollection there was no Case in which Marriage and the Birth of a Child have been held to raise an implied Revocation, where there has not been a Disposition of the whole Estate." And although that may be Essential, it is certainly very Material. Presumed Revocations may arise where the Residue is very small, but it is otherwise where a small Part only disposed of, and the Bulk remains. In Thompson and Shepherd, mentioned in a Note to Amb. 490, it was held that Marriage and having Children did not amount to a Revocation of a Will made by a Widower who had Children. It was not that complete Alteration of Circumstances which implies the Revocation of a declared Intention. A Case of Calder and Calder, lately decided in the Prerogative Court, does not apply. It depended on its own Circumstances; and there was no Power to presume that the Testator adhered to his Intention. That was the Case of a Will made by a Widower having no Children; he had no View to the Relations of Husband and Father. The great Bulk of his Property was left away. and there were Declarations shewing his Idea that his Property would go to his Wife and Children upon a Marriage subsequent to the Will; and the Will itself was such as would involve the Family in endless Litigation. Every Circumstance in that Case raised the Implication, that the Will should be revoked. No such Circumstances exist in this Case; but, on the Contrary, every Circumstance repels the Implication.

“ There would be a very considerable Provision for the Wife and her Child; and it must be presumed that he knew the Operation of the Will; that it disposed of the small Legacies according to his Intention; that the Residue would be distributable according to Law; and that his Property would be managed by the respective Persons in whom he had reposed a Confidence for the Purpose.

The Advocates for the Plaintiff having here closed their Arguments, the Judge intimated a Wish, that the Case might be considered upon another Point, viz. Whether the Will (provided it was revoked) did not Revive, as the Son by the second Wife did not survive his Father? For which Purpose, it stood over till the 13th of May; when the Advocates before mentioned, argued on that Point.

“ In Cases where it cannot be actually ascertained whether the Parent or the Son survived, and they perished by the same Stroke of Death, according to the Roman Law, it was presumed that if the Son had not attained the Age of Puberty, the Father survived; but if the Son had attained that Age, that he survived the Father. This Presumption arises from the Degree of Strength supposed to belong to the respective Parties. It was liable to certain Exceptions in behalf of Claims favoured by that Law for the Interest of Mothers, and in Cases of fiduciary Bequests, and the Rights of Patronage. The general Rule of Presumption being applied to the present Case, the Child by the second Wife being only about a Year old, must be taken to have died before his Father. The Question then arises, Whether the Will, if it was before revoked, was revived by the Circumstance of the Father surviving?

“ By the Roman Law, a Will which was revoked by the Birth of a posthumous Child, did not revive by his Death, because no Change in the Father's Intention can in that Case be presumed; but it was held otherwise with Respect to the quasi posthumi, or those who were born after the Will was made in the Testator's Lifetime. On their Death the Will was restored by the Prætorian Law, as upon a new Designation of Intention.

“ There is no Case where it has been held by the Law of England, that, under these Circumstances, a presumptive Revocation does take place. There are two Points of Time to be regarded in considering the Effect of the Will: 1st, The Paction: 2d, The Consummation. The Will was undoubtedly good when it was made. Was it otherwise at the Death of the Testator? The Presumption of the Law of England, with Respect to Revocations, is not more strong than the Agnatio sui heredis by the Civil Law, nor so strong, for that was an actual Revocation, and the other is only a Presumption liable to be repelled. The Removal of the Cause will as strongly imply a Renewal of the first Intention, or rather more strongly, on Account of the Omission to destroy the Will; but by the Prætorian Civil Law it was held, that upon the Death of the Agnatus, the Will was restored. It is presumed, that the Reason why the Testator did not revoke the Will, was, that he was prevented by Death; but, if the Child dies first, the Presumption is, that, not having revoked the Will, he intended it to stand. At all events, the Testator intended the Legacies, on account of which alone this Dispute is material, should be carried into Effect, and that the Executors whom he appointed should have the Management of his Property: And if the Court, on a presumed Intent, decides against the Will, the actual Intention of the Testator will be defeated.

No. 17.
29 Car. II. c. 3.

49, 61, thought the Opinion of the Master of the Rolls better than the Lord Keeper.

“ There are some dicta of Lord Mansfield, but they are only Brady and Cubitt, that the Will is not revoked by Marriage and the Child, if it only covers Part of the Property. In Doe v. Lancashire, a question is held to arise from a tacit Condition at the Time of making. There may be some Cases in which a Will is allowed to stand, from circumstances repelling the Presumption ; but nothing is more dangerous than a particular Equity, arising from the Quantity of the Effects, operate against the general Rule of Law. It would introduce a vague and uncertain Decision, and it is better to adhere to a known Presumption of Law. If the Disposition was complete by the Will, both as to the Real and Personal Estate ; and the Testator has not shewn, since the Alteration in his circumstances, any Intention to adhere to it. Though the Real Estate is not within the Jurisdiction of this Court, it may afford an Argument in favor of the Revocation that it was wholly devised away.

“ As to the other Point.—It is not to be taken for granted in Law, even according to the Principles of the Roman Law, that the Child born after the Death of the Father, revokes the Will. The Doctrine alluded to goes no further than to shew, that when a Father and Son perish by the same Blow of Death, the Father is supposed to have died first, and his infant Son. But it does not appear that in this Case they did perish by the same Blow of Death. The Ship being cast away is all that is admitted. It is not constat that they died by Shipwreck. The general Law is, that the Will is not revoked : To take the Case out of that Law, its Revival by the Father's death, must be shewn on the other Side. There are Passages in the Law which shew, that in testamentary Cases the Presumption of Father's death, if surviving, is not adopted.

“ By the Roman Law, if a Will was void for the Prætermortem Birth of a Child who afterwards died, the Will was not thereby rendered Valid. If it was revoked by the Birth of a posthumous Child, the Death of that Child did not restore it ; and in Case of a Will becoming void by any other Cause, the Removal of that Cause did not restore it by the Civil Law. It was otherwise by the Prætorian Law, which was in the Nature of a Law of Equity, and only prevailed for the Sake of the hæres Scriptus, or the Legatee. In this Case, the residuary Legatee was dead, and the Case falls, in which the jus Prætorium interposed fails. Any particular Legatee may take the Advantage of its Revival incidentally, as it was allowed to stand in Case of the general hæres Scriptus.

“ Suppose this Case were to be decided by the Roman Law, and “ Sir William Scott and Dr. Nicholl in Reply.—The Civil Law, upon the Grounds which have been already urged, is clearly in Favour of the Will; and the Court will not attend to Distinctions between jus Prætorium and jus Civile. Jus Prætorium was as much a Part of the general System as any other, and in Fact it was the predominating and over-riding Authority.

No. 17.
29 Car. II. c. 9.

“ The Case of Barrow and Baxter is certainly contrary to the Civil Law; and it does not appear if those Points were adduced, which in this Cause have been urged in Support of the Will.

“ With regard to the Distinction which has been made between the lex Scriptæ and a special Legatee, the latter was as much intended to be benefited as the former.

“ It being the established Law that the Death of a Quasi Posthumus revives the Will, the Distance of the Interval between his Death and that of the Testator is not material against the Presumption of Law. The Court is not to examine by Evidence whether there was an actual Change of Intention or not.

“ The Law, with Respect to Revocations by Marriage and the Birth of a Child, is, as laid down in Brady and Cubitt, a mere Principle of Presumption; and, in that Case, all the Circumstances must be taken together, and the State of the Property may be very material. It is extraordinary if there is any Decision that a Paper disposing of small Legacies will be revoked by subsequent Marriage, &c. that no such Case appears. The Courts have not gone the Length of Lord Mansfield in Brady and Cubitt, by deciding that a Revocation does not take place if any Property is left: But there is no Case where Marriage and the Birth of a Child have been held to amount to a Revocation, if the Will was such as might have been made after these Relations were contracted, fairly and without Injury to the Family.

“ The Disposition in the Will in Question only extends to a very small Part of the Property, and might be fairly made by a Person having a Family, the lapsed residuary Bequest being as if it had never existed.

“ The Testator having no Wife or Children at his Death, the tacit Condition (which in Doe and Lancashire is considered as the Principle of these Cases) may be fairly considered as a Condition that the Will should not take Effect if the Testator should afterwards have a Wife and Children who survived him.

“ All the Cases in the Courts of Common Law admit, that the Doctrine upon this Subject is borrowed from the Civil Law. The Courts have not adopted all the minute Rules and Distinctions, but only some of the general Principles; and there is no Principle better founded on Justice, than that if a Will is revoked by the Birth of a Child, it is revived by his Death in the Life of the Father.

“ Judgment of the Court.

“ Sir William Wynne.—It is contended on the Part of the Next of Kin, that by Marriage and the Birth of a Child the Will became void by Implication of Law: On the other Side it is contended, that the particular Circumstances of the Case rebut that Implication.

“ It is clearly the general Law, that a Will made by a Bachelor is revoked by subsequent Marriage and the Birth of a Child. That there is a Distinction in the Case mentioned by Ambler is, I think, a Mistake. The Principle of the Rule is, that the Change of Circumstances found a Presumption that there is a Change in Intention, which may be as strong in Favour of a second Wife and Family as a first; and it does not seem Material whether the Will was made by a Widower having Children, or a Bachelor.

“ The more weighty Argument is drawn from the Operation of the Will, under the Circumstances which have happened. The Testator has given Legacies which are not very considerable, and the Residue to his Wife. That Gift of the Residue became void by her Death. If he had left a second Wife and Son, they would have had their Share with the other Children. In Brady and Cubitt it is said by Lord Mansfield, that there is no Case of a Revocation where there is not a total Disposition, intimating that the Ground of Revocation is an entire Deprivation. However that may be, if there is an ample Portion remaining after a few Legacies to Friends, there is no Decision that a Will would be revoked. The Principle on which the Cases have gone does not militate against such a Will.

No. 17.
29 Car. II. c. 3.

"This Case is not exactly similar: The Testator gave the Bulk of his Property to his Wife early after Marriage. She lived for several Years, during which all their Children were born. The Birth of those Children would not revoke the Will, and he might mean to leave them in the Power of their Mother. She died; and it is not an improbable Supposition, that he, knowing the Effect of the Will, suffered it to remain. There is a strong Ground, then, to contend, that, under those Circumstances, the Case does not fall within the Rule laid down and established for the Revocation of Wills.

"I was not aware of the Case of Barrow and Baxter, in which the Court seems to think the subsequent Death of the Child would not make an Alteration; but the Point seems a good deal like that which has been verata questio in these Courts, and brought before the Courts of Common Law, whether a Will, which is revoked by another, is set up by the Destruction of the Second. There was a Case to that Effect before Sir Geo. Lee, of Hellyar and Hellyar, in which it was held, that the Will being once revoked remained so. There was an Appeal to the Delegates, but it was never determined by them. The Case of Glazier and Glazier, 4 Bur. 2512, was directly contrary to that; and it was held that the first Will was good.

"In Brady v. Cubitt, it was laid down by Buller, J. that implied Revocations must depend on the Circumstances at the Time of the Testator's Death: That makes it material to inquire what those Circumstances were. The Fact is, that having embarked, they all perished. The Roman Law has been entered into, and it clearly appears by the Prætorian, which is considered as the latter Roman Law, that the Revocation was entire and not presumptive, and yet the Will was held to revive.

"With Respect to the Priority of Death, it has always appeared to me more fair and reasonable in these unhappy Cases, to consider all the Parties as dying at the same Instant of Time, than to resort to any fanciful Supposition of Survivorship on Account of the Degrees of Robustness; and I rather suppose that is what is meant by Dr. Zouch in the Passages alluded to.

"Then the Testator, at the Time of his Death, had neither Wife or Children. Huller, J. says, It is to depend on the Circumstances at the Time of the Testator's Death: There is no Circumstance to raise a Presumption that he intended at that Time that the Will should be revoked.

"On the first Point I should have great Doubt if the presumed Revocation did take place at all.

"On the second, As there were neither Wife or Children at the Death of the Testator, I am clearly of Opinion, that the Court ought to pronounce for the Validity of the Will."

As to parol Declarations, &c. concerning the Subsistence or Revocation of the Will, vide Brady v. Cubitt, and Doe v. Lancashire, ubi sup.

greatest Grievances of the Nation. When it went through the House of Commons, it was visible, that the Interest of Under-Officers, Clerks, and Attorneys, whose Gains were to be lessened by this Bill, was more considered than the Interest of the Nation itself. Several Clauses, how beneficial soever to the Subject, which touched on their Profits, were left out by the Commons. But what Fault soever the Lords might have found with these Alterations, yet, to avoid all Disputes with the Commons, they agreed to their Amendments."

A principal Motive to the engaging in the present Work was the Removal of any Prejudice against the Alteration of the Law, in Consequence of the inconvenient Magnitude which the Statutes have already attained. In various Parts of the Work, such Alterations are suggested as appeared to be of a Beneficial Nature, and, as the Title of the present Number must be repeated in Part 3, I propose to avail myself of that Opportunity of introducing such Observations as may appear to be material, with Respect to any Alterations in the Proceedings of Courts of Law.

As the Act, of which the Contents are very miscellaneous, contains some important Provisions respecting Real Estates, it is inserted in this Place in Conformity with the general Principle stated in the introductory Note to the Statute of Frauds.

IV. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term it shall and may be lawful for any Defendant or Tenant in any Action or Suit, or for any Plaintiff in Replevin, in any Court of Record, with the Leave of the same Court (3) to plead as many several Matters thereto, as he shall think necessary for his Defence.

(2) Defects which are cured by Verdict at Common Law are not aided by this Statute. The Presumption from the Verdict in such Case is, that the Fact which was omitted, or imperfectly alleged, must have been proved, in Order to have obtained the Verdict.—See the Cases founded on this Direction, in Williams' Note to Stennel v. Hogg, 1 Saund. 228.—See also Note to Crowther v. Oldfield, 1 Salk. 364, 6th Edit.

(3) The omitting to state, that the second and subsequent Pleas are pleaded by Order of the Court, although informal, is no Cause of Demurrer—Andr. 108—1 Wils. 219—Cowp. 500. If Leave has not been regularly obtained, the proper Course is either to sign Judgment or to apply to the Court to strike out one of the Pleas.—Tidd's Prac. 4th Edit. 605—1 Bos. and Pul. 415—1 Chitt. Plead. 459. The Courts will not allow non assumpsit or non est factum to be pleaded with a Plea of Tender, which necessarily admits a Right of Action. The Court of C. B. refused to admit Pleas of general Issue and the Stock-jobbing Act, as the Defence under that Act might have been given in Evidence under the general Issue.—1 Bos. & Pul. 273—or non assumpsit and alien Enemy.—Id. & 2 B. & P. 72. This last decision was manifestly founded upon very correct Principles—the one Plea amounting to an absolute Bar, the other only to a temporary Disability. A Plea to be tried by a Jury cannot be joined with ne unques accouple, which is to be tried by the Bishop—Harding v. Harding, Com. Rep. 148. A Defendant cannot plead double at the Suit of the Crown, without Leave of the Attorney-General.—Wilkes, 535—Forrest's Exch. 57. It is the Prerogative of the Crown to give two Answers to a Plea, Replication, or any subsequent Proceeding, of which see an Instance, Rex v. Parry, 14 East. 549.

The supposed Inconsistency of two Pleas, as not guilty and a justification, is not unfrequently the topic of a little common place Eloquence at Nut Prison; but translating the legal Phraseology into common Language is no more than saying, Prove I did it, and then I'll prove that I had a Right to do it; and certainly the Defence of non feci, si feci, recte feci, does not owe its origin to the Act for the Amendment of the Law. The Necessity of applying for the Leave of the Court does put some little Restraint upon an Abuse of the Privilege, in the Court of Common Pleas, where an Application must be made by a Motion for a Rule to shew Cause, but even there the Restraint is very limited, and is only exercised in such Instances as have been specified—and the real practical Effect of the Requisition to apply for such Relief is only an Addition to the Expence. If the apparent Object of the Statute had been attended to, a very salutary Use might have been made of this Restraint, by putting Defendants under Terms of making proper Admissions, so as to prevent the Expence of proving Facts which are no Part of the Matter in Dispute. In a former Publication, I was induced to make the following Observations, which have some Relation to this Subject.—Appendix to Pothier, 226. "In the Case of Webb v. Fox, 7 T. R. 391, to an Action of Trover, the De-

V. Provided nevertheless, That if any such Matter shall, upon a Demurrer joined, be judged insufficient, Costs shall be given at the discretion of the Court; (4) or if a Verdict shall be found upon any Issue in the said Cause for the Plaintiff or Demandant, Costs (5) shall be also given in like Manner, unless the Judge, who tried the said Issue, shall certify, (6) that the said Defendant, or Tenant, or Plaintiff in Replevin, had a probable Cause to plead such Matter which upon the said Issue shall be found against him. See 2 Bur. 754.

Defendant pleaded the general Issue, and also that the Plaintiff was a Bankrupt. Upon a Demurrer to the latter Plea, Lord Kenyon said, he could not commend the Mode in which the Question was brought before the Court, since the whole of the Case might be gone into upon the general Issue; whereas the Defendants, in Addition to the Plea of not guilty, pleaded a special Plea, which he said, would have been bad upon special Demurrer, as amounting to the general Issue,] and which would be attended with additional Expence to the Parties.—Now it is clear, that in Case the Court had decided in Favour of the Plea, much Expence would have been saved, because the Allegations of the Parties in the first Instance, would have brought the Point before the Court in as perfect a State as it could have been brought, by the great additional Expence of a Trial, and a special Case. I remember his Lordship expressing his Disapprobation of the two Pleas, with more Severity of Manner than appears by the Report. The Question which I recollect his having asked,—Why, if the special Plea was preferred, was the general Issue added? might have received the very easy Answer that, although the Defendant might expect, by the special Plea, to obtain a cheap and early Decision of the Cause, would not have been judicious to have therefore abandoned every other Fund of Defence."

Notwithstanding the Advantage, which in many Respects arises from the opportunity of going into the whole Case on the general Issue, there is a great Inconvenience in subjecting Parties, whose only Difference is with respect to the legal Effect of certain undisputed Facts, to go through the expence of a Trial, in Order to state those Facts judicially to the Court—but on this Subject, I shall take an Opportunity of submitting some Observations in another Place.

(4) It is only the Quantum of the Costs which is in the Discretion of the Court, and not the Question whether any Costs shall be allowed.—Duberley v. Page, 2 T. R. 391.

(5) An Avowant is a Plaintiff within this Section.—Dodd v. Joddrell, T. R. 235. A Defendant in Replevin is subject to Costs upon Avowries not reported.—Stone v. Forsyth, Doug. 709, Note.—See Vollum v. Simpson, 3. & P. 368, infra Note 7.

(6) The Certificate need not be made in Court, and may be granted after the Plaintiff's Application for Costs.—Cremer v. Dent, Barnes, 141. In Duberley v. Page, mentioned No. 4, supra. Buller, J. said, he had never known any Instance of a Judge, at Nisi Prius, certifying in Favour of the Party pleading double, when the Issues were found against him.

(7) The Effect of this Clause is only to give the Costs of the particular Findings, when the general Judgment is in Favour of the Defendant. If all the Issues are found for the Plaintiff, and the Judge certifies under the Statute Eliz. the Plaintiff is entitled to no more Costs than Damages. If after Judgment for the Plaintiff upon Demurrer as to one Plea, the Defendant obtains a Verdict upon the other, the Plaintiff is entitled to the Costs of the Demurrer.—Duberley v. Page, supra Note 5. Where upon not guilty, and guilty within six Years, the Defendant had Judgment on Demurrer as to the first, and the Plaintiff afterwards proceeded to Trial and had a Verdict for the first, the Defendant had Costs on the Demurrer, and no Costs of the Trial were allowed on either side.—Cooke v. Sayer, 2 Bur. 753.

In Vivian v. Blake, 11 East, 263, the Defendant, to an Action of trespass on the Plaintiff's Fishery, pleaded the general Issue, and that the res in quo was a public Harbour, where all the King's Subjects had a Right Fish, the Replication prescribed for a free Fishery, which was negatived by a Rejoinder. The Verdict being found for the Plaintiff on the general Issue, and for the Defendant upon the special Pleading, it was ruled, that as the

VI. And whereas great Delays do frequently happen in Trials by Reason of Challenges to the Arrays of Panels of Jurors, and to the Polls, for Default of Hundredors: For Prevention thereof for the future, be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term, every Venire facias for the Trial of any Issue, in any Action or Suit in any of her Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster, shall be awarded of the Body of the proper County where such Issue is triable.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That nothing in this Act before contained shall extend to any Writ, Declaration, or Suit of Appeal of Felony or Murder, or to any Indictment or Presentment of Treason, Felony, or Murder, or other Matter, or to any Process upon any of them, or to any Writ, Bill, Action, or Information upon any Penal(8) Statute.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term in any Action brought in any of her Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster, where it shall appear to the Court in which such Actions are depending, that it will be proper and necessary, that the Jurors who are to try the Issues in any such Actions, should have the View of the Messuages, Lands, or Place in question, in order to their better understanding the Evidence that will be given upon the Trials of such Issues, in every such Case the respective Courts in which such Actions shall be depending, may order Special Writs of Distringas or Habeas Corpora to issue, by which the Sheriff, or such other Officer to whom the said Writs shall be directed, shall be commanded to have six out of the first twelve of the Jurors named in such Writs, or some greater Number of them, at the Place in question, some convenient Time before the Trial, who then and there shall have the Matters in question shewn to them by two Persons in the said Writ named, to be appointed by the Court; and the said Sheriff or other Officer, who is to execute the said Writs shall, by a special Return upon the same, certify that the View hath been had according to the Command of the same Writs.

IX. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term, all Grants or Conveyances thereafter to be made, by Fine or otherwise, of any Manor or Rents, or of the Reversion or Remainder of any Messuages or Lands, shall be good and effectual, to all Intents and Purposes, without any Attornment of the Tenants of any such Manors, or of the Land out of which such Rent shall be issuing, or of the particular Tenants upon whose particular Estates any such Reversions or Re-

Issue on the Prescription, which had been entered for the Defendants, went to the whole Trespass, the finding on the whole Record being in Favour of the Defendant, the Plaintiff could not be intitled to the Costs of the general Issue.

It was formerly held, that the Plaintiff or Defendant in Replevin, in whose Favour any particular Issues were found, (the general Result of the Suit being in Favour of the other Party,) was only entitled to the Costs of the Pleadings—but it is now settled, that he is entitled to the Costs of the Trial.—Brooke v. Willett, 2 H. Bl. 435—Vollum v. Simpson, 2 B. & P. 302. The Courts allow the particular Costs, to which a Party is entitled under this Section, to be deducted out of the general Costs awarded to the opposite Party.

XI. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term, no dilatory Plea, (10) shall be received (11) in any Court of Record, unless the Party offering such Plea, do, by Affidavit, prove the Truth (12)

XII. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first Day of Trinity Term, where any Action of Debt shall be brought upon any single Bill, or where Action of Debt, or Scire facias, shall be brought upon any Judgment, if the Defendant hath paid the Money due upon such Bill or Judgment, such Payment shall and may be pleaded in Bar of such Action or if at any Time, pending an Action upon any such Bond with a Penalty, the Defendant shall bring into the Court where the Action shall be depending, all the Principal Money, and Interest due on such Bond, and also all such Costs as have been expended in any Suit or Suits in Law or Equity upon such Bond, the said Money so brought in shall be deemed and taken to be in full Satisfaction and Discharge of the said Bond, and the Court shall and may give Judgment to discharge every such Defendant of and from the same accordingly.

§ II. c. 20.—An Act for the more easy Redemption and Foreclosure of Mortgages.

WHEREAS Mortgagees frequently bring Actions of Ejectment for the Recovery of Lands and Estates to them mortgaged, and Actions on Bonds given by Mortgagors to pay the Money by such Mortgages, and for performing the Covenants therein contained, and likewise commence Suits in his Majesty's Courts of Equity, to foreclose their Mortgagors from redeeming their same; and the Courts of Law, where such Ejectments are brought, have not Power to compel such Mortgagees to accept the Principal Monies and Interests due on such Mortgages, and Costs, thereby to prevent such Mortgagees from proceeding to Judgment and Execution upon such Actions; but such Mortgagors must have Recourse to the Courts of Equity for that Purpose; in which Case likewise the Courts of Equity do not give Relief until the Hearing of the Cause: And whereas it hath been enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, now living, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Acts of the said Parliament, That from and after the first Day of Easter next following, viz. the Thirtieth of March last past, where any Action shall be brought on any Bond for Payment of the Money due by such Mortgage, or Performance of the Covenants therein contained, or where any Action of Ejectment shall be brought in his Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster, or in the High Court of Chancery, or in any of the Great Sessions in Wales, or in any of the superior Courts in the Cities Palatine of Chester, Lancaster, or Durham, by any Mortgagor or Mortgagee, his, her, or their Heirs, Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, for the Recovery of the Possession of any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, and no Suit shall be depending in any of his Majesty's Courts of Equity in that Part of Great Britain called England, for or touching the foreclosing or recovering of such mortgaged Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments; if any Person or Persons having Right to redeem such mortgaged Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, and who shall appear and become Plaintiff or Defendants in such Action, shall at any Time, pending such Action, pay unto such Mortgagee or Mortgagees, or in case of their Refusal, shall bring into Court, where such Action is depending, all the Principal Monies and Interest due on such Mortgage, and also all such Costs as have been expended in any Suit or Suits in Law or in Equity upon such Mortgage (such Money for Principal, Interest, and Costs, to be ascertained and computed by the

III. Provided always That this Act or any Thing herein

teen different Defendants in the same Cause or Suit; nor by Prejudice to any subsequent Mortgagee or Mortgagees, or Incumbrancer; any Thing in this Act contained to the hereof in any wise notwithstanding. (1)

This Order can only be made upon Admission of the Sum claimed and the Master cannot examine Evidence.—Iberson v. Iberson, 25. An Order cannot be made under the Act, where there is any the Suit beyond the mere Foreclosure.—Semble, Bastard v. Clarke, 19. A Defendant, in Contempt for not answering, cannot apply for a writ.—Hewitt v. McCartney, 13 Vesey, 560.

As said, in Perry v. Barker, 13 Vesey, 205, on the Information of the Master, that the Course in Ireland is to decree a Sale instead of a Foreclosure; and if the Sale produce more than the Debt, the Surplus goes to the Debtor; if less, the Mortgagee has his Remedy for the Difference.

The Advantage of that Course seems very manifest, as it makes the Mortgagee's Title safe for its real Value; and preserves the Rights of the Creditor for the Debtor. The Claims of a Mortgagee, upon a Suit of Foreclosure, are much embarrassed by the Variety and Complication of the Interests in the Right of Redemption, and with which he has no Concern. It much adds to the Advantage of this Security, without prejudicing any the Debtor, to authorise the Courts of Equity, upon Petition, to direct a Sale at a definite Period, upon giving such Notices as to the Court might think proper—and for the Surplus, after satisfying the Mortgagee, to be paid subject to be disposed of upon the Application of those concerned: under the Authority of the Court to be a complete Title against all subsequent to the Mortgage, and the Purchaser to be no further concerned in the Regularity of the Proceedings than by having a Confirmation of the Sale.

III. c. 10, Ir. a Power is given to Courts of Equity in Ireland, in Case of the Interest upon Mortgages being in Arrears for a Year and a Half, to appoint a Receiver upon Petition and Affidavit—and Statute 11. c. 14, Ir. most important Exposition of the above Statute is contained in Lord Hardwicke, in the Case of Walker v. Tyrer, Gwill. 818. and are due of common Right, in Cases not protected by the Statute, Oak, Ash, and Elm, which are regarded as Timber

No. 1. by the Common Law, are exempt from Tithes, if of twenty Years' Growth without Regard to the Use to which they may be applied; other Trees, which are not Timber generally, may be so by the Customs of particular Counties, as Beach, in Buckinghamshire; and when this Custom prevails, such Trees in like Manner protected by the Statute, being of the above Growth, and Age and Custom concurring, no Inquiry is allowed as to the Quality of particular Trees; and with Respect to Trees which are clearly of a Species to be denominated Timber, the Court have declared they would presume Trees to be above twenty Years' Growth, unless the Plaintiff demand Tithes prove the contrary.—2 P. Wms. 606, Gwill. 357.—Wright v. Portman, 2 P. Wms. 219, Gwill. 358, Note.—Gaffy v. Pindar, 2 Rol. Rep. 83. When Trees are exempt, no Tithe is payable for the Bark, Tops, or Lops, except in particular Cases open to Frauds, as when Loppings of Timber, standing in a Copse Wood, are intermixed with the Fall of the Copse Wood.—Walton v. Tyrer, ubi sup. In Daws v. Mollins, 2 Lees, 79, it had been laid down that if Woods, consisting chiefly of Timber Trees with Underwood intermixed, are cut down and made into Faggots promiscuously, it is not worth while to separate them, the Timber shall privilege the whole; but if Woods are mostly Underwood, with here and there an Oak, and all are cut down and made into Faggots indiscriminately, the whole shall pay. Timber Trees having attained the requisite Growth, are exempted, although being unfit for Timber, and only fit for Fuel—and though after attaining such Growth they may be lopped every seven Years.—See Withington v. Harris, Gwill. 584. See also Gwill. 836, and Authorities cited, Toller, 102. But if a Tree is lopped before it is of twenty Years' Growth, and afterwards periodically, its Loppings are tithable.—Broke v. Rogers, Mo. 908, Gwill. 833. If it ceases to be lopped for twenty Years successively, it is said to become Timber, and to be privileged—1 R. A. 640—Digge, p. 11, c. 4—but see Gwill. 11. A Tithe is payable for the Germs or Branches growing out of the Root of fallen Timber Trees, of what Age soever.—Per Lord Hardwicke in Walton v. Tyrer, contradicting the opposite Position, in 2 Inst. 643.—And in the Case of R. v. Backster, B. R. East, 1815, decided immediately before the printing of this Note, it was held, that such Germs or Branches are not privileged, notwithstanding the cutting may only take Place after a Period of twenty Years.

The Exemption may be in Respect, I. Of Unity of Possession in a Monastery of the Parsonage and the Land tithable—and this Exemption extends as well when they are in the Hands of a Tenant as when they are

(6) It is agreed that the Statute gives an Exemption with Respect to the Land here described for the Term of seven Years. For the Exposition of this Clause, see 2 Inst. 656. Stockwell v. Terry, 1 Vesey, 115, and the late Case of Warwick v. Collins, 2 M. and S. 340. It is settled that Land is not entitled to the Privilege as barren, on account of the Expence of clearing from Wood, Draining, Inclosing, or Recovery from the Sea, and that the Exemption must be founded upon the natural Inaptitude of the Soil for the Production of a Crop without an extraordinary Expence in manuring. In Hutchins v. Maughan, cited by Eyre, C. B. in Jones v. Le David, 4 Gwill. 1594. Land which, from its exposed Situation, would not grow Corn without the Expence of erecting Stone Walls to protect it from the Severity of the Climate, was held to be Exempt.

The following Extracts from Lord Ellenborough's Judgment, in Warwick v. Collins, seem to comprize the Substance of the Law upon the Subject:—
“There are two Causes of unproductiveness in Land, one arising from the mere Neglect of Cultivation; the other, because the Land is in its Nature unfit for, and indisposed to receive and return the Benefits of Cultivation. The latter only is protected; all Land which has not been already cultivated by the Plow, is, to use Lord Coke's Words, (2 Inst. 656) so far not apt for Tillage. Something must necessarily be done; some Labour bestowed; some Expence incurred in all Cases to conquer this Inaptitude. Then comes the Question on the Limitation in the Statute, whether “it has paid no Tithes by Reason of Barrenness,” (on which the Comments made on the Statute and the Cases have principally turned) in other Words, “whether it be supte Naturâ sterilis,” and this all agree must be shewn to entitle it to Exemption. It seems neither reasonable nor analogous to the common Course of Husbandry, to confine the Inaptitude for Tillage to such Causes only as hinder the mere Use and Passage of the Plow over it, such as the Incumbrance of Wood, of Water, or Furze and Whin; there is an intrinsic Inaptitude to these in all Cases of new Land, arising from the Rankness and Foulness of the Soil; and if I may use the Expression, from its unsubdued Condition. If the Land only require the Manure and Cultivation ordinarily necessary to bring it into an apt State of Tillage, it is not supte Naturâ sterilis. Sterility ex vi termini, imports an ungrateful Soil: a sort of natural and constitutional Infecundity, resisting the ordinary Means properly applied to render it otherwise.

“The proper Enquiry seems to be, Whether the Land was of such a Nature as to require extraordinary Expence either in Manure or Labour to bring it into a proper State of Cultivation.”

Persons, and in such Places, as heretofore within these forty Years have accustomedly used to pay such personal Tithes, or of Right ought to pay, (other than such as been common Day-Labourers) shall yearly at or before the Feast of Easter pay for his personal Tithes the tenth Part of his clear Gains, his Charges and Expences, according to his Estate, Condition or Degree, to be therein abated, allowed and deducted.

XV. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful to and for the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, of any Manor, with the Consent of Three-fourths of the Persons having Right of Common upon the Wastes and Commons within his, her, or their Manor, at a Meeting to be held after fourteen Days Notice, such Notice to be given in Manner herein before directed by the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, of the Manor, or their Agent respectively, at any Time or Times, to demise or lease, for any Term or Number of Years, not exceeding four Years, any Part of such Wastes and Commons, not exceeding a Twelfth Part thereof, for the best and most improved yearly Rent that can by publick Auction be got for the same; and that the clear Net Rents reserved to the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, his, her, or their Heirs, Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, by any Lease or Leases to be granted as aforesaid, shall be by him, her, or them, and the major Part of his, her, or their Tenants, applied in the draining, fencing, or otherwise improving of the Residue of such Wastes and Commons Lords of Manors, &c. with Consent may lease a twelfth part, &c.

XVI. Provided always, nevertheless, and be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in every Manor where there are stinted Commons, in lieu of demising or leasing Part thereof, one or more Assessment or Assessments upon the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, of such Manor, and the Persons being Owners or Occupiers of such Commons, or their Agents or Managers, shall or may, at their Option, be made, levied, and collected, by such Person and Persons, and allowed in such Manner as the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, of such Manor, and the major Part in Number and Value of the Owners or Occupiers of such Commons, present at a Meeting to be held within the said Manor, in pursuance of fourteen Days Notice to be given by the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, or his, her, or their Agent, in Manner aforesaid, of the Time and Place of Meeting for that Purpose, shall direct and appoint in that Behalf; and the Money thereby raised shall be employed and accounted for, according to the Orders and Directions of the said Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, and such Majority of the Owners or Occupiers, as aforesaid, in the Improvement of such Commons, from Time to Time, as Need shall require; and the said Assessments shall, by virtue of a Warrant under the Hand and Seal of one Justice of the Peace, be levied by Distress and Sale of the Goods and Chattels of every Person so assessed, and not paying the same within ten Days after being demanded, rendering the Overplus of the Value of the Goods so distrained (if any) to the Owner and Owners thereof, the necessary Charges of making such Distress and Sale being first deducted.

Assessments to be levied for the improving of Wastes where there are stinted Commons.

XVII. And whereas there are, in many Parts of this Kingdom, certain stinted Commons of Pasture which are never enjoyed in Severalty, but which are at certain Times shut up for the better Growth of the Pasture, and opened on certain fixed Days, from which, in particular Circumstances and Seasons, great Inconveniences do and may arise; be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful for the major Part in Number and Value of the Owners and Occupiers of such Common Pastures, present at a Meeting to be held after six Days Notice at least given, in Manner herein before directed, with the Consent of the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, of the Manor, or his, her, or their Steward or Agent, to postpone the opening of the said Common Pastures for a Time not exceeding Twenty-one Days.

Stinted Commons to be opened at a certain Time, &c.

Section XVII. And whereas there are in many Places Common Pastures, with stinted or limited Rights of Common therein, which are open the whole Year, and it would be attended with great Advantages to the Commoners to shut up and unstock the same at particular Seasons; be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful to and for Two-thirds in Number and Value of such Commoners, at a Meeting to be holden after fourteen Days Notice given in Manner herein before directed, with the Consent of the Lord or Lords, Lady or Ladies, of the Manor or Manors in which such Commons are situated, his, her, or their Steward or Stewards, Agent or Agents, to direct, order, and fix the Time when such Common Pastures shall be broke or depastured, and when the same shall be shut up and unstocked; such Orders to continue in Force for one whole Year, and no longer.

Two-thirds of Commoners, with Consent, do may direct the opening and shutting of Common Pastures, &c.

XIX. Provided nevertheless, That a Portion of such Common Pastures shall be separated and set apart for the Use of such Commoners exclusively as shall not consent to such Regulation, and the Portion so set apart shall be adjudged by a Majority of such Commoners, not consenting as aforesaid, an Equivalent for their Rights of Common.

Persons having Right of Common may depasture Sheep instead of other Cattle.

XX. And whereas many stinted Common Pastures in this Kingdom are fed and depastured by Horses, Beasts, or Neat Cattle, and in many Instances it would tend to the Improvement of such Common Pastures, and to the better Manuring and Cultivation of the Arable Lands in Common Fields, or otherwise, to which such Common Pastures may belong, if the same were fed with Sheep; be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful to and for the major Part in Number and Value of the Persons having Right of Common in such Common Pastures, at any Meeting to be held in pursuance of Notice, in Writing, under the Hands of a major Part of such Owners and Occupiers of such Common Pastures, or Persons having Right of Common therein, to be affixed on the principal Door of the Parish Church of the Parish where such Common Pastures shall lie, or of the nearest Parish Church where such Lands shall lie in an extra-parochial Place, ten Days at least previous to such Meeting, specifying the Time and Place, and Intent of such Meeting, by Writing under their Hands, to alter and change the Manner and Custom of feeding and depasturing such Common Pastures, so far as instead of Horses, Cows, and other Cattle, to allow the same to be fed and depastured with Sheep, at the Option of each Person respectively having Right of Common; and to limit and stint the Number of Sheep each such Person, having Right of Common in such Common Pastures, shall respectively feed and depasture thereon, in due Proportion to their respective Stints or Rights.

Rams.

XXI. And whereas the Improvement of the Breed of Sheep is a Matter of great national Importance, and the turning of Rams upon Wastes and open Common Fields at certain Times of the Year has been found to be very prejudicial; be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That no Ram shall be turned upon, or be suffered to remain upon, any Wastes or Common Fields, between the Twenty-fifth Day of August and the Twenty-fifth Day of November in every Year.

XXII. And whereas several of the Owners and Proprietors of Wastes, Commons, and Common Field Lands, may, at the Time of any Meeting to be held in pursuance of this Act, be incapable, through various Impediments, of entering into any of the Agreements hereby authorised to be made, for the better ordering, fencing, cultivating, and improving of Common Arable Fields, Wastes, and ‘ Commons of Pasture, in this Kingdom, without the Aid and Authority of Parliament ;’ be it therefore further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful to and for the Husbands, Guardians, Trustees, Committees, or known Agent or Receiver of any Owner and Proprietor of Wastes, Commons, and Common Field Lands, and of any Person having a Right or Interest therein, being under Coverture, Minors, Lunatics, or beyond the Seas, and for every or any of them for the Time being ; and also to and for all and every or any of the said Owners and Occupiers, being Tenants in Tail, Tenants by the Courtesy of England, or Tenants for Life only, and to and for every or any of them respectively for the Time being, to enter into, and sign any Agreement to be made in pursuance of this Act.

VI. And be it further enacted, That all Persons, and Bodies Corporate or Politick, who shall have or claim any Common or other Right to or in any such Lands so to be inclosed, shall deliver or cause to be delivered to such Commissioner or Commissioners, or one of them, at some one of such Meetings as the said Commissioner or Commissioners shall appoint for the Purpose (or within such further Time, if any, as the said Commissioner or Commissioners shall fix some special Reason think proper to allow for that Purpose) an Account or Schedule in Writing, signed by them, or their respective No. 7.

41 G. III. c. 109. Husbands, Guardians, Trustees, Committees, or Agents, of such their respective Rights or Claims, and therein describe the Lands and Grounds, and the respective Messuages, Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, in respect whereof they shall respectively claim to be entitled to any and which of such Rights in and upon the same or any Part thereof, with the Name or Names of the Person or Persons then in the actual Possession thereof, and the particular computed Quantities of the same respectively, and of what Nature and Extent such Right is, and also in what Rights, and for what Estates and Interests they claim the same respectively, distinguishing the Freehold from the Copyhold or Leasehold; or on Non-compliance therewith, every of them making Default therein shall, as far only as respects any Claim so neglected to be delivered, be totally barred and excluded of and from all Right and Title in or upon such Lands so to be divided respectively, and of and from all Benefit and Advantage in or to any Share or Allotment thereof; all which said Claims or Accounts shall, at all seasonable Times until after the Execution of the said Award, be open to the Inspection and Perusal of all Parties interested or claiming to be interested in the Premises, their respective Agents or Attornies, who may take Copies thereof, or Extracts therefrom respectively; and if any Person or Persons, or Body Politick or Corporate interested, or claiming to be interested in the Premises, shall have any Objection to offer to any such Account or Claim, the Particulars of such Objection shall be reduced into Writing, and signed by them or their respective Husbands, Guardians, Trustees, Committees, or Agents, and shall be delivered to the said Commissioner or Commissioners, at or before some other Meeting of such Commissioner or Commissioners, to be by him or them appointed for that Purpose; and no such Objection shall afterwards be received, unless for some legal Disability or special Cause to be allowed by the said Commissioner or Commissioners. (1)

Objections to Claims shall be delivered at or before the Meeting appointed for that Purpose, or shall not be received except for special Cause.

VII. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That Nothing herein contained shall authorise such Commissioner or Commissioners to hear and determine any Difference or Dispute which may arise, touching the Right or Title to any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, but such Commissioner or Commissioners shall assign and set out the several Allotments directed to be made unto the Person or Persons, who, at the Time of the Division and Inclosure, shall have the actual Seisin or Possession of the Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, in Lieu or in Right whereof such Allotment shall be respectively made: Provided also, That no Difference or Suit, touching the Title to any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, shall impede or delay the Commissioner or Commissioners in the Execution of the Commissioners not hereby authorized to determine Disputes touching Title to Lands; but shall assign the Allotments to the Persons in actual Seisin or Possession. Disputes as to Title shall not delay Inclosures.

(1) The Drawing a Claim conformable to this Clause requires a very considerable Portion of technical Accuracy, and I have in Practice known many valuable Rights defeated in consequence of the Informality of the Claim. The Discretion reposed in Commissioners upon this Subject is extremely liable to Abuse, as such Commissioners have, if not generally, at least very frequently, the Feeling of Agents for the Parties by whom they are nominated, and I have actually heard a Commissioner avow, that he considered himself as the Agent of a particular Description of Claimants, and it is obvious, that a Person with such Feelings may be induced to admit or reject the Presentation of further Claims, according to the Interests which he is disposed to espouse. The most suitable Remedy for this Inconvenience would be a general Enactment, that all Objections to Claims should be particularly stated in Writing, and that the Claimant should be at Liberty to amend his Claim in the Particulars objected to.

No. 7. Powers vested in him or them, by Virtue of any such Act; but the Division or Inclosure directed to be made shall be proceeded in, notwithstanding such Difference or Suit.

VIII. And be it further enacted, That such Commissioner or Commissioners shall, and he or they is and are hereby authorized and required, in the first Place, before he or they proceed to make any of the Divisions and Allotments directed in and by any such Act, to set out and appoint the publick Carriage Roads and Highways, through and over the Lands and Grounds intended to be divided, allotted, and inclosed, and to divert, turn, and stop up, any of the Roads and Tracts, upon and over, all, or any Part of the said Lands and Grounds, as he or they shall judge necessary, so as such Roads and Highways shall be, and remain thirty Feet wide at the least, and so as the same shall be set out in such Directions as shall, upon the Whole, appear to him or them most commodious to the Publick, and he or they are hereby further required to ascertain the same by Marks and Bounds, and to prepare a Map in which such intended Road, shall be accurately laid down and described, and to cause the same being signed by such Commissioner, if only one, or the major Part of such Commissioners, to be deposited with the Clerk of the said Commissioner or Commissioners, for the Inspection of all Persons concerned; and as soon as may be after such Carriage Roads shall have been so set out, and such Map so deposited, to give Notice in some Newspaper to be named in such Bill, and also by affixing the same upon the Church Door of the Parish, in which any of the Lands to be inclosed shall lie, of his or their having set out such Roads, and deposited such Map, and also of the general Lines of such intended Carriage Roads, and to appoint in and by the same Notice, a Meeting to be held by the said Commissioner or Commissioners, at some convenient Place, in or near to the Parish or Township within which the said Inclosure is to be made, and not sooner than three Weeks from the Date and Publication of such Notice, at which Meeting it shall and may be lawful for any Person who may be injured or aggrieved by the setting out of such Roads to attend, and if any such Person shall object to the setting out of the same, then such Commissioner or Commissioners, together with any Justice or Justices of Peace, acting in and for the Division of the County in which such Inclosure shall be made, and not being interested in the same, who may attend such Meeting, shall hear and determine such Objection, and the Objections of any other such Person, to any Alteration that the said Commissioner or Commissioners, together with such Justice or Justices, may in Consequence propose to make, and shall, and he or they are hereby required, according to the best of their Judgement upon the Whole, to order and finally direct how such Carriage Roads shall be set out, and either to confirm the said Map, or make such Alterations therein as the Case may require: Provided always, That in Case such Commissioner or Commissioners shall by such Bill be empowered to stop up any old or accustomed Road, passing or leading through any Part of the old Inclosures in such Parish, Township, or Place, the same shall in no Case be done without the Concurrence and Order of two Justices of the Peace, acting in and for such Division, and not interested in the Repair of such Roads, and which Order shall be subject to an Appeal to the Quarter Sessions, in like Manner and under the same Forms and Restrictions as if the same had been originally made by such Justice as aforesaid.

IX. And be it further enacted, That such Carriage Roads so to be set out as aforesaid, shall be well and sufficiently fenced on both Sides, by such of the Owners and Proprietors of the Lands and Grounds intended to be divided, allotted, and inclosed, and with and prepare a Map thereof to be deposited with their Clerk, and give Notice in some Newspaper, at which, if any Person shall object, the Commissioners, with a Justice of the Peace, shall determine.

Carriage Roads shall be fenced on both Sides according to Directions of Commissioners.

such Time as such Commissioner or Commissioners shall, by any Writing under his or their Hands, direct or appoint, and that it shall not be lawful for any Person or Persons to set up or erect any Gate across any such Carriage Road, or to plant any Trees in or near to the Hedges on the Sides thereof, at a less Distance from each other than fifty Yards; and such Commissioner or Commissioners shall, and he or they is and are hereby empowered and required, by Writing under his or their Hands, to nominate and appoint one or more Surveyor or Surveyors, with or without a Salary, for the First forming and completing such Parts of the said Carriage Roads as shall be newly made, and for putting into complete Repair such Part of the same as shall have been previously made; which Salary (if any) and also the Expence of forming, completing, and repairing such Roads respectively, over and above a Proportion of the Statute Duty on the Roads so to be repaired, shall be raised in like Manner as the Charges and Expences of obtaining and passing any such Act, and of carrying the same into Execution, shall be thereby directed to be raised, and shall be paid to such Surveyor or Surveyors on or before the Execution of the Award of such Commissioner or Commissioners: and in Case the same shall be thereby provided to be raised by Sale of any Part of the Lands so to be divided and inclosed, that then such Commissioner or Commissioners shall make a conditional Rate upon the Owners and Proprietors of the same, in Case the Produce of such Sale should prove insufficient for the Purposes aforesaid; and such Surveyor or Surveyors shall, and he or they is and are hereby directed to be in all Respects subject to the Jurisdiction and Control of the Justices of the Peace acting in and for the County in which such Roads shall respectively lie, and shall account to such Justices in like Manner for all Monies so to be by him or them received and expended, and for the Re-payment of any Surplus which may remain in his or their Hands to such Persons as shall have been made liable to contribute thereto, according to the Proportion so as above ascertained by such Commissioner or Commissioners; and such Justices shall have the like Powers of levying any such Rate as may by them be thought necessary for the Purposes aforesaid, according to the Proportions previously ascertained by such Commissioner or Commissioners, as if such Surveyor or Surveyors had been appointed under or by Virtue of the General Highway Act passed in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty; and in Case such Surveyor or Surveyors shall neglect to complete and repair such Roads respectively within the Space of two Years after such Award, unless a further Time, not exceeding one Year, shall for that Purpose be allowed by such Justices, and then within such further Time, he or they shall forfeit the Sum of Twenty Pounds, and the Inhabitants at large of the Parish, Township, or Place wherein such Roads shall be respectively situate, shall be in no wise charged or chargeable towards forming or repairing the said Roads respectively, except such Proportion of such Statute Duty as aforesaid, till such Time as the same shall, by such Justices in their special Sessions, be declared to be fully and sufficiently formed, completed, and repaired, from which Time, and for ever thereafter, the same shall be supported and kept in Repair by such Persons, and in like Manner as the other publick Roads within such Parish, Township, or Place, are by Law to be amended and kept in Repair.

X. And be it further enacted, That such Commissioner or Commissioners shall, and he or they is and are hereby empowered and required to set out and appoint such private Roads, Bridleways, Footways, Ditches, Drains, Watercourses, Watering Places, Quarries, Bridges, Gates, Stiles, Mounds, Fences, Banks, Bounds, and Land

XIII. And whereas the Proprietors and Persons interested in Open Common Fields, Meadows, Pastures, Commons, and Waste Lands, directed to be divided and allotted, whose Allotments thereof will be small, and expensive to inclose, may be desirous of stocking and depasturing their Allotments in common, and of sharing such Produce as may grow thereon, under proper Regulations; be it therefore further enacted, That such Commissioner or Commissioners shall be, and he or they is and are hereby fully authorized and empowered, on Application of the Parties interested at their first or second Meeting for receiving Claims, and on an attentive View and full Consideration of the Premises, to award, order, and direct such Allotments to be laid together and ring-fenced, and to be stocked and depastured in common, and to make such Orders and Regulations for the equitable Enjoyment thereof, and for the Participation of the Produce growing or to grow thereon, as such Commissioner or Commissioners may think beneficial and proper for the said several Parties interested therein.

XXXI. ' And whereas in such Cases as aforesaid, where Provision may be made in any such Act for charging the Expences of passing such Act, or of executing the Powers therein contained, or of fencing the respective Allotments, on the several Proprietors thereof, it may be more convenient for the Feoffees or Trustees of any Charity Lands or School Lands, to have Lands deducted from the respective Allotments to be made for such Charity Lands or School Lands, for paying the proportionable Share in Respect of such Allotments of such Expences respectively, than to raise Money on Mortgage for those Purposes ;' be it therefore further enacted, That it shall be lawful for any such Commissioner or Commissioners, if he or they shall judge it Right or Expedient, to deduct from the respective Allotments to be made to such Feoffees or Trustees as aforesaid, so much Land as shall in the Judgment of such Commissioner or Commissioners be equal in Value to their respective Proportions of the said Expences, and to allot, assign, and award the same to such Person or Persons as such Commissioner or Commissioners shall think proper, and who will undertake to pay and defray, and shall pay and defray, all such Expences.

devised, or appointed, to endure, continue, or abide by any Craft, Colour, Terms, Sentences, Clauses, Words, or other Means, above the Term of Twenty Years next after the first making and beginning of any such Uses, Intents, or Purposes.

Collateral Assurances in defrauding of the Statute shall be void.

IV. And it is further enacted, That if any Person or Persons, in Defraud of this Statute, bind or ordain any their Heirs or Successors, or any other Person or Persons, that they shall suffer such Uses, Intents, and Purposes to endure and continue, contrary to this Act, upon Pains or Penalties of Losses of any other Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or of any other Thing or Things; or do attempt or devise by any Colour, Craft, or Means, any Thing or Things, to make any such Uses, Intents, or Purposes to be declared, contrary to the true Meaning of this Act, to continue or abide for any longer Time or Season than is above limited for the same; that then every such Pain, Penalty, Craft, Colour, and every other Thing and Things, of what Kind, Nature, or Quality soever it be that shall be so made, ordained, or devised in Defraud of this Act, shall be utterly void in the Law to all Intents; and that this Statute shall be always interpreted and expounded, as beneficially as may be, to the Destruction and utter avoiding of such Uses, Intents, and Purposes therein above remembered, and of all other like Uses and Intents, otherwise than only after such Manner as is afore by this present Act provided.

where by their ancient Customs they have good and lawful Authorities to devise into Mortmain the Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, within the same Cities or Towns Corporate, that this Act shall not be in any wise prejudicial or hurtful to any such Custom.

VI. Provided alway, That this Act, ne any Thing therein contained, shall extend, or be in any wise prejudicial, to hinder or impair any such Ordinances, Devices, or Declarations of Uses, as shall hereafter be made and declared in Writing, by the Executors of the Testaments and last Wills of Robert Jannis and John Terry, late Aldermen of the City of Norwich, now deceased, or by the Executors or the Survivor of the Executors of either of them, of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, not amounting in the whole above the clear yearly Value of Forty Pounds, to be imployed and converted to and for the Discharge of Tolls and Customs within the said City, and at the Gates of the same, for the Discharge of the poor People within the same City, of Taxes and Tallages hereafter to be assessed and levied, and for the cleansing of the Streets of the same City, or for any of the said good Purposes, according to the true Intents and Meanings of the said last Wills and Testaments, and either of them; so that the same Ordinances, Devices, and Declarations be had, made, and certified in Writing into the King's Court of Chancery, within Two Years next ensuing the Feast of Easter next coming.

The King may grant Licences to alien, or purchase in Mortmain.

WHEREAS it would be a great Hindrance to Learning, and other good and charitable Works, if Persons well inclined may not be permitted to found Colleges or Schools for Encouragement of Learning, or to augment the Revenues of Colleges or Schools already founded, by granting Lands, Tenements, Rents, or other Hereditaments to such Colleges or Schools, or to grant Lands or other Hereditaments, to other Bodies Politick or incorporated now in being, or hereafter to be incorporated, for other good and publick Uses; be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That it shall and may be lawful to and for the King, our most Gracious Sovereign Lord, and for his Heirs and Successors, when and as often, and in such Cases as his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, shall think fit, to grant to any Person or Persons,

Bodies Politick or Corporate, their Heirs and Successors, Licence to alien in Mortmain, and also to purchase, acquire, take, and hold in Mortmain, in Perpetuity or otherwise, any Lands, Tenements, Rents or Hereditaments whatsoever, of whomsoever the same shall be holden. No. 10.

9 George II. c. 36.—An Act to restrain the Disposition of Lands, whereby the same become unalienable.

WHEREAS Gifts or Alienations of Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, in Mortmain, are prohibited or restrained by Magna Charta, and divers other wholesome Laws, as prejudicial to, and against the common Utility; nevertheless this publick Mischief has of late greatly increased by many large and improvident Alienations or Dispositions made by languishing or dying Persons, or by other Persons, to Uses called Charitable Uses, to take place after their Deaths, to the Dishonour of their lawful Heirs; For Remedy whereof be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That from and after the twenty-fourth Day of June, which shall be in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirty-six, (1) no Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Advowsons, or other Hereditaments, Corporeal or Incorporeal whatsoever, (2) nor any Sum or Sums of Money, Goods, Chattels, Stocks in the publick Funds, Securities for Money, or any other Personal Estate whatsoever, to be laid out or disposed of in the Purchase of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, (3) shall be given, granted, 9 Geo. II. c. 36.

No Manors, Lands, &c. nor Money to be laid out in Lands, to be given for charitable Uses, unless by Deed indented, and executed before 2 Witnesses, 12 Months before the Death of the Donor and inrolled, &c.

(1) The Statute does not extend to Wills previously made, but a Republication of a Will, or a confirmatory Codicil, made after the Statute, renders the Dispositions void.—Willet v. Sandford, 1 Vesey, 178—Attorney-General v. Heartwell, Amb. 451.

(2) The Statute has received a very extensive Construction, with Respect to the Subjects upon which it operates, as being Real Estate, and it is held to comprehend Money due on Mortgages—Attorney-General v. Meyrick, 2 Vesey, 44—even as forming a Part of a general Residue—Pickering v. Lord Stamford, 2 Vesey, jun. 272—(See also White v. Evans, 4 Vesey, 21); Right to lay Mooring Chains in the Thames—Negus v. Coulter, Amb. 367; Sum secured by Mortgage of Turnpike Tolls—Knapp v. Williams, 4 Vesey, 130; or by the Bonds of the Commissioners of a Turnpike—Howse v. Chapman, 4 Vesey, 542; so Money secured by an Assignment of County Rates, under a special Act of Parliament—Finch v. Squire, 10 Vesey, 41. Although the Statute contains no express Words prohibiting a Bequest of Money, to be produced by the Sale of Land for Charitable Purposes, it is settled by Construction, that such a Bequest is within the Spirit and Meaning of the Law.—Per Sir Wm. Grant Curtis v. Hutton, 14 Vesey, 557.

(3) The Prohibition, as to Money to be laid out in Lands, extends to a Disposition to pay off the Mortgage on a Chapel—Corbyn v. French, 4 Vesey, 118; or to enable Trustees to complete a Purchase of Land, ibid. arg. In Widmore v. Woodroffe, Amb. 636, 1 Bro. Ch. 13, a Devise to the Corporation of Queen Anne's Bounty, was held void, because the Corporation are bound by their Rules, confirmed by the King under the Great Seal, to lay out their Funds in the Purchase of Lands. It was urged, that a Power was reserved to the Crown to make new Rules, and the Point was suggested, whether, if such a Law were to be made, it would not extend to the Case; but by the Lord Chancellor, (Lord Camden,) the Rules are of force till they are altered, and were in Force at the Death of the Testator, when the Legacy was to take Place—and upon the Authority of this Case, a Disposition to the Society for increasing Clergyman's Livings in England or Wales was held void, as no other Society was deemed to meet the Description in the Will.—Middleton v. Clitheroe, 3 Vesey, 734. But now, by Statute 43 Geo. III. c. 107, ante Part 1, Class 2, No. 29, Devises of Land to the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty, are expressly allowed.

A Bequest of £300, to be laid out in the Purchase of Lands, or on some real Security, is void.—Attorney-General v. Bowles, 3 Atk. 806.

Where Money was given to be laid out in erecting a School, Lord Hardwicke intimated, that if any other Person would give a Piece of Land, the Money might be so applied, S. C. but the contrary Doctrine is now completely settled—and in the Attorney-General v. Nash, 3 Bro. Ch. 588, it was held, that a Bequest to build a House for a Schoolmaster was void, although the Trustees purchased Lands with their own Money, which they offered to give to the Charity. So a Bequest to erect and build a Hospital is void.—Attorney-General v. Heartwell, Amb. 451. So Vaughan v. Farrar, 2 Vesey, 182. A Bequest for the Purpose of erecting a free School void, although there was a Piece of vacant Land in Mortmain within the Parish, on which Part of a School-House stood, the Will not pointing at those Premises.—Attorney-General v. Hyde—Vide Case of Royston Free-School, Amb. 751, 1 Bro. Ch. 444. Note.

A Bequest to build a new Parsonage-House is good—Ghibb v. Attorney-General, Amb. 373—and it is evident, from all the Cases, that a Disposition for Building upon or improving Land, already in Mortmain, is valid.—See the several Cases cited in the Attorney-General v. Parsons, 3 Vesey, 186.

Where there is a Discretion to invest Money in Land—or in a Manner not prohibited—as in Personalty (or in Land in Scotland, which is excepted in Sec. 6,) it seems to be agreed, that the Disposition is good, and in that Case the Trustees may exercise their Discretion, by investing the Money in Land.—Vi. Vaughan v. Farrar, 2 Vesey, 182—Grimmett v. Grimmett, Amb. 210—Soresby v. Hollins, and Grayson v. Atkinson, cited ibid—Curtis v. Hulton, 14 Vesey, 537. The Case of Grimmett v. Grimmett is a strong Case of Construction in Support of such Discretion. But where the Interest of £120 was to be paid to the Poor, and the Money was to be laid out in Land, as soon as the Trustees could meet with a Purchase, it was held, that the Direction to invest in Land was imperative, and the Disposition therefore void.—Englishe v. Orde, Highmore on Mortmain, 82—See also Grieves v. Case, 4 Bro. 67. A Disposition to purchase Land for a Charity, “and in Case the Charity could not by Law take Place according to her Directions, to lay out the Money in such charitable Uses as near to her Intentions as could be, and the Laws would be—ruled to be fraudulent and void.—Attorney-General v. Tyndall, Amb. 614.

Where a Disposition of Land for charitable Purposes is void by the Statute, a personal Fund attached to it is void also—as a Gift of Houses, as Alms-Houses, for certain poor objects, and an annual Sum to each House.—Attorney-General v. Goulding, 2 Bro. Ch. 428, confirmed under Circumstances similar in Effect, Attorney-General v. Whitechurch, 3 Vesey, 141. So a Bequest of a Residue to purchase or build a Chapel, where the Executors might think it most wanted, and any Overplus to go to the Support of a Minister, not exceeding £20 a Year, and any further Overplus to such charitable Purposes as the Executors might think proper—the purchasing or building a Chapel, (which, according to the Cases above cited, could not be supported,) being the primary Object, the whole was void. See also, to the soever; (4) unless such Gift, Conveyance, Appointment, or Settlement of any such Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, Sum or Sums of Money, or Personal Estate (other than Stocks in the publick Funds), be and be made by Deed indented, sealed, and delivered in the Presence of two or more credible Witnesses, twelve Calendar Months at least before the Death of such Donor or Grantor (including the Days of the Execution and Death), and be inrolled in his Majesty's High Court of Chancery, within six Calendar Months next after the Execution thereof; and unless such Stocks be transferred in the publick Books usually kept for the Transfer of Stocks, six Calendar Months at least before the Death of such Donor or Grantor (including same Effect, Attorney-General v. Davies, 9 Vesey, 535. As to the Case of the Object of building a Chapel being left vague in Respect of the requisite Amount.—Chapman v. Brown, 6 Vesey, 404.

But a Disposition may be partly good and partly void when the Purposes are distinguishable—as where a Person, having founded Alms-Houses by a valid Deed, bequeathed a Sum of Money in Trust, to apply the Surplus Interest in rebuilding, repairing, altering, adding to or improving the Messuages or Tenements, Ground and Appurtenances before conveyed, the Disposition was declared valid, so far as the Money was to be applied in rebuilding, repairing, altering, or improving the Premises, and so far as the Additions should be made upon the Land before conveyed—but bad so far as any Addition should be made, by acquiring other Land.—Attorney-General v. Parsons, 8 Vesey, 186, Note. The discretionary Power of the Trustees seems not to have been adverted to. Where a Testatrix gave a House upon Trust, to deposit in it the Books thereafter given and purchased—and gave to Trustees all the religious Books which she might leave at her Death, and her personal Estate upon Trust, to apply the Residue of her Estate for the Use of the Welch Circulating Schools—and for the Increase and Improvement of Christian Knowledge, and promoting Religion as the Trustees should think proper—and to purchase new Bibles, &c. for such pious Uses as were intended concerning those already bought—and, in the mean Time, to deposit the said Bibles, &c. in the said House. The Disposition as to the personal Estate was sustained, the Lord Chancellor being of Opinion that the Charity was not so engrafted into, connected with, and placed upon an Establishment in real Property, that the Charity could not subsist, as the real Estate was so given—that the House was meant to be subservient to the Distribution of Books, but not necessarily connected with that Purpose.—Attorney-General v. Stepney, 10 Vesey, 22.

(4) In Durour v. Motteux, 1 Vesey, 320, a Testator devised £1200, or thereabouts, to be laid out in the Purchase of Land for certain charitable Uses confessedly void—the Remainder of the Lands to pay an Annuity of £10 to a Minister, to preach a Sermon to his Memory, and keep his Tomb-stone in Repair, and certain annual Sums to the Clerk and Sexton, and the Corporation of St. Albans, for keeping the Accounts. The whole was adjudged to be void. The Annuity to the Minister was a charitable Use which was not prevented by the Addition of the Sermon—so were the Annuities—and the rest was not only a vain Concomitant of the charitable Bequest, but a Circumstance attending the general Execution thereof; and if that Construction were not made, it might elude the Act of Parliament, for the Reward for doing those Offices might be as great as the Testator pleased; so the Gift to the Corporation was a Reward for their Service, and but a Circumstance attending the charitable Bequest; and though the keeping the Accounts was not void, yet if the Charity on which it was to attend was void, it must be so too. A Disposition to bring Water from A. to B. for the Use of the Inhabitants of a Town, is a Charity and void.—Jones v. Williams, Ambler, 651. So of Money from Land to be appropriated to the Improvement of a Town—House v. Chapman, 4 Vesey, 542; for the Purpose of establishing a Botanical Garden, the Testator declaring that he thought it would be a public Benefit.—Townley v. Bedwell, 6 Vesey, 194.

In Doe dem Philips v. Aldridge, 4 T. R. 264, Land was devised to Aldridge upon Trust, that he should convey the same to take place after his Decease for the Support of preaching the Word of God at the Meeting-house

No. 11. the Days of the Transfer and Death), and unless the same be made to take Effect in Possession for the charitable Use intended, immediately from the making thereof, and be without any Power of Revocation, Reservation, (5) Trust, Condition, Limitation, Clause, or Agreement whatsoever, for the Benefit of the Donor or Grantor, or of any Person or Persons claiming under him.

11. Provided always, That nothing herein before mentioned relating to the sealing and delivering of any Deed or Deeds, twelve Calendar Months at least before the Death of the Grantor, or to the Transfer of any Stock six Calendar Months before the Death of the

at L—, and expressing that the Testator expected he would settle and forward every Thing to promote and carry on the Work of God at L—, both in his Lifetime and after his Decease, and it was held, that though the subsequent Limitation was void the Defendant's Life Estate was clearly good.

[There can be little Doubt, that if no Objection had existed to the Legality of the Devise, the Expression of the Expectation would have been deemed Imperative;—for which see several Cases cited in a Note to the Report; and in the Case next mentioned, Lord Commissioner Ashurst observed, that perhaps it was not so much looked into as it might have been. It appears also to have been decided in the Absence of Ashurst and Buller J. and with that kind of Hurry which is always to be regretted in the Administration of Justice.]

But in Grievs v. Case, 4 Bro. Ch. 67, 1 Vesey, Jun. 548, upon a Devise of Money to be laid out in Lands for Mendham for Life; afterwards as to Part for Eastaugh for Life; and as to the Remainder to the Preacher of a certain Chapel for the Time being, he and E. exchanging the Duty; and after the Decease of both, to the Preacher or Preachers at the Chapel, with a Provision that if Mendham or Eastaugh should withdraw preaching at the Chapel, to go to the Preachers appointed in their Room, the Whole was determined to be void. And per Lord Commissioner Eyre, "It was argued that there was a Personal Bounty intended for M. and E. I agree that there was; but it is equally apparent, that it flowed from a Confidence in them in the Character of Ministers, and not in any other Way. Then it comes to the Question, whether if a Plain Trust and Disposition to a charitable Use is manifested by the Will, and intended throughout, but if that Disposition is also manifested with a certain Degree of Personal Bounty and Favour to particular Objects that will take the Case out of the Statute: but I am of Opinion, that if the Personal Bounty cannot be separated from the general Object, in Respect of which they are to have that Preference, it is not sufficient.

Upon a Devise to Trustees to take a House as a School, and that the Children and Grand Children of certain Relations of the Testator should be educated there, and then placed out as Apprentices; and that such other Boys and Girls should be placed there as the Trustees should think fit the Disposition was held good so far as regarded the particular Relations coming in Esse within the Time allowed by Law; and void so far as it went to establish a Charity for General Purposes;—the Lord Chancellor declared he did not mean to prevent the Trustees from taking other Children as long as the School was to be kept open for the Children and Grand Children, Blandford v. Thackerell, 2 Vesey, Jun. 238. 4 Bro. Ch. 394; but see White v. White, 7 Vesey 483. Attorney General v. Price, 17 Vesey, 271. Isaac v. De Friez, note, ibid. in which Dispositions to poor Relations were sustained as general Charities.

In Curtis v. Hulton, 14 Vesey, 537, it was contended, that a Disposition of Land for charitable Purposes in Scotland or elsewhere out of England was good, but ruled contra.

(5) A Conveyance of Land subject to a perpetual Rent Charge to the Grantor for charitable Purposes, is apparently void, although the Rent Charge is intended as a full Equivalent, without any Purpose of Bounty on the Part of the Grantor. On this Account it was thought necessary under the Sanction of several Opinions of the first Eminence, to obtain an Act of Parliament to confirm the Title of the Manchester Infirmary. The Practice is to make a Grant or Demise in general Terms; and for the Grantees to make a subsequent Conveyance or Declaration of Trust.

Grantor or Person making such Transfer, shall extend, or be construed to extend, to any Purchase of any Estate or Interest in Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or any Transfer of any Stock, to be made really and bona fide for a full and valuable Consideration actually paid at or before the making such Conveyance or Transfer without Fraud or Collusion. (6) No. 11.
9 Geo. II. c. 36.

III. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That all Gifts, Grants, Conveyances, Appointments, Assurances, Transfers, and Settlements whatsoever, of any Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, or of any Estate or Interest therein, or of any Charge or Incumbrance affecting or to affect any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or of any Stock, Money, Goods, Chattels, or other Personal Estate, or Securities for Money to be laid out or disposed of in the Purchase of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or of any Estate or Interest therein, or of any Charge or Incumbrance affecting or to affect the same, to or in Trust for any charitable Uses whatsoever, which shall at any Time from and after the said Twenty-fourth Day of June One Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirty-six, be made in any other Manner or Form than by this Act is directed and appointed, shall be absolutely, and to all Intents and Purposes null and void. (7) Gifts, &c. made
absolutely void.

(6) A Contract for Sale of Land to a Charity upon which the Purchase Money was not paid in the Life of the Seller, not carried into Effect after his Death against his Heir at the Instance of the Charity and personal Representatives.—Attorney General v. Day, 1 Ves. 218.

(7) A Devisee in general Terms may be compelled to answer whether the Devise was made upon a secret Trust or Promise to apply the Property to charitable Uses; in which Case the Statute attaches. See Strickland v. Aldridge, 9 Vesey, 516, and the Authorities there cited; but if there is a Will in itself valid, and a subsequent unattested Paper not communicated to the Devisee, indicating the Purpose of the Testator to devote the Land to charitable Purposes, the Devisee may object that the Estate was devised by a Will well executed; and that the subsequent Paper was not well executed. See Adlington v. Cann, 3 Atk. 141.

It is settled that a Court of Equity will not marshal Assets so as to give a charitable Legacy a Preference in the Application of the personal Estates, and throw a greater Burthen on the Real Estate in Respect of Debts and other Legacies. Makham v. Hooper, 4 Bro. Ch. 153, and the several Cases there cited. As to the Manner of apportioning the respective Funds, see the Attorney General v. the Earl of Winchelsea, 3 Bro. Ch. 373. Howse v. Chapman, 4 Vesey, 542. Paice v. Archbishop of Cant. 14 Ves. 364.

In Arnold v. Chapman, 1 Vesey, 108. upon a Devise to J. S. he paying the Testator's Executors £1000, and the Residue of the Personal Estate to a Charity, it was ruled that the Legacy was intended as Part of the charitable Fund, and being void, enured for the Benefit of the Heir at Law. Grosvenor v. Hallam, cited 1 Bro. Ch. 61. Devise subject to a Rent upon Trust to sell and pay the Money as directed, the Rent being for charitable Purposes, belongs to the Heir at Law, and not to the Legatee of the Money. See this Case, Ambler 643.

In Jackson v. Hurlock, Ambler 487, upon a Devise to S. M. subject to charitable Legacies, ruled that the Legacies sunk for the Benefit of the Devisee. So Wright v. Row, 1 Bro. Ch. 61. A void charitable Legacy of Personalty or Real Estate, converted out and out into Personalty, falls into the general Residue. Durour v. Motteux, 1 Ves. 321. So in Case of a Bequest of Leasehold Premises. Stanley v. Barker, 4 Vesey, 732, but upon Trust to sell and pay the Purchase Money, or a particular Part thereof, to a Charity, the Heir is entitled to the Amount given to the Charity. See Ackroyd v. Smithson, 1 Bro. Ch. 503. Gibbs v. Ramsey, 2 V. and B. 294. As to Funds provided for Charity Legacies being applied to make good a Deficiency of Assets for other Legacies. See Currie v. Pic, 17 Vesey, 462.

Provided nevertheless, and be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That no such College or House of Learning, which doth or shall hold or enjoy so many Advowsons of Ecclesiastical Benefices as are or shall be equal in Number to one Moiety of the Fellows or Persons usually stiled or reputed as Fellows, or, where there are or shall be no Fellows or Persons usually stiled or reputed as Fellows, to one Moiety of the Students upon the Foundation, whereof any such College or House of Learning doth or may by the present Constitution of such College or House of Learning consist, shall, from and after the Twenty-fourth Day of June, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirty-six, be capable of purchasing, acquiring, receiving, taking, holding, or enjoying any other Advowsons of Ecclesiastical Benefices by any Means whatsoever; the Advowsons of such Ecclesiastical Benefices as are annexed to, or given for, the Benefit or better Support of the Headships of any of the said Colleges or Houses of Learning, not being computed in the Number of Advowsons hereby limited. VI. Provided always, That nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to the Disposition, Grant, or Settlement of any Estate, Real or Personal, lying or being within that Part of Great Britain called Scotland. (10)

(8) In the Case of Christ's College, Cambridge, 1 Bl. 90, it was ruled that a Devise to certain Officers of the College to maintain certain Students there, and for other charitable Purposes, was good, as relating to the Students of the College; but void so far as the College were appointed Trustees for other charitable Purposes. By Stat. 51 Geo. III. c. 105, Dispositions in Favour of the Royal Naval Assylum are excepted out of this Act. There is also an Exception by Stat. 12 Geo. II. c. 31. in Favour of Bath Hospital; and probably there may be other Instances of a similar Nature.

In Middleton v. Cater, 4 Bro. Ch. 409, it seems to be taken for granted, that a Custom for the Freemen of London to devise in Mortmain would be good, notwithstanding the Statute; but it was decided that the Custom extends only to Land in London.

(9) Ruled that a Devise of Land to University College to buy Livings was good, although they had already the limited Number, as the Devise might be performed by the Exchange of Advowsons. Attorney General v. Green, 2 Bro. Ch. 492. This Section is repealed by 45 Geo. III. c. 101. See the next Number.

(10) Devise of Money to be laid out in Land in Scotland for charitable Purposes, good. Oliphant v. Hendrie, 1 Bro. Ch. 571. Mackintosh v. Townsend 16 Vesey, 330.

Note to the Statutes on Fraudulent Conveyances.

Introduction.

§ 1. The Statutes 15 and 27 Eliz. have been fully commented upon by Mr. Roberts, in an express Treatise respecting them, of which the Editor has fully availed himself, in the View which is taken of the Subject in the present Note, although very materially differing from that Gentleman in many of his Ideas upon the Subject.

The Statutes in Question, so far as they relate to actual, intentional Fraud, may perhaps be considered as little more than declaratory of the Common Law, but their Operation extends to several Cases in which Dispositions, unobjectionable in themselves, are rendered invalid in Consequence of the Prejudice which third Persons might receive by allowing their Validity : and the Term Fraudulent, as used in the Statutes, and in the Cases which have been decided upon their Construction, is in general intended to denote no more than an Invalidity in certain Dispositions, arising from the Insufficiency of their Consideration, or from other incidental Circumstances, in Consequence of which they are not allowed to operate in Prejudice of other Interests, which the Statutes were particularly intended to protect, and not to express the Immorality of Intention, which is understood in the more general and popular Signification of the Expression. The Kind of Fraud, which is the Object of the Statutes, may therefore, in Respect to the original Disposition, be commonly expressed by the Term Voluntary, which, although not used in the Statutes, is of general Occurrence in the Cases that have been decided respecting their Operation.

The Statute 13 Eliz. is chiefly for the Protection of Creditors, whose Claims do not immediately regard the particular Property, which is the Subject of the Disposition impeached as invalid, but who have a general Right to obtain Satisfaction by Means of such Property, in Respect of the personal Obligations of the Party making the Disposition.

The Statute 27 Eliz. is for the Protection of Purchasers, whose Rights have a direct and immediate Relation to the specific Subject disposed of or affected by the previous Disposition impeached as deficient in legal Validity—and the Relief afforded by this Statute is, in some Cases, more extensive than that which results from the preceding one.

§ 2. In the following View of the Subject, I shall first endeavour to trace the Operation of the Statutes as they affect real Estates, or real and personal Estates equally, reserving the Consideration of the Law peculiarly affecting the Disposition of personal Property for a distinct and subsequent Examination. In this Distribution, real Estates are adverted to generally, as comprising all Rights in Land, although constituting personal Property only, in Respect of the Degree of Interest—the substantial Distinction between the respective Kinds of Property, as connected with the present Discussion, being, that all Interests in real Estates, although only amounting to Chattels in Regard to Property, are regulated by actual Title, whereas the Operation of the Law, upon mere personal or moveable Property, is more particularly determined by the apparent and ostensible Possession.

Division of the Subject.

The Invalidity of the Dispositions affected by the Statutes relates, either I. To the Interests intended to be protected, comprising, 1st, Creditors and others, who are entitled to the Benefit of the Statute 13 Eliz.—2d, Purchasers who are protected by 27 Eliz. ; or, II. To the Nature and Character of Dispositions which are impeached as fraudulent; on Account of their being deficient in the Qualities that are requisite for their Support, in Opposition to the respective Interests which are the Object of Protection—and which will be designated by the Term of Voluntary Settlements, reserving (otherwise than incidentally) to a future Period, the Consideration of the Circumstances to which that Term may be properly applied.

§ 3. I. It is perfectly evident that a voluntary Settlement is void so far as it affects the Rights of Creditors existing as such at the Time of making it.—With Respect to subsequent Creditors, the Validity of the Settlement depends upon the Fact of the Party being indebted at the Time. In Lord Townsend v. Wyndham, 2 Vesey, 1. 10. Lord Hardwicke said, “ there is no Case where a Person indebted makes a Conveyance for the Benefit of a Child without valuable Consideration, and dying indebted afterwards, that that shall take Place ; but it shall be considered as a Part of his Estate for the Benefit of his Creditors ;” and in Stephen v. Clive, 2 Bro. Ch. 90. Lord Kenyon, as Master of the Rolls, relying principally upon the above Observations of Lord Hardwicke, held, 1. That a Settlement after Marriage in Favour of a Wife and Children, by a Person not indebted at the Time, was good against subsequent Creditors, and not within the 13 Eliz. ; and, 2. That although the Settler was indebted, yet if the Debt were secured by a Mortgage, the Settlement was good. In Lush v. Wilkinson, 5 Ves. 384, a subsequent Creditor charged Insolvency, which was denied; the Defendant (the Wife) went into Evidence to shew that her Husband had been in good Circumstances. No Evidence was produced by the Plaintiff;—and an Account and Enquiry being asked on his Behalf, the Master of the Rolls (Lord Alvanley) said, “You appear as a subsequent Creditor, and desire an Account in order to invalidate this Settlement, by proving prior Debts. I have a great Doubt whether you have a Right to come without proving any one antecedent Debt. A single Debt will not do. Every man must be indebted for the common Bills of his House, though he pays them every Week.—It must depend upon this, whether he was in insolvent Circumstances at the Time —” The Bill was dismissed with Costs, with Liberty to file another Bill.—See also to the same Effect, Russell v. Hammond, 1 Atk. 13. Walker v. Burrows, 1 Atk. 93. (decided upon the more extended Construction of St. 21 Ja. I. with Respect to Bankruptcy) Middlecome v. Marlow, 2 Atk. 520.

Of Settlements void or otherwise, as against Creditors.

In the before-mentioned Case of Lord Townsend v. Wyndham, Lord Hardwicke (after adverting to the Difference between Statute 27 Eliz. as to subsequent Purchasers, and 13 Eliz. as to subsequent Creditors) said, “If there is a voluntary Conveyance by one not indebted at the Time, though he afterwards becomes indebted, if that voluntary Conveyance was for a Child, and no particular Evidence or Badge of Fraud to deceive or defraud subsequent Creditors, that will be good; but if any Mark of Fraud, Collusion, or Intent to deceive subsequent Creditors appears, that will make it void, otherwise not, but it will stand, though afterwards he becomes indebted.”

In Stileman v. Ashdown, 2 Atk. 477, Lord Hardwicke decreed Satisfaction to Creditors from Estates purchased by the Father in the joint Names of himself and his Son;—the Father having had Possession of the whole Estate, and appeared as visible Owner. His Lordship said, “It is not necessary that a Man should actually be indebted at the Time he enters into a voluntary Settlement to make it fraudulent; for if a Man does it with a View to being indebted at a future Time, that is equally fraudulent, and ought to be set aside. See Fitzer v. Fitzer, 2 Atk. 511, in which a Settlement made upon a Separation between Husband and Wife was postponed to the Claim of a Creditor having an Assignment under an Insolvent Act, without any Reference to the Time when the Debt was contracted, or the Situation of the Husband at that Time.

In Montague v. Lord Sandwich, cited in Kidney v. Coussmaker, 12 Vesey, 155, it was held by Lord Loughborough, that a Settlement is fraudulent only against such Creditors as were Creditors at the Time: and Sir William Grant referring to that Case, says, that though there has been much Controversy, and a Variety of Decisions upon the Question, whether such a Settlement is fraudulent as to any Creditors except such as were Creditors at the Time,—he was disposed to follow the latest Decision—that of Montague and Lord Sandwich. Mr. Vesey states in a Note, that though the Settlement can be affected as fraudulent only as against Creditors at the Time it is made, the Consequence, if it can be so affected, is, that the Subject is thrown into Assets, and all subsequent Creditors are let in; and states that it was so clearly held in Montague and Lord Sandwich.

In Hungerford v. Earle, 2 Vern. 216, the Question as to the Validity of a Settlement against subsequent Creditors, was ordered by the Court of Chancery to be tried at Law. See vide White v. Hussey and Others, Prec. in Cha. 14, where all the Lords Commissioners were of Opinion they might decree a Conveyance to be fraudulent without a Trial at Law.

In Russell v. Hammond, (before cited on another Point) 1 Atk. 13, the Father, upon Settlement in Favour of his Son, took back an Annuity to himself and his Wife, which Lord Hardwicke said was a plain Badge of Fraud, as the Annuity was probably the full Value of the Estate comprised in the Deed, and therefore gave the Son nothing, which was almost tantamount to a Continuance in Possession, and had always been deemed a strong Circumstance of Fraud.

[The Editor of Atkyns observes, that the Settlement last mentioned does not appear in the Register's Book, where the Case is stated but very shortly: and it is very difficult to conceive it possible, that Lord Hardwicke should have made such a Determination; for the Circumstance of the Father receiving back an Annuity, was so far from giving Strength to the Position of the Transaction being fraudulent, as voluntary, that it converts it into a Matter of mere Contract, to say, that because the Father gave the Son nothing, that is, because the Son gave a full Equivalent, the Son should be deprived of the Right, of which, in Respect of that Equivalent, he became a Purchaser, seems to be as plain a Perversion of Justice, as any that can be well imagined. The greater the Annuity, in Proportion to the Value of the Estate, the less fraudulent is the Aspect of the Transaction;—and even in Cases of ordinary Bargain between Strangers, it is not uncommon to sell an Estate in Consideration of a Life Annuity, which in the Nature of Things, will be of greater Amount than the annual Value of the Estate.]—See Taylor v. Jones, 3 Atk. 600, in which the Master of the Rolls held a Settlement of Stock limiting a Life Estate to the Husband void against Creditors, without examining how far the Party was indebted at the Time. He said he had always a great Compassion for Wife and Children; yet, on the other Side, it was possible, that if Creditors should not have their Debts, their Wives and Children might be reduced to Want. The Observation is certainly true; but as Voluntary Settlements are often supported against Creditors, some other Reasons were requisite to render it very material. As to the Power assumed in this Case, over Stock, vi. Dundas v. Dulens, 1 Ves. Jun. 196.—Rider v. Kidder, 10 Ves. 360.

A Person, on whose Behalf a Covenant is entered into, which is contingent at the Time of making the Disposition impeached, as a Wife claiming under Covenant to make a Provision in Case of her surviving, seems to be a sufficient Creditor within the Statute 13 Eliz.—Rider v. Kidder, 10 Ves. 360.

A Creditor, to impeach a Settlement in Equity for Fraud, must get Judgment for his Debt.—Colman v. Croker, 1 Ves. Jun. 160. But this Rule apparently does not apply to a Bill for the Administration of the Assets of a Party deceased.

The general Effect of Marriage Settlements will be more particularly examined in the subsequent Part of this Note, as applicable to Purchasers.—In Campion v. Cotton, 17 Ves. 268, it is decided at the Rolls, that the Validity of a Settlement previous to Marriage, is not affected by the Husband being indebted at the Time, and the Wife knowing it. In that Case it was stated by the Counsel for the Defendant, that no Decision was to be found in which a Settlement previous to and in Contemplation of Marriage, had been considered as void against Creditors; but it was admitted, that a Case shewing enough for that Purpose, might exist, as if the Wife was clearly a Party, and the Marriage a more secure Mode of defrauding the Creditors. By the same Case it appears, that Money expended in improving the Wife's Estate, redeeming Land Tax, enfranchising Copyhold, &c. cannot be followed by Creditors.

It is a settled Rule, that if a Person, having a general Power of Appointment, makes a voluntary Appointment in Pursuance of such Power, it will except as against a bona fide Purchaser from the Appointee inure, in Favour of Creditors, although the Non-execution of the Power cannot be supplied, &c.—Holmes v. Coghill, 7 Ves. 499, 12 Ves. 206.—George v. Milbanke, 9 Vesey, 190, and the several Cases cited upon this Subject, Powell on Powers, 264.—The Doctrine certainly is a very extraordinary one, as the Principle of the Statutes against fraudulent Conveyances was to prevent the doing such Acts as would militate against the Interests which third Persons would have had in the Subject of the Acts if they had not been done.

A Conveyance not fraudulent within the Statute 13 Eliz. may be void in Case of Bankruptcy by the Operation of Stat. 21 Jac. I. c. 15, as to which see Walker v. Burrows, 1 Atk. 93, above referred to.

§ 4. II. The Construction of the Statute 27 Eliz. has always been very extensive in Favour of Purchasers, and it is settled by a Series of Authorities, that a voluntary Conveyance is void against a subsequent Purchaser, even with Notice—and although there are some Cases which seem to favour the opposite Opinion, the Doctrine may be considered as conclusively established by the Case of Doe on the Demise of Otley v. Manning, 9 East. 59, in which, upon a very full and elaborate View of the Subject, the Court declared, that they felt themselves bound, by the Weight of Authorities, to give Judgment according to the Settlement. The following Observations are in the concluding Part of Lord Ellenborough's Judgment, "Much Property has no Doubt been purchased, and many Conveyances settled, upon the Ground of its having been so repeatedly held, that a voluntary Conveyance is fraudulent, as such, within the Statute of 27 Eliz.—and it is no new Thing for the Court to hold itself concluded, in Matters respecting real Property, by former Decisions, upon Questions in Respect of which, if it were res integra, they probably would have come to very different Conclusions. And if the adhering to such Determinations is likely to be attended with Inconvenience, it is a Matter fit to be remedied by the Legislature, which is able to prevent the Mischief in future, and to obviate all the inconvenient Consequences which are likely to result from it, as to Purchases already made. And we cannot but say, as at present advised, and considering the Construction put on the Statute, that it would have been better if the Statute had avoided Conveyances only against Purchasers for valuable Consideration, without Notice of the prior Conveyance.”

Of Settlements void or otherwise against Purchasers.

Voluntary Settlements void as against Purchasers, even with Notice.

The Importance and Justice of the preceding Observations, as to the Necessity of adhering to previous Authorities in Matters respecting real Property, on Account of the injurious and retrospective Consequences which would arise from disturbing them, are very manifest—but I have often taken the Opportunity of expressing my Wish, that the implicit Acquiescence in Authority had been confined to such Cases as these, and to Matters of mere technical Reasoning, in which a Decision of the Question, one Way or the other, is indifferent in its general Consequences; and that the Courts would feel themselves more at Liberty than they do in departing from mere Authority upon Questions of Evidence, of Practice, of personal Contract and Obligation; or Cases where the Adherence to such Authority is confessedly repugnant to the real Purpose of Justice, and no material Inconvenience could arise from the judicial Correction of it; admitting, at all Times, the Caution with which this Principle ought to be adopted—the Presumption in Favour of the subsisting Doctrine—the Inconveniences which even in these Cases may result from the Alteration—and the manifest and evident Utility which alone ought to be deemed sufficient to authorize the Deviation.

With Respect to the particular Subject, there is a Difference of Opinion as to whether the Rule at present established by Authority is not that which, independently of Authority, is most conformable to Justice and the true Intention of the Statute, and a very great Portion of Mr. Roberts' Treatise is employed in maintaining that it is so. I cannot, however, but entertain a very strong and decided Preference in Favour of the opposite Opinion. The Object of the Statutes is evidently to prevent Fraud and Imposition—it is equally clear, that in the Case in Question, no Fraud, no Imposition would be practised by supporting the preceding Conveyance, which is confessedly valid against the Party making it, and those claiming under him by gratuitous Title; and which Conveyance, although not founded upon those Considerations which are regarded as valuable in Point of legal Construction, may be occasioned by very meritorious Inducements. It is said, that the subsequent Conveyance attaches a fraudulent Intention to the first, and therefore is sufficient to invalidate it; whereas it will be quite impossible to bring the Case to any more than, that a Person who has made an actual Donation repents of his having done so and wishes to resume it, but not being enabled to effectuate his Purpose directly, is empowered to effectuate it circuitously, by procuring the Co-operation of a third Person, who, with perfect Knowledge of the facts, agrees to give him a full equivalent, and while the Settler is unable to retract, for his own Use, the immediate Subject of the Disposition, he is assisted by the Law in doing that which is beneficial to himself, and equally injurious in disappointing the Object of his former Bounty.

Of void or valid Settlements in respect of the Considerations.

Settlements before Marriage. or in Pursuance of previous Agreements.

§ 5. Of the Considerations which are sufficient to support a Settlement against the Claims of Creditors, or subsequent Purchasers, the first is Marriage, and it is a settled Principle, that any Settlement made previous to Marriage, or after Marriage, in Pursuance of a written Contract before, is valid; and can only be impeached on the Ground of Deceit and actual Fraud, of which, as stated in Campion v. Cotton, 17 Ves. 268, referred to in the preceding Part of this Note, no Instance has occurred by which any Settlement has been in Fact defeated.

Whether a Settlement after Marriage, in Pursuance of a parol Promise before, and proved only by the subsequent Acknowledgement of the Party, is of equal Efficacy, is a Question which does not appear to be conclusively settled.

In Griffin v. Stanhope, Cro. Jac. 454, the Husband having before Marriage promised to assure to the Wife a Jointure of £1000, and having after Marriage demised Lands to Trustees for 100 Years, if the Wife should so long live, in Trust for her—with an Indorsement declaring that the same should be void upon settling a Jointure according to the first Agreement—it was ruled, that the Lease being made in Pursuance of the first Promise, although there was not any Mention of any Lease to be made, yet it was grounded upon a good Consideration and not fraudulent. In Lavender v. Blackstone, 2 Lav. 146, a Settlement was, under the particular Circumstances, adjudged to be fraudulent—and upon this Point it was said, that although it was proved that upon the Marriage the Husband promised to settle his Estate, when he came to twenty-one, upon himself and his Issue, (which which was agreed to be a sufficient Consideration to avoid Fraud, although Infants are not bound by Law to perform such Promises,) yet the Settlement not having been made until three or four Years after he came of Age, and not being directly according to the Promise, should not be presumed to have been made in Performance of the Promise without direct Proof thereof.

The Provision of the Statute of Frauds, 29 Ch. 2, c. 3, § 3, is, that no Action shall be brought to charge any Person upon any Agreement made in Consideration of Marriage, unless there be a Note in Writing signed by the Party—but it would seem, that the Execution of such an Agreement, in Pursuance of the moral Obligation arising from it, would be as valid in Respect to its incidental Consequences, as the Execution of the Promise referred to in the preceding Case. In the Countess of Montague v. Maxwell, 1 Str. 235, a Bill was sustained to compel a Settlement pursuant to a verbal Promise before Marriage, supported by a Letter after. The Decree was on the Ground of Fraud, but the Lord Chancellor said, “A parol Promise on Marriage is sufficient Consideration to support a Settlement made agreeably to it after Marriage. This has been frequently determined. So it is also sufficient Consideration to establish a Promise made in Writing after Marriage.” The Case has no immediate Reference to the Statute of fraudulent Conveyances, but it is only in Respect to these that the Observation can be understood to have been made, as there are no other Grounds of Objection against which a Settlement after Marriage can require Support from collateral Circumstances. The Report of this Case, 1 P. Wms. 618, refers to a different Stage of the Cause. In an anonymous Case, Prec. Ch. 181, a second Marriage Settlement was recited to be made in Consideration that the Wife had parted with the former Settlement, which appeared to be made after the Marriage, but was recited to be made in Consideration of a Marriage Portion, but there was no Proof of any previous Agreement for such Settlement; yet the Court presumed it, and so the second was not voluntary against Bond Creditors. The above Extract is the whole of the Report, and certainly appears too scanty to warrant any decisive Inferences being drawn from it.

The Case of Dundas v. Dutens, 1 Ves. jun. 196, was decided on the Ground of the Bill being fraudulently filed, at the Instance of the Husband, with a View to cheat his Children. It was the Case of Stock belonging to the Wife, settled after Marriage, the Settlement reciting a parol Agreement made before Marriage. Lord Thurlow said, “It there is a parol Agreement for a Settlement upon Marriage, after Marriage a Suit upon the Ground of part Performance would not do, because the Statute is expressed in that Manner—but is there any Case where in the Settlement the Parties recite an Agreement before Marriage, in which it has been considered, within the Statute?” (alluding Case seemble to Stat. 13 Eliz.) to which the Solicitor-General, (Lord Eldon,) as Counsel for the Defendant, said, he did not think it would be good. And see upon this Subject Randall v. Morgan, 12 Ves. 67.

It is very obvious, that if a mere Recital, in a Settlement after Marriage, that it was made in Pursuance of a previous parol Agreement, is sufficient to sustain the Settlement against Creditors or Purchasers, a very easy Plan is laid down for giving Effect to such Settlements, even if the Recital should be wholly false, as the Negative would in general be very difficult of Proof; and if the Recital in a single Settlement will not be sufficient, there seems to be very little Reason in the Distinction, that the making one Settlement with such a Recital, and abandoning it for a subsequent Settlement, shall carry the Matter any farther.

There is a Rule of the Civil Law, that Qui non protest donare non protest confiteri, which is evidently founded upon just Principles, and is immediately applicable to the Point in Question.

Marriage Settlements as affecting collateral Objects.

It seems not to be absolutely settled how far the Limitations in a Marriage Settlement in Favour of collateral Objects not within the Marriage Consideration, are valid as against subsequent Purchasers claiming under the Statute 27 Eliz. the Settlement not being supported by any other distinct and independent Consideration. For Instance, whether upon a Marriage by J. S. a Settlement of his Estates in Favour of his Brother, in Failure of Issue by the Marriage, is without other Circumstances valid, as against a Purchaser from J. S.

In the Case of St. Saviour's in Southwark, (4 Jas. I.) Lane 22, it is reported as a Resolution, that if a Man upon the Marriage of one of his Sons covenants to stand seised to the Use of that Son for Life, and then to the Use of his other Sons in Remainder, such Limitations to the other Sons are void against a Purchaser.

In Jenkins v. Kemishe, Hardres, 395, 1 Lev. 150, Sir N. K. being Tenant for Life, with Remainder to his Son Charles, in Tail, they suffered a Recovery upon the Marriage of Charles; and in Consideration of the Marriage and a Portion, settled the Estate upon the Husband & Wife, with Remainder to the Heirs of the Body of the Husband by the Wife, with Remainder to the Heirs of the Body of the Wife; and it was ruled, that the Limitation to the Heirs of the Body of the Son by a second Wife, was good against a Mortgage by Sir N. and Charles, and by Hale, C. Baron, it is hard to presume Fraud in this Case, for none is found. And the Consideration of Marriage, and the Marriage Portion, will run to all the Estates raised by the Settlement, although the Marriage is not concerned in them so as to make them good against Purchases, and avoid a voluntary Conveyance; and it appears, upon the same Case coming before the Court of Chancery upon another Point, that Lord Keeper Bridgeman held that the Consideration of the Portion paid on the first Marriage extended to the Issue of the second.

In Orgood v. Strobe, 2 P. Willms, 245, which was a Suit for carrying into Execution Articles of Agreement against Volunteers, and decided upon Grounds not connected with the present Discussion, some Doubt appears to be thrown upon the general Question. In Bellingham v. Lowther, 1 Ch. Cas. 243, the Court refused to enforce Performance of Covenants in a Marriage Settlement in Favour of collateral Relations, although the Party himself was preparing to execute them in his Life Time, and prevented by Death. But it was said by the Court, that if the Wife, who was a Purchaser under the Articles, had applied, they must have specifically carried them into Execution, and as it seemed, they must have been integrally executed for the Benefit of all collateral Objects, as well as for the Wife, and the Issue of the Marriage.—Rob. 138.

In Vernon v. Vernon, 2 P. Wms. 594, an Agreement was enforced in Favour of Brothers, the Lord Chancellor saying, that no Creditor could be hurt by a specific Performance, Mr. Roberts citing this Case, says, that the Lord Chancellor was clearly of Opinion that such an Agreement ought not to be performed against a Creditor;—but nothing of this Kind appears in the Report. See also Edwards v. the Countess of Warwick, 2 P. Wms. 171—Goring v. Nash, 5 Ark 186—Stephens v. Trueman, 1 Ves. 73, as to the Execution of Articles in Favour of Collaterals against Volunteers; but even if it should be clearly established that a Court of Equity would refuse to decree in Favour of such Articles against Creditors or Purchasers, that will not affect the Case of an actual Settlement with Reference to the Statutes at present under Consideration. In Jthell v. Beane, 1 Ves. 215, a Bond previous to Marriage to pay £400 amongst the Children of the Marriage, and a Son then living by a former Marriage, was sustained in Favour of the Son (there being no Issue of the Marriage) against the Creditors of the Father. But in Roe, on the Demise of Hammerton v. Mitton, 2 Wilson, 356, the Judgment in Favour of the Brother against a Purchaser, appears to have proceeded solely on the Ground of a distinct Consideration, Lord Ch. J. Wilmot said, “The whole of this Question turns on the Mother's joining in the Settlement;” from which it may be inferred as his Opinion, that without that Circumstance, the collateral Limitations in the Settlement could not be supported against the Purchaser.

In Brunsdon v. Stratton, Prec. Ch. 520, the Husband being under Age at the Time of the Marriage, the Wife's Father gave a Bond to pay him £1500, upon his settling a suitable Jointure Settlement on her; (saying nothing of the Issue) some Years afterwards, on Payment of the Portion, the Husband settled a Jointure on the Wife, and limited the Estate to himself for Life, with Remainder to his Children in strict Settlement, which was sustained against his Bond Creditors, the Master of the Rolls being of Opinion that it was not fraudulent or voluntary, being but adequate to the Wife's Fortune, and that the Words of the Bond were capable of such a Construction, for that a Jointure Settlement must be intended a Settlement in the common Form, to the Issue, and a Jointure for the Wife.

[N. B. Nothing appears to have been said in this Case as to the Husband being indebted or otherwise, at the Time of the Settlement.]

In Jason v. Jervis, 1 Vern. 284, the Validity of a Settlement as against a Purchaser, was sent to be tried at Law; first against the Wife as to her Estate for Life; and then as to the Remainders to the Children;—"for (by the Lord Keeper) if the Bond before Marriage [which is not noticed in the Statement of the Case] was only for a Jointure, and the Settlement goes further, and entails the Land upon the Children of the Marriage, the Settlement might be good as to the Jointure, and fraudulent as to the Remainders in Respect to a Purchaser." There are, in Fact, many Authorities which it is unnecessary particularly to advert to, that a Settlement may be partly good and partly void.

A Marriage in Scotland, according to the Scotch Law, of Persons going from England for the Purpose, being valid; a Settlement previous to, and in Consideration of a subsequent Marriage in England, is within the Statute.—Ex parte Hall, 1 V. & B. 112.

A Settlement after Marriage is prima facie void, as against Creditors intitled to the general Protection of the Statutes, and Purchasers, but may be supported upon a new Consideration, of which the several Cases about to be cited are Instances; and it may be premised as a settled Principle, that where there is a Settlement founded upon actual Consideration affecting the Interest of any of the Parties, the Adequacy or Inadequacy of such Consideration, in Point of Value, is immaterial, for the mere nominal Consideration of 5s. or 10s. inserted as Matter of Form in all Assurances, is, in this Respect, not regarded, the real Nature of it being fully recognized and understood. The Cases upon this Subject may be divided as follows:—1. When a Father is Tenant for Life, with Remainder to the Son in Tail, the Father's joining in the Settlement by suffering a Recovery, will support the Limitations against the Creditors, (or comme semble the Purchasers from the Son) Russell v. Hammond, 1 Atk. 13, (already cited on other Points)—but in Goodright v. Moses, 2 Bl. 1019, where J. R. being Tenant for Life, with Remainder to Elizabeth, the Wife of T. H. in Tail;—the said Parties levied a Fine to the Use of J. R. for Life, and after with Intent that the Rents might be applied for the Support of T. H. his Wife, and their Children, during the Life of T. H. afterwards for the Maintenance of Elizabeth and her Children during her Life; and after her Decease for the Children;—these Limitations were not sustained against a Lease from Elizabeth after she became a Widow, Lord Ch. J. De Grey delivering the Opinion of the Court generally, that the Deed was only a voluntary Conveyance within the Statute 27 Eliz. being founded only upon a good, and not a valuable Consideration; and that therefore it could not be set up against a bona fide Purchaser. It may be observed, that in this Case the Settlement derived no Assistance from the Concurrence of J. R. as Tenant in Tail, in Remainder, that can bar his Issue by Fine, without the Assent of the Tenant for Life.—2. Where the Settlement is made upon an additional Portion paid or agreed to be paid by the Friends of the Wife, which is a good pecuniary Consideration, as to which see Russell v. Hammond, 1 Atk. 13, already cited upon other Points, Jones v. Marsh, Ca. Temp. Tail. 64. Browne v. Jones, 1 Atk. 188. Stileman v. Ashdown, 2 Atk. 477, and this, as it appears, although the Sum agreed to be paid is not paid in Fact, Lord Hardwicke, in Ramsden v. Hilton, 2 Ves. 309, assigns as a Reason for this, that the Issue take from both Parties, and whether they perform their Agreement among themselves, may be immaterial to the Issue. Mr. Roberts observes, p. 222, that it is not very easy to comprehend the Force of this Reasoning; but without entering into that Discussion, nothing is more obvious, than that a mere Agreement of one Person may be an adequate Consideration for either a similar Agreement, or an executed Act of another.—3. Where the Wife gives up her Jointure for another Estate of double the Value being settled, the Consideration will support a Limitation to the Children, Scott v. Bell, 3 Lrv. 70. Bell v. Barnard, Prec. Ch. 113. As to the Relinquishment of Dower, vi. Lovender v. Blackstone, 2 Lrv. 146, in which it was said, that a Wife joining to her Dower, might be a good Consideration to support a Settlement. Vi. also Dolin v. Coleman, 1 Vern. 894, in which an Agreement that a Wife joining in a Mortgage should have the whole Equity of Redemption, was not supported against subsequent Mortgagees. The Facts of the Case are not sufficiently stated to support any general Inference; and there is no direct Reference to the Statutes under Consideration. Upon Principle, there does not appear any Reason why a Wife's concurring in the Disposition of an Estate out of which she is entitled to Dower, or letting in an Incumbrance which may affect the Dower, should not be equally regarded with any other valuable Consideration.—4. A Settlement upon receiving a Legacy of the Wife, or other Property in her Right, which could only be obtained by the Assistance of a Court of Equity; and in Respect of which the Court would not decree Payment to the Husband without a Settlement, or the express Consent of the Wife.—It would be foreign to the present Purpose to enter into a particular Dissertation upon the Doctrine established by Courts of Equity with Respect to this Subject, as to which see Roberts on Fraudulent Conveyances, Ch. 3 Sec. 10, 11, 12.—Newland on Contracts, Ch. 7. Wright v. Morley, 21 Ves. 18. Murray v. Lord Elbank, 13 Ves. 1. and a recent anonymous Treatise on the Rights, &c. of Married Women. The Equity does not extend to Stock in the Funds which a Wife is entitled to previous to Marriage; and of which the Husband may compel the Payment, Pringle v. Hodson, 3 Ves. 617.—5. A Settlement upon a voluntary separation is valid, if there is any specific Consideration as a Covenant to indemnify the Husband from the Debts of the Wife, Stephens v. Clive, 2 Bro. Ch. 90. See Seeling v. Crawley, 3 Vern. 506. Angier v. Angier, Prec. Ch. 496. Fitzer v. Fitzer, 2 Atk. 511. See also Mann v. Wilmore, 8 T. R. 521, where an Assignment in Consideration of a Sum of Money paid to the Husband—and in Part for the Payment of his Debts, and subject thereto for the separate Use of the Wife who had been ill treated by the Husband, was held to be valid, in Point of Consideration.

Settlement on Separation.

In the Case of Roe on the Demise of Hamerton v. Mitton, 2 Wils. 356, already cited, the Settlement before Marriage was assumed to be voluntary as far as related to the Brothers, except so far as depended upon the Circumstance of the Mother joining, was decided to be made upon valuable Consideration, in Respect of the Mother abandoning the Security for her Annuity upon the whole Estate, and accepting a Security of Part; and this Decision appears to be founded upon a general Principle, and not particularly to depend upon its having any Reference to Marriage.

Settlements preceded to a second Marriage for Children of a first.

There is a Class of Cases respecting Settlements made previous to a second Marriage upon Children by a first, which seem rather to depend upon general Principles of Equity as applicable to actual Fraud than to the particular Doctrine established by the Statutes at present under Consideration, and which therefore it will not be material more particularly to advert to. See upon this Subject, King v. Cotton, 2 P. Wms. 538—674. Bowen v. Lady Somersmore, 2 Bro. Ch. 345, 1 Ves. Jun. 22. Poulson v. Wellington, 2 P. Wms. 533. Hunt v. Mathews, 1 Vern. 408. Newstead v. Scarles, 1 Atk. 265.

What Consideration.

In Sules v. the Attorney-General, 3 Atk. 132, the Duke of Wharfedale, having, upon the Ground that the Public Good was advanced by the Encouragement of Learning and the polite Arts, and being pleased with the Attainment of Dr. Young, granted him an Annuity of £100, and afterwards by Indemnitee settling that there was an Arrest of the Annuity, and that Dr. Y. had, at the Duke's Request, quitted a Service in the Family of the Earl of Exeter, which he was in, and thereby lost an Annuity, granted him a farther Annuity of £100, and charged his Estate with the said Annuities.—Lord Hardwicke held (as against Creditors) that the Advancement of Learning, though a good Indemnitee, was not a valuable Consideration; but that the Quitting the Earl of Exeter's Service was a valuable Consideration;—and that the Duke's bearance to sue for the Arrears of the first Annuity, was also a valuable Consideration, in Respect whereof the second Annuity ceased to be a voluntary Grant.

In Jameson v. Shipwith, 2 Bro. Ch. 34, it was taken for granted, that an Engagement by a Pupil to his Teacher, as a Remuneration of Gratitude, was not valid as against Creditors.

The Compromise of a doubtful Right may form a fair and valuable Consideration. In Peat v. Powell, Amb. 387, a Father having devised Lands of Inheritance, and Lands held upon Lease for Lives, to Giles, his younger Son—John, the elder Son, claimed the Lands of Inheritance, insisting, that the Will was void, and threatened to commence a Suit, unless the younger Son would convey his Right to him, which he did.—Upon a Suit, by the Assignees of Giles, Lord Northington said, “This is not like the Case when Conveyances are made to quiet family Differences, in which the Court will not require strict Equality of Consideration—there was no Equivalent given by John. He did not so much as release his Right to the other Estate. There is no Fraud, but being a voluntary Conveyance it is void against the Creditors of Giles.” Mr. Roberts, in a Note to his Citation of this Case, (page 415,) observes, “that the Settlement of disputed Boundaries, and in general the Object of removing Contention and compromising adverse Claims, constitute a good Consideration to support Suits in Equity for the specific Performance of Agreements,” and refers to the Opinion of Lord Hardwicke, in Penn v. Lord Baltimore, 1 Vesey, 453—but adds, “that it seems clear, that such Considerations will not be good against Persons coming in upon valuable Considerations,” and in a subsequent passage, (page 432,) he refers to Peat v. Powell, as establishing, that a vain Apprehension of possible Danger, or an alarm existing by groundless Menaces, will not form a valuable Consideration for a Conveyance. But in Hill, Clerk, v. the Bishop of Exeter and others, 3 Taunton, 69, Charles Hill, the Father, made a voluntary Conveyance to his Son of the Living of Fremington, and afterwards, upon the Trial of a Quare impedit, at the Suit of R. C. claiming the vacant Presentation, against May and others, it was agreed, that May should release to Cooke his Title to the Presentation, and to C. H. his Right to the Advowson—C. H. consenting thereto, and agreeing to present May or his Assigns at the next Vacancy; and, in Pursuance thereof, Hill and Cooke released to May the next Advowson. To a Plea setting forth such Release, Hill replied, that May had not any Right whatever to the Advowson—which Replication was upon Demurrer adjudged to be bad—and it was held, that May was, under such Release, a Purchaser for valuable Consideration, so as to defeat the voluntary Conveyance to Hill, the Son—and per Curiam. “It is just the same Thing whether May had or had not any actual Title, for he gave up whatever he had, and therefore it is quite immaterial what he had—and there can be no Doubt, in general, that the giving up a Right without Fraud is a valuable Consideration—the Re- lessor parts with that for which the other Party may very reasonably give Money.” This Case, deciding that such a Compromise is a valuable Consideration, which defeats a former voluntary Conveyance, will apply a Fortiori, as will appear in the Sequel to shew that a Conveyance, founded upon such Consideration, cannot be impeached in itself as being merely voluntary.

Compromise of a doubtful Right.

A Conveyance in Trust, for Payment of the Debts of the Party making it, is not, without other Circumstances, sufficient to prevent the Operation of the Statutes, as to which see Lord Paget's Case, 1 Leon. 194—Leech v. Leech, Ch. Cas. 249—Tarback v. Marbury, 2 Vern. 510; but if a Creditor be a Party to such Conveyance, and enters into any Agreement for Forbearance, or to release his Debt, it is clearly as Mr. Roberts observes, (p. 431,) a valuable Consideration: and in Langton v. Tracey, 1 Ch. Rep. 33, it was ruled, that such a Conveyance, though no Creditor was a Party, was good against a Creditor with Notice.

Trust for Payment of Debts.

In Twine's Case, 3 Rep. 83, a Case was cited by Anderson, Ch. J. in which a Man of weak Understanding, and incapable of managing an Estate, and being given to Riot, by the Mediation of his Friends, openly conveyed his Lands to them upon Trust, to take the Profits and apply them to his Maintenance, in Order to prevent his wasting and consuming the same—which was supported against a subsequent Purchaser for a small Value, the Purchaser being apparently open to the Imputation of Fraud and Deceit; but the Chief Justice observed, “that such a Conveyance is void as to him who purchases the Land for a valuable Consideration bona fide without Deceit or Cunning.

Not essential that the void Conveyance should be made by the Party from whom the Purchaser derives Title.

§ 6. It is not essential that the Conveyance, which is impeached as fraudulent, should be made by the same Person from whom the Purchaser derives his Title. This was laid down in Burrel's Case, 6 Rep. 72, where a Father, upon the Marriage of his son, demised Lands to the Son for 1000 Years, and the Son, in the Life-time of his Father, made an Assignment to his own Son, an Infant, which was under the Circumstances held to be fraudulent, and after the Death of his Father sold the Land, covenanting that it was free from all Leases—and two Points are reported as resolved; 1st, That if a Father make a Lease by Fraud and Covin of his Land, in Order to defraud others to whom he may demise or sell it, (as all fraudulent Leases shall be intended,) and, before the Father makes any Sale or Demise, he dies, and the Son, knowing or not knowing of the Case, sells the Land upon good Consideration, in this Case the Vendor shall avoid the Lease by Force of the Statute, (27 Eliz.) for as it is intended and presumed in Law, that every fraudulent Lease is made with the Intent generally to defraud Purchasers, Farmers, &c. in this Generality, every particular Purchaser, Farmer, &c. is included—and the act is well penned, for the Words of the Act are general, and do not require that he who sells the Land shall make the fraudulent Estate or Incumbrance, but if the Estate be fraudulent, &c. whoever sells it, the Purchaser shall avoid such fraudulent Estate; and as in the Case at Bar, the two Leases were upon the Evidence thought fraudulent, the Vendee of the Heir might avoid them.—2d. That although the Son had nothing in the Inheritance at the Time of the Assignment of the Term; but all the Estate of Inheritance was in his Father; yet when the Father died, and the Son sold the Land, his Vendee shall avoid the Term, (the Assignment being taken upon the Evidence to be fraudulent) for if he had bargained and sold the Term only, the Bargainee might have avoided the fraudulent Assignment, and consequently the Vendee of the whole Fee may avoid it.

In Clerk v. Rutland, Lane 113, a Father made a Lease to a Stranger for forty Years, and continued in Possession, and afterwards conveyed the Lands to a younger Son, who sold it for a valuable Consideration; and it was doubted whether the Purchaser could avoid the Lease; but it was said, that if in that Case the Father had suffered the Land to descend to his eldest Son, then the Purchaser from the eldest Son should avoid the Lease. In Jones v. Purfoy, 1 Vern. 45, the Grandfather made a Settlement on the Grandson, which was disputed by the Mortgagee of the Father after the Grandfather's Death; but as to this Point, says the Reporter, they gave this clear Answer:—"It was true it was a voluntary Settlement, and if it had been made by the Person that mortgaged these Lands, it should never prevail against a Purchaser; but here the Settlement was made by the Grandfather, and the Estate passed from him; but the Mortgage was made by the Father, who was never seised nor possessed of the Estate."

According to the present Understanding upon the Subject, it is not probable that a mere voluntary Lease made by a Father could be avoided by the Alienee of the Son, to whom the Inheritance had descended, or that the Son could by this Circuitry avoid a Disposition of his Father, if made by Deed, which would be effective against Heirs if made by Will. This Observation does not affect the Case where the Deed is affected by actual Fraud according to the popular and common Notion of the Term.

Copyholds.

§ 7. Some Doubts have been entertained as to whether Copyholds are within the Statute 27 Eliz. respecting Purchasers, but the prevailing Opinion seems to be that they are.—See Doe, Demise of Watson v. Routledge, Cowp. 705.—Mr. Roberts justly observes, that how far Surrenders of Copyholds are within the Statute 13 Eliz. with Respect to Creditors may perhaps be doubted, since it may be said that they have not the Effect of delaying, hindering, or defrauding Creditors who cannot issue Process to levy a Debt upon a Copyhold Estate—and notwithstanding that, it has been determined not to be an Act of Bankruptcy on a similar ground.—Ex parte Cockshot, pa. 447, n.

§ 8. A Purchase originally made in the Name and for the Use of third Persons does not fall directly within the Operation of these Statutes, Lady Gorge's Case, Cro. Car. 550. How far such Purchases may be affected by the general Rules of Courts of Equity under particular Circumstances is a Question foreign to the present Enquiry, they are expressly within the Statute 1 Jac. 1 c. 21, respecting Bankrupts, and 13 Eliz. c. 4, respecting the Debts of the King's Accountants.

Purchases in the Name and for the Use of third Persons.

§ 9. Conveyances originally defensible may become valid by Circumstances occurring subsequently. In Prodgers v. Langham, 1 Sid. 133, it is laid down, that although a Deed be fraudulent in its Creation, and voidable by a Purchaser, yet it may become good by Matter ex post facto—as if a Man makes a Feoffment by Covin, and the Feoffee makes a Feoffment over upon valuable Consideration, the Feoffee of the first Feoffee shall retain the Land, and not the Feoffee of the first Feoffor. See also, to the same Effect, Andrew Newport's Case, Skinner, 423—S. C. by the Name of Swartle v. Williams, 3 Lev. 387—Wilson v. Wormal, Godb. 161.

Conveyances originally defensible rendered valid by subsequent Circumstances.

In the before mentioned Case of Prodgers v. Langham, a voluntary Settlement upon a Daughter was supported by the Daughter's subsequent Marriage. So in Kirk v. Clark, Prec. Ch. 275, where the Father told the Friends of the Son's Wife, that he had already settled the Premises upon the Son—and an express Settlement was also made of other Premises. So where a Daughter, in whose Favour a Settlement was made, married a Person of Fortune, who was before Marriage advised by Counsel, that the Portion was sufficiently secured.—E. I. Company v. Clavel, Prec. Ch. 377—and see the Observations in Doe v. Routledge, Cowp. 705.

§ 10. With Respect to the Purchaser intitled to object to a prior voluntary Settlement as fraudulent, it has been ruled, that this Objection is competent to Persons claiming under a Settlement upon a subsequent Marriage—Douglas v. Ward, Ch. Cas. 99; to a Mortgagee—Saunders v. Dehew, 2 Vern. 272; a Lessee for Years at Rack-rent, or upon Payment of a Fine—Shaw v. Standish, 2 Vern. 327—Goodright v. Moses, 2 Bl. 1019—Cross v. Fausterditch, Cro. Jac. 181; a Purchaser of Timber—Hatton v. Neale, Bull. N. P. 261; a Reversioner purchasing a Term, of which there has been previously a fraudulent Assignment, said per Roberts, p. 376, to be cited from some old Books in Justice Warburton's Reports. To these may be added, the late Case of Hill v. the Bishop of Exeter, 2 Taunt. 69, already cited, of a Person to whom a Release was made of a disputed Right.

What Persons are, as Purchasers, intitled to object to Conveyances as fraudulent.

But the Conveyance is good as against a subsequent voluntary Settlement upon Wife or Children.—Needham and Beaumont's Case, 3 Rep. 83. 233.—Upton v. Basset, Cro. Eliz. 445. It seems also, that the second Purchase must be perfectly fair in Respect of Value, and not a mere Colour, as to which see 3 Rep. 83—Doe v. Routledge, Cowp. 705—although mere Inadequacy may not be an Objection. A Purchaser for valuable Consideration, under a second voluntary Conveyance, cannot impeach the Title under the first. Dame Burg's Case, Moor, 833, where a Person having a real Lease for sixty Years forged a Lease for ninety, which he sold with all his Interest in the Land, it was ruled, that as he did not contract for the true and lawful Interest, which was not known, he was not a Purchaser within the Statute—although, by the general Words, the true Interest would pass.—Co. Lit. 36.

Mr. Roberts observes, that it may be doubted whether that constructively valuable Consideration, which has in some Cases singly prevailed, in others cumulatively tended to support precedent Conveyances against subsequent Purchasers, will arm the Purchaser against a prior voluntary Deed, with Power sufficient to overthrow it. p. 388. From the general Tenor of the Cases, I should conceive, that it evidently would not, especially according to the Opinions which have been recently expressed with Regard to the true Construction of the Statute, considered independently of Authority.

§ 12. Upon the 8th Section of 27 Edw. respecting Powers of Revocation, the following Points have occurred:—It does not extend to the Power of charging the Estate with a particular Sum of Money—Jenkins v. Keynsham, 3 Lev. 380. It extends to all Cases where in Effect the Power is given to the Grantor—although accompanied by a colourable Condition, as the Payment of a small Sum of Money to a Stranger, or the Consent of a third Person merely appointed by the Grantor—Cross v. Fausterditch, Cro. Jac. 180—Tarback v. Marbury, 2 Vern. 510—Griffin v. Stanhope, Cro. Jac. 454—Lavender v. Blackston, 3 Keble, 526, and see 3 Rep. 52; but it is otherwise when the Money is to be paid to Trustees, to be vested in other Estates—Doe v. Martin, 4 T. R. 39; or where the Consent required is that of a third Person, bona fide, appointed by all Parties—See Lough v. Winter, 1 Jones, 411—Buller v. Warehouse, Sir Thom. Jones, 94, 3 Keb. 75.—Hangerford v. Bask, 2 Freem. 120. It is immaterial, that the Settlement containing the Power of Revocation is made upon valuable Consideration—as to which see Roberts, 697—Sugden, on Powers, 338. If a Person, having Power to revoke at a future Day, conveys upon valuable Consideration before the Day, the Settlement will be void from the Time when he might revoke.—Bullock v. Thorne, Moor, 611—Twyn's Case, 3 Rep. 82—Garth v. Enfield, Bridge, 22. The Statute operates, although the Power is previously released—Bullock v. Thorne, Moor, 615—but it may be otherwise if the Release was for valuable Consideration, or the Purchaser had Notice. It seems that the Statute does not operate, if the Grantor by the Conveyance professes to execute the Power of Revocation, and does so informally.—See Sugden, on Powers, ch. 8, from which this Paragraph is abridged.

§ 13. Where Land has been fraudulently aliened by the Ancestor, it is in Respect of Creditors regarded as Assets by Descent in the Hands of the Heir—therefore, upon an issue whether T. H. deceased was seized, the Jury having found that T. H. enfeoffed J. H. before the Judgment upon which the Scire Facias was issued out, the Court gave Judgment, that T. H. remained seized as to Creditors by Covin.—Humberston v. Howgill, Hob. 74. See also Shep. Touch 66.

In Parlow v. Weedon, Eq. Ab. Creditor and Debtor, B. pl. 7, Lord Macclesfield is reported to have said, that any Settlement or Disposition which a Man makes in his Life-time, whether voluntary or not, shall be good against Creditors, for that was not provided against by the Statute against fraudulent Devises—but a strong Dissatisfaction was expressed with this Opinion, in Brunsdon v. Stratton, Fre. Ch. 521—Jones v. March, Ca. Temp. Talb. 66, where the Lord Chancellor said, that Mr. Vernon had always grumbled at the Determination of that Case, and never forgave Lord Macclesfield; saying, it was contrary to the constant Practice of the Court. It is clear, that the Statute of fraudulent Devises, to which Lord Macclesfield referred, was wholly foreign to the Subject, which depended upon the Common Law and the Statute in present under Contemplation. The Statute of fraudulent Devises left the Law as to Deeds as it stood before, and the Principle to be collected from all the Authorities is, that if a Deed was void against Creditors in its Inception, it does not become valid by the Death of the Naker. The Cases of Stileman v. Ashdown, 2 Ark. 477—Russell v. Hammond, 1 Ark. 13—Beaumont v. Thorp, 2 Ves. 27—Lord Townsend v. Windham, 2 Ves. 1—Hylton v. Black, 2 Ves. 305—most of which have been noticed in the preceding Part of this Note,—all proceed upon taking for granted the opposite Opinion as that expressed in Parlow v. Weedon.

Of Assignments of personal Property.

§ 14. With Respect to Assignments of personal Property, (Independently of any Consideration founded upon actual Fraud, with Respect to which every Case resolves itself into a Matter of Fact) the Retention of Possession of the Property assigned, is, generally speaking, held to induce a legal Presumption of Fraud.—In Twyn's Case, 3 Rep. 80. the Retention of Possession by the Vendor of the Goods, was only regarded amongst the Circumstances as constituting a Badge and Fraud;—but in Edwards v. Harben, 2 Term Rep. 587, it was established as a general Rule, that unless Possession accompanies and follows the Deed, it is fraudulent and void. This is subject to Exceptions in Cases when the Retention of the Possession of the Goods is connected with the Object of the Deed;—as in Cases of Goods settled upon Marriage, (as to which see Lord Cadogan and Kennett, Cowp. 432) and in other Cases referred to in the Judgment of Edwards and Harben. The actual Delivery of the Goods may be dispensed with when the Nature of the Subject renders it impracticable; or when Acts have taken Place which are equivalent, as in case of Assignment of Goods at Sea, the paper Documents being delivered over;—the Delivery of the Key of a Warehouse in which the Goods are contained;—and other Cases which have frequently been decided, with Reference to the Bankrupt Laws; as to which it may be observed, that whatever is Sufficient to avoid the Effect of the Statute of James, concerning reputed Ownership, applies a fortiori to repel the Imputation of a Fraud from a Retention of Possession in Respect to the Statute 13 Eliz. c. 5.

In Dewey v. Baynton, 6 East, 257, Pictures and other Property at Wendover Castle, belonging to Lord Arundel, were, in Consideration of Lady Arundel relinquishing some Interests under a Settlement in Favour of Lord Arundel, assigned to Trustees for the separate Use of Lady A. and they continued in Possession of Lord A. without any Inventory. In an Action against the Sheriff for a false Return, it was left to the Jury whether the Trust Deeds were a Contrivance to defraud Lord A.'s Creditors,—or whether they were a bona fide Transaction;—and a Verdict being found in Favour of the Transaction, a new Trial was granted in order to bring that Point more distinctly before the Jury;—but it is manifestly the Opinion of the Court, that the mere Possession of the Husband being consistent with the Object of the Deeds, was not in itself sufficient to annul the Transaction, so as to render the Goods liable to an Execution, at the Suit of the Creditors of Lord A.—The Jury upon the second Trial having found a Verdict for the Creditor, upon an Application for an Injunction, the Lord Chancellor expressed his Opinion very fully in Favour of the general Nature of the Transaction; and directed a Trial in the Common Pleas for the Purpose of settling the Question.—Lady Arundel v. Phips, 10 Vesey, 139. It is however not very easy to discern any Ground of Equity upon which the Court of Chancery were authorized in this Case to exercise a Controul over the Proceedings of a Court of Law, upon what was considered by itself so entirely a legal Question, as to be referred to another Court of Law for its Decision. The ultimate Event of the Case does not appear in the Books.

The Expression of accompanying and following the Deeds, which is applied to the Class of Cases at present under Discussion, requires some Consideration with Respect to its Import and Extent; and I take it never to have been held, that the mere Occurrence of any Interval of Time between the Execution of the Deed and the taking of Possession under it, shall at any subsequent Period, however remote, be deemed sufficient to taint the Transaction with Fraud; and I would submit, that if the Possession is taken in mere Pursuance of the Deed, before any other Rights or Interests have interyened, and at a Period when the entire Transaction would have been valid and effectual, such Possession would be sufficient; and this seems to be implied by the Case of Jones v. Dwyer, 15 East, 21, where Goods lying at a Wharf were purchased in December, and an Order given for their Delivery, and no Transfer was obtained upon such Order until the June following, which being before the Bankruptcy of the Seller, the Court decided in Favour of the Title of the Vendee.—The Statute of 13th Eliz. was referred to; but the Discussion principally leaned upon the Statute 21 Ja. I. respecting reputed Ownerships in Cases of Bankruptcy.

The Cases upon the Statute of 13 Eliz. relates only to Property assigned without Delivery of Possession from the Person to whom it originally belonged; for it is perfectly clear, that the mere Possession of personal Property, concludes nothing with Respect to the Right.

And when there has been bona fide a notorious Charge of Property, the subsequent Possession of the Goods by the Person to whom they belonged, it does not bring the Case within the Statute; accordingly in Cole v. Davies, 1 Lord Raymond, 724, it was said by Holt, Ch. Justice, that the Goods of A are seized upon f. fa. and sold to B bona fide upon valuable Consideration, though B permitted A to have Goods in his Possession, upon Condition that A should pay to B the Money as he should raise it by Sale of the Goods, this will not make the Execution fraudulent; and in such Case, a subsequent Act of Bankruptcy will not prevent the Sale.

[NOTE] In this Case the Provision respecting reputed Ownership, in Case of Bankruptcy, is not sufficiently attended to.

And in the modern Case of Kidd v. Rawlinson, 2 B. & P. 59, the Goods of A being taken under an Execution, were purchased at a public Auction by B, who suffered A to continue in Possession, and to carry on Business, and A having afterwards executed a Bill of Sale of the Goods to C, it was ruled that B was intitled to them as against C; and it was laid down that if B had lent A Money to buy the Goods, and had taken a Conveyance of them, or a Security for his Debt—this arising out of the mere Fact of lending his Money, leaving A in Possession of the Goods—it would not have been a fraudulent Act. And in a very late Case, where a Person assigned his Effects to his Trustees; and the Son, in order to accommodate his Mother, became the Purchaser of the household Goods at a fair Appraisement, and suffered the greater Part of them to remain in the House with his Mother, who continued to reside there, and take Lodgers as before;—it being found by the Jury that the Change of Property was notorious, and that the Assignment was not executed with an intent to defeat either the general Body of Creditors, or any particular Creditor; the Title of the Son was sustained against a subsequent Execution by a Creditor of the Father. Leonard v. Baker, 1 M. & S. 251.—See also on this Point, Bull. N. P. 258. Meggitt v. Mills, 1 Ld. Raym. 206. and the late Case of Reed v. Blades, 5 Taunt 212.

It is agreed, that an actual Intention to defraud Creditors will be sufficient to invalidate a Transaction, which in other Respects would be good. Without entering into an enumeration of the Cases applicable to this Subject, I shall barely refer to Cadogan v. Kennett, Cowp. 432, in which, upon a Settlement of Goods made previous to Marriage, Lord Mansfield said—"The Question in every Case is, whether the Act done is a bona fide Transaction, or whether it is a Trick and Contrivance to defeat Creditors."—And Lord Ellenborough in Dewey v. Baynton, 6 East, 257, already referred to, left the Question to the Jury in the precise Terms cited from Cadogan and Kennett, and the Principle was recognized by the Court, though a new Trial was granted for the Purpose of bringing the Facts more distinctly before the Jury—See the Observations of Lord Eldon on this Subject, in Lady Arundel v. Phipps, 10 Vesey, 139.

See Estwick v. Cailland, 5 T. R. 420, in which a Conveyance by Lord Abingdon of Real and Personal Property in Trust, after deducting Expenses to pay one Moiety of the Profits to Lord A. for his own Use, and the other to certain Creditors named in a Schedule, was held good, the Intention of Fraud as against the other Creditors being negatived by the Jury. There was in this Case some apparent Possession in Lord A. after the Deed, which the Court thought sufficiently explained. Buller J. observed, "Fraud is sometimes a Question of Law, sometimes a Question of Fact, and sometimes a mixed Question of Law and Fact. On the whole it appears to me, that the Deed, taken by itself, is a good and valid One; and that there are no extrinsic Circumstances to shew that any Fraud was intended."

As to particular Badges of Fraud, and the Effect of fraudulent Transactions, to deceive the Crown of Forfeitures, &c. see Roberts, ch 5, § 3.

PART II. CLASS VIII.

LEASES,*

(And herein of other Dispositions by Spiritual Persons.)

No. 1.

32 Henry VIII. c. 28.—Lessees to enjoy the Farm against the Tenants in Tail.

WHERE great Number of the King's Subjects have heretofore taken Leases of Lands, Tenements and other Hereditaments, for Term of Years, and divers of them for Term of Lives, and have given and paid great Fines and great Sums for the same, and also have been at great Costs and Charges, as well in and about great Reparations and Buildings upon their said Farms, as otherwise concerning their said Farms; yet notwithstanding the said Fermors, after the Deaths or Resignations of their Lessors, have been and be daily with great Cruelty expelled and put out of their said Farms and Takings, by the Heirs or Successors of their said Lessors, or by such Persons as have Interest therein after the Deaths or Resignations of their said Lessors, by Reason of Privy Gifts of Intail, or for that the Lessors had Nothing in the Lands, Tenements or other Hereditaments so letten, at the Time of the Leases thereof made, but only in the Right of their Wives, or such other like Cause, to the great Impoverishment, and in Manner utter Undoing of the said Fermors: For Reformation wherof, be it ordained, established and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by Authority of the same, That all Leases hereafter to be made of any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments by Writing indented under Seal for Term of Years, or for Term of Life, by any Person or Persons being of full Age of twenty-one Years, having any Estate of Inheritance either in Fee-simple or in Fee-tail, (1) in their own Right, or in the Right of their Churches (2) or Wives, or jointly with their Wives, of any Estate of Inheritance made before the Coverture or after, shall be good and effectual in the Law against the Lessors, their Wives,

II. Provided always, that this Act, or any Thing contained, shall not extend to any Leases to be made of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, being in the Hands of any Fermor or Fermors by Virtue of any old Lease, unless the same old Lease be expired, surrendered, (3) or ended within one Year next after the making of the said new Lease; (4) nor shall extend to any Grant to be made of any Reversion of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, nor to any Lease of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments which have not most commonly been letten to Ferm, or (5) occupied by the Fermors thereof, by the Space of twenty Years next before such Lease thereof made; nor to any Lease to be made without Impeachment of Waste, nor to any Lease to be made above the Number of twenty-one Years, or three Lives, at the most, from the Day of making thereof; (6) and that upon every such Lease there be reserved yearly during the same Lease, due and payable to the Lessors, their Heirs and Successors, to whom the same Lands should have come after the Deaths of the Lessors, if no such Lease had been thereof made, and to whom the Reversion thereof shall appertain, according to their Estates and Interests, so much yearly Ferm or Rent, or more, as hath been most accustomedly yielded or paid for the Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments (7) so to be letten within twenty Years next before such Lease thereof made; and that every such Person and Persons, to whom the Reversion of such Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments so to be letten shall appertain, as is aforesaid, after the Deaths of such Lessors or their Heirs, shall and may have such like Remedy and Advantage, to all Intents and Purposes, against the Lessees thereof, their Executors and Assigns, as the same Lessor should or might have had against the same Lessees. So that if the Lessor were seised of any special Estate-tail of the same Hereditaments at the Time of such Lease, that the Issue or Heir of that special Estate shall have the Reversion, Rent and Services reserved upon such Lease after the Death of the said Lessor, as the Lessor himself might or ought to have had if he had lived.

(3) A Lease is good upon a Surrender conditioned to be void if a new Lease is not made within a Week.—Wilson v. Carter, 2 Str. 1201. A Surrender by taking a new Lease, to commence in future, takes Effect immediately.—Semble, Thompson v. Trafford, Popham, 9.

(4) This being an enabling Statute, does not apply to Leases made by the Bishop without the Consent of the Dean and Chapter—and which did not require the Aid of the Statute—and such Lease is not restrained by Stat. 1 Eliz.—Fox v. Collier, Moor, 107, And. 65.

(5) If the Land has been either most commonly let to farm, or let to farm for more than ten Years of the last twenty, it seems sufficient.—See Bacon, LEASES.

(6) Semble, that a Lease for sixty Years, determinable upon three Lives, is good under this Statute—the Power in the first Part being general—and the Lease not falling within the Proviso, as it does not exceed the Limits prescribed.—Secus as to Leases under the Statutes, 1 Eliz & 13 Eliz.—See Whitlock's Case, 8 Rep. 69—Smith v. Tinder, Cro. Car. 22.

(7) Qu. if this authorizes a Letting in several Parts of Premises before let together. Semble, it does.—See 4 Cruise.—See also Stat. 39 & 40 G. III. c. 41, infra, No. 14.

III. Provided alway, That the Wife be made Party to every such case which hereafter shall be made by her Husband of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, being the Inheritance of the Wife; and that every such Lease be made by Indenture in the Name of the Husband and his Wife, and she to seal to the same; and that the Ferm and Rent be reserved to the Husband and to the Wife, and to the Heirs of the Wife, according to her Estate of Inheritance in the same; and that the Husband shall not in any wise aliene, dis- charge, grant or give away the same Rent reserved, nor any Part thereof, longer than during the Coverture, without it be by Fine agreed by the said Husband and Wife; but that the same Rent shall remain, descend, revert or come after the Death of such Husband, unto such Person or Persons and their Heirs, in such Manner and sort as the Lands so leased should have done, if no such Lease had been thereof made.

IV. Provided also, That this Act extend not to give any Liberty or Power to any Person or Persons to take any more Fermes, Leases or Takings of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or other Hereditaments, than he or they should or might lawfully have done before the making of this Act; nor extend to give any Liberty, or Power to any Parson or Vicar of any Church or Vicarage, for to make any Lease or Grant of any of their Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Tithes, Profits or Hereditaments belonging to their Churches or Vicarages, otherwise or in any other Manner than they should or might have done before the making of this Act; any Thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

V And furthermore be it enacted by Authority aforesaid, That all Leases at any Time within the Space of three Years next before the twelfth Day of April in the thirty-first Year of our Sovereign Lord the King's Reign, made by Writing indented under Seal, by any Person or Persons of full Age, of whole Memory, not unlawfully executed, nor being Covert Baron, for Term of Years, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, whereof the Lessor or Lessors were seized of any Estate of Inheritance of and in the same, to their own only Use, at the Time of making any such Lease thereof, and whereof the Lessees, their Executors or Assigns, be now in Possession by Virtue of the same Lease, and no Cause of Re-entry or Forfeiture thereof had or made, shall be good and effectual in the Law against the Lessors, their Heirs and Successors, and the Heirs and Successors of every of them, according to the Covenants, Articles and Agreements specified in every such Indenture or Lease: So always here be reserved and yearly payable during the same Lease to the said Lessors, their Heirs or Successors, or to such other as should or ought to have had the same Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments so leased after the Decese of such Lessors, in case no such Lease had hereof been made, as much yearly Rent for the same, as was at any Time therefore yielded or paid within twenty Years next before the making of any such Lease, or else such Leases to be of no other Force nor Effect than they were before the making of this present Act.

VI. THE Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons in this present Parliament assembled, perceiving how necessary it is for the Imperial Crown of this Realm to be repaired with the Restitution of Revenues meet for the same, and having assented and fully accorded to restore to the same Imperial Crown the First-fruits and Tenths of Parsonages impropriate, for the Increase of the Revenue thereof, be also desirous to devise some good Means, whereby the said Revenue of Tenths and Impropriate Benefices might be in the Governance and Disposition of the Clergy of this Realm, being most apt for the same, in such Sort as yet thereby the said Imperial Crown should not be in any wise diminished in the said restored Revenue.

II And therefore beseech your Majesty, That it may be enacted by the Authority of this present Parliament, in Manner and Form hereafter following; that is to say, upon the Vacation and Avoidance of every Archbishoprick or Bishoprick within this your Realm of England and Wales, and other your Highness Dominions, it shall and may be lawful for your Highness, to elect and choose, and to take into your Hands and Real Possession, as much and so many of any the Honours, Castles, Manors, Lands, Tenements or other Hereditaments, being Parcel of the Possessions of any such Archbishoprick or Bishoprick so being void, as the clear yearly Value of all your Majesty's Parsonages Appropriate and yearly Tenths within every such Archbishoprick or Bishoprick shall yearly amount and extend unto; and for the Tryal of every Value of such Honours, Castles, Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, it shall and may be lawful for your Highness from Time to Time, to direct your Letters of Commission under your Highness Great Seal of England into every such Archbishoprick or Bishoprick, so being void, to such Persons as your Majesty shall think meet and convenient, giving them Authority thereby to survey such Honours, Castles, Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Parcel of the Possessions of the same Archbishoprick or Bishoprick so being void, as to your Majesty shall be thought meet and convenient to be taken into your Highness Hands and Possession, and thereupon to certify the very clear yearly Value thereof, over all Charges and Reprises, into your Highness Court of Exchequer, at such Day and Time as by the said Commission shall be limited and appointed; and after such Certificate into the said Court of Exchequer of the clear yearly Value of such Honours, Castles, Manors, Lands, 14 Elizabeth, c. 16.—An Act for the Assurance of Gifts, Grants, &c. made and to be made to and for the Relief of the Poor in the Hospitals, &c.

14 Eliz. c. 16.

WHERE our late Sovereign Lord of famous Memory King EDWARD the Sixth, by his Letters Patents dated the twentieth Day of June, in the seventh Year of his most gracious Reign, did found, erect, and establish three Hospitals in and near to the City of London, called the Hospitals of King EDWARD the Sixth, of Christ, Bridewell, and St Thomas the Apostle; and by his said Letters Patent gave and granted Power and Liberty for purchasing of Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments for the Relief and Sustentation of the Poor in the said Hospitals, as by the said Letters Patents

‘ more plainly appeareth. And whereas also our late Sovereign Lord ‘ King HENRY the Eighth, by his Letters Patents dated the thirteenth ‘ of January in the thirty-eighth Year of his Reign, did found an ‘ Hospital in West Smithfield called Little St. Bartholomew's, near ‘ London And whereas divers well-disposed and charitable Persons ‘ have given Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, to the Relief and ‘ Sustentation of the Poor, not only in the said Hospitals, but also in ‘ other Hospitals. And as it is hoped many more hereafter will like‘ wise charitably give, and where many of such Gifts and Assurances ‘ have been and are likely to be made by the last Wills of the Givers ‘ thereof, at which Time for Want of Counsel or other Opportunities, ‘ it may happen that the right Name of the said Corporation hath not ‘ or shall not be truly named or expressed, whereby may grow some ‘ Question of the Validity of such Grants, Gifts or Devises:’ Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That all Gifts, Grants, Legacies, Devises, and Assurances made or to be made of any Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, by Will, Feoffments or otherwise, to the Use or for the Relief of the Poor in any Hospital now remaining and being in Esse, and employed to the Relief or Maintenance of the Poor in the said Hospitals, or any of them, shall be as good and available in Law, according to the true Meaning of any such Donor, Grantor, Testator, Devisor or Assurer, as if the said Corporation had been or were in the Writings or Deeds of such Gifts, Grants, Devise or Assurance, or in such last Will or Testament, rightly or truly named; any such misnaming, misreciting, or not true naming or reciting of the said Corporation to the contrary notwithstanding: Saving to all and every Person and Persons, Bodies Politick and Corporate, their Heirs and Successors, other than such Donor, Grantor, Testator, Devisor and Assurer, their Heirs and Successors, other than such Donor, Grantor, Testator, Devisor and Assurer, their Heirs and Successors, all such Right, Title and Interest, as they or any of them have or shall have in or to any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments so given, granted, devised or assured, as if this Act had never been had nor made. And where in the last Parliament holden at Westminster it was provided and enacted among other Things, That from henceforth all Leases, Gifts, Grants, Feoffments, Conveyances or Estates, to be had, made or suffered by any Master and Fellows of any College, Dean and Chapter of any Cathedral Church, Master or Guardian of any Hospital, Parson, Vicar, or any other having any Spiritual Living of any House, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, Parcel of the Possession of any such College, Cathedral Church, Hospital, Parsonage, Vicarage or other Spiritual Promotion, or pertaining to the same, or any of them, to any Person or Persons, Bodies Politick or Corporate, other than for Term of one and twenty Years, or three Lives, in Manner and Form as is mentioned in the said Act, should be utterly void and of none Effect. Be it enacted and declared by the Authority of this present Parliament, That these Words, (Master or Guardian,) of any Hospital mentioned in the said former Act, were intended and meant of all Hospitals, *Maison Dieu*s. Beadhouses, and other Houses ordained for the Sustentation or Relief of the Poor, and so shall be expounded, declared and taken for ever.

18 Elizabeth, c. 11.—An Act for Explanation of the Statutes, intituled, Against defeating of Dilapidations, and against Leases to be made of Spiritual Promotions in some respects.

WHEREAS by a Statute made in a Parliament holden at Westminster the second Day of April in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of our most gracious Sovereign Lady, intituled, An Act against fraudulent Gifts, to the Intent to defeat Dilapidations of Ecclesiastical Livings, and for Leases to be granted by Collegiate Churches, It was amongst other Things enacted by the Authority of Parliament, That from thenceforth all Leases, Gifts, Grants, Feoffments, Conveyances or Estates to be made, had, done or suffered, by any Master and Fellows of any College, or by any Dean and Chapter of any Cathedral or Collegiate Church, Master or Guardian of any Hospital, Parson, Vicar or any other having any Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Living, or any Houses, Lands, Tithes, Tenements or other Hereditaments, being any Parcel of the Possessions of any such College, Cathedral Church, Chapter, Hospital, Parsonage, Vicarage or other Spiritual Promotion, or any ways appertaining or belonging to the same, or of any of them, to any Person or Persons, Bodies Politick or Corporate ; other than for the Term of twenty-one Years or three Lives, from the Time of any such Lease or Grant shall be made or granted, whereupon the accustomed yearly Rent or more shall be reserved and payable yearly during the said Term ; shall be utterly void and of none Effect, to all Intents, Constructions and Purposes ; any Law, Custom, or Usage to the contrary notwithstanding, as in the said Act more plainly appeareth :

A Lease or other Conveyance to be made of any Spiritual Living, whereof there is a Lease in Being, not to be determined within three Years, and all Bonds and Covenants for renewing thereof, shall be void, &c. A Rehearsal of the Statute of 13 Eliz. c. 10, touching Assurances made by Spiritual Persons of their Lands, Tithes, &c.

II. Sithence the making of which said Estatute, divers of the said Ecclesiastical and Spiritual Persons and others, having Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Livings, have from Time to Time made Leases for the Term of twenty-one Years or three Lives, long before the Expiration of the former Years, contrary to the true Meaning and Intent of the said Statute : Be it therefore enacted by this present Parliament, That all Leases hereafter to be made by any of the said Ecclesiastical, Spiritual or Collegiate Persons or others, of any their said Ecclesiastical, Spiritual or Collegiate Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, whereof any former Lease for Years is in Being, not to be expired, surrendered (1) or ended within three Years next after the making of any such new Lease, shall be void, frustrate and of none Effect ; (2) any Law, Usage or Custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

13 El. c. 10.

III. And be it likewise enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That all and every Bond and Covenant whatsoever hereafter to be made, for renewing or making of any Lease or Leases, contrary to the true Intent of this Act, or of the said Act made in the said thirteenth Year, shall be utterly void; any Law, Statute, Ordinance or other Thing whatsoever to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

IV. Provided always, That this Act, nor any Thing therein contained, shall extend to be prejudicial to make frustrate or void any Lease or Leases heretofore made by any of the said Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Person or Persons or any of them, but that the same and every of them are of the like Force and Effect, as they or any of them were before the Making of this present Statute; this Act or any Thing therein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

V. And where Sir Thomas White, late Knight and Alderman of London, for Advancement of good Learning, hath founded one College in the University of Oxford, called St. John Baptist's College, and being seised of the Manor of Fishyde, alias Fifield, in the County of Berks, did, together with all other his Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, give and assure the said Manor, with the Appurtenances, to the President and Scholars of the said College forever: And nevertheless the said Sir Thomas White having then one Ralph White his Brother living, and sundry Kinamen, to whom, by Course of the Common Law, his Lands might have descended, did devise and order, and by the Statutes which he provided for the said House, and by Order of the now Visitor of the said College, it is ordained, That the said Manor of Fishyde, alias Fifield, with the Appurtenances, should be demised by the said President and Scholars for the Time being, to the said Ralph for the Term of ninety-nine Years, if the said Ralph should so long live, and so it is intended, that from Heir Male to Heir Male of the said Sir Thomas White, new Devises should from Time to Time be made of the said Manor with the Appurtenances, to every such Heir Male successively for the Term of ninety-nine Years, if such Heir Male should so long live, yielding to the said President and Scholars for the Time being, such Rent as now is reserved, with such further Covenants and Conditions, as by the said Sir Thomas White or Visitor is agreed and appointed:

VI. And where since the Decease of the said Sir Thomas White, the said Assurances to the said President and Scholars, in all, or the most Part of the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments of the said Founder, were found in some Respect imperfect and insufficient in Law, and that thereupon the said Ralph White, to whom the Advantage of such Imperfection came by Law, did nevertheless take no such Advantage, but did willingly make perfect the said Assurances according to the true Meaning of the said Sir Thomas White his Brother, accepting only one Lease of the said Manor, in such Sort as by the said Visitor was appointed, with the Copyholds and other Appurtenances of the said Manor: For Remedy whereof be it enacted, That the President and Scholars of the said College may from Time to Time demise the said Manor, Copyholds and other Appurtenances to every Heir Male of the said Sir Thomas White successively, according to the Form of Lease thereof already made to the said Ralph, and that every such Lease so to be made, and every Covenant made or to be made for the Performance of the same, shall be good in Law, as if the said Act made in the said thirteenth Year had never been had nor made; any Thing in the said Act made in the said thirteenth Year, or any other Act or Matter whatsoever to the contrary notwithstanding.

‘ VII. And whereas in one other Statute made in the said thirteenth Year of her Majesty, intituled, An Act touching Leases of Benefices, and other Ecclesiastical Livings with Cure, one Clause is contained, ‘ That the Incumbent offending the Purport of the said Statute shall for the same lose one Year’s Profit of his said Benefice, to be distributed by the Ordinary among the Poor of the Parish, as by the said Branch in the said last recited Statute appeareth :’ Be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That after Complaint made to the Ordinary, and Sentence given upon any Offence committed by the Incumbent, whereby he shall or ought to lose one Year’s Profit of his Benefice as afore shewed, that the Ordinary within two Months after such Sentence given, and Request to him made by the Churchwardens of the said Parish or one of them, shall grant the Sequestration of such Profits to such Inhabitant or Inhabitants within the Parish where such Benefice shall be, as to him shall seem meet and convenient; and upon Default therein by the Ordinary, that it may and shall be lawful to every Parishioner where the Benefice is, to retain and keep his or their Tithes, and likewise for the Churchwardens of the said Parish, to enter and take the Profits of the Glebe Lands, and other Rents and Duties of every such Benefice, to be employed to the Use of the Poor as aforesaid, until such Time as Sequestration shall be committed by the Ordinary, and then as well the Churchwardens as the Parishioners, to yield Account of, and make Payment to him or them to whom such Sequestration shall be committed; and that he or they to whom such Sequestration shall be committed from Time to Time shall justly and truly employ and bestow the said Profits, or the true and just Value thereof, without Fraud or Guile, to such Uses as by the said Statute is limited and appointed, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the double Value of such withheld Profits, to be recovered in the Ecclesiastical Court by the Poor of the said Parish. 4 Co. 120. 39 & 40 George III. c. 41.—An Act for explaining and amending several Acts, made in the thirty-second Year of King HENRY the Eighth, and the first, thirteenth, and fourteenth Years of the Reign of Queen ELIZABETH, so far as respects Leases granted by Archbishops, Bishops, Masters and Fellows of Colleges, Deans and Chapters of Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, Masters and Guardians of Hospitals, and others having any Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Living or Promotion.

WHEREAS Doubts have arisen whether Archbishops, Bishops, Masters and Fellows of Colleges, Deans and Chapters of Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, Masters and Guardians of Hospitals, and others having any Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Living or Promotion, who are by several Acts, passed in the Reigns of their late Majesties King HENRY the Eighth and Queen ELIZABETH, restrained from granting any Leases of their Estates whereon the accustomed yearly Rent is not reserved, can lawfully grant separate Leases of Parts of Lands or Tenements which have been usually demised by one Lease and under one Rent, reserving on the several Parts so demised less than the Rent anciently reserved on the Demise of the Whole, though the Aggregate Amount of the Rents so reserved on such separate Demises should be equal to or exceed the Amount of the annual accustomed Rent for the Whole: And whereas many such separate Leases have been granted, and great Inconvenience may arise to Persons claiming under such Leases, if such Leases should not be deemed valid and effectual, in case the Amount of the Rent anciently reserved on Demises of the Whole shall appear to have been reserved on the separate Demises of the different Parts; and the Power of dividing Tenements, anciently so demised, in one Parcel at one Rent, may in many Cases tend to improve the Value of the Estates belonging to such Ecclesiastical Persons and Bodies respectively, as well as to the Benefit of their Lessees and the Publick; May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That in all Cases where any Honours, Castles, Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tythes, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, being Parcel of the Possessions of any Archbishop, Bishop, Master and Fellows, Dean and Chapter, Master or Guardian of any Hospital, or any other Person or Persons, or Body or Bodies Politick or Corporate, having any Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Living or Promotion, and having been anciently or accustomedly demised by one Lease under one Rent, or divers Rents issuing out of the Whole, now are or shall hereafter be demised by several Leases to one or several Persons under an apportioned or several Rents, or where a Part only of such Honours, Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tythes, Tenements, or other Hereditaments as last mentioned, are or shall be demised by a separate Lease or Leases, under a less Rent or less Rents than was or were accustomedly reserved for the Whole by such former Lease, and the Residue thereof is or shall be retained in the Possession or Occupation of the Lessor or Lessors, the several and distinct Rents reserved on the separate Demises of the several specifick Parts thereof comprised in and demised by such several Leases, shall be deemed and taken to be the ancient and accustomed Rents for such specifick Parts respectively, within the Intent and Meaning of an Act, passed in the thirty-second Year of the Reign of his late Majesty King HENRY the Eighth, intituled, Lessees to enjoy the Farm against the Tenants in Tail; and of an Act, passed in the first Year of the Reign of her late Majesty Queen ELIZABETH, intituled, An Act giving Authority to the Queen's Majesty, upon the Avoidance of any Archbishop or Bishop, to take into her Hands certain of the Temporal Possessions thereof, recompensing the same with Parsonages impropriate, and Tythes; and of another Act, passed in the thirteenth Year of the same Queen, intituled, Fraudulent Deeds made by Spiritual Persons, to defeat their Successors of Remedy for Dilapidations, shall be void, &c. and of another Act, passed in the fourteenth Year of the Reign of the same Queen, intituled, An Act for the Continuation, Explanation, perfecting, and enlarging of divers Statutes.

Demise made before passing this Act not valid, unless the Rents reserved be equal to or more than the Rents accustomedly reserved, &c.

II. Provided always, That Nothing herein contained shall extend to confirm or render valid any Demise made before the passing of this Act, unless the several Rents reserved upon the separate Demises of separate Parts of Tenements, theretofore accustomedly demised under one entire Lease, shall be equal to or more than the Rent or Rents theretofore accustomedly reserved on the entire Demise of the Whole, or in case the Whole should not be demised, but Part reserved in the Possession of the Lessor or Lessors, unless the Rents reserved on the Parts demised should be so far equal to or more than the whole Amount of the ancient Rent or Rents, that the Part not demised should be sufficient to answer the Difference.

Where the Whole of such Premises shall in future be demised in Parts, the aggregate Rents reserved shall not be less than the old accustomed Rent, and so in Proportion where a Part shall be retained in Possession by the Lessor.

III. Provided also, That where the Whole of any such Honours, Castles, Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tythes, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, accustomedly demised by one Lease, shall be demised in Parts by several Leases, after the passing of this Act, the aggregate Amount of the several Rents which shall be reserved by such separate Leases, be not less than the old accustomed Rent or Rents theretofore reserved by such entire Lease; and that where a Part only shall be so demised by any such separate Lease, and the Residue shall be retained in the Possession of the Lessor or Lessors, the Rent or Rents to be reserved by such separate Lease or Leases, shall not be less in Proportion to the Fine or Fines to be received on granting such Lease or Leases, than the Rent or Rents accustomed to be reserved for the Whole of the said Premises, was in Proportion to the Fine received on granting the last entire Lease.

No greater Proportion of the accustomed Rent shall be reserved by any separate Lease than the Part of the Premises demised will bear.

Where any specifick thing shall have been reserved by the Lessor, it may be charged on a competent Part of the Premises, &c.

IV. Provided also, That no greater Proportion of the accustomed Rent be reserved by any separate Lease hereby confirmed or allowed to be granted, than the Part of the Premises thereby severally demised will reasonably bear and afford a competent Security for.

V. Provided also, That where any specifick Thing, incapable of Division or Apportionment shall have been reserved or made payable to the Lessor or Lessors, his or their Heirs or Successors, either by Way of Rent, or by any Covenant or Agreement contained in any such entire Lease, the same may be wholly reserved and made payable out of a competent Part of such Lands or Tenements demised by any such several Lease as aforesaid; and in case, in any Lease already granted, and intended hereby to be confirmed, any such Provision shall appear to have been made for the Payment and Delivery of any such Sum or Sums of Money, Stipends, Augmentations, or other Things as aforesaid, the same shall be deemed and taken to have been lawfully made, in case the Lands and Tenements charged therewith shall be of a greater annual Value than the Payment or other Things so charged, exclusive of the Rent or other annual Payment reserved to the Lessor or Lessors.

VI. Provided further, that Nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize or confirm any Lease whereon no annual Rent is or shall be reserved to the Lessor or Lessors, his or their Successors or Assigns.

VII. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That this Act, or any Thing herein contained, shall not authorize the Reservation or Payment of any Rent or Rents upon any such several Lease made or to be made under Authority of this Act, by any Master, Provost, President, Warden, Dean, Governor, Rector, or Chief Ruler of any College, Cathedral Church, Hall or House of Learning, in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, or by the Warden or other Head Officer of the Colleges of Winchester and Eton, in any other Manner or Proportions than is required by an Act passed in the eighteenth Year of the Reign of her said late Majesty Queen ELIZABETH, intituled, An Act for the Maintenance of the Colleges in the Universities, and of Winchester and Eton.

VIII. Provided also, That where any such accustomedly entire Leases as aforesaid shall have usually contained Covenants on the Part of the Lessee or Lessees for the Payment or Delivery, or shall have in any other Manner subjected or charged such Lessee or Lessees to or with the Payment or Delivery, of any Sum or Sums of Money, Stipend, Augmentation, or other Thing, to or for the Use of any Vicar, Curate, Schoolmaster, or other Person or Persons, other than and besides the Lessor or Lessors, and his or their Heirs or Successors, all or any such Leases as shall hereafter be granted of the same Lands or Tenements in Severalty as aforesaid, shall and may lawfully provide for the future Payment and Delivery of such Sum or Sums of Money, Stipends, Augmentations, or other Things, by and out of any Part or Parts of the Lands or Tenements accustomedly charged therewith, not being of less annual Value than three Times the Amount of the Payment so to be charged thereon, exclusive of the Proportion of Rent or other annual Payments to be reserved to the Lessor or Lessors.

IX. Provided always, That Nothing in this Act shall extend to establish or confirm the Claim of any Vicar, Curate, Schoolmaster, or other Person or Persons, to any such Sum or Sums, Salary, Stipend, or other Thing as aforesaid, the Payment and Continuance whereof shall depend only on the Will of the Person or Persons, or Body or Bodies Politick or Corporate, granting or renewing such Lease or Leases respectively.

X. And be it further enacted, That where any Person or Persons now holding, or who shall hereafter hold, any such Lease or Leases as in this Act mentioned, shall or may hold the same, or any specifick Part of the Lands or Tenements thereby demised, in Trust for any other Person or Persons, or for any Body or Bodies Politick or Corporate, or shall have granted any Under Lease or Under Leases of any specifick Part or Parts of his, her, or their respective Holdings, and be under any Covenant or Engagement for Renewal thereof, to any other Person or Persons, Body or Bodies Politick or Corporate, when and as often as his, her, or their own Lease or Leases shall be renewed, it shall and may be lawful for such Person or Persons as first mentioned, at any Time or Times after the passing of this Act, to surrender his, her, or their Lease or Leases, in order that separate and distinct Leases may be granted by the original Lessor or Lessors of such specifick Parts of the same Premises as shall have been held in Trust, or subject to such Covenants or Engagements for Renewal as aforesaid, to the respective Under Lessees and Cestuique Trusts, upon fair and reasonable Terms, subject to an Apportionment of the accustomed

Not to authorize the Reservation of any Rent on any such Lease made by any Master, &c. of any College in the Universities, &c. in any other Manner than is required by 18 Eliz. c. 6.

Where Payments have been reserved to Vicars, &c. other than the Lessors Provision shall be made in Leases for the future Payment thereof out of Premises of three Times the annual Value, exclusive of the Rent.

Not to confirm the Claim of any Vicar, &c. to such Payment, where it depends only on the Will of the Person granting or renewing the Lease.

• This Statute, after having been disregarded from the passing of the Statute of Uses, 27 Hen. VIII. for a Period of two Centuries and a Half, was relied upon in Argument as applicable to Terms of Years, in the Case of Goodtitle v. Jones, 7 T. R. 47. It was held not to apply to the Circumstances of that Case; but in Blake v. Foster, 8 T. R. 494, it was referred to by Lawrence, J. as still in Force. Mr. Sugden has, in a Note to Gilbert on Uses and Trusts, p. 67. adduced very satisfactory Reasons for holding that it has got now any Operation whatever.

WHERE by the Common Laws of this Realm, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments be not devisable by Testament, nor ought to be transferred from one to another, but by solemn Livery and Seisin, Matter of Record, Writing sufficient made bona fide, without Covin or Fraud; yet nevertheless divers and sundry Imaginations, subtile Inventions and Practices have been used, whereby the

(1) It is not the Editor's Intention to enter into a Dissertation upon the extensive System of Law which has arisen from the present Statute, and which forms one of the most important Branches of the Doctrine of real Property.

The general Doctrines arising from the Statute are exhibited in Lord Bacon's Reading on the Statute—in Gilbert's Law of Uses and Trusts—Mr. Sander's Treatise on the same Subject—Mr. Cruise's Chapters on those Subjects in his Digest of the Law of Conveyances, and which are also published in a separate Form—Mr. Sugden's Treatise on the Law of Powers. The Notes of the Gentleman last mentioned have given great Value to his Edition of Gilbert; but it certainly would have been more satisfactory to the present Annotator, if, in Lieu of that Edition, he had presented the Public with an original Work upon the Subject, according to his own Arrangement, availing himself of the Work which he has edited as supplying a valuable Repertory of Materials.

For a less extensive View of the Subject, it is impossible that any Thing could be offered more satisfactory than the Information contained in Blackstone's Commentaries, vol. II. ch. 20. p. 3, 7.

The well-known Observation that a Statute made upon great Deliberation, and introduced in the most solemn Manner, has had little other Effect than to make a slight Alteration in the formal Words of a Conveyance. Vaughan 50. 1 Atk. 591. 2 Bl. Com. 336, is certainly not quite warranted by the Fact, as it is manifest, that in Consequence of the Statute, many Modifications of Real Property have been introduced for the Convenience of Families, of which the Common Law was not susceptible; and how little soever the Retention of what was formerly known by the Name of Uses, under the substituted Appellation of Trusts, may have been warranted, upon the true Principles of judicial Construction, it certainly has been attended in many Respects with considerable practical Convenience.

One of the most important Questions, with Relation to the Doctrine of Uses, is upon the Effect of a Limitation to such Uses as a Party shall appoint, and in Default of Appointment; and in the mean Time until Appointment to himself and his Heirs, with Respect to the Claim of Dower against the Appointee under the Power. The great Weight of professional and judicial Opinion, is certainly in Favour of the Validity of the Appointment, as opposed to the Claim of Dower;—the Discussion on this Point by Lord Eldon, in the Case of Maundrell v. Maundrell, 10 Ves. 246, would seem to preclude all reasonable Hesitation upon the Question; but from a Deference to other Opinions which had been incidentally thrown out to the contrary, his Lordship concluded with treating it as a Question still open to Enquiry; and this Mode of Conveyancing, which was formerly very general, has, from the

 ‘ and Testaments, sometime made by nude parole and Words, some‘ time by Signs and Tokens, and sometime by Writing, and for the Doubts which have been suggested respecting it, entirely given Way to a Limitation with the Intervention of a Trustee, by which the Right of Dower is absolutely prevented.

Nothing certainly can be more striking than the Inconsistency of the Doctrine which subjects Trust Estates to the Right by Courtesy, while it exempts them from the Claim of the Dower. The following Observations of Lord Redesdale, in D’Arcy v. Blake, 2 Scholes & Lefroy, 388, seem to give the true Account of the Origin of the Distinction: “The Difficulty in which the Courts of Equity have been involved, with Respect to Dower, I apprehend originally arose thus: they had assumed as a Principle in acting upon Trusts, to follow the Law; and according to this Principle, they ought in all Cases where Rights attached as legal Estates, to have attached the same Rights upon Trusts; and Consequently to have given Dower of an equitable Estate. It was found, however, that in Cases of Dower, this Principle, if pursued to the utmost, would affect the Titles to a large Proportion of Estates in the Country, for that Parties had been acting on the Footing of Dower upon a contrary Principle, and had supposed, that by the Creation of a Trust, the Right of Dower would be prevented from attaching. Many Persons had purchased under this Idea; and the Country would have been thrown into the utmost Confusion, if Courts of Equity had followed their general Rule with Respect to Trusts in the Cases of Dower. But the same Objection did not apply to Tenancy by the Courtesy; for no Person would purchase an Estate subject to the Tenancy by the Courtesy, without the Concurrence of the Person in whom that Right was vested.”

The Consequence of adopting the present Mode of Conveyancing, in Preference to that first mentioned, has perhaps not been sufficiently attended to, with Respect to its Influence on the Comforts of Families, and the fair Expectations of Persons engaged in Marriage; for although a Freedom of Disposition is an important Object in the Acquisition of Property, the affording to a Widow the original Provision of the Law, when the Husband has shewn no Intention to the Contrary, would be much more Beneficial to the Community than the mere Advantage to the Heir; (a Person probably unknown to his Ancestor) upon the opposite System. Considering the Reasonableness of the Provision itself on the one Hand, and the Disadvantage which arises from rendering the Right to that Provision so absolute as not to be subject to the Controul of the Owner of the Property—and the consequent Expedients leading to an absolute Deprivation of the Right, on the other—the Subject seems to be fairly worthy of legislative Attention; and the Editor submits that it would be very Beneficial to provide, that in all Cases it should be lawful for any Person seised of an Estate in Fee, to dispose thereof; and that the same should be subject to all his Debts and Charges, free from any Claim of Dower, with the Exception of Estates to which the Title shall arise by Descent or Devise, or Marriage Settlement during the Coverture; and by way of Compensation, to admit Widows to their Dower of Trust Estates, subject to any Dispositions of the Husband. Perhaps it might not be an injudicious Addition (although the Observation does not arise immediately out of the Subject which is properly before me) to extend the Benefit of Dower and Courtesy to the Cases of Freehold Leases; and to dispense with the Necessity of having Issue as a Condition for Tenancy by the Courtesy.

The Power of a Party being only Tenant for Life by a wrongful Conveyance, such is a Fine or Feoffment to acquire an absolute Title to the Inheritance to the Prejudice of those who may be evidently entitled to ulterior Intents, is certainly no very desirable Ingredient of our legal System: and in all Cases, is the mere Result of a Deficiency of Style in framing the Instruments under which the Estate is derived: this Power does not exist with Respect to Trust or Copyhold Estates, and I apprehend that it would be an Improvement in the Law to dispense with the Services of the Parties intrusted with the imaginary Duties of “making Entries, and bringing Actions as Occasion shall require,” for the Purpose of supporting contingent Remainders; by a general Provision, that no Estate or Interest in Remainder should be affected or prejudiced by any Fine, Feoffment, or other wrongful Act of Tenant for Life, or by any Union of the Tenancy for Life with the ulterior Reversion. This Principle was acted upon by Statute 10 & 11 W. 3. c. 16. to enable posthumous Children to take Estates as if born in their Parents’ Life Time; (ante Class I No. 22) previous to which a Limitation to Trustees was necessary for the Preservation of an intermediate Freehold; and it is impossible to suppose that any Prejudice can arise from an Alteration of the Law which will have the Effect of preventing the Intentions of the Party from whom the Property is derived, being defeated in Consequence of the Omission of a mere technical Expression. Besides the general Mischief already alluded to, against which such a Provision would afford a Remedy, the Mischief of the Power of Devise by Tenant in Remainder being defeated by a Fine of the preceding Tenant for Life, would be effectually obviated.

The Legislature has, in the Statutes forming one of the preceding Classes, (Vide Class VI.) applied a Remedy to the Inconvenience arising from Estates in Trust being vested in Infants or Lunatics. It would be a very beneficial Extension of the same Principle to provide for the Case of the Absence or Uncertainty of the Person in whom such Trust Estates were vested, by enabling Courts of Equity, upon Petition to authorize a proper Officer to execute a Conveyance of the Trust Estate. This Subject might require distinct Consideration as applied to the Cases of mere Trusts as Instruments of Conveyancing, and Trusts attended with actual Confidence in the Individuals; but I apprehend, that considerable Benefit, unaccompanied with any Inconvenience, would arise from making the Provision general.

The Principle of such a Provision has been already applied by the Legislature to the Case of personal Estates, by Stat. 36 Geo. III. c. 90, with Respect to Money in the Funds: and I find that by the Irish Statute 28 Geo. III. c. 45. Provisions of the Nature here suggested, have been actually adopted. 2 Gabbett, 358.

(2) The King or Queen Regent cannot be seized to a Use—Gilb. [6] 11; nor the Queen Consort.—Bac. Uses 59. And a Corporation cannot take by Conveyance to the Use of another; but it seems that they may pass their own Estates by Conveyances operating only by the Statute of Uses—as by the common Conveyance of Lease by way of Bargain and Sale, and Release; and that the usual Precautions of conveying by Lease at Common Law, and actual Entry, as the Foundation of a Release, or by Feoffment, are not necessary. See Sug. Note Gilb. [5].

(3) By Force of this Word, which only extends to Freehold Interests, the Statute does not affect Assignments of Terms of Years, although a Term may be newly created by Conveyance operating under the Statute, as is evident from the common Case of a Bargain and Sale for a Year. See Gilb [79]. The Purpose of vesting a Term of Years in a Person already possessed thereof with others as Joint-Tenants, (as in the usual Case of a Change of Trustees for Public Institutions) can only be accomplished by a previous Assignment to a third Person, and from such Person to the original Assignor in Conjunction with others. This double Transfer only occasions the Expence of an additional and very short Deed, for the Re transfer is invariably made by Indorsement.—Sug. Gilb. [78] 150.

(6) The following Note upon this Subject is given by Mr. Sugden, in Gilbert's Law of Uses and Trusts, 193, [86.]—"The Statute has two Provisions for the Execution of Rents:—the first, for Rents in case limited to Uses, which are executed in the same Manner as Uses of corporeal Hereditaments;—the other, for Rents limited in Use out of the Seisin in the Land of some other Person, e. g. where any Person stands seised of any Lands, to the Use that some other Person may receive a Rent thereout, which the Statute executes in the same Manner as if a sufficient Grant had been made to him by the Person seised to the Use, and gives the Cestui que Use a Power of Distress; see 1 Mod. 225; 2 Mod. 138. This Clause, it has been held, relates as well to Rents limited since the Statute, as to Rents then in case, Dy. 362, b, pl. 21; Danby v. Conyers; 1 And. 51; Bendl. 315, pl. 299; therefore if Lands be conveyed to A and his Heirs, to the Use that B and his Heirs may receive a given Rent, the Use will be executed by the Statute; but any ulterior Use would be void. Where a Rent is intended to be limited to Uses in strict Settlement, it is desirable to first grant it to a Stranger in Fee, to the Intent that he may re-grant it to the intended Uses; see Mr. Butler's n. to Co. Litt. 271, b; which avoids any Question, whether distinct Rents are granted; see Whitfield v. Fausset, 1 Ves. 387: or it may be granted to a Stranger to the Uses at once; see Bascawen v. Cook, 1 Mod. 225; Cook v. Heile, 2 Mod. 138. S. C.; although if limited by Way of Use to the Stranger, the ulterior intended Uses would be mere Trusts; see Chaplin v. Chaplin, 3 P. Wms. 229.

"The Meaning of the Passage in the Text is, that a Rent cannot be granted by a Bargain and Sale; that is, that a mere Bargain and Sale of a new Rent would be void; but upon a Conveyance of the Estate itself by Bargain and Sale, a Rent may be limited out of the Estate created; for although a Use had only passed by the Common Law, yet now by the Statute, the Use and Possession pass together, and so it amounts to a Grant of the Land itself. This was adjudged in Weeks v. Tillard, Co. Litt. 144, a; Cro. Eliz. 595; and see Pottenham's Case, 1 And. 18; and the Reservation, as if out of the

of this Realm; this Act, or any Law or Provision made to the contrary thereof notwithstanding. (7)

VII. Provided alway, That if any such Woman be lawfully expelled or evicted from her said Jointer, or from any Part thereof, without any Fraud or Covin, by lawful Entry, Action, or by Discontinuance of her Husband, then every such Woman shall be endowed of as much of the Residue of her Husband's Tenements or Hereditaments, whereof she was before dowable, as the same Lands and Tenements so evicted and expelled shall amount or extend unto.

VIII. Provided also, That this Act, nor any Thing therein contained or expressed, extend or be in any wise hurtful or prejudicial to any Woman or Women heretofore being married, of, for or concerning such Right, Title, Use, Interest or Possession, as they or any of them have, claim or pretend to have for her or their Jointer or Estate executed by the Statute, will not be deemed a Use upon a Use. Cromwell's Case, post 200; Cholmley's Case, 2 Rep. 54, a; 2 Inst. 673; Cro. Eliz. 595. This Construction appears to have depended on that Clause in the Act, which executes Rents where any Person is seised of Land, to the Intent that another may have a Rent; and on the same Principle in the Case of Revitt v. Godson, 1 Jo. 179, where there was a Covenant to stand seised, in Consideration of natural Love, of certain Lands, to the Use of the Covenantor for Life, with Remainders over, and to the Intent that his Son should have a Rent during his Father's Life, it was decided by Dodridge, Jones, and Whitlock, that by the Clause in 27 H. 8, where any one was seised to the Intent that another should have a Rent, the Son in that Case had a good Rent as well upon a Covenant as a Feoffment, so if a Bargain and Sale was rendering Rent, that they said was within the Clause, for which they referred to Cromwell's Case. At first Sight these Cases appear to establish that a Rent may be newly granted by a Bargain and Sale, or Covenant to stand seised; but they merely decided that a Rent may be limited or reserved out of an Estate actually vested by either of those Conveyances, although they do not operate by Transmutation of Possession.

A new Rent may, like the Estate itself, be limited to commence in futuro within the Line of Perpetuity, because it hath no Existence until that Time, and so there is no Suspension of any Freehold; but it is otherwise where an old Rent is granted for Life, or in Fee, to commence in futuro, for there the Grant is void, because there is a Rent in esse, and so the Freehold of that Rent will be suspended, and therefore such Grant is void; Osmere v. Sheafe, Carth. 307; and see Rex v. Kemp, 2 Salk. 465, 4th Resol.

It may still be observed, that although a mere Tenancy in Tail in Land be created, and the Reversion be left in the Donor, yet a Recovery by the Tenant in Tail will bar as well the Estate Tail as the Reversion over; but a bare Limitation of a Rent upon its Creation to one in Tail, without a Remainder over in Fee, will not enable the Donee to acquire more than a base Fee in the Rent, determinable upon Failure of the Issue; see Smith v. Farnaby, 2 Keb. 29. 55, 84; Weeks v. Peach, 2 Lutw. 1218; 2 Salk. 557; Chaplin v. Chaplin, 3 P. Wms 229.

For the Nature of an Estate in a Rent in Fee, with Powers of Distress and Entry, see Havergill v. Hare, Cro. Jac. 510."

By analogy to this Rule, they may also be barred by an equitable Jointure; but they will not, like Adults, be bound by a precarious Provision. It must, to be effectual, although an equitable Provision, be as certain a Provision as is required to operate as a legal Bar; Caruthers v. Carruthers, 4 Bro. C. C. 500; Smith v. Smith, 5 Ves. * For the general Doctrines established with Regard to this Act, I shall only refer to the Authorities mentioned in the preliminary Note to the preceding Number. But think it proper more particularly to mention the Opinion maintained by Mr. Fearn, in his Reading on the present Statute inserted in his posthumous Works,—that a Rent or Reversion, which would not pass at Common Law, by mere Grant without Attornment, cannot now pass by Grant, although the Necessity of Attornment is taken away by Stat. 4 Anne, c. 16, [ante Class I. No. 23.]—and that it is a Conveyance of such Interest as must be made either by Lease and Release, or by Bargain and Sale inrolled. This Opinion appears to be evidently erroneous, and is controverted by Mr. Sanders, in his Treatise on Uses, vol 2, p 39, and by Mr. Sugden, in his Notes to Gilbert, [105] 226. The following Summary of the Question is extracted from the Note just mentioned. “The true State of the Law seems to be simply this: the Statute of Inrolments only extended to proper Bargains and Sales—a Grant of a Reversion was a Common Law Conveyance, and not within the Purview of it; because the Necessity of Attornment, which then existed, was equivalent to Livery of Seisin, where the Estate was in Possession. The Statute of Anne took away the Necessity of Attornment to a Grant of a Reversion, but did not affect the Operation of the Grant itself, which still, as formerly, will, as a Common Law Conveyance, transfer the Reversion, and will now be sufficient, without any Attornment of the Tenants.

54 George III. c. 168.—An Act to amend the Law respecting the Attestation of Instruments of Appointment and Revocation, made in Exercise of certain Powers in Deeds, Wills and other Instruments.*

[30th July 1814.]

WHEREAS Powers, Authorities and Trusts are in many Cases required to be executed by Deeds or Instruments signed by or under the Hands of the Persons executing the same, or Persons consenting to or directing Acts respecting such Powers, Authorities and Trusts are frequently required to signify such Consent or Direction by Deeds or Instruments signed by them, or under their Hands, and it has been the ordinary Practice, in the Memorandum of Attestation of Deeds, to express the Facts of Sealing and Delivery only: And whereas Doubts have arisen respecting the Validity of Deeds or Instruments so attested and requiring Signature, although the same may have been actually signed by the Persons whose Signature is required thereto, and the Titles of many Purchasers, and of other Persons claiming under such Instruments may be defective for want of the Insertion of the Word "Signed," or some Word to that Effect, in the Memorandum of Attestation thereof: And whereas it is expedient that the Titles of Purchasers and other Persons should not be disturbed, merely on account of the Omission to express the Fact of Signature in the Memorandum of Attestation of any such Deed or other Instrument already made: May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That every Deed or other Instrument, already made with the Intention to exercise any Power, Authority or Trust, or to signify the Consent or Direction of any Person whose Consent or Direction may be necessary to be so signified, shall (if duly signed and executed and in other Respects duly attested) be from the Date thereof, and so as to establish derivative Titles, if any, of the same Validity and Effect, and so other, at Law and in Equity, and proveable in like Manner, as if a Memorandum of Attestation of Signature, or being under Hand, had been subscribed by the Witness or Witnesses thereto; and the Attestation of the Witness or Witnesses thereto, expressing the Fact of sealing, or of Sealing and Delivery, without expressing the Fact of Signing or any other Form of Attestation, shall not exclude the Proof or the Presumption of Signature.

II. And be it enacted, That this Act shall extend and be construed to extend to all Deeds and other Instruments already made in Exercise of Powers, Authorities and Trusts, of Sale, Exchange, Partition, Selection, Nomination, Discretion, Leasing, Jointure, raising Portions, and other Charges, and for appointing new Trusts and other Powers, Authorities and Trusts whatsoever, or made for evidencing Assent, Consent, Request, Direction, or any other like Circumstance in Reference to the Execution of any such Power, Authorities or Trusts.

III. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That this Act shall not extend nor be construed to extend, to revive or give Effect to any Appointment, Revocation or other Assurance heretofore made, as far as the same has been avoided by Entry or Claim, or by Suit at Law or in Equity, or by any other legal or equitable Means whatsoever; nor shall this Act affect or prejudice any Suit at Law or in Equity, now depending, for avoiding any Deed or other Instrument of Appointment, Revocation or Assurance.

IV. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That if any Person who has made any such Entry or Claim, or who has brought any such Suit, or has defended any Suit, for the Purpose of avoiding any such Appointment, Revocation or other Assurance, should retain the Benefit of the same Entry, Claim, Suit or Defence, within Six Calendar Months next after the passing of this Act, then such Entry or Claim, or Suit or Defence, shall not prejudice or avoid any such Appointment, Revocation or other Assurance, but every such Appointment, Revocation or other Assurance shall be and remain in Force under this Act as if no such Entry or Claim had been made, or Suit brought or defended.

V. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to affect any Question respecting any Instrument not within the Provisions of this Act, and which may want any Formality in the Attestation of any Witness or Witnesses thereto, but such Instrument shall have the same Force and Effect as it might have had if this Act had not been made; any Thing in this Act contained notwithstanding.

Also by Authority of the said Parliament, it is ordained, established, and enacted, That all such Persons which be Covert, not Parties to the Fine, and every Person being within Age, in Prison, or out of this Realm, or not of whole Memory, at the Time of the said Fines levied and engrossed, by this Act of Parliament before excepted, saving any Right or Title, or Cause of Action to any of the said Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments, that they or their Heirs take their said Actions, or lawful Entry, according to their Right and Title, within Five Years next after that the said Persons come to be of full Age, out of Prison, unmarried, within this Land, and also become of whole Memory; and also sue the same Actions, and take their lawful Entry, and so pursue with Effect, according to the Law of the Realm of England.  That every Fine which shall be from henceforth levied in any of the King's Courts, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or other Possessions, after the Manner, Usage, and Form that Fines have been levied before the making of this Act before rehearsed, shall be of like Strength, Effect, and Authority, as Fines so levied be or were before the making of this Act; this Act, or any other Act, in this Parliament made, or to be made, notwithstanding. And that every Person shall be at his Liberty to levy any Fine hereafter, as he will himself at his Pleasure, after the Manner contained and ordained in and by this

4 Henry VII. c. 24.—How often a Fine levied in the Common Pleas shall be read and proclaimed, and who then shall be bound thereby.

4 Hen VII c. 24. ITEM, Where it was ordained in the Time of King EDWARD the First, by the Statute de Finibus, that Notes and Fines to be levied in the King's Court afore his Justices should be openly and solemnly read, and that Pleas in the mean Time should cease, and this to be done by two Days in the Week, after the Discretion of the Justices, as in the said Statute more plainly appeareth: The King our Sovereign Lord considereth, That Fines ought to be of the greatest Strength to avoid Strifes and Debates, and to be a final End and Conclusion; and of such Effect were taken afore a Statute made of Non-claim, and now is used to the contrary, to the universal Trouble of the King's Subjects, will therefore it be ordained, by the Advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in the said Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That after the ingrossing of every Fine to be levied after the Feast of Easter, that shall be in the Year of our Lord M.CCCC.XC. in the King's Court, afore his Justices of the Common Place, of any Lands, Tenements, or any other Hereditaments, the same Fine be openly and solemnly read and proclaimed in the same Court the same Term, and in three Terms then next following the same Ingrossing in the same Court, at four several Days in every Term; and in the same Time that it is so read and proclaimed, all Pleas do cease. And the said Proclamations so had and made, the said Fine to be a final End, and conclude as well Privies as Strangers to the same, except Women Covert (other than been Parties to the said Fine) and every Person then being within Age of xxi. Years, in Prison, or out of this Realm, or not of whole Mind at the Time of the said Fine levied, not Parties to such Fine; and saving to every Person or Persons, and to their Heirs, other than the Parties in the said Fine, such Right, Title, Claim, and Interest as they have to or in the said Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, the Time of such Fine ingrossed; so that they pursue their Title, Claim, or Interest, by Way of Action, or lawful Entry, within five Years next after the said Proclamations had and made: And also saving to all other Persons such Action, Right, Title, Claim, and Interest in or to the said Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, as first shall grow, remain, or descend, or come to them after the said

Fine ingrossed and Proclamation made, by Force of any Gift in the Tail, or by any other Cause or Matter had and made before the said Fine levied; so that they take their Action, or pursue their said Right and Title, according to the Law, within five Years next after such Action, Right, Title, Claim, or Interest to them accrued, descended, remained, fallen, or come: (1) And that the said Persons, and their Heirs, may have their said Action against the Pernor of the Profits of the said Lands and Tenements, and other Hereditaments, at the Time of the said Action to be taken: And if the same Persons, at the Time of such Action, Right, and Title accrued, descended, remained, or

(1) If a Tenant in Tail make a Feoffment, or Bargain and Sale, and the Feoffee or Bargainee levy a Fine, the Issue in Tail have five Years from the Death of the Tenant in Tail, as no Claim could be made by Tenant in Tail in his Life Time; but if the Tenant in Tail is disseised, the Time begins to run immediately from the Fine being levied; and the Time having run against the Ancestor, continues against the Issue in Tail. 3 Rep. 87. Plowden 374. Penyston v. Lyster, Cro. Eliz. 896. If Fine be levied by Tenant in Tail, the Party in Reversion or Remainder, has five Years from the Failure of the Issue in Tail. Plowden 374. T. Raym. 151.

If there be no Person intitled to claim at the Time of the Fine levied, the Person afterwards acquiring a Title, has five Years to make a Claim; therefore if A, being entitled to a Term of Years in Remainder, dies—and after the Right to the Term accrues in Possession, a Fine is levied, there being no Executor or Administrator of A, the Time only begins to run from the taking Administration. Stamford's Case, cited Cro. Jac. 61.

A Person having distinct Rights, and barred by Non-claim as to the One, is within the second Saving of the Statute as to the other, as if the Tenant for Life levy a Fine, and the Party in Remainder does not claim in Respect of the Forfeiture within five Years, he has five Years from the Death of the Tenant for Life; although the Words of the Statute are other Persons.—Mund. v. Tucker, Cro. Eliz. 254. 3 Rep. 78. b. [But notwithstanding this saving, it was held in B. R. that the Fine of Tenant for Life divests the remainder, and turns it to a Right which is not devisable. Goodright v. Forrester, 8 East, 552, affirmed in the Exchequer Chamber on a different Ground, mentioned infra.]

So if Lessee for Years make a Feoffment, and afterwards levy a Fine, the Pernor has five Years from the Expiration of the Term of Years. Whaley v. Mancroft, 1 Ventr. 241. T. Raym. 219;—and see Fermor's Case, 3 Rep. 77.

And. 176. Saunder v. Lord Annealey, 2 Scholes and Lefroy, 99.—but if it be not a new Right, but only the same Right which accrues a second time, the Saving does not apply, as if Tenant in Tail make a Lease which is void, and levy a Fine, and the Person entitled in Remainder do not enter within five Years after the Death of the Ancestor, he has not a new five Years after the Expiration of the Lease. Salvin v. Clerk, Cro. Car. 156. W. Jones, 11. The Cognizee of a second Statute has five Years from the Time of satisfaction of the first being entered on the Record. Deighton v. Grenville, Ventr. 333. 1 Sho. 36. Skinn. 260.

The Statute does not bar Bishops, Rectors, or Persons entitled to Lands in respect of Offices for Life; but each particular Person is bound by a Lapse of five Years in his own Time. Plowd. 538.

In the Case of Goodright v. Forrester, in the Exchequer Chamber, above referred to, 1 Taunt. 578, it was held, that if A, being Tenant for Life, with remainder to his own Executors for forty Years, levy a Fine;—and afterwards being entitled to the Reversion in Fee, devises to C for Life with Remainder to D, and C does not enter within five Years, from the Expiration of the Term of forty Years, D has not five Years from the Death of C, (supposing the Reversion devisable after the Fine) for that as B or his Heirs could not claim after five Years, he could not prolong the Time by the Limitations of his Will. It was held by the Court, that the Plaintiff's Title was that of the same Estate which B had at the Time of the Fine levied, and which first accrued before the Fine, and that the Plaintiff could not bring himself within the Saving as a Title did not first accrue to him after the Fine as a distinct original Title by matter after the Fine.

come unto them, be Covert de Baron, or within Age, in Prison, or out of this Land, or not of whole Mind, then it is ordained by the said Authority, That their Action, Right, and Title, be reserved and saved to them and their Heirs, unto the Time they come and be at their full Age of xxi. Years, out of Prison, within this Land, uncovered, and of whole Mind, so that they, or their Heirs, take their said Actions, or their lawful Entry, according to their Right and Title, within five Years next after that they come and be at their full Age, out of Prison, within this Land, uncovered, and of whole Mind, and the same Actions pursue, or other lawful Entry take, according to the Law. (2) And also it is ordained by the Authority aforesaid, That all such Persons as be Covert de Baron, not Party to the Fine, and every Person being within Age of xxi. Years, in Prison, or out of this Land, or not of whole Mind, at the Time of the said Fines levied and ingrossed, and by this said Act afore except, having any Right or Title, or Cause of Action, to any of the said Lands and other Hereditaments, that they, or their Heirs, inheritable to the same, take their said Actions or lawful Entry according to their Right and Title, within Five Years next after they come and be of Age of xxi. Years, out of Prison, uncovered, within this Land, and of whole Mind, and the same Actions sue, or their lawful Entry take and pursue, according to the Laws. And if they do not take their Actions and Entry as is aforesaid, That they and every of them, and their Heirs and the Heirs of every of them, be concluded by the said Fines for ever, in like Form as they be that be Parties or Privies to the said Fines. Saving to every Person or Persons, not Party nor Privy to the said Fine, their Exception to avoid the same Fine, by that, that those which were Parties to the Fine, nor any of them, nor no Person or Persons to their Use, or to the Use of any of them, had nothing in the Lands and Tenements comprised in the said Fine at the Time of the said Fine levied. (3) And it is ordained by the said Authority, That every Fine that hereafter shall be levied in any of the King's Courts, of any Manors,

(2) It is established in the Case of Howell v. Lord Zouch, Plowden 355, and confirmed in Doe on the Demise of Durome v. Jones, 4 T. R. 300, and several intermediate Cases, that on every Statute of Limitation, if a Disability be once removed, the Time must continue to run notwithstanding any subsequent Disability; and in the last mentioned Case, this was ruled to be the Law whether the Disability be voluntary or involuntary. So in Case of Disabilities or Protections at Common Law against the Right of Entry being tolled by Descent. See Lessee of Carter v. Tash, 1 Salk. 241. See also 1 Inst. 338—246—353. It was first positively determined in Dittin v. Lemm, 2 H. Bl. 584, that if a Party die under Disability, his Heir not under Disability, must claim within the five Years.

(3) A Fine levied by a Person who has no Estate of Freehold at the Time of levying it, is of no Effect. A Tenant for Years may acquire the Freehold, by making a Feoffment upon which his Fine will operate. See Whaley v. Tancard, 1 Vent. 241. 1 Raym. 219. Parkhurst v. Smith, Willes, 317, 4 B. P. C. 406, 3 Atk. 135.

In the Case of a Fine of a New River Share, there not appearing to have been any Entry or Receipt of Rent before the Fine levied, Lord Hardwick held, that there was not a sufficient Seisin to support the Fine. Lord Townsend v. Ash, 3 Atk. 336.

In Doe on the Demise of Osborne v. Spencer, 11 East, 495, it was held, that the Execution of a Writ of Possession on the Evening of the first Day of Term, (Sixth November) together with a subsequent Receipt of Rent for the preceding Half-Year, was sufficient Evidence of Seisin to support a Fine levied in Fact on the Eighth of November; but having Relation to the Fifth, although there was not any actual Change of Tenant; and Lord Ellenborough said, that he should have thought that a Receipt of Rent after a Fine levied for a Period of Time antecedent to the Fine, was prima facie Evidence of the Party's Possession by his Tenant during the Period for which the Rent was received, unless Fraud or Contrivance appeared.

Lands, Tenements, and other Possessions, after the Manner, Use, and Form, that Fines have been levied afore the making of this Act, be of like Force, Effect, and Authority, as Fines so levied be or were afore the making of this Act; this Act, or any other Act in this present Parliament made or to be made notwithstanding. And every Person shall be at Liberty to levy any Fine hereafter at his Pleasure, whether he will after the Form contained and ordained in and by this Act, or after the Manner and Form aforetime used.

12 Henry VIII. c. 36.—For the Exposition of the Statute of Fines.

FORASMUCH as in the Fourth Year of the Reign of the late 32 H. VIII. c. 36. King of famous Memory, King HENRY the Seventh, Father of our most dread Sovereign Lord the King that now is, it was, among many good and sundry Statutes and Ordinances then made for the common Wealth, enacted, ordained, and established the Form and Manner how Fines should be levied with Proclamations in the King's Court before his Justices of his common Place, and that such Fines, with Proclamations so had and made, to the Intent to avoid all Strife and Debates, should be a final End, and conclude as well Privies as Strangers to the same, certain Persons excepted and saved, as in the same Statute more plainly appeareth; sithen which Time, by Diversity of Interpretations, and expounding of the same Statute, it hath been, and is yet, by some Manner of Persons doubted and called in Question, whether Fines with Proclamations levied or to be levied before the said Justices, by any Person or Persons having, or claiming to have, in any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments comprised in the same Fine, in Possession, Reversion, Remainder, or in Use, any Manner of Estate-tail, should immediately after the said Fine levied, engrossed, and Proclamation made, bind the right Heir and Heirs of such Tenant in Tail, and every other Person and Persons seised or claiming to their Use or Uses; by Occasion whereof divers Debates, Controversies, Suits and Troubles have been begun, moved, and had within this Realm, and mo be like to ensue, if Remedy for the same be not provided; For the Establishment and Reformation whereof, and for the sure and sincere Interpretation of the said Statute, in avoiding all Dangers, Contentions, Controversies, Ambiguities and Doubts that hereafter may ensurge, grow or happen, our said Sovereign Lord the King, with the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by Authority of the same, hath enacted and ordained, That all and singular Fines, as well heretofore levied, as hereafter to be levied before the said Justices with Proclamations, according to the said Statute, by any Person or Persons of full Age of one and twenty Years, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, before the Time of the said Fine levied in any wise entailed to the Person or Persons so levying the same Fine, or to any the Ancestor or Ancestors of the same Person or Persons in Possession, Reversion, Remainder or in Use, shall be, immediately after the same Fine levied, engrossed, and Proclamations made, adjudged, accepted, deemed and taken, to all Intents and Purposes, a sufficient Bar and Discharge for ever against the said Person and Persons, and their Heirs claiming the same Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, or any Parcel thereof, only by Force of any such

A Fine levied by the Wife of the Inheritance of her late Husband shall be void
11 H. 7, c. 20.

II. Provided alway, That this Act, nor any Thing therein contained, shall extend to bar or exclude the lawful Entry, Title or Interest of any Heir or Heirs, Person or Persons, heretofore given or hereafter to be given, grown or accrued to them or any of them, in or to any Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, by Reason of any Fine or Fines heretofore levied, or hereafter to be levied, by any Woman after the Death of her Husband, contrary to the Form, Intent and Effect of the Statute made in the said eleventh Year of the said King HENRY the Seventh, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, of the Inheritance or Purchase of the said Husband or of any his Ancestors, given or assigned to any such Woman in Dower, for Term of Life or in Tail, in Use or in Possession, but that the same Act made in the said eleventh Year of the said late King

(1) By Virtue of this Enactment and the preceding Statute, 4 Henry VII. the Fine of a Party who is entitled to the Premises as Tenant in Tail, bars the Right of all who must necessarily convey their Descent through the Cognizor before they can make out their Title to the Estate;—and the Fine of Tenant in Tail in Remainder, is equally a Bar to the Issue in Tail, as the Fine of a Tenant in Tail in Possession. So the Possibility of an Estate Tail in the Ancestor is sufficient to bar the Issue, as where the Issue in Tail levied a Fine in the Life of his Ancestor. See Archer's Case, 3 Rep. 90. The Fine of a Party who is Heir in Tail in Possession, bars the collateral Heirs claiming under the same Descent, and who must necessarily claim through the Cognizor, as if Land be given to the Father and the Heirs of his Body, and the eldest Son after the Death of the Father levies a Fine, it is a Bar to the Younger; but a Fine levied by the Daughter being Issue in Tail, is no bar to a Son afterwards born; nor will a Fine levied by Issue in Tail who dies in the Life of the Ancestor be a Bar to the collateral Issue. (Mc. Williams' Case, Hob. 332. S. C. Sir Wm. Jones, by the Name of Godfrey v. Wade.) See the above Points more fully stated, with the Authorities, in Mr. Cruise's Treatise on Fines, Ch. 9.

Although a Fine is not like a Recovery, a Bar to the Parties in Remainder or Reversion; yet if the Party in Remainder be collateral Heir to the Tenant in Tail in Possession levying the Fine, he is bound by the Warranty, which is always contained in the Fine as the Statute 4 & 5 Anne, c. 16, (ante Clam I. No. 23) only makes void Warranties by Tenants for Life, and collateral Warranties by any Ancestor not having an Estate of Inheritance in Possession.—See Cruise on Fines, Ch. 9. § 43.

The Issue in Tail are barred by a Fine with Proclamations, although the Proclamations are not completed in the Life of the Cognizor, or at the Time of bringing the Formedon by the Issue. See 3 Rep. 84—90.

There is a material Difference between the Effect of a Fine and a Recovery by Tenant in Tail, with a Reversion or Remainder in Fee to himself; for if a Tenant in Tail with Reversion in Fee to himself, levy a Fine, the Effect of that is to create a base Fee, and that becomes merged in the other Fee, and lets in all the Incumbrances of the Ancestor, which has frequently happened in Practice, from a Person being ill advised to levy a Fine instead of suffering a Recovery. Per Lord Kenyon, in Roe ex. dem. Crow v. Baldwere, 5 T. R. 108. Accordingly, in the Earl of Shelburne v. Biddulph, 4 Bro. P. C. 394. an Estate was limited to the Father for Life, Remainder to the Sons successively in Tail, Remainder to the Father in Fee. A, the first Son, made a Lease for three Lives, with Covenant for perpetual Renewal. A died without Issue, and B, the second Son, levied a Fine, and the Covenant was held to bind the Fee.

So if Tenant for Life with Remainder to his Son in Tail, and the Reversion in Fee in himself, becomes indebted by Bond, or incumbers the Estate in any other Manner, if after the Death of such Tenant for Life, his Son levies a Fine, it will let in the Reversion in Fee, and make the Estate liable to all his Father's Incumbrances. Kinaston v. Clarke, 2 Atk. 204. See Cruise on Fines, Ch. 12.

For plain Declaration whereof, and to avoid and extinct from henceforth Diversities of Opinions in such Cases, be it ordained and enacted by Authority of this present Parliament, That no such feigned Recovery hereafter to be had by Assent of Parties against any such Tenant or Tenants in Tail of any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, whereof the Reversion or Remainder, at the Time of such Recovery had, shall be in the King, shall bind or conclude the Heirs in Tail, whether any common Voucher be had in any such feigned Recovery, or not, but that after the Death of every such Tenant in Tail, against whom any such Recovery shall be had, the Heirs in Tail may enter, have and enjoy the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments so recovered, according to the Form of the Gift of Intail; the said Recovery, or any Thing or Things hereafter to be had, done or suffered by or against any such Tenant in Tail to the contrary notwithstanding.

34 & 35 Henry VIII. c. 22.—An Act that Fines in Towns Corporate shall be made as the same have been in Times past.

WHERE in the Parliament holden in the thirty-second Year of our most dread Sovereign Lord King HENRY the Eighth, it was enacted by Authority of the said Parliament amongst other, That no Fine, Feoffment, or other Act or Acts, hereafter to be made, suffered or done, by the Husband only, of Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, being the Inheritance or the Freehold of his Wife, during the Coverture between them, shall in any wise be or make any Discontinuance thereof, or be prejudicial or hurtful to the said Wife, or to her Heirs, or to such as shall have Right, Title or Interest by the same by the Death of such Wife or Wives; but the same Wife and her Heirs, and such other to whom such Right shall appertain after her Decease, shall and may then lawfully enter into all such Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, according to their Rights and Titles therein; any such Fine, Feoffment or other Act, to the contrary notwithstanding. Sithence the making of which Act, divers Doubts, Questions and Ambiguities have arisen, that is to say, whether the Recoveries and Deeds inrolled, which be in Nature of Fine, and whereupon Women Covert have been used to be examined, taken, had or acknowledged, as well within the City of London, as in many other Cities, Boroughs and Towns within the Realm of England, should bind all such Women Covert, that should happen to be examined upon the same Recoveries and Deeds inrolled: In avoiding therefore of all such Ambiguities and Doubts, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by Authority of the same, That all Recoveries, Deeds inrolled, and Releases heretofore acknowledged and taken, or at any Time hereafter to be taken and acknowledged, before the Mayors, Aldermen, Recorders, Chamberlains, or other Head Officer or Officers, as well of the City of London, as of any other City, Borough or Town Corporate within the Realm of England, having Power and Authority to take and receive the same, according to the laudable Usages and Customs of the said Cities, Boroughs and Towns, and every of them, shall stand and remain of like Force, Strength and Effect, to all Intents and Purposes, as they or any of them were before the making of the said Act in the said thirty-second Year of our said Sovereign Lord; any Thing in the same contained to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding. (1) In Error to reverse a Fine levied before the Bailiffs of Shrewsbury, it was objected that it did not appear that they had any Authority to take Fines, and that they could not have it by Prescription, or by general Words in the King's Grant. And per Curiam, the Fine is void; for it appeareth not by what Authority it was levied; for it is in derogation of the Crown; and the Profits of the Crown. Waring v. White, Cro. ‘ Terms : And that during the Time of proclaiming of such Fines, ‘ all Pleas should cease : which to do according to the Statute (con‘ sidering the Multitudes of Fines now usually levied) would require ‘ sixteen Days in every Term ; and by Reason of the many Cases
‘ and Suits in that Court, is a far greater Trouble than heretofore had ‘ been, so as scarcely one Day in every Term can be spared for the ‘ proclaiming of Fines.’ Be it enacted by the Authority of this present Parliament, That all Fines with Proclamations, from and after the Feast of Easter next ensuing, to be levied in the said Court, shall be proclaimed only four Times ; that is to say, once in the Term wherein it is engrossed, and once in every of the three Terms holden next after the same ingrossing : And that every Fine proclaimed as aforesaid, shall be of as great Force and Effect in Law to all Intents and Purposes, as if the same had been sixteen Times proclaimed according to the Statute heretofore made.

 whereas procuring Surrenders of such Freehold Leases, or the Te-and the Deed or Deeds so produced (the Execution thereof being duly proved), shall in all Courts of Law and Equity be deemed and taken as a good and sufficient Evidence for such Purchaser and Purchasers, and those claiming under him, her, or them, that such Recovery or Recoveries was or were duly suffered and perfected according to the Purport of such Deed or Deeds, in Case no Record can be found of such Recovery or Recoveries, or the same should appear not to be regularly entered on Record: Provided always, that the Person or Persons making such Deed or Deeds as aforesaid, and declaring the Uses of a Common Recovery or Recoveries, had a sufficient Estate and Power to make a Tenant to such Writ or Writs as aforesaid, and to suffer such Common Recovery or Recoveries.

V. And whereas it has frequently happened, That the Deeds for making the Tenants to the Writs of Entry or other Writs for suffering Common Recoveries, have been lost, or that the Fines or Deeds, making the Tenants to the said Writs, have not been levied or executed till after the Judgement given in such Recoveries, and the Writ of Seisin awarded, by Reason whereof great Doubts have arisen, whether such Recoveries, for Want of proper Tenants to the Writs, are good and effectual in Law; To prevent such Doubts for the future, and in Order to render Common Recoveries more certain and effectual, be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That every Common Recovery already suffered, or hereafter to be suffered, shall, after the Expiration of twenty Years from the Time of the suffering thereof, be deemed good and valid to all Intents and Purposes, if it appears upon the Face of such Recovery, that there was a Tenant to the Writ; and if the Persons joining in such Recovery had a sufficient Estate and Power to suffer the same, notwithstanding the Deed or Deeds for making the Tenant to such Writ should be lost or not appear.

VI. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the commencement of this Act, every Recovery already suffered, or hereafter to be suffered, shall be deemed good and valid to all Intents and Purposes, notwithstanding the Fine, or Deed or Deeds, making the Tenant to such Writ, should be levied or executed after the Time of the Judgment given in such Recovery, and the Award of the Writ of Seisin as aforesaid, provided the same appear to be levied or executed before the End of the Term, Great Session, Session or Assizes, in which such Recovery was suffered, and the Persons joining in such Recovery had a sufficient Estate and Power to suffer the same as aforesaid. (1)

VII. Provided always, That nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to make any such Common Recovery heretofore suffered valid and effectual in Law, which has been avoided by any lawful Act or Means, or which shall hereafter be avoided by Entry duly made on or before the Sixteenth Day of January, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty, or by Judgment or Decree had or obtained upon some Action or Suit at Law or in Equity, commenced or to be commenced on or before the said Sixteenth Day of January, and prosecuted with due Diligence; but such Common Recovery shall remain and be of such Force and Effect only, as the same would have been if this Act had never been made, and of no other Force or Effect.

(1) In Goodright v. Rigby, 2 H. B. 46, it was contended, that the Provision did not apply when it appeared by special Verdict that the Consent to the Tenant was not made until after the Execution of the Writ of Seisin—although in the same Term but ruled contra, and the Judgment affirmed on Error.—5 T. 32 George II. c. 14.—An Act for the more regular and easy collecting, accounting for, and paying, of Post Fines, which shall be due to the Crown, or to Grantees thereof under the Crown; and for the Ease of Sheriffs in Respect to the same.

WHEREAS great Trouble and Expence arise in the Execution of the Office of Sheriff, by the present Method of collecting, accounting for, and paying of Post Fines, which become due to the Crown, or to the Grantees or Proprietors thereof under the Crown, by reason that the Persons from whom such Post Fines are due, are frequently unknown to the Sheriff, and reside out of his County; and the Parishes, Towns, Precincts, or Places in which the Lands lie, whereof the Fine was levied, are frequently misnamed, whereby the Sheriff is unable to find out the same. And forasmuch as the Sheriff of every County, on the passing his Accounts, is obliged to pay to the Crown, before he can obtain his Quietus, the several and respective Post Fines charged upon him, many of which he is never able to collect in and receive, to his manifest Loss and Detriment; for Remedy whereof, and for the Ease of Sheriffs in the Execution of their Office, May it please your Majesty that it may be enacted; And be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That on all and every Writ or Writs of Covenant which, from and after the first Day of Trinity Term One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-nine, shall be sued out for the passing of Fines in his Majesty's Court of Common Pleas at Westminster, the Officer or Officers, whose Duty it is to set and indorse the Prefine payable there-

* In adverting to the System of the Law at present existing with Respect to testamentary Dispositions, I shall take the Liberty of suggesting certain legislative Alterations which I conceive would tend materially to its Amelioration and Improvement.

By the Abolition of the Feudal Tenures, the Restrictions which are the principal Objects of this and the following Statute, have become inoperative; and the Power of a Disposition by Will of Freehold Lands of Inheritance, is general and undefined.

It is agreed that Copyhold Lands† are not within the Statute of Wills, and that they can only be the Subject of Devise through the Medium of a Surrender to the Use of the Will, or in consequence of those Rules of Courts of Equity by which the Want of a Surrender is in certain Cases supplied, and in which it would be foreign to the present Purpose to enlarge.—The Power of devising Copyholds through the Medium of a Surrender, was originally wholly dependent upon special Custom; but in Pike v. White, 3 Bro. Ch. 306, being alleged, that according to the Custom of a Manor, Copyhold Lands den thereof, could not be surrendered to the Use of the Will of the Tenant, it were not devisable by Virtue of any Custom subsisting in such Manor, and Thurlow said that it was totally impossible to say that a Copyhold surrendered to the Use of a Will should not pass thereby; and therefore he must leave the Custom, if there were such an one, bad.

This Opinion is certainly very conducive to public Convenience, with regard to its Effects; but it seems very difficult to support it upon the Principle of mere legal Reasoning; or to discover upon what correct Principles a Custom according with the general Common Law, and not affected by any legislative Provision, could be controuled or superseded by mere judicial Authority.

Certain customary Estates are still not susceptible of Devise, otherwise than by the Medium of Deeds of Trust; and which in some instances must be renewed annually, or after certain periodical Intervals, so that if the Time for renewing them is suffered to elapse, or the Testator falls into a state of Insanity, the Devise becomes inoperative.

In Church v. Munday, 12 Ves. 426, and on Appeal, 15 Vesey, 396, the question arose amongst others, Whether the Reversion or Remainder of a of the Case, or might be expected to arise from the Application of the Rule to other Cases, it was an Inconvenience which could, if their nt was well founded, only be remedied by positive Law ;—and that the y of applying such a Remedy whereby the same Rights of Entry and which belonged to the Heir, might be extended to the Devisee, was a n particularly for the Consideration of the Legislature. Upon the ming before the Court of Exchequer Chamber, upon Writ of Error, ton, 578, it was decided upon the Ground of Non-claim, as to which e to Stat. 4 H. 7. c. 24. ante Class X. No. 7. the Court declining to Opinion upon the Point decided in the Court of King's Bench : as to Mansfield, Ch. J. observed, that since it would be unnecessary to decide of the Points argued in the Court of King's Bench, it need not be in-r supposed that the Judgment of that Court was in any Respect im-by the Decision : the Court would not at present give Judgment upon ints, because it would first be necessary minutely to examine the old ties, which, upon the present Grounds of their Decision, it would be ous to do. If the Doctrine of Estates arising by Disceisin was such as n stated by the Defendant's Counsel, they must lament that the Law luced by particular Causes to make Estates grow out of wrongful Acts.

 son was the prodigious Jealousy which the Law always had of per-Rights to be transferred from one Man to another, lest the poorer

 dent that the Reasons of this Principle of the Law are not applicable present State of Society ; and the Opinions which have been cited efficient Authority to shew that it might be desirable to extend the of Devise to all Interests which, without such Devise, would be ible to the Heir ; and at any Rate the Interests of Justice demand that mentary Power of the Person in Remainder should not be affected wrongful Acts of the particular Tenant.—See some Observations upon object in the Notes to the Statute of Uses, 27 H. 8. ante Class IX.

t perhaps there are few settled Doctrines of Law, to which it would be desirable to apply the Correction of legislative Authority, than that by Devise is rendered inoperative, in consequence of a subsequent Con-of the Estate, contrary to the admitted Intentions of the Testator.
 would be superfluous to enter into the Detail of a Subject which has, recent Period, been so fully elucidated. The Positions, that a Devise led at Law by a subsequent Conveyance of the Estate, although the by the Effect of the Statute of Uses continues seized of the ancient and even although the Conveyance is inoperative for Want of legal es, and that when there is a Revocation at Law a Court of Equity will troul the legal Operation of the Conveyance, except in certain definite re fully established as settled Rules of Property. The History of the on this Subject, and the Grounds and Principles upon which it is
 , are fully stated in the Cases of Brydges and the Duchess of Chandos, is very unnecessary to enter into the Consideration of the technical es upon which the Law in this Respect is founded, or to take Part ith those who charge the leading Cases with shocking Absurdity, or ee who consider the Doctrine as necessarily emanating from the essen-ciples of the Subject. The Question for Consideration, as a Matter of ve Interference, is, whether it would be more conducive to Unity that should continue as it is, or that it should be reformed. The Disapnt of the Intention of the Testator is an undisputed Ingredient in the

‘ which in this Realm (Laud be to God) is in all Parts very great and ‘ abundant, but that in manner of Necessity, as by daily Experience ‘ is manifested and known, they shall not be able of their proper ‘ Goods, Chattels and other moveable Substance, to discharge their

Question ; and the Benefit, if such there is, from permitting it to continue, results from the contingent Advantage derived by the Heir, in Consequence of the Ignorance of his Ancestor of a technical Rule, the Knowledge of which would immediately be followed by the necessary Provisions for preventing such Advantage from being obtained. Mr. Justice Rooke, in the original Decisions of Goodtitle and Otway, and Mr. Justice Ashurst, upon the Writ of Error, seem to think, that the Hardship of the Case is sufficiently disposed of, by holding, that if Individuals will be so negligent as not to apply to those who have the Reputation of being the best versed in the Science of the Law, they are themselves the most to blame ; and Lord Kenyon, in a Style of general Declamation which would apply to any Alteration of the Law upon any Subject, observes, that those who are confident of their superior Abilities may perhaps fancy that they could erect a new System of Laws less objectionable than that under which they live, but he had not that Confidence in his, and was satisfied by the Decisions, and Series of Decisions, of great and learned Men on the Rules of Law, under which the lauded Property of this Country is now held. If the Observation is intended to apply only to the Exercise of judicial Authority, it is certainly not otherwise exceptionable, than as is a mere solemn Declaration of what no Person conversant with the Subject would ever think of bringing into Dispute ; but if understood as importing, that “ the Law is so and therefore it ought to be so,” it involves a Principle which, if it had always been acted upon, and formed an essential Part of the Wisdom of our Ancestors, would have superseded the Discussion of the Question, by preventing altogether the Innovation on the Common Law, which took Place by the Enactment of the Statute of Wills.

Lord Kenyon, in deciding, as he was bound to do, in Favour of the Invalidity of the Will, which was the Subject of the Case of Goodtitle v. Otway, observed, that if he could have indulged his Wishes, he could have wished to give Effect to the Intention of the Testator. Lord Eldon, speaking in Harmood v. Oglander of a Consultation with Serjeant Hill respecting the same Will, said, that he was desirous, as every Man must be, to support that Will as not revoked. Lord Chief Justice Eyre, whose Opinion in one Part of the Case was different from that of the other Judges, prefaced the Delivery of it by observing, that though the Doctrine of Revocation had been carried to a very inconvenient Extent, in Consequence of the many Wills that had been cruelly disappointed, and many Families greatly distressed, agreed, that Judges were not to be wiser than the Law—and that it was their Duty to declare and execute the Law as it is, and to strain nothing in Order to mould it to their own Conception of what it ought to be. In the Course of his Judgment he observed, that Courts of Justice not only do not incline to allow the Form of Conveyance to operate beyond the Intent of the Parties, but they will be ready to adopt all Manner of Expedients to prevent it, and to confine the Operation of every Conveyance to the special Purpose for which it was made. In another Part, referring to one of the earlier Cases, he said, that the Court of Exchequer carried the odious Doctrine of Revocation no further than they were absolutely obliged to do. Lord Mansfield constantly regretted the Existence of the subsisting Rules, while he subscribed to their Authority. In Swift v. Roberts, 3 Bur. 1491, he said, that constructive Revocations, contrary to the Intention of the Testator, ought not to be indulged—and that some overstrained Resolutions of that Sort had brought a Scandal upon the Law. In Roe v. Griffiths, 4 Bur. 1952, 1 Bl. 603, “ The Rule being established must be adhered to, although it is not founded upon truly rational Grounds and Principles, nor upon the Intent, but upon legal Niceties and Subtlety ; we ought not to depart from it now, notwithstanding one could wish that no such Rule had ever been established, and lament that such Subtleties should ever been admitted as the Ground of it.” “ All Revocations, which are not agreeable to the Intention of the Testator, are founded on artificial and absurd Reasoning.”—Doe v. Potts, Doug. 710. Lord Loughborough had a more favourable Opinion of these Decisions, as necessarily resulting from fair legal—that is from fair systematical—Reasoning, and not depending upon captious Nicety.—See Brydges v. Duchess of Chandos, 3 Ves. jun. 417.

With those Sentiments which I entertain in Favour of the Propriety of a legislative Correction of the existing System of the Law, in Cases where the practical Application of it is attended with real Convenience, I certainly should feel Pleasure from the Enactments, that no Devise of Lands should be annulled or affected by any Recovery, Fine, or other Conveyance of the Land therein comprized, except so far as shall be necessary for the particular Object or Purpose for which such Conveyance shall be made—but that every such Devise shall be valid and effectual at Law, as to all such legal Interest as after such Conveyance shall remain in or result to the Devisor—and that, where the legal Estate shall be transferred from such Devisor, the Devise shall be deemed valid and effectual in Equity, as to all such beneficial Right and Interest as shall continue to belong to the Devisor.

It remains only to notice the Cases to which the Rule whereby a Will is annulled by a subsequent Alteration in the Estate of the Testator does not apply.

If the Disposition only embraces a particular Interest in the Estate, as in the Case of a Lease, the Will is only affected to the Extent of the Interest conveyed.

The only Instance at Law in which a Will remains valid after a Disposition operating upon the entire Estate, is that of a Partition; with Respect to which it is held, that although affected by Fine, the Will continues in Force. See Luther v. Kidby, 8 Vin. Abr. 148. 3 P. Wms. 169. Risby v. Bultinglass, T. Raym. 240. But if the Act extends further than mere Partition, and contains a Limitation to such Uses as the Devisor shall by Deed or Will appoint, the Will is annulled. Tickner v. Tickner, cited 3 Atk. 742. In the Discussion of the Case of Goodtitle v. Otway, in the Court of Common Pleas, some Doubt was thrown upon the former of these Decisions; and the later was considered by some of the Judges as overturning it;—but it seems to be now agreed, that the Law is as stated, Attorney-General v. Vigor, 8 Ves. 281, and the Observations of Lord Eldon in Maundrell v. Maundrell, 10 Ves. 246, where this Distinction is relied upon as shewing the Efficacy of a Power of Appointment by the Person to whom in Default of Appointment the Premises are limited in Fee.

In the Case of the Attorney-General v. Vigor, ubi supra, it was established that if Lands after being devised are exchanged, and after the Death of the Devisor restored in consequence of the Eviction of the Lands taken in Exchange, the Devise is not thereby re-established.

In Equity, it is established that a Mortgage or Conveyance in Trust for Payment of Debts, is only a Revocation pro tanto; but a Trust for Payment of Debts, and after Payment thereof to convey the Estate to such Uses as the Devisor should by Deed or Will appoint, has been held to be a Revocation. Kenyon v. Sutton, cited 2 Ves. jun. 600. and the Exception does not extend to other Dispositions for a particular Purpose. In Harmood v. Oglander, 8 Ves. 126, Lord Eldon said that it did not occur to him there were in Equity any Cases where the partial, particular Purpose was not for Charges and Incumbrances, or which is the same Thing, to pay Debts; and Equity has said that which is a Revocation at Law shall not be a Revocation in Equity.

Where a Devise is made by a Person seized of, or intitled to, an equitable Estate, it is not annulled in Equity by a Conveyance to him of the legal Estate. This is continually exemplified in the Cases of Wills made of Estates for which the Testator has entered into a Contract of Purchase, and which are subsequently conveyed. See Rose v. Cunyngham, 11 Ves. 550. In Watts v. Fullarton, cited Doug. 691, it was held that the Will was not revoked by the Purchaser taking the Conveyance to another Person in Trust for himself.

So the Will of a Person entitled to an equitable Estate is not revoked by a Conveyance of the legal Estate from one Trustee to another. Watts v. Ful- larton, Doug. 718. nor the Will of a Person entitled, subject to a Mortgage in Fee, by a Conveyance from the Mortgagee to a Trustee for the Mortgagor.
Doe v. Potts, Doug. 719. But in the recent Case of Rawlins v. Bengis, 2 V. & B. 384. a Person after devising Land which he had contracted to purchase, took the Conveyance with the usual Limitations to bar Dower, with the Interposition of a Trustee; and it was ruled by the Vice-Chancellor that the Will was revoked.

In Williams v. Owen, 2 Ves. jun. 595, a Testator having articulated to settle his Estate previous to Marriage, devised the Reversion subject to the Estates, intended to be created by the Articles, and afterwards conveyed the Estate to the Uses and upon the Trusts mentioned in the Articles. This was ruled by Sir R. P. Arden, Master of the Rolls, to be no Revocation; and compared to the Case of a Person having an equitable Estate taking a Conveyance of the legal Estate;—but the Decision is considered as inconsistent with the Rules established in subsequent Cases, especially in Cave v. Holford. See 3 Ves.
 684, and Harmood and Oglander, ubi supra. Cave v. Holford, 3 Ves. 682.
 7 Bro. P. C. 593. The Ground of the Lord Chancellor's dissent (as stated in Harmood v. Oglander) from the Decisions in Williams v. Owen, is, that the Testator never had any equitable Estate in the Reversion in Fee: "You cannot have a legal Estate in Trust for yourself. There is a Conjunction of the legal and equitable Interests, and therefore it was a legal Estate that passed under that Will."

As to whether a Deed set aside in Equity for Fraud is a Revocation of a preceding Will, see Beard v. Beard, 3 Atk. 72. Hawes v. Wyatt, 3 Bro. Ch.
 156, and Observations thereon, in 7 Vesey 373. ex parte the Earl of Ilchester's

WHERE in the last Parliament begun and holden at Westminster the twenty-eighth Day of April in the thirty-first Year of the King's most gracious Reign, and there by divers Prorogations holden and continued unto the twenty-fourth Day of July in the thirty-second Year of his said Reign, it was by the King's most gracious and liberal Disposition shewed toward his most humble and obedient Subjects, ordained and enacted how and in what manner Lands, Tenements and other Hereditaments might be by Will or Testament in Writing, or otherwise by any Act or Acts lawfully executed in the Life of every Person, given, disposed, willed or devised, for the Advancement of the Wife, Preferment of the Children, Payment of Debts of every such Person, or otherwise at his Will and Pleasure, as in the same Act more plainly is declared: Since the making of which Estatute, divers Doubts, Questions and Ambiguities have risen, been moved, and grown, by Diversity of Opinions, taken in and upon the Exposition of the Letter of the same Estatute

And be it further enacted and declared by Authority aforesaid, That the Savings, Reservings and Provisions concerning saving of the Custody, Wardship, Relief, and Primer Seisin to the King, of such Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, or as much thereof as shall appertain unto him by Virtue of the said former Act, and by the Declaration and Exposition thereof declared by this present Act, during the King's Interest therein, and also of the Custody and Wardship to other Lords, of as much of such Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments holden of them, as shall amount and extend to the clear yearly Value of the third Part thereof, over and above all Charges, without any Diminution or Abridgment of the third Part, or of the full Profits thereof, comprised and mentioned in divers Articles in the said former Act contained, by the Authority aforesaid, be and shall be intended, expounded and taken as hereafter ensueth; that is to say, That the King shall have and take for his full third Part of all such Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, whereunto he is or shall be intitled by the said former Act, and by this present Act, such Manors, Lands and Tenements as shall by any Means descend, or come by Descent, as well of Estate of Inheritance in Fee-tail as in Fee-simple, or in Fee-tail only, to the Heir of any such Person that shall make any Will, Gift, Disposition or Devise by his last Will in Writing, or by any Act or Acts lawfully executed in his Life, immediately after the Death of the same Devisor or Owner thereof.

XI. And in Case the same Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, which after the Death of any such Owner or Devisor, which shall make any such Gift, Disposition or Devise by his last Will in Writing, or otherwise by any Act or Acts lawfully executed in his Life, to his Wife, Children, or otherwise, as is aforesaid, which shall immediately after his Death descend, revert, remain or come to his Heir or Heirs, as well of Estate of Inheritance in Fee-tail, as of Estate in Fee-simple, or Fee-tail only, be not or shall not amount or extend to the full clear yearly Value of the full third Part, with the full Profits thereof, of all the said Manors, Lands, Tenements or other Hereditaments of the said Devisor or Owner, according to the true Intent and Meaning of the said former Act, and of this present Act; that then the King shall and may have and take into his Hands and Possession to make up his full third Part, with the full Profits thereof, according to his Interest therein, as much of the other Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, willed, given, disposed or assigned by any such Person to his Wife, Children, or otherwise as is aforesaid, as with such of the same Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, descended or by any Means come unto the Heir, as Heir of any such Devisor or Owner, shall make up the clear yearly Value of the said full third Part, with the full Profits thereof, of all the said Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments of such Owner or Devisor, so to be had to the King in Title of Wardship or Primer Seisin, as the Case shall require; and the Division thereof to be had and made, and with the Restitution of the Profits of the two Parts of the said Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, in such Manner and Form as is above rehearsed; and like Advantage and Benefit to be given, had and taken by the said Authority to every Lord and Lords, of whom any such Manors,

II. Be it enacted and declared by the King's and Queen's most Excellent Majesties, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by Authority of the same, That all Wills and Testaments, Limitations, Dispositions, or Appointments, of or concerning any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or of any Rent, Profit, Term, or Charge out of the same, whereof any Person or Persons at the Time of his, her, or their Decease, shall be seised in Fee-simple, in Possession, Reversion, or Remainder, or have Power to dispose of the same, by his, her, or their last Wills or Testaments, to be made after the Five and Twentieth Day of March, in the Year of our Lord God, One thousand six hundred ninety and two, shall be deemed and taken (only as against such Creditor or Creditors as aforesaid, his, her, and their Heirs, Successors, Executors, Administrators, and Assigns, and every of them) to be fraudulent, and clearly, absolutely, and utterly void, frustrate, and of none Effect; any Pretence, Colour, feigned or presumed Consideration, or any other Matter or Thing to the contrary notwithstanding.

III. And, for the Means that such Creditors may be enabled to recover their said Debts, be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in the Cases before mentioned, every such Creditor shall and may have and maintain his, her, and their Action and Actions of Debt, (1) upon his, her, and their said Bonds and Specialties, against the Heir and Heirs at Law of such Obligor or Obligors, and such Devisee and Devisees, jointly (2) by virtue of this Act; (3) and such Devisee or Devisees shall be liable and chargeable for a false Plea (4) by him or them pleaded, in the same Manner as any Heir should have been for any false Plea by him pleaded, or for not confessing the Lands or Tenements to him descended. (5)

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That where there hath been or shall be any Limitation or Appointment, Devise or Disposition, of or concerning any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, for the raising or Payment of any real and just Debt or Debts, (6) or any Portion of Debt upon Bond jointly suable against the Heir and Devisee of an Obligor.

Devisee chargeable for a false Plea as an Heir.

Devise for raising Portions, pursuant to a Marriage Contract, good.

(1) The Provision being confined to an Action of Debt, an Action of Covenant does not lie thereon.—Wilson v. Kembley, 7 East, 127.

(2) A Suit in Equity, founded upon the Statute, must also be against the Heir and Devisee jointly.—Warren v. Stawell, 2 Atk. 125.

(3) See the Manner of declaring, Clift's Entr. 145—Lilly's Entr. 145, 529, 530—2 Rich. C. B. 241—5 Went, 374—2 Chitty, 161.

(4) In a Case within the Statute, the Devisee must shew by Plea the particular Lands devised.—Gott v. Atkins, in Willes, 523.

(5) But in the Arrangement of the Funds in Equity, between the Heir and Devisee, it is established, that Assets descended to the Heir must be applied to pay Debts before Lands can be charged which are specifically devised.—Chaplin v. Chaplin, 3 P. Wms. 367—Powis v. Corbet, 3 Atk. 556. As to the Order of Liability between different Funds, see Harmood v. Oglander, 8 Vesey, 124—Milnes v. Slater, ibid. 295.

(6) In Gott v. Atkinson, Willes, 521, it was ruled, that no Action can be maintained upon this Statute against Devisees in Trust to sell and apply the Money arising by such Sale in Payment of Debts—and by Wills, Ch. J. as the Exception is worded, if there had been a Devise for the Payment of any particular Debt by simple Contract, it would have been a good Devise against the Plaintiffs, though Bond Creditors. In the recent Case of Millar v. Horton, 1 Cowp. Ch. 45, it was ruled, that a Devise to pay simple Contract Creditors, in preference to specialty, was good within the Statute. In Vernon v. Vawdry, Barn. 304, cited ibid. it had been held, that a Devise to pay Debts, excepting a Debt as Surety, was not within the Proviso—but that Case seems repugnant both to the express Letter of the Act, and the other Authorities upon the Subject. In Lingard v. Lord Derby, 1 Bro. Ch. 311, the Testator devised to Trustees in Trust, to pay the yearly Rents and Profits in Payment of his Debts. Upon Application by Bond Creditors for a Sale, it was insisted, that the Will could not stand by the Statute, for a Bond Creditor without the Devise may compel a Sale, and the Devise tends to defeat his claim—but by Lord Loughborough, L. C. both by the Words and Construction of the Statute, where there is a Devise for the Payment of Debts, it takes the Case out of the Statute, and it stands as it would have done before the Statute was made—the Creditor can come only as the Will directs. See to the same Effect the Earl of Bath v. the Earl of Bradford, 2 Ves. 577. In Hughes v. Doulben, 2 Bro. Ch. 614, the Testator made a general Charge of his Debts upon his real Estate, and devised a particular Estate to Trustees for that Purpose, excepting the Mansion-house. Lord Thurlow said, that he was

If the Heir aliened before Action brought, he shall be liable to the Value of the Land.

Creditors preferred, as in Actions against Executors.

Upon Reins per Descent pleaded, Jury shall enquire of the Value of the Lands.

V. And whereas several Persons being Heirs at Law, to avoid the Payment of such Debts, as in regard of the Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments descending to them, they have by Law been liable to pay, have sold, aliened, or made over such Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, before any Process was or could be issued out against them; be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in all Cases where any Heir at Law shall be liable to pay the Debt of his Ancestor in regard of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments descending to him, and shall sell, aliene, or make over the same, before any Action brought, or Process sued out against him, that such Heir at Law shall be answerable for such Debt or Debts, in an Action or Actions of Debt, to the Value of the said Land so by him sold, aliened, or made over; in which Cases all Creditors shall be preferred, as in Actions against Executors and Administrators, and such Execution shall be taken out upon any Judgement or Judgements so obtained against such Heir, to the Value of the said Land, as if the same were his own proper Debt or Debts; saving that the Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, bona fide aliened before the Action brought, shall not be liable to such Execution. (7)

VI. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That where any Action of Debt upon any Specialty is brought against any Heir, he may plead Riens per Descent, at the not aware that a Gift for the Payment of Debts, in a Manner which would not answer the Purpose, was such a Devise as would take the Case out of the Statute; that if the Debts could not be paid by the Means provided in the Devise, he should order the Estate to be sold, notwithstanding the Statute, and should consider it so far as fraudulent—and if the Estate without the Mansion-house was not sufficient, the Mansion-house must be sold. In Bailey v. Ekins, 7 Ves. 323, Lord Eldon said, that the uniform Rule is, that a Provision by Will, effectual in Law or Equity for Payment of Creditors, is not fraudulent within the Intent of the Statute.—See Kidney v. Consumaker, 12 Vesey, 154. Where an Estate is devised generally for Payment of Debts, it is a settled Rule, that simple contract Creditors are intitled equally with Creditors by Specialty—and that if the specialty Creditors have exhausted the personal Estate, they can have no Benefit from the real Estate constituting equitable Assets, until the simple contract Creditors are placed pari passu—and in the above mentioned Case of Bailey and Ekins, and the Authorities there cited, it was held, that a Charge upon an Estate, as well as a Devise, makes it equitable Assets.

(7) If the Heir pay his Ancestor's Debts, to the Value of the Land descended, he may hold the Land discharged from the Debts of the Ancestor.—Butcher v. Nightingale, 1 Str. 665. But he cannot plead that he claims to retain a certain Sum for Money laid out in repairing the Premises descended.—Shuttleworth v. Neville, 1 D. & E. 454.

It was agreed, that in Case of real Estates the Creditor of the Ancestor may follow them, and their specific Produce in the Hands of the Assignee, if sold under a Bankruptcy.—Ex parte Merton, 5 Vesey, 449.

Time of the original Writ brought, or the Bill filed against him; any Thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the Plaintiff in such Action may reply, that he had Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, from his Ancestor before the original Writ brought, or Bill filed; and if upon Issue joined thereupon, it be found for the Plaintiff, the Jury shall enquire of the Value of the Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments so descended, and thereupon Judgement shall be given, and Execution shall be awarded as aforesaid; but if Judgement be given against such Heir by Confession of the Action, without confessing the Assets descended, or upon Demurrer, or Nihil dicit, it shall be for the Debt and Damages, without any Writ to enquire of the Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, so descended.

And whereas in some of the British Colonies or Plantations in America, the said Act of the twenty-ninth Year of the Reign of King CHARLES the Second, has been received for Law, or Acts of Assembly have been made, whereby the Attestation and Subscription of Witnesses to Devises of Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments have been required: Therefore, to prevent and avoid Doubts which may arise in the said Colonies or Plantations, in relation to the Attestation of such Devises of Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments; be it enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That this Act, and every Clause, Matter and Thing therein contained, shall extend to such of the said Colonies and Plantations, where the said Act of the twenty-ninth Year of the Reign of King CHARLES the Second, is by Act of Assembly made, or by Usage received as Law, or where by Act of Assembly or Usage, the Attestation and Subscription of a Witness or Witnesses are made necessary to Devises of Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments; and shall have the same Force and Effect in the Construction of or for the avoiding of Doubts upon the said Act of Assembly, and Laws of the said Colonies and Plantations, as the same ought to have in the Construction of or for the avoiding of Doubts upon the said Act of the twenty-ninth Year of the Reign of King CHARLES the Second in England.

55 G III. c. 192.

WHEREAS by the Customs of certain Manors, Copyhold Estates of such Manors pass by the Last Will and Testament of the Copyhold Tenants thereof declaring the Uses of Surrenders made for that Purpose: And whereas much Inconvenience has arisen, from the Necessity of making such Surrenders: For Remedy whereof, May it please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted

* A Friend, to whom I had some Time ago communicated my Ideas upon the Subjects mentioned in the preliminary Note to the present Title, applied to me to draw the present Act, on Behalf of the Gentleman who had agreed to bring it forward. I wished the Opportunity not to be lost of submitting to the Attention of the Legislature, the other Modifications of the Law by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That in all Cases where by the Custom of any Manor in England or Ireland any Copyhold Tenant of such Manor may by his or her Last Will and Testament dispose of or appoint his or her Copyhold Tenements, the same having been surrendered to such Uses as should be declared by such Last Will and Testament, every Disposition or Charge made or to be made by any such Last Will and Testament by any Person who shall die after the passing of this Act, of any such Copyhold Tenements, or of any Right, Title, or Interest in or to the same, shall be as valid and effectual to all Intents and Purposes, although no Surrender shall have been made to the Use of the Last Will and Testament of such Person, as the same would have been if a Surrender had been made to the Use of such Will:

Dispositions by Will of Copyhold Estates made effectual without previous Surrenders to the Uses thereof.

II. Provided also, and it is hereby further enacted, That no Person entitled or claiming to be entitled to Copyhold Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, in consequence of any Testamentary Disposition, shall be entitled to be admitted to the same by Virtue of any Thing in this Act contained, except upon Payment of all such Stamp Duties, Fees, and Sums of Money as would have been lawfully due and payable in Respect of the surrendering of such Copyhold Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, to the Use of such Will, or in Respect of the presenting, registering, or enrolling such Surrender, had the same Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments been surrendered to the Use of the Will of the Person so disposing of the same; all such Stamp Duties, Fees, or Sums of Money due as aforesaid, to be paid in Addition to the Stamp Duties, Fees, or Sums of Money due or payable on the Admission of such Person so entitled or claiming to be entitled to the same Copyhold Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, and the Stamp Duties to be affixed to the Copy of the Admission.

Persons admit of under Testamentary Dispositions, to pay the like Fees, &c. as would have been payable on such Surrenders.

III. Provided always, and it is hereby enacted and declared, That nothing in this Act contained shall be construed, deemed, or taken, at Law or in Equity, to render invalid or ineffectual any Devise or Disposition of any Copyhold Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or of any Right, Title, or Interest in or to Copyhold Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, which would be valid or effectual if this had not been made; or to render valid and effectual any Devise or Disposition of any Copyhold Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or of any Right, Title, or Interest in or to any Copyhold Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, which would be invalid or ineffectual if a Surrender had been made to the Use of the Last Will and Testament of the Person attempting to dispose of the same by Will; any Thing herein-before contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

referred to in the above mentioned Note, but it was not thought expedient to include them in the intended Bill.

According to the Draft which I submitted, the Provision would have been general, as embracing all Copyhold and Customary Estates, with Respect to such Interests as a Testator could, by any Mode of Conveyance, have disposed of; and I wished the testamentary Power to have been subject to the general Provisions of the Statute of Frauds, as one step towards that general Uniformity in the Mode of testamentary Disposition, which I conceive would be attended with very important Benefit to the Public.

It certainly would never have occurred to me, upon perusing the Purview of the Act, to have contemplated the Necessity of the concluding Proviso, or the Possibility of any Doubts being entertained of the Nature of those which the Proviso is calculated to obviate.

6 H. 6. c. 16.

WHEREAS by a Statute made the Eighth Year of the Reign of King HENRY the Sixth, it is ordained, among other Things, that no Lands and Tenements seised into the King's Hands upon Inquests taken afore the Escheator or Commissioners, shall in any wise be let or granted to Ferm by the Chancellor of England, or any other Officer of the King's, whatsoever he be, till the same Inquests and Verdicts be returned plainly into the Chancery, or into the Exchequer; but that all such Lands and Tenements shall remain wholly and continually in the King's Hands, until the same Inquests and Verdicts be returned, but it be so, That he or they that are grieved by the same Inquests, or put out of their Lands and Tenements, come into the Chancery, and offer to traverse the same Inquests, and offer to take the same Lands and Tenements to Ferm; and if they do so, then the same Lands and Tenements be committed unto them, if they shew good Evidence proving the Traverse to be true, and find Surety after the Form of the said Statute, as in the same Statute more at large appeareth.

And notwithstanding the said Statute, divers Escheators and Commissioners, which have taken such Inquests after the Death of the King's Subjects, of their Covin, to the Intent to put them that had Cause of Traverse to the Verdicts of the said Inquests, in the Ferm of the Premises, would in the Time of Vacation put them into the Chancery or into the Exchequer, their said Office by them taken, because the Month should pass before the Beginning of the Term next ensuing, by reason whereof they that should of Right have the Ferm upon their Traverse according to the true Intent of the said Statute, were put from the same Fermes contrary to the said Statute, and good Conscience.

21 James I. c. 25.—An Act for the Relief of Patentees, Tenants, and Farmers of Crown Lands and Duchy Lands, or of Lands within the Survey of the Court of Wards and Liveries, in Cases of Forfeiture for not Payment of their Rents, or other Service or Duty.

21 Jac. I. c. 25.

FORASMUCH as the King's Majesty, out of his gracious Disposition, is and ever hath been averse from taking any Advantage, howsoever lawful and just, against any of his Subjects, growing by any Forfeiture, Breach of Condition, or strict Interpretation of his Highness Grants or Letters Patents, or the Grants or Letters Patents of any of his Royal Predecessors, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments; and yet the Grantees or Patentees deriving their Estates by or from his Majesty, or his Predecessors, have been too apt and ready to exact the Advantage of such Forfeiture, when his Majesty himself or his Predecessors have not required the same, which hath been ever held an unequal and extreme Course, and hath many Times been relieved by Suits in Courts of Equity, though with the great Charge and Trouble of the Parties endangered thereby:

No Advantage shall be taken against the King's Patentees or Tenants for Nonpayment of Rent, &c.

II. For Remedy whereof, as well where the King as any of his Predecessors or Successors hath granted or shall grant the said Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, or any Part thereof, or the Reversion or any Part thereof, to any other, as where the Reversion, Remainder, or Estate thereof, is or shall be in the King's Majesty, or his Successors, in the Right of the Crown of England, or Duchy of Lancaster, or otherwise, his Majesty of his abundant Grace towards his loving Subjects is graciously pleased that it be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That if any Person or Persons, Bodies Politick or Corporate, having, holding, or possessing, or which hereafter shall have, hold, or possess, any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, by Virtue or Colour of any original Grant or Lease, or Assignment of the same, made by the King's Majesty, or any of his Predecessors, or to be made by any of his Successors, for any Number of Years, for Life or Lives, in Fee-tail or Fee-simple, or other Estate, whereupon any Rent, Service or other Duty hath been, is or shall be reserved or payable with or under any Condition or Limitation of Re-entry, Cesser, or to be void for Default of Payment of such Rent, or Performance of such Service, or Duty, heretofore hath made, or any other by, from or under whom he claimeth, hath made, or any which hereafter shall have, hold, or possess, shall make any Default therein, and yet after such Default made, such Rent, Service, or other Duty hath been or shall be answered, paid, or done unto his Majesty, or any of his Predecessors or Successors, into his or their Receipt of the Exchequer, or Duchy of Lancaster, or Court of Wards, or to any other having Authority to receive the same, as the Case shall require, before any Advantage of such Forfeiture hath been or shall be taken, and before any Commission awarded to enquire, or other Process issued touching the said Forfeiture or Non-payment of Rent, that in all Cases no Advantage shall be taken by his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, of, for or by reason of any such Forfeiture or Cause of Forfeiture.

III. And be it further enacted, That no Person or Persons claiming, or which afterwards shall claim, by, from, or under his Majesty, or any of his Predecessors or Successors, at any Time after such Cause or Title of Forfeiture given, shall in any wise have or take any Benefit or Advantage, by Reason, Means, or Colour of such Default made or to be made; but that every such Estate forfeited or forfeitable by Means or Occasion of such Default of Payment of Rent, or Performance of Service or other Duty, shall be adjudged to continue and have its Being, as if no such Default or Cause of Forfeiture had been had or made; any Law, Custom, or Usage, to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding.

‘ V. And whereas the necessary Expences of supporting the Crown, or the greatest Part of them, were formerly defrayed by a Land Revenue, which hath from Time to Time been impaired and diminished by the Grants of former Kings and Queen's of this Realm, so that her Majesty's Land Revenues at present can afford very little towards the Support of her Government; nevertheless from Time to Time, upon the Determination of the particular Estates, whereupon many Reversions and Remainders in the Crown do now depend or expect, and by such Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments as may hereafter descend, escheat, or otherwise accrue or come to her Majesty, her Heirs or Successors, the Land Revenues of the Crown, in Fines, Rents, and other Profits thereof, may hereafter be increased, and consequently the Burthen upon the Estates of the Subjects of this Realm may be eased and lessened in all future Provisions to be made for the Expences of the Civil Government:’

To the End therefore, that the Land Revenues of the Crown may be preserved, improved, and increased for the best Advantage thereof, Be it enacted and declared by the Authority aforesaid, That all and every Grant, Lease, or other Assurance, which from and after the Five and Twentieth Day of March in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Two, shall be made or granted by her Majesty, her Heirs or Successors, Kings or Queens of this Realm, under the Great Seal of England, Exchequer Seal, Seals of the Duchy and County Palatine of Lancaster, or any of them, or by Copy of Court Roll or otherwise howsoever, of any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tithes, Woods, or other Hereditaments, (Advowsons of Churches and Vicarages only excepted), within the Kingdom of England, Dominion of Wales, or Town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, or any of them, or any Part thereof, now belonging or hereafter to belong to her Majesty, her Heirs or Successors, or to any other Person or Persons in Trust for her Majesty, her Heirs or Successors, in Possession, Reversion, Remainder, Use or Expectancy, whether the same be or shall be in Right of the Crown of England, or as Part of the Principality of Wales, or of the Duchy or County Palatine of Lancaster, or otherwise howsoever, to any Person or Persons, Body Politick or Corporate whatsoever, whereby any Estate or Interest whatsoever, in Law or Equity, shall or may pass from her Majesty, her Heirs or Successors, shall be utterly void and of none Effect, unless such Grant, Lease, or Assurance be made for some Term or Estate not exceeding One and Thirty Years, or three Lives, or for some Term of Years determinable upon one, two, or three Lives; and unless such Grant, Lease, or Assurance respectively, be made to commence from the Date or making thereof; and if such Grant, Lease, or Assurance, be made to take Effect in Reversion or cited.

WHEREAS it is expedient that Provision should be made for the better Management of the Land Revenues of the Crown, within the Ordering and Survey of the Exchequer in England: And whereas 'by an Act, made in the first Year of the Reign of Queen Anne. (intituled, An Act for the better Support of her Majesty's Household, and of the Honour and Dignity of the Crown,) it was (amongst other Things) enacted and declared, that all and every Grant, Lease, or other Assurance which, from and after the five and twentieth Day of March One Thousand Seven Hundred and Two, should be made or granted by the said Queen, her Heirs or Successors, Kings or Queens of this Realm, under any of the Seals therein mentioned, or by Copy of Court Roll, or otherwise howsoever, of any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tithes, Woods, or other Hereditaments, (Advowsons of Churches and Vicarages only excepted,) to any Person or Persons, Body Politick or Corporate whatever, whereby any Estate or Interest should pass from the said Queen, her Heirs or Successors, should be utterly void and of none Effect unless the same should be made for some Term or Estate not exceeding Thirty-one Years, or three Lives, and unless there should be reserved, by such Grants, Leases, or Assurances, such Rents as in the said Act are expressed; in which said Act is contained a Proviso, that where the greatest Part of the Yearly Value of any Tenements or Hereditaments belonging to the said Queen, her Heirs and Successors, should at the Time of making any Lease or Grant thereof consist of the Building or Buildings thereupon, which might want to be repaired or re-edified, in every such Case to encourage the Rebuilding or Reparation thereof, it was declared and enacted, that it should be lawful for the said Queen, her Heirs and Successors, at any Time after the said five and twentieth Day of March, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Two, to demise or grant such Tenements or Hereditaments to any Person or Persons for any Term or Estate, so as such Term and Estate did not exceed Fifty Years, or three Lives, and so as such Lease or Grant should be made to commence from the Date or making thereof; or if such Grant or Lease should be made to take Effect in Reversion or Expectancy, that then the same, together with the Estate or Estates in Possession of and in the same Tenements or Hereditaments, should not exceed Fifty Years, or Three Lives from the Date or making thereof as aforesaid, and so as the same should not be made dishonourable of Waste, and so as there should be reserved and payable upon every such Lease or Grant, during such Term, not exceeding Fifty Years, or Three Lives, as much Rent as was by the said Act required to be reserved for the same Tenements or Hereditaments respectively, in case of a Lease not exceeding One and Thirty Years or Three Lives, and not otherwise: And whereas, the better to encourage the erecting of large substantial Houses and Buildings upon the Lands of the Crown within the Ordering and Survey aforesaid, and for the Improvement of the Revenue arising therefrom, it is expedient that the Powers in and by the said Act contained and given for demiseing and granting any Tenements or Hereditaments of the Description last aforesaid should be enlarged, and further Provision made for securing an Improvement and Increase Surveyor General may compound for Arrears of Rent.

XVII. And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That the Surveyor-General of the Crown Lands, now and for the Time being, (the Consent of the Lord High Treasurer or the Commissioners of the Treasury, or any three of them, for the Time being, having been in each Case previously obtained,) shall have the same Power to compound for Arrears of any of the said Rents as was vested in the said Commissioners by the said Acts of the twenty-sixth and thirtieth Years of the Reign of his present Majesty.

27 Geo. III. c. 38. and

XVIII. And whereas, by an Act, made in the twenty-seventh Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled, An Act for the Sale of certain Houses and Ground belonging to his Majesty, it was enacted, that it should and might be lawful for the Lord High Treasurer, or the Commissioners of the Treasury for the Time being, to treat, contract, and agree, for the Sale or for the Leasing of all or any Part of the Estate, Right, Title, or Interest in or to all or any of the Houses, Messuages, Tenements, and Ground therein particularly mentioned and specified: And whereas by another Act, made in the thirty-second Year of the Reign of his said Majesty, intituled, An Act to repeal so much of an Act, made in the seventh Year of his present Majesty, as relates to the Sale of a House in Privy Garden, heretofore used as an Office for the Commissioners of the Lottery, and to enable his Majesty to grant the same, it was enacted, that so much of the said Act as related to the Sale or Leasing of the said House in Privy Garden should be, and the same was thereby repealed: And whereas no Treaty, Contract, or Agreement hath been entered into by the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury for the Sale or Leasing of any of the said Houses, Messuages, Tenements, or Ground, by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act; and it is not expedient that the same should be sold or leased under the said Act: Be it therefore further enacted,

So much of first recit d. Act as was not repealed by the latter, repealed

That so much of the said first-mentioned Act as was not repealed by the said Act of the thirty-second Year of his Majesty's Reign shall be, and the same is hereby repealed; and that it shall and may be lawful to and for his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, from Time to Time, to grant, demise, or assure all or any Part or Parts of the said Premises for such Terms, Estates, and Interests, and under and subject to such Limitations, Reservations, Restrictions, Provisoes, and Conditions as are enacted and provided in and by this Act, in respect of any other Messuages, Tenements, or Ground of the like Nature or Descriptions, belonging to his Majesty.

Leases may be surrendered, and new ones granted.

XIX. And whereas it may be expedient to permit the Lessees or Grantees of Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, under the Authority of this Act, to alien the Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, so demise or granted, in Parcels, and for that Purpose to surrender the subsisting Lease or Grant thereof for the Purpose of obtaining distinct Leases or Grants of such several Parcels, reserving in the Whole the same Rent as shall have been reserved by such surrendered Lease or Grant, or more; be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, at any Time, upon the Surrender of any subsisting Lease or Grant, to make any new Lease or Grants of the same Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments in Parcels, provided such new Leases or Grants be for the same Term of Years, and there be reserved thereon in the Whole the same Annual Rent, or more, as was granted and reserved by such surrendered Lease or Grant, and provided also, that such new Leases or Grants shall not

XX. Provided always, and it is hereby enacted and declared, Act not to affect the Power of the Chancellor and Council of the Duchy of Lancaster.
That this Act, or any Thing herein contained, shall not extend, or be construed to extend, to any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Tithes, or other Hereditaments within the Ordering and Survey of the Chancellor and Council of the Duchy of Lancaster, or to any of the Rents or Revenues thereot, or to any Lease or Grant, Leases or Grants, made or to be made under the Seals of the Duchy and County Palatine of Lancaster, or either of them; but that all and singular the Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Tithes, and other Hereditaments of and belonging to the said Duchy, shall and may remain and continue to be granted and demised by his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, for the like Terms, Estates, and Interests, and the Rents and Revenues thereof, to be received and applied, under the Order and Direction of the Chancellor and Council, and other Officers of the said Duchy, to and for the like Uses and Purposes, and in like Manner and Form, as before the passing of this Act; any Thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

his Heirs and Successors, by Escheat or otherwise, in Right of the Crown, which in the Hands of any of his Majesty's Subjects would be chargeable with certain Trusts, or applicable to certain Purposes, and his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, may be desirous that the same should be applied accordingly, notwithstanding any Right which he or they may have to hold the same discharged from such Trusts, or without applying the same to such Purposes; but by reason of the Provisions contained in the said Acts of the first Year of her said late Majesty Queen Anne, and the thirty-fourth Year of his Majesty's Reign, Doubts may be raised whether his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, can direct such Application thereof: And whereas divers Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, as well freehold as Copyhold, have escheated and may escheat to his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, for Want of Heirs of the Persons last seized thereof or entitled thereto, or by Reason of some Forfeiture, or otherwise, although not forfeited for Treason or Felony; and it is expedient to enable his Majesty to direct the Execution of any such Trusts or Purposes as aforesaid, and to make any Grants of any such Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments as aforesaid, notwithstanding the Provisions contained in the said recited Acts; he it cessors, by Warrant under his or their Sign Manual, to direct the Execution of any Trusts or Purposes to which any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, which have escheated or shall escheat to his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, shall have been liable at the Time the same so escheated respectively, or would have been liable in the Hands of any of his Majesty's Subjects, and to make any Grants of such Manors, Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments respectively to any Trustee or Trustees, or otherwise, for the Execution of such Trusts, and to make any Grants of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments which have escheated or shall escheat as aforesaid, to any Person or Persons, either for the Purpose of restoring the same to any of the Family of the Person or Persons whose Estates the same had been, or of rewarding any Persons or Persons making Discovery of any such Escheat, as to his Majesty, his Heir or Successors respectively, shall seem fit; any Thing in the said Act, or any of them, to the contrary notwithstanding.*

* It would be very desirable, that the Principle of this Enactment should be carried further, and that in all Cases where Estates held in Trust, or by way of Mortgage, devolve on the Crown by Escheat, a Grant could be made for the Benefit of the Parties really interested, without the necessity of a previous Inquisition. The Statutes 8 & 18 H. 6, ante, afforded a very salutary Protection against an evident Incroachment of the Crown upon the Rights of the Subject, for the Sake of gratifying particular Favourites; but as the Prerogative is now invariably exercised in Support of the beneficial Interests which would exist, as between Subject and Subject, there is no longer a Necessity for restricting the Exercise of that Prerogative by a Continuance of the Regulations intended as a Guard against Mischiefs, which can no longer be apprehended, and the Compliance with which Regulations is attended with a very heavy and often a very inconvenient Expence. I apprehend, that no Objection could reasonably be made to an Enactment enabling the Crown to make such Grants, upon the Report of the Attorney and Solicitor-General, or of a proper Officer of the Exchequer and other Courts of Revenue; saving to all Persons such Rights at Law, or in Equity, as they would have had against the Heirs of the Persons upon whose Decease the Escheat has taken place.

34 Geo. III. c. 75

WHEREAS an Act passed in the Thirty-fourth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled, An Act for the better Management of the Land Revenue of the Crown, and for the Sale of Fee-farm and other unimproveable Rents; and it is expedient, that further Provisions should be made for the better Management of the Land Revenues of the Crown within the ordering and Survey of the Exchequer, and of the Duchy of Lancaster; be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That where any Land or Ground belonging or hereafter to belong to his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, within the ordering and Survey aforesaid, shall be deemed by the Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of the Treasury, or the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster for the Time being, fit and proper for Gardens, Yards, Curtilages and other Appurtenances to be used and enjoyed with any belonging either to his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, or to any other Proprietors, it shall be lawful for his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, to demise or grant such Land or Ground to any Person or Persons, or to any Bodies Politick or Corporate, under the Great Seal of Great Britain, or the Seal of the Exchequer, or the Seal of the Duchy and County Palatine of Lancaster, for any Term or Estate not exceeding Ninety-nine Years to be computed from the Date or making of any such Lease or Grant respectively; or if any such Lease or Grant be made to take effect in Reversion or Expectancy, then that the Term and Estate thereby to be granted, together with the Term or Estate, Terms or Estates in Possession of and in the same Lands and Ground shall not exceed Ninety-nine Years, computed from the Date or making thereof as aforesaid. 48 Geo. III c. 73.

II. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That no Ground for Garden, Yard, Curtilage or other Appurtenance to be used and enjoyed with any Houses or Buildings holden or to be holden under any Lease from his Majesty or his Royal Predecessors, shall be granted or demised for any Term or Estate exceeding in Duration the Term or Estate for which the Houses or Buildings to which such Land or Ground shall be so attached as Garden, Yard, Curtilage or other Appurtenance shall be holden. Crown Land not to be granted for longer Time than the Term of the House.

III. And be it further enacted, That from and after the passing of this Act no Lease of any Land or Ground belonging or hereafter to belong to his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, within the ordering and Survey of the Exchequer in England, shall in future be granted for any Life or Lives; any Thing in any former Act of Parliament to the contrary notwithstanding; excepting only such Lease or Leases for Lives, as in and by a certain Act passed in the Forty-fourth Year of his Majesty's Reign, intituled, An Act for inclosing Lands in the Parish of Great Staughton in the County of Huntingdon, is and are authorized to be granted. Crown Leases for Gardens may be renewed, as the Leases for Houses may under 34 G. 3, c. 75, § 5, 6.

V. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That whenever Lands or Grounds, or Part of any Lands or Grounds held under any Lease or Grant from his Majesty or his Royal Predecessors, shall have been or be deemed proper and fit as aforesaid for Gardens, Yards, Curtilages and other Appurtenances as aforesaid, it shall be lawful at any Time during the Continuance of the Demise of any such Lands or Grounds, to renew the Lease or Grant thereof, or of such Part thereof as aforesaid, under such Provisions and Conditions as are hereinbefore prescribed, for the Demise or Grant of any Land or Ground to be used as a Garden, Yard, Curtilage or other Appurtenance. Leases may be renewed at any Time, as far as relates to Lands deemed proper for Gardens.

No. 27. VI. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Surveyor General, with the Approbation of and by the Direction of the Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of the Treasury for the Time being, or any Three of them, to contract and agree with any Body or Bodies Politick or Corporate, or Person or Persons holding any Messuages, Lands, Premises, Tenements, or Hereditaments belonging to the Crown, for the Surrender of any Lease thereof, or to purchase and buy up any Lease, or the Remainder of any Term of any Lease of any Messuages, Lands, Premises, Tenements, or Hereditaments belonging to the Crown, which may be convenient for the public Service, and may, by any Three or more of the Commissioners of the Treasury for the Time being, be deemed eligible to be purchased or bought up, and to pay the Consideration agreed to be paid for such Surrender or Purchase to the Body or Bodies or Person or Persons entitled thereto, out of any Money arising from any Sales heretofore made, and which may be vested in the Bank of England in the Three Pounds per Centum Consolidated Bank Annuity, or which may hereafter arise from any Sale of any Property belonging to the Crown, under this Act, or the said recited Acts as aforesaid.

Powers of Renewal in certain Cases where Leases surrendered.

VII. And whereas by the said recited Act, new Leases were granted upon the Surrender of any subsisting Leases are limited to the said Term of Years as was granted by such surrendered Lease; and it may be doubtful in Cases wherein a Power is given by the said recited Act, to renew any Lease or Grant, whether if the subsisting Lease be surrendered the same can be renewed for a longer Term than was granted by such surrendered Lease; be it therefore enacted and declared, That in all Cases in which any Lease or Grant of any Lands, Houses, Tenements, or Hereditaments may be renewed under the said recited Act or this Act, it shall be lawful to make a new Lease or Grant of such Premises upon the Surrender thereof, for such Term and upon the same Conditions as if the same had been renewed under the Provisions of the said recited Act or this Act, as had not been first surrendered.

New Leases shall be paid for by Lessees.

VIII. And be it further enacted, That in all Charges and Expences of any new Lease or Grant made upon the Surrender of any subsisting Lease or Grant under the said recited Act of the Thirtieth Year of his present Majesty, shall be borne and defrayed by the Lessees or Grantees thereof respectively.

Chancellor of the Duchy and Surveyor General to put in force the provisions of the Statute, Entries, or Dockets of Leases, &c.

IX. And be it further enacted, That in all Cases where the Enrolment of any Lease or Assignment, or Minute or Docket shall be before the Auditor of the Land Revenue, or the Auditor of the Duchy of Lancaster, or the Entry of any Lease or Assignment, or Minute or Docket of any Lease or Assignment, in the Office of the said Surveyor General, or Auditors of the said Duchy, has been omitted or delayed beyond the Period limited in any such Lease, it shall be lawful for the Chancellor of the said Duchy of Lancaster, or the said Surveyor General, for any reasonable Cause to be shewn for the Omission or Delay and they either of them are and is hereby empowered to authorize and permit the making of any such Enrolment or Entries nunc pro tunc; and the same respectively when made under such Authority shall be as valid and effectual as if made within the Period limited for that Purpose.

to Redemption and Purchase in the Manner therein stated, several Sums of money now charged in Great Britain as a Land Tax for One Year, from the twenty-fifth Day of March, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Ninety-eight; and by another Act passed in the Forty-second Year of his present Majesty, intituled, An Act for consolidating the Provisions of the several Acts passed for the Redemption and Sale thereof, and for removing Doubts respecting the Right of Persons claiming to vote at Elections for Knights of the Shire and other Members to serve in Parliament, in respect of Messuages, Lands, or Tenements, the Land Tax upon which shall have been redeemed or purchased; the Chancellor and Council of the Duchy of Lancaster for the Time being is empowered to sell and dispose of, and thereupon to grant and assure in the Name of his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, under the Seal of the said Duchy of Lancaster, such and so much of the Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Tythes, Mines, Minerals, Collieries, Woods, Wood Grounds, Fens, Marshes, or Waste Lands belonging to the Crown, as are within the Survey and Receipt of the said Duchy, as would raise a Sum sufficient for the Redemption of the Land Tax charged on the Revenues belonging to the Crown within the Survey and Receipt of the said Duchy: And whereas it may be expedient, that Power should be continued in the said Chancellor and Council to sell such Portion of the said Revenues as shall be the least productive in proportion to their Value before or after the said Land Tax charged upon the Revenues belonging to the said Duchy shall have been redeemed: be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Chancellor and Council of the said Duchy of Lancaster for the Time being, to sell and dispose of to any Person or Persons, Bodies Politick or Corporate, from Time to Time, and thereupon to grant and assure in the Name of his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, under the Seal of the said Duchy, such Manors or Lordships belonging to the Crown, as are within the Survey and Receipt of the said Duchy, as consist of the Manerial Rights without any Lands, or with very small Quantities of Land belonging to them, and where the greater Part of the Lands over which the Manerial Rights extend is the Property of Individuals, and of Manors or Lands of which his Majesty in Right of his Duchy as aforesaid, is not the sole Proprietor, but is entitled to an undivided Share jointly with Individuals, and intermixed with the Property of Individuals, and lying remote from other Property belonging to the Crown, and of Ground or Building appertaining or antiently held with any Castle or strong Building new or lately used for a Common Gaol, or with any Building used for holding the Assizes or Sessions in any County or District, or for the Court House or Gadler's House, or in which the Magistrates for any County or District may claim to have Rights from the Length of Use or Enjoyment for the publick Purposes of such County and District, and of Tythes belonging to the Crown, within the Survey of the said Duchy aforesaid, issuing out of Lands, which are the Property of Individuals, and of Mills, Fisheries, Ferries, Tolls, and Stalls of Markets and Fairs, and Wastes belonging to the Crown, within the Survey of the Duchy aforesaid, upon or from which Usurpations or Incroachments have been made by Individuals, for the best Prices or Considerations in Money which the said Chancellor and Council shall be able to procure for the same; and the Purchase Money to be paid for the same shall from Time to Time be paid into the Hands of the Receiver General of the Revenues of the said Duchy, in the like Manner as the Monies arising from the Sale of Lands of the Duchy authorized by the said recited Acts of the Thirty-eighth and Forty-second Years of his present Majesty are directed to be paid; and all Sales made under this Act of the Property herein-before described, shall be made in the same Manner and Form, and under the like Rules, Regulations, and Provisions, and shall be to all Intents and Purposes as valid and effectual as if the same had been made under the said Acts of the Thirty-eighth and Forty-second Years of his present Majesty, or either of them.

aforesaid, and also upon Leases granted by the Crown under the recited Act of the Thirty-fourth Year aforesaid, to the great Grievance and Hardship of Purchasers of such Fee Farm Rents and Leases of the Crown respectively; Be it enacted, That no Contracts made under any of the said recited Acts of the Twenty-sixth, Thirtieth, or Thirty-fourth Years of his present Majesty, for the Sale of Fee Farm Rents, nor any Leases made under the Great Seal or Seal of the Exchequer of any Lands or other Hereditaments belonging to the Crown, or the ordering and Survey of the Exchequer, since the recited Act of the Thirty-fourth Year aforesaid, shall be null and void on account of the same respectively not being duly stamped, or the Stamp Duty not having been duly paid thereon respectively, and that no Contracts which shall be hereafter made for the Enfranchisement of any Copyhold, or for the Sale of any Manerial Rights under this Act, or the Sale of any Fee Farm Rents or other Hereditaments belonging to the Crown, within the ordering and Survey of the Exchequer, or any Lease or Grant which shall be made pursuant to the Regulations of this Act or of the said Act of the Thirty-fourth Year of his present Majesty's Reign, which shall be hereafter made of any Lands or other Hereditaments belonging to the Crown, within the ordering and Survey last aforesaid, shall be subject to any Stamp Duty whatever.

No former Contracts and Leases made under said Acts shall be void for Want of proper Stamps; future Contracts and Leases shall be exempt from Stamp Duties.

34 G. 3, c. 75, § 5.

XIX. And whereas by the said recited Act of the Thirty-fourth Year of his present Majesty, it is amongst other Things enacted, That it shall not be lawful to renew any Grant or Lease of any Tenements or Hereditaments authorized by the said Act to be granted for any Term not exceeding Ninety-nine Years, until within Two Years of the Period of the Expiration of the same, except in the Cases therein specified; And whereas it is expedient that a Power of Renewal should be allowed in other Cases not specified in the said Act, be it therefore enacted, That where any House or Building shall require or shall be intended and agreed to be rebuilt, or any new House or other Building to be erected upon any Land or Ground belonging to the Crown, within the ordering and Survey aforesaid, held under a Lease from the Crown, upon which other Houses or Buildings included in the same Lease are standing, if the Lessee or Grantee shall covenant and agree to build a new House or Building, or to rebuild a House or Building of such Value as to increase the Value of the whole Property included in such Lease, it shall be lawful at any Time or Times hereafter to grant any further or other Lease of all such Land or Ground, with the Houses and Buildings thereupon, as were included in the former Lease, for any Term or Estate (except for Life or Lives) not exceeding the Terms and Estates authorized by the said recited Act of the Thirty-fourth Year aforesaid, to be granted; provided that in every such Lease there be reserved and made payable to his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, such Rent as is by the said last mentioned Act or this Act required to be reserved, and that Covenants or Conditions be inserted therein on the Part of the respective Grantees or Lessees for erecting such new Houses or Buildings, or rebuilding such Houses or Buildings, within a reasonable Time, to be in such Case limited and appointed for that Purpose, and that such respective Improvements shall be of the requisite Value.

XX. And be it further enacted, That where any new Edifice or Building shall be erected or agreed to be erected on Ground belonging to the Crown, within the ordering and Survey of the Chancellor and Council of the Duchy of Lancaster, or of the said Surveyor General aforesaid, or held under any Lease from the Crown, for the Enlargement of, and to be united to and occupied with any House or other Building held under any other Lease from the Crown, it shall be lawful to grant a new Lease or Leases for any Term not exceeding Ninety-nine Years, as well of the Ground on which such new Edifice or Building shall be erected or agreed to be erected, as of all or any Part of any other Tenements or Hereditaments contained in such Leases; provided that the greater Part of the yearly Value of the Tenements and Hereditaments so to be granted shall consist of the Buildings thereon, or of Ground set apart and appropriated for building, or for necessary Gardens, Yards, Curtilages, or other Appurtenances as aforesaid.

XXI. And whereas the Restrictions contained in the said recited Act of the Thirty-fourth Year of his present Majesty, as it now stands, may be found inconvenient in respect to the granting of Leases of some Kinds of Property now held under Lease from the Crown, and which are of a fluctuating and uncertain Value; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to grant and renew Leases of the Profits of Agistment of Forests disafforested, the Profits of Præ and Post Fines arising within the Principality of Wales and the County Palatine of Chester, those of Lighthouses on Beacons, and of Chains for mooring Ships, Tolls, Markets and Fairs, Tythes, Fisheries, Ferries, and other Articles of uncertain Produce, for such Term of Years not exceeding Thirty-one Years, and for such Fine or Fines, and under such Rent or other Reservations and Conditions as they shall from Time to Time think reasonable and expedient.

XXII. And whereas in the said recited Act of the Thirty-fourth Year of his present Majesty it was enacted and declared, That where any Wastes, Commons, or other uninclosed Lands or Grounds within the ordering and Survey aforesaid, in which his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, has or shall have any Interest, shall be deemed fit and proper to be divided, inclosed, drained, or otherwise improved,

 ' present Majesty aforesaid: And whereas it is expedient that such
 ' Power of Renewal should be extended to any other Lands comprized

 ' it therefore further enacted, That whenever any Lease shall be renewed
 ' under the said recited Provision, with respect to any such Wastes, same Lease.

XXIII. ' And whereas by the said recited Act of the Thirty-34 G. 3, c. 75, ' fourth Year aforesaid, certain Rules are laid down for the Reserva-§ 3. ' tion of Rent, in Cases where there are substantial Buildings upon ' Ground to be demised, or the Buildings thereupon shall not require
 ' or be intended or agreed to be rebuilt, and also in Cases where there ' are no substantial Buildings upon the Grounds to be demised, or the ' Buildings thereupon require, or shall be intended and agreed to be ' rebuilt, or other new Buildings erected upon such Land or Ground;
 ' but no Rule is laid down for Cases where upon the Ground to be
 ' demised there is some substantial Building not required or intended ' or agreed to be rebuilt, and either some other Building required or ' intended or agreed to be rebuilt, or some new Building is proposed ' to be erected thereon; be it therefore enacted, That in all Cases
 ' where upon the Ground to be demised there is some substantial
 ' Building not required or intended or agreed to be rebuilt, and either
 ' some other Building thereon requiring or intended or agreed to be ' rebuilt, or some new Building is intended or agreed to be erected
 ' thereon, it shall be lawful for the Lord High Treasurer or Commis' sioners of the Treasury to direct what Rent shall be reserved and paid ' annually, and whether any and what Fine shall be taken upon such ' Demise, regard being had to the Value of the Buildings on the Ground
 ' to be demised not intended to be rebuilt, and the Proportion it bears
 ' to the Value of the whole Property intended to be demised.

Treasury shall as-

Treasury may

XXIV. Provided always, and be it further enacted, 'That it shall be lawful for the Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of the Treasury, when they shall be of Opinion that the Solidity and Value of any old House or Houses to be demised not required or intended to be rebuilt, is such as to be sufficient Security for the due Payment of the whole Annual Sum deemed by them to be a reasonable Consideration for such Building or Buildings and Ground held therewith respectively, for the Term and Estate to be granted by and in the same, to direct that the Whole of such Consideration shall be reserved and taken in Rent only, without taking any Fine for the same.

XXV. ' And whereas it is necessary to vest a discretionary ' Power in the Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of the Treasury,
 ' to determine the Rent upon Leases of Lands, Tenements, and Her-

‘ ditaments belonging to the Crown, within the ordering and Survey ‘ aforesaid, in certain Cases not provided for by Law ;’ be it therefore enacted, That for and in respect of any Lease or Grant under the Great Seal, or the Seal of the Exchequer, of any Houses or other Buildings which shall be certified by Surveyors not to require rebuilding, and which shall be of greater yearly Value than the Ground on which they are built, but which a Lessee may desire to pull down in order to erect other Houses or Buildings of greater Value for his own Accommodation or Advantage, of Houses or other Buildings which may have been damaged or destroyed by Fire, or Ground on which such Buildings have been erected, and also of Houses or other Buildings which shall be only in part rebuilt, or to which new Buildings shall be added, and also of Ground to be granted as Gardens, Yards, or Curtilages to Houses already erected or to be erected, whether on Ground belonging to his Majesty, or to any other Proprietor, it shall be lawful for the Lord High Treasurer, or the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty’s Treasury at their Discretion, to admit of the Consideration being paid, either in Rent only or in Rent and Fine ; provided always, that where a Fine shall be taken it shall not exceed the ‘ Substances, and that which is best adapted to this Kind of Property, ‘ is a certain Share of the Ore or other Produce in Kind, or a Rent ‘ or Duty in Money payable on the Quantity raised ;’ be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful in Leases under the Great Seal, or the Seal of the Exchequer, of Mines, Collieries, Quarries, and other Mineral and Fossil Substances belonging to his Majesty, within the ordering and Survey aforesaid, instead of any other annual Rent, to receive such Share of the Produce in Kind, or such Rent or Duty shall also be lawful for any such Bishop, within Six Months after such Order for Sequestration, or within Six Months after any Money shall have been actually levied by such Sequestration, to remit to any such Spiritual Person any Part or Proportion of such sequestered Profits, or cause the same or any Part thereof that shall have been paid or directed to be paid to the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty to be repaid to such Spiritual Person, which Repayment the said Governors are hereby authorized and required, upon an Order under the Hand of any such Bishop, to make out of any Money then in their Hands, or if no Money shall then be in their Hands, out of the next Money that shall come to their Hands, in any Case in which, by reason of the subsequent Obedience of any such Spiritual Person to any such Monition or Order, or the stating and proving such sufficient Reasons as aforesaid, such Bishop shall think the same proper: Provided always, that when any such Spiritual Person shall think himself aggrieved by reason of any such Sequestration issued by any Bishop, it shall be lawful for any such Spiritual Person, within One Month after the making any Order for any such Sequestration as aforesaid, to appeal to the Archbishop of the Province to which such Bishop shall belong, who shall forthwith, either by himself or some Commissioner or Commissioners appointed from among the Bishops of his Province for that Purpose under his Hand and Seal, make or cause to be made due Inquiry into the same, and make such Order therein or relating thereto, or to the Profits that shall be so sequestered as aforesaid, for the Return to such Spiritual Person of the same or any Part thereof, or otherwise, as shall under all the Circumstances of the Case appear to such Archbishop (after such Inquiry made by himself or by his Commissioner or Commissioners, and in the latter Case, after the Substance of such Inquiry shall have been returned in Writing to the said Archbishop) to be just and proper: Provided always, that the Party so appealing shall give Security to the Bishop for the Payment of such reasonable Expences occasioned by the Appeal, as the Archbishop or his Commissioner or Commissioners shall award: Provided also, that no such Order for any Sequestration shall be put in force during such Appeal as aforesaid, and until the same shall be determined.

XXVII. And be it further enacted, That every Spiritual Person to whom any such Monition or Order in Writing shall be sent as aforesaid under this Act, who shall be at the Time of the issuing thereof absent from Residence in or upon his Benefice contrary to the Provisions of this Act, but who shall in obedience to such Monition or Order forthwith return to due Residence, and the Profits of whose Benefice shall by reason of such Return not be sequestered, shall nevertheless pay all Costs, Charges, and Expences incurred by reason of the issuing and serving such Monition or Order, to be levied as any Costs may be levied upon any Spiritual Person by any Bishop under any of the Provisions of this Act.

Persons who shall return to Residence on Monition shall pay the Costs.

XXVIII. And, to the Intent effectually to enforce bond fide Residence according to the Intent and Meaning of such Monition and Order as aforesaid, be it further enacted, That if any Spiritual Person not licenced under this Act to be absent from his Benefice, nor having other lawful Cause of Absence from the same, who, after any such Monition or Order as aforesaid requiring his Residence, and before or after any such Sequestration as aforesaid, shall in obedience to any such Monition or Order have begun to reside upon his Benefice, shall afterwards, and before the Expiration of Six Months next after the Commencement of such Residence, without the Leave of such Bishop, wilfully in the Judgment of such Bishop absent himself from such Benefice, it shall be lawful for such Bishop, without issuing any XXIX. And whereas it is expedient that Bishops should be empowered summarily to punish past Non-residence, as well as to compel Residence in future; be it therefore enacted, That in all Cases in which any Spiritual Person shall have become subject to any Penalty or Forfeiture for any Non-residence, it shall be lawful for the Bishop within whose Diocese such Penalty or Forfeiture shall have arisen, to proceed against such Spiritual Person for such past Non-residence, and to levy the Penalties incurred thereby by Monition and Sequestration, and to direct the Application thereof in like Manner and subject to the same Regulations, and with like Powers of remitting or ordering the Repayment of any Part of such Penalties, as is directed or allowed in Cases of Non-compliance with any Order for Residence.

XXX. And be it further enacted, That in every Case in which any Archbishop or Bishop shall think proper, under all the Circumstances, after proceeding by Monition for the Recovery of any Penalty under this Act of more than One-third of the Value of any Benefice for any Non-residence exceeding Six Months in the Year, to remit the Whole or any Part of any such Penalty, such Archbishop shall forthwith transmit to his Majesty in Council, and such Bishop shall transmit to the Archbishop of the Province to which he belongs, a List of such Cases as have occurred in his or their respective Dioceses, specifying the Nature and special Circumstances of each Case, and the Reasons for the said Remission, in the same Manner as is directed in relation to the Licences for Non-residence granted in non-augmented Cases; and it shall thereupon be lawful for His Majesty in Council, or for the said Archbishop, as the Case may be, to allow or disallow such Remission in whole or in part, in the same Manner as is provided in this Act with relation to the Allowance or the Disallowance of Licences for Non-residence.
